17 It came to pass also [z] in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 18 [a] Son of man, [b] wail for [y] the multitude of Egypt, and [c] cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, [d] unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit. 19 [e] Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and [f] be thou laid with the uncircumcised. 20 They shall fall in the midst of them [g] that are slain by the sword: [8] she is delivered to the sword: draw her away and [y] all her multitudes. 21 The strong among the mighty [h] shall speak to him out of the midst of [1] hell [i] with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie still, even [j] the uncircum-

33 1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [m] Son of man, speak to [n] the children of thy people, and say unto them, When [o] I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man from among them, and set him for their [p] watchman: 3 if, when he seeth the sword come upon the land, [q] he blow the trumpet, and warn the people; 4 then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning, if the sword come, and take him away, [r] his blood shall be upon his own head. 5 [s] He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him: whereas if he had taken warning he should have delivered his soul. 6 [t] But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned, and the sword come, and take any person from among them; [t] he is taken away [7] in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand. 7 [u] So thou, [m] son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel; [u] therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. 8 [v] When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die, [v] and thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way; [v] that wicked man shall die [7] in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand. 9 [w] Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it, and he turn not from his way; [w] he shall die [7] in his iniquity, [x] but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 And thou, [y] son of man, say unto the house of Israel: Thus ye speak, saying, [8] Our transgressions and our sins are upon us, and [z] we pine away [1]in them; [a]how then should we live? 11 Say unto them, [b]As I live, saith the Lord GOD, [c]I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: [d]turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; [d]for why will ye die, O house of Israel? 12 And thou, [y]son of man, say unto [e]the children of thy people, [f]The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression; [g]and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness: [f]neither shall he that is righteous be able to live thereby in the day that he sinneth. 13 When I say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; [f]if he trust to his righteousness, and commit iniquity, none of his righteous deeds shall be remembered; but [1]in his iniquity that he hath committed, [2]therein shall he die. 14 Again, [h]when I say unto the wicked, [i]Thou shalt surely die; [j]if he turn from his sin, and do [3]that which is lawful and right; 15 if the wicked [k]restore the pledge, [l]give again that he had taken by robbery, walk [m]in the statutes of life, committing no iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die. 16 [n]None of his sins that he hath committed shall be remembered against him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live. 17 Yet [e]the children of thy people say, [o]The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal. 18 [p]When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die [4]therein. 19 And [q]when the wicked turneth from his wickedness, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby. 20 Yet ye say, [o]The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, [r]I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 And it came to pass [s]in the twelfth year [t]of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that [u]one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, [v]The city is smitten. 22 [w]Now [x]the hand of the LORD had been upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and he had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb. 23 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 24 [y]Son of man, they that inhabit those [z]waste places in the land of Israel speak, saying, [a]Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but [b]we are many; the land is given us for inheritance. 25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [c]Ye eat with the blood, and [d]lift up your eyes unto your idols, and [e]shed blood: and shall ye possess the land? 26 [f]Ye stand upon your sword, [g]ye work abomination, and [g]ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land? 27 Thus shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [h]As I live, surely they that are in [z]the waste places shall fall by [i]the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to [i]the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in [j]the strong holds and in the caves shall die of [i]the pestilence. 28 [k]And I will make the land a desolation and an astonishment, and [l]the pride of her power shall cease; and [m]the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through. 29 [n]Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment, because of all their abominations which they have committed. 30 And as for thee, [y]son of man, [o]the children of thy people talk of thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD. 31 [p]And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but do them not: for [q]with their mouth they shew much love, but [r]their heart goeth after their gain. 32 And, lo, thou art unto them as [5]a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and [s]can play well on an instrument: for [t]they hear thy words, but they do them not. 33 And [u]when this cometh to pass, (behold, it cometh,) [v]then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

34 1 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [w] Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, even to the shepherds, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [x] Woe unto the shepherds of Israel [y] that do feed themselves! [z] should not the shepherds feed the sheep? 3 [a] Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, [b] ye kill the fatlings; but ye feed not the sheep. 4 [c] The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, [a] neither have ye bound up that which was broken, [a] neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, [d] neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with force and [e] with rigour have ye ruled over them. 5 [f] And they were scattered, because there was no shepherd: and [g] they became meat to all the beasts of the field, and were scattered. 6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my sheep were scattered upon all the face of the earth; [h] and there was none that did search or seek after them. 7 Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: 8 [i] As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely forasmuch as [j] my sheep became a prey, [g] and my sheep became meat to all the beasts of the field, because there was no shepherd, [h] neither did my shepherds search for my sheep, but [y] the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my sheep; 9 therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD; 10 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [k] Behold, I am against the shepherds; and [l] I will require my sheep at their hand, and [m] cause them to cease from feeding the sheep; [n] neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; [o] and I will deliver my sheep from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them. 11 For thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [p] I myself, even I, [q] will search for my sheep, and will seek them out. 12 As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered abroad, so will I seek out my sheep; and will deliver them out of all places whither they have been scattered in [1] [r] the cloudy and [s] dark day. 13 And I will bring them out from the peoples, [t] and gather them from the countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them upon [u] the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses, and in all the inhabited places of the country. 14 [v] I will feed them with good pasture, and upon the mountains of the height of Israel shall their fold be: [w] there shall they lie down in a good fold, and on fat pasture shall they feed upon [u] the mountains of Israel. 15 [x] I myself will feed my sheep, [w] and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD. 16 [y] I will seek that which was lost, [z] and will bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: and [a] the fat and the strong I will destroy; I will feed them in judgement. 17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [b] I judge [c] between cattle and cattle, as well the rams as [d] the he-goats. 18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have fed upon the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pasture? and to have drunk of [e] the clear waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet? 19 And as for my sheep, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them: Behold, [b] I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and the lean cattle. 21 Because ye thrust with side and with shoulder, and [f] push [g] all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad; 22 therefore will I save my flock, and [h] they shall no more be a prey; [b] and I will judge between cattle and cattle. 23 And [i] I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even [j] my servant David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd. 24 And [k] I the LORD will be their God, and [j] my servant David prince among them; [l] I the LORD have spoken it. 25 And [m] I will make with them a covenant of peace, and [n] will cause evil beasts to cease out of the land: [o] and they

1 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 [z]Son of man, [a]set thy face [b]against [c]mount Seir, and prophesy against it, 3 and say unto it, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [d]Behold, I am against thee, O mount Seir, and [e]I will stretch out mine hand against thee, [f]and I will make thee a desolation and an astonishment. 4 [g]I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD. 5 Because [h]thou hast had a perpetual enmity, and hast given over the children of Israel to the power of the sword [i]in the time of their calamity, [j]in the time of the [4]iniquity of the end: 6 therefore, [k]as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: [l]sith thou hast not hated blood, therefore blood shall pursue thee. 7 [f]Thus will I make mount Seir an astonishment [g]and a desolation; and I will cut off from it [m]him that passeth through and him that returneth. 8 And I will fill [n]his mountains with his slain: in thy hills and in thy valleys and in all [n]thy watercourses shall they fall [o]that are slain with the sword. 9 [f]I will make thee perpetual desolations, and [g]thy cities shall not [5]be inhabited: and [p]ye shall know that I am the LORD. 10 Because thou hast said, [q]These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and [r]we will possess it; [6]whereas [s]the LORD was there: 11 therefore, [k]as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will do [t]according to thine anger, and [t]according to thine envy which thou hast shewed out of thy hatred against them; and [u]I will make myself known among them, [7]when I shall judge thee. 12 And thou shalt know [8]that [v]I the LORD have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, [9]They are laid desolate, [w]they are given us to devour. 13 And [v]ye have magnified yourselves against me [x]with your mouth, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard it. 14 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [y]When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate. 15 As [z]thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O [a]mount Seir, and all Edom, even all of it: and [b]they shall know that I am the LORD.

1 And thou, [c]son of man, prophesy unto [d]the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. 2 Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because [e]the enemy hath said against you, [f]Aha! and, The ancient [g]high places are ours in possession: 3 therefore prophesy, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because, even because [h]they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the nations, and [i]ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and the evil report of the people: 4 therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD to [j]the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, to [k]the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which are become [l]a prey and derision to the residue of the nations that are round about: 5 therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Surely in [m]the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the nations, and [n]against all Edom, which [o]have appointed my land unto themselves for a possession [p]with the joy of all their heart, [q]with despite of soul, to cast it out for a prey: 6 therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say unto [j]the mountains and to the hills, to the watercourses and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [r]I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne [s]the shame of the heathen: 7 therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: [t]I have lifted up mine hand, saying, Surely the heathen that are round about you, [s]they shall bear their shame. 8 But ye, O mountains of Israel, [u]ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people Israel; for [v]they are at hand to come. 9 For, [w]behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and [x]ye shall be tilled and sown: 10 and [y]I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and [z]the cities shall be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded: 11 and I will multiply upon you [a]man and beast; and [b]they shall increase and be fruitful: and I will cause you to be inhabited after [c]your former estate, and [d]will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and [e]ye shall know that I am the LORD. 12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel; [f]and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth [g]bereave them of children. 13 Thus saith the Lord GOD: Because they say unto you, [h]Thou land art a devourer of men, and hast been [g]a bereaver of thy [1]nation; 14 therefore [h]thou shalt devour men no more, neither [2][g]bereave thy [1]nation any more, saith the Lord GOD; 15 neither will I [3]let thee hear any more [s]the shame of the heathen, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the peoples any more, neither shalt thou cause thy [1]nation to stumble any more, saith the Lord GOD.

16 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 17 [i]Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, [j]they defiled it by their way and by their doings: their way before me was [k]as the uncleanness of a woman in her separation. 18 Wherefore [l]I poured out my fury upon them [m]for the blood which they had poured out upon the land, and [n]because they had defiled it with their idols: 19 and [o]I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed through the countries: [p]according to their way and according to their doings I judged them. 20 And when they came unto the nations, whither they went, [q]they profaned my holy name; in that men said of them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land. 21 But I had pity [r]for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations, whither they went. 22 Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: [4][s]I do not this for your sake, O house of Israel, but [r]for mine holy name, [q]which ye have profaned among the nations, whither ye went. 23 [t]And I will sanctify my great name, [q]which hath been profaned among the nations, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and [u]the nations shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before [5]their eyes. 24 For [v]I will take you [w]from among the nations, and gather you out of all the countries, and [x]will bring you into your own land. 25 And [y]I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from [z]all your filthiness, and [a]from all your idols, [b]will I cleanse you. 26 [c]A new heart also will I give you, [c]and a new spirit will I put within you: [c]and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. 27 [d]And I will put my spirit within you, [c]and cause you to walk in my statutes, and [e]ye shall keep my judgements, and do them. 28 And [f]ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; and [g]ye shall be my people, and I will be your God. 29 And [h]I will save you from all your uncleannesses: and [i]I will call for the corn, and will multiply it, and [j]lay no famine upon you. 30 And [k]I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, [i]that ye shall receive no more the reproach of famine among the nations. 31 Then [l]shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good; and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations. 32 [s]Not for your sake [1]do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel. 33 Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the day that [m]I cleanse you from all your iniquities, [n]I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places shall be builded. 34 And [n]the land that was desolate shall be tilled, whereas it was a desolation in the sight of all that passed by. 35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become [o]like the garden of Eden; [n]and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are fenced and inhabited. 36 Then [p]the nations that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD have builded the ruined places, and [q]planted that which was desolate: [r]I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord GOD: For this moreover [s]will I be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them; [t]I will increase them with men like [u]a flock. 38 As the [2]flock for sacrifice, [v]as the flock of Jerusalem in her appointed feasts; so [t]shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: [w]and they shall know that I am the LORD.

1 [x]The hand of the LORD was upon me, and [y]he carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of [z]the valley; and it was full of bones; 2 and he caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many [3][z]in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry. 3 And he said unto me, [a]Son of man, [b]can these bones live? And [c]I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest. 4 Again he said unto me, [d]Prophesy over these bones, and say unto them, [e]O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. 5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones: Behold, [f]I will cause [4][g]breath to enter into you, and ye shall live. 6 [h]And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and [h]cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; [i]and ye shall know that I am the LORD. 7 So I prophesied [j]as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a [5]noise, and behold [k]an earthquake, and the bones came together, bone to his bone. 8 And I beheld, and lo, there were sinews upon them, and flesh came up, and skin covered them above: but [l]there was no breath in them. 9 Then said he unto me, [d]Prophesy unto the [6]wind, prophesy, [a]son of man, and say to the [6]wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Come from [m]the four winds, O [7]breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. 10 So I prophesied [j]as he commanded me, and [n]the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army. 11 Then he said unto me, [a]Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried up, and [o]our hope is lost; [p]we are clean cut off. 12 Therefore [d]prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [q]I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, O my people; and [r]I will bring you into the land of Israel. 13 And [s]ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and caused you to come up out of your graves, O my people. 14 And [t]I will put my [6]spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I will place you in your own land: and ye shall know that [u]I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

mind, and thou shalt devise an evil device: 11 and thou shalt say, I will go up to [1][g] the land of unwalled villages; I will go to them [h] that are at quiet, that dwell securely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates: 12 to take the spoil and to take the prey; to turn thine hand against [i] the waste places that are now inhabited, and [i] against the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, [j] that dwell in the [2] middle of the earth. 13 [k] Sheba, and [l] Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all [m] the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, [n] Art thou come to take the spoil? hast thou assembled thy company to take the prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?

14 Therefore, [o] son of man, prophesy, and say unto [p] Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD: In that day when my people Israel [c] dwelleth securely, [q] shalt thou not know it? 15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of [r] the uttermost parts of the north, thou, and [s] many peoples with thee, [t] all of them riding upon horses, a great company and a mighty army: 16 and thou shalt come up against my people Israel, [e] as a cloud to cover the land; it shall come to pass [u] in the latter days, that I will bring thee against my land, that the nations may know me, when [v] I shall be sanctified in thee, [p] O Gog, before their eyes. 17 Thus saith the Lord GOD: Art thou [w] he of whom I spake in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring thee against them? 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, when [p] Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that [x] my fury shall come up into my nostrils. 19 For [y] in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day [z] there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; 20 [a] so that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, [b] shall shake at my presence, and [c] the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. 21 And [d] I will call for a sword against him unto all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD: [e] every man's sword shall be against his brother. 22 And [f] I will plead against him [g] with pestilence and with blood; and [h] I will rain upon him, and upon [i] his hordes, and upon the many peoples that are with him, [j] an overflowing shower, and great hailstones, [k] fire, and brimstone. 23 And [l] I will magnify myself, and [m] sanctify myself, and [n] I will make myself known in the eyes of many nations; and [o] they shall know that I am the LORD.

39 1 And thou, [p] son of man, [q] prophesy against [r] Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD: Behold, [s] I am against thee, O [r] Gog, [3] prince of [t] Rosh, [u] Meshech, and [u] Tubal: 2 [v] and I will turn thee about, and will lead thee on, and will cause thee to come up from [w] the uttermost parts of the north; and I will bring thee upon [x] the mountains of Israel: 3 and [y] I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and [y] will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand. 4 [z] Thou shalt fall upon [x] the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy [a] hordes, and the peoples that are with thee: [b] I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. 5 Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for [c] I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD. 6 And [d] I will send a fire on [e] Magog, and on them [f] that dwell securely in [g] the [4] isles: and [h] they shall know that I am the LORD. 7 And [i] my holy name will I make known in the midst of my people Israel; [j] neither will I suffer my holy name to be profaned any more: and [k] the nations shall know that I am [l] the LORD, the Holy One in Israel. 8 [m] Behold, it cometh, and it shall be done, saith the Lord GOD; this is the day [n] whereof I have spoken. 9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and [o] shall make fires of the weapons and burn them, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and [p] the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall make fires of them seven years: 10 so that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for [e]they shall make fires of the weapons: and [q]they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto [r]Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of them that pass through [1]on the east of the sea: and it shall stop them that pass through: and there shall they bury [r]Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of [2][s]Hamon-gog. 12 And [t]seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that [u]they may cleanse the land. 13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown, in the day that [v]I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD. 14 And they shall sever out men of continual employment, that shall pass through the land to bury [3]them [4]that pass through, that remain upon the face of the land, [u]to cleanse it: after the end of [w]seven months shall they search. 15 And they that pass through the land shall pass through; and when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he [5]set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of [x]Hamon-gog. 16 And [6]Hamonah shall also be the name of a city. [u]Thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 And thou, [y]son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: [z]Speak unto [a]the birds of every sort, and to [a]every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to [b]my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh and drink blood. 18 [c]Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them [d]fatlings of Bashan. 19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of [b]my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you. 20 And ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord GOD. 21 And [e]I will set my glory among the nations, and all the nations shall see [f]my judgement that I have executed, and [f]my hand that I have laid upon them. 22 [g]So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God, from that day and forward. 23 And [h]the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity; because they trespassed against me, and [i]I hid my face from them: [j]so I gave them into the hand of their adversaries, and they fell all of them by the sword. 24 [k]According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions did I unto them; and [i]I hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: Now [l]will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon [m]the whole house of Israel; and [n]I will be jealous for my holy name. 26 And they shall [o]bear their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when [p]they shall dwell securely in their land, and [q]none shall make them afraid; 27 [r]when I have brought them again from the peoples, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, [s]and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations. 28 And [g]they shall know that I am the LORD their God, in that I caused them to go into captivity among the nations, and have gathered them unto their own land; and I will leave none of them any more there; 29 [t]neither will I hide my face any more from them: for [u]I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

1 [v]In the five and twentieth year [w]of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, [x]in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day, [y]the hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me thither. 2 In the [z]visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me down upon [a]a very high mountain, whereon was as it were the frame of a city on the south. 3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was [b]a man, whose appearance was [c]like the appearance of brass, with [d]a line of flax in his hand, and [e]a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate. 4 And the man said unto me, [f]Son of man, [g]behold with thine eyes, and [g]hear with thine ears, and [h]set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: [i]declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, [j]a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand [e]a measuring reed of six cubits long, [k]of a cubit and an handbreadth each: so he measured the thickness of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed. 6 Then came he unto [l]the gate which looketh toward the east, and [m]went up the steps thereof; and he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad: [1]and the other threshold, one reed broad. 7 And every [2][n]lodge was one reed long, and one reed broad; and the space between the lodges was five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate toward the house was one reed. 8 [3]He measured also the porch of the gate toward the house, one reed. 9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; [o]and the [4]posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was toward the house. 10 And the [n]lodges of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; [p]they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side. 11 And he measured the breadth of the opening of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits; 12 and a border before the lodges, one cubit on this side, and a border, one cubit on that side; and the [n]lodges, six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side. 13 And he measured the gate from the roof of the one [n]lodge to the roof of the other, a breadth of five and twenty cubits; door against door. 14 He made also [q]posts, threescore cubits; and the court reached unto the post, the gate being round about. 15 And from the forefront of the gate at the entrance unto the forefront of the [5]inner porch of the gate were fifty cubits. 16 And there were [r]closed windows to the [n]lodges, and to their [s]posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the [6]arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were [t]palm trees.

17 Then brought he me into [u]the outer court, and, lo, there were [v]chambers and a [w]pavement, made for the court round about: [x]thirty chambers were upon the pavement. 18 And the pavement was by the [7]side of the gates, answerable unto the length of the gates, even the lower pavement. 19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits, both on the east and on the north. 20 And [y]the gate of [u]the outer court whose prospect is toward the north, he measured the length thereof and the breadth thereof. 21 And the [n]lodges thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of [z]the first gate: the length thereof was [a]fifty cubits, and the breadth [b]five and twenty cubits. 22 And [c]the windows thereof, and the arches thereof, and [c]the palm trees thereof, were after the measure of the gate whose prospect is toward the east; and [d]they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them. 23 And there was a gate to [e]the inner court over against the other gate, both on the north and on the east; and [f]he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits. 24 And he led me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and [g]he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures. 25 And [h]there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: [g]the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 26 And [h]there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had [i]palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof. 27 And there was a gate to [j]the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.

28 Then he brought me to [j]the inner court by the south gate: and [k]he measured the south gate according to these measures; 29 and [l]the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and [m]there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: [m]it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. 30 And there were arches round about, five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad. 31 And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and [i]palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and [n]the going up to it had eight steps. 32 And he brought me into [j]the inner court toward the east: and [o]he measured the gate according to these measures; 33 and [l]the lodges thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: [o]it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad. 34 And [p]the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and [i]palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps. 35 And he brought me to [q]the north gate: and [r]he measured it according to these measures; 36 [l]the lodges thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof; and there were windows therein round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits. 37 And the posts thereof were toward the outer court; and [i]palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And [s]a chamber with the door thereof was by the posts at the gates; [t]there they washed the burnt offering. 39 And [1]in the porch of the gate were two [u]tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the [v]burnt offering and the [w]sin offering and the [x]guilt offering. 40 And on the one side without, [2]as one goeth up to the entry of the gate toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, which belonged to the porch of the gate, were two tables. 41 [y]Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, [z]whereupon they slew the sacrifices. 42 And there were four tables for the burnt offering, [a]of hewn stone, a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the [v]burnt offering and the sacrifice. 43 And the [3]hooks, an handbreadth long, were fastened [4]within round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the oblation. 44 [5]And without the inner gate were [b]chambers for [c]the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north. 45 And he said unto me, This [b]chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, [d]the keepers of the charge of the house. 46 And the [b]chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, [e]the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are [f]the sons of Zadok, which from among the sons of Levi come [g]near to the LORD to minister unto him. 47 And he measured the court, [h]an hundred cubits long, and [h]an hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and [i]the altar was before the house.

48 Then he brought me to [j]the porch of the house, and measured each [k]post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side. 49 [l]The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; [6]even by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were [m]pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

[1] Or, by the building [2] Or, at the stairs of the entry [3] According to some ancient versions, ledges. [4] Or, in [5] The Sept. has, And he led me into the inner court, and, behold, two chambers in the inner court, one at the side of the gate that looketh toward the north, having its prospect toward the south, and one at the side of the gate toward the south, but looking toward the north. [6] The Sept. has, and by ten steps they went &c.

41 1 And he brought me to [n]the temple, and measured the [o]posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the [1]tabernacle. 2 And the breadth of the entrance was ten cubits; and the [2]sides of the entrance were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, [p]forty cubits, and the breadth, [q]twenty cubits. 3 Then went he [r]inward, and measured each [o]post of the entrance, two cubits; and the entrance, six cubits; and the breadth of the entrance, seven cubits. 4 And he measured [s]the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the [t]temple: and he said unto me, This is [u]the most holy place. 5 Then he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every [v]side-chamber, four cubits, [v]round about the house on every side. 6 And [v]the side-chambers were in three stories, one over another, and [w]thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which belonged to the house for the side-chambers round about, that they might have hold therein, [x]and not have hold in the wall of the house. 7 And [3][y]the side-chambers were broader as they encompassed the house higher and higher; for the encompassing of the house went higher and higher round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house continued upward; and [z]so one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. 8 I saw also [4]that the house had [5]a raised basement round about: the foundations of [v]the side-chambers were a full reed [6]of [a]six great cubits. 9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side-chambers, on the outside, was five cubits: [7]and [b]that which was left was the place of the side-chambers that belonged to the house. 10 And between [c]the chambers was a breadth of [d]twenty cubits round about the house on every side. 11 And the doors of the [e]side-chambers were toward [f]the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of [f]the place that was left was five cubits round about. 12 And the building that was before [g]the separate place at the side toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits. 13 So he measured the house, [h]an hundred cubits long; and [g]the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, [h]an hundred cubits long; 14 also the breadth of the face of the house, and of [g]the separate place toward the east, [h]an hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of [i]the building before [g]the separate place which was at the back thereof, and [j]the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, [h]an hundred cubits; and the inner temple, and the porches of the court; 16 [k]the thresholds, and [l]the closed windows, and [j]the galleries round about on [m]their three stories, over against the threshold, cieled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows; now the windows were covered; 17 to the space above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, [8]by measure. 18 And it was made with [n]cherubim and [o]palm trees; and a palm tree was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces; 19 so that there was [p]the face of a man toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about. 20 From the ground unto above the door were [n]cherubim and [o]palm trees made: [9]thus was the wall of the temple. 21 As for [q]the temple, the door posts were squared; and as for the face of [r]the sanctuary, the appearance thereof was [10]as the appearance of the temple. 22 [s]The altar was of wood, three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and

[1] the corners thereof, and the [2] length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is [t] the table that is before the LORD. 23 And [q] the temple and [r] the sanctuary had [u] two doors. 24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, [v] two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other. 25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, [n] cherubim and [o] palm trees, [w] like as were made upon the walls; and there were [x] thick beams of wood [3] upon the face of [y] the porch without. 26 And there were [l] closed windows and [o] palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of [y] the porch: thus were [z] the side-chambers of the house, and the [x] thick beams.

42 1 Then he brought me forth into [a] the outer court, [b] the way toward the north: and he brought me into [a] the chamber that was over against [c] the separate place, and which was over against [d] the building toward the north. 2 Before the length of [e] an hundred cubits was the north door, and [f] the breadth was fifty cubits. 3 Over against [g] the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner court, and over against [h] the pavement which belonged to the outer court, was [i] gallery against gallery [4] in the third story. 4 And [j] before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, [k] a way of [5] one cubit; and [j] their doors were toward the north. 5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for [i] the galleries took away from these, more than from the lower and the middlemost, in the building. 6 For they were in three stories, and they had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the uppermost was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground. 7 And [l] the [6] wall that was without by the side of the chambers, toward the outer court before the chambers, [m] the length thereof was fifty cubits. 8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before [n] the temple were [o] an hundred cubits. 9 And from under these chambers was [p] the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the outer court. 10 In the thickness of [q] the [6] wall of the court toward the east, before [r] the separate place, and before [r] the building, there were [s] chambers. 11 And [t] the way before them was like the appearance of the way of the chambers which were toward the north; [7] according to their length so was their breadth: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to [t] their doors. 12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before [q] the [6] wall toward the east, as one entereth into them. 13 Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before [r] the separate place, they be the holy chambers, [u] where the priests that are near unto the LORD [v] shall eat [w] the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and [w] the meal offering, and [x] the sin offering, and [x] the guilt offering; for the place is holy. 14 When the priests enter in, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there [y] they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy: and [y] they shall put on other garments, and shall approach to that which pertaineth to the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth by the way of [z] the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about. 16 He measured on the east [8] side with [a] the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 17 He measured on the north [8] side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about. 18 He measured on the south [8] side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed. 19 He turned about to the west [8] side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed. 20 He measured it [9] on the four sides: it had [b] a wall round about, [c] the length five hundred, and [c] the breadth five hundred, [d] to make a separation between that which was holy and that which was common.

43 1 Afterward he brought me to [e]the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east: 2 and behold, [f]the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and [g]his voice was like the sound of many waters: and [h]the earth shined with his glory. 3 And [i]it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw [j]when I came to destroy the city; and the visions were like [k]the vision that I saw [l]by the river Chebar: and [m]I fell upon my face. 4 And [f]the glory of the LORD [n]came into the house by the way of [e]the gate whose prospect is toward the east. 5 And [o]the spirit took me up, and brought me into [p]the inner court; and behold, [q]the glory of the LORD filled the house. 6 [r]And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house; and [s]a man stood by me. 7 And he said unto me, [t]Son of man, this is [u]the place of my throne, and [v]the place of the soles of my feet, [w]where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever: and the house of Israel shall no more [x]defile my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, and by the carcases of their kings [1]in their high places; 8 in their setting of their threshold by my threshold, and their door post beside my door post, and [y]there was but the wall between me and them; and they have [z]defiled my holy name by their abominations which they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger. 9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcases of their kings, far from me, [w]and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 Thou, [t]son of man, [a]shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the [2]pattern. 11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, [a]make known unto them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and [b]the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof, and write it [c]in their sight: that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them. 12 This is the law of the house: upon the top of [d]the mountain [e]the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of [f]the altar by cubits: (the cubit is [g]a cubit and an handbreadth:) the [3]bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about a span: and this shall be the [4]base of the altar. 14 And from the bottom [5]upon the ground to the lower [6][h]settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth a cubit. 15 And the [7]upper altar shall be four cubits; and from the [8]altar hearth and upward there shall be [i]four horns. 16 And the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve broad, [j]square in the four sides thereof. 17 And [h]the settle shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen broad in the four sides thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and [k]the steps thereof shall look toward the east.

18 And he said unto me, [l]Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD: These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and [m]to sprinkle blood thereon. 19 Thou shalt give to [n]the priests the Levites [o]that be of the seed of Zadok, which are near unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, [p]a young bullock for a sin offering. 20 And [q]thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on [i]the four horns of it, and on the four corners of [h]the settle, and upon [r]the border round about: [s]thus shalt thou cleanse it and make atonement for it. 21 Thou shalt also take [p]the bullock of the sin offering, and [t]he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary. 22 And on the

1 Then he brought me [a]back the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, [b]which looketh toward the east; and it was shut. 2 And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, neither shall any man enter in by it, for [c]the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it; therefore it shall be shut. 3 As for [d]the prince, he shall sit therein as prince [e]to eat bread before the LORD; [f]he shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate, and shall go out by the way of the same. 4 Then he brought me the way of [g]the north gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, [h]the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and [i]I fell upon my face. 5 And the LORD said unto me, [j]Son of man, [2]mark well, and [k]behold with thine eyes, [k]and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning [l]all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and [2]mark well [l]the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary. 6 And thou shalt say to [m]the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD: O ye house of Israel, [n]let it suffice you of all your abominations, 7 in that [o]ye have brought in aliens, [p]uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, [q]to profane it, even my house, when ye offer [r]my bread, the fat and the blood, and [3]they have broken my covenant, [4]to add unto all your abominations. 8 And [s]ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves. 9 Thus saith the Lord GOD, [t]No alien, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any alien that is among the children of Israel. 10 But [u]the Levites that went far from me, [v]when Israel went astray, which went astray from me after their idols; [w]they shall bear their iniquity. 11 Yet they shall be [x]ministers in my sanctuary, having oversight [y]at the gates of the house, and ministering in the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and [z]they shall stand before them to minister unto them. 12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and became [a]a stumblingblock of iniquity unto the house of Israel; therefore have I [b]lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and [w]they shall bear their iniquity. 13 And [c]they shall not come near unto me, to execute the office of priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, unto the things that are most holy: but [d]they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed. 14 Yet will I make them keepers of [e]the charge of the house, [f]for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 But [g]the priests the Levites, [g]the sons of Zadok, that kept [e]the charge of my sanctuary [v]when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me [h]to minister unto me; and they shall stand before me to offer unto me [i]the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD: 16 they shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to [j]my table, [h]to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge. 17 And it shall be that when they enter in at the gates of the inner

1 Moreover, when [i]ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, [j]ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, [4]an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be [5]ten thousand: it shall be holy in all the border thereof round about. 2 [k]Of this there shall be for the holy place five hundred in length by five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits for [l]the [6]suburbs thereof round about. 3 And [m]of this measure shalt thou measure, a length of five and twenty thousand, and a breadth of ten thousand: and [n]in it shall be the sanctuary, [o]which is most holy. 4 [p]It is an holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, which come near to minister unto the LORD; and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary. 5 [q]And five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth, shall be unto the Levites, the ministers of the house, for a possession unto themselves, for [7]twenty chambers. 6 [r]And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, side by side with the oblation of the holy portion: [s]it shall be for the whole house of Israel. 7 [t]And whatsoever is for [u]the prince shall be on the one side and on the other side of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the holy oblation and in front of the possession of the city, on the west side westward, and on the east side eastward: and in length answerable unto one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border. 8 [8]In the land it shall be to him for a possession in Israel: and [v]my princes shall no more oppress

my people; but [w] they shall give the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [x] Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgement and justice; take away [y] your [1] exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD. 10 [z] Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath. 11 The ephah and the bath shall be [a] of one measure, [b] that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer. 12 And [c] the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh. 13 [d] This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah from an homer of barley: 14 and the set portion of oil, of the bath of oil, shall be the tenth part of a bath out of [e] the cor, which is ten baths, even an homer; for [f] ten baths are an homer: 15 and one lamb of the flock, out of two hundred, from the [2] fat pastures of Israel; for a meal offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, [g] to make atonement for them, saith the Lord GOD. 16 All the people of the land [3] shall give unto [d] this oblation for the prince in Israel. 17 [h] And it shall be the prince's part to give the burnt offerings, and the meal offerings, and the drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meal offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, [g] to make atonement for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord GOD: In the first month, [i] in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish; and [j] thou shalt cleanse the sanctuary. 19 And [k] the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it [l] upon the door posts of the house, and upon the four corners of [m] the [4] settle of the altar, and [l] upon the posts of [n] the gate of the inner court. 20 And so thou shalt do [5] on the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: [g] so shall ye make atonement for the house. 21 [o] In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten. 22 And upon that day [p] shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering. 23 And [q] the seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; and [r] a he-goat daily for a sin offering. 24 And [s] he shall prepare [t] a meal offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 25 [u] In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, in the feast, shall he do the like the seven days; [v] according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meal offering, and according to the oil.

1 Thus saith the Lord GOD: [w] The gate of [x] the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days; but on the sabbath day it shall be opened, and [y] in the day of the new moon it shall be opened. 2 And [z] the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by [a] the post of the gate, and [b] the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at [c] the threshold of the gate; then he shall go forth: but the gate shall not be shut until the evening. 3 And [d] the people of the land shall worship at the door of that gate before the LORD in the sabbaths [y] and in the new moons. 4 And [e] the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD shall be [f] in the sabbath day six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish; 5 and [g] the meal offering shall be an ephah for the ram, and the meal offering for the lambs [h] as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 6 And [y] in the day of the new moon it shall be a young

bullock without blemish; and six lambs, and a ram; they shall be without blemish: 7 and he shall prepare [g]a meal offering, an ephah for the bullock, and an ephah for the ram, and for the lambs [i]according as [1]he is able, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 8 And [j]when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of the gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof. 9 But [k]when the people of the land [l]shall come before the LORD in the appointed feasts, he that entereth by the way of the north gate to worship shall go forth by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth straight before him. 10 And [m]the prince, when they go in, shall go in in the midst of them; and when they go forth, [2]they shall go forth together. 11 And in the feasts and in the [3]solemnities [g]the meal offering shall be an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs [i]as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah. 12 And when the prince shall prepare [n]a freewill offering, a burnt offering or peace offerings as a freewill offering unto the LORD, one shall open for him [o]the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, [p]as he doth on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate. 13 And [q]thou shalt prepare a lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering unto the LORD daily: morning by morning shalt thou prepare it. 14 And [r]thou shalt prepare a meal offering with it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to [4]moisten the fine flour; a meal offering unto the LORD continually by a perpetual ordinance. 15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meal offering, and the oil, morning by morning, for [s]a continual burnt offering.

19 Then he brought me through the entry, which was [y]at the side of the gate, into [z]the holy chambers for the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the hinder part westward. 20 And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests [a]shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering, where [b]they shall bake the meal offering; that they bring them not forth into the outer court, [c]to sanctify the people. 21 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, in every corner of the court there was a court. 22 In the four corners of the court there were courts [6]inclosed, forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four in the corners were of one measure. 23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about the four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about. 24 Then said he unto me, These are the boiling houses, where [d]the ministers of the house [a]shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

47 1 And he brought me back unto [e]the door of the house; and behold, [f]waters issued out from under [g]the threshold of the house eastward, for the forefront of the house was toward the east: and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, on the south of [h]the altar. 2 Then brought he me out by the way of [i]the gate northward, and led me round by the way without unto [j]the outer gate, by the way of the gate that looketh toward the east; and behold, [f]there [1]ran out waters on the right side. 3 When [k]the man went forth eastward with the line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the ankles. 4 Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and caused me to pass through the waters, waters that were to the loins. 5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass through: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed through. 6 And he said unto me, [l]Son of man, [m]hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the bank of the river. 7 Now when I had returned, behold, upon the bank of the river were [n]very many trees on the one side and on the other. 8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue forth toward the eastern region, and shall go down into [o]the Arabah: and they shall go toward the sea; into [p]the sea shall the waters go which were made to issue forth; and the waters shall be healed. 9 And it shall come to pass, that [q]every living creature which swarmeth, in every place whither the [2]rivers come, shall live; and there shall be a very great multitude of fish: for these waters are come thither, [3]and the waters of the sea shall be healed, and every thing shall live whithersoever the river cometh. 10 And it shall come to pass, that fishers shall stand by it: from [r]En-gedi even unto [s]En-eglaim shall be a place for the spreading of nets; their fish shall be after their kinds, as the fish of [t]the great sea, exceeding many. 11 But the miry places thereof, and the marishes thereof, shall not be healed; they shall be [4]given up to salt. 12 And by the river upon the bank thereof, [u]on this side and on that side, shall grow [v]every tree for meat, [w]whose leaf shall not wither, neither shall the fruit thereof fail: [x]it shall bring forth [5]new fruit every month, because the waters thereof issue out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and [x]the leaf thereof for healing.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD: This shall be the border, whereby [y]ye shall divide the land for inheritance according to the twelve tribes of Israel: [z]Joseph shall have [6]portions. 14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another; [7]concerning the which [a]I lifted up mine hand [b]to give it unto your fathers: and [c]this land shall fall unto you for inheritance. 15 And this shall be the border of the land: on the north side, from [t]the great sea, by [d]the way of Hethlon, unto the entering in of [e]Zedad; 16 [d]Hamath, [f]Berothah, Sibraim, which is between the border of [g]Damascus and the border of [d]Hamath; [8]Hazer-hatticon, which is by the border of Hauran. 17 And the border from the sea shall be [h]Hazar-enon at the border of [g]Damascus, and on the north northward is the border of [d]Hamath. This is the north side. 18 And the east side, between Hauran and [g]Damascus and [i]Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be Jordan; from the north border unto [j]the east sea shall ye measure. This is the east side. 19 And the south side southward shall be from [k]Tamar as far as [l]the waters of Meriboth-kadesh, to [m]the brook of Egypt, unto [t]the great sea. This is the south side southward. 20 And the west side shall be [t]the great sea, from the south border as far as over against [d]the entering in of Hamath. This is the west side. 21 [n]So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel. 22 And it shall come to pass, that [o]ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you and [p]to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you; and [q]they shall be unto you as the homeborn among the children of Israel; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. 23 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

8 And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be [x]the oblation which ye shall offer, five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the portions, from the east side unto the west side: and [y]the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it. 9 [x]The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD shall be five and twenty thousand reeds in length, and ten thousand in breadth. 10 [z]And for these, even for the priests, shall be the holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and [y]the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof. 11 [1] [z]It shall be for [a]the priests that are sanctified of [b]the sons of Zadok, which have kept my charge; which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, [c]as the Levites went astray. 12 And it shall be unto them an oblation from the oblation of the land, a thing most holy, by the border of the Levites. 13 [d]And answerable unto the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth [2]ten thousand. 14 And [e]they shall not sell of it, neither exchange it, nor shall [f]the firstfruits of the land be alienated: for it is holy unto the LORD. 15 And [g]the five thousand that are left in the breadth, in front of the five and twenty thousand, shall be [h]for common use, for the city, for dwelling and for [i]suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof. 16 And these shall be the measures thereof; [j]the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred. 17 And the city shall have [i]suburbs; toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty. 18 And the residue in the length, answerable unto the holy oblation, shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be answerable unto the holy oblation; and [k]the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that labour in the city. 19 And they that labour in the city, out of all the tribes of Israel, shall till it. 20 All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: [l]ye shall offer the holy oblation foursquare, with the possession of the city.

21 [m]And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation and of the possession of the city, in front of the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the east border, and westward in front of the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, answerable unto the portions, it shall be for the prince: [n]and the holy oblation and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof. 22 Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.

23 And as for the rest of the tribes: from the east side unto the west side; Benjamin, one portion. 24 And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west

BOOK OF DANIEL.

1 IN the third year of [a]the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it. 2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of [b]the vessels of the house of God; and he carried them into [c]the land of Shinar to the house of his god: [d]and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god. 3 And the king spake unto Ashpenaz [e]the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring in certain of the children of Israel, even of the seed royal and of [f]the nobles; 4 youths in whom was no [g]blemish, but well favoured, and [h]skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability to stand in the king's palace; and that he should [i]teach them the learning and the tongue of the [j]Chaldeans. 5 And the king appointed for them a daily portion of [k]the king's [2]meat, and of [l]the wine which he drank, and that they should be nourished [m]three years; that at the end thereof they might [n]stand before the king. 6 Now among these were, of the children of Judah, [o]Daniel, [p]Hananiah, [p]Mishael, and [p]Azariah. 7 And [e]the prince of the eunuchs [q]gave names unto them: [r]unto Daniel he gave the name of Belteshazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Mishael, of Meshach; and to Azariah, of Abednego. 8 But Daniel [s]purposed in his heart that he would not [t]defile himself with [k]the king's meat, nor with [l]the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not [t]defile himself. 9 [u]Now God made Daniel to find favour and compassion in the sight of the prince of the eunuchs. 10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the youths which are of your own age? so should ye endanger my head with the king. 11 Then said Daniel to [3]the steward, whom the prince of the eunuchs had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, [v] ten days; and let them give us [1] pulse to eat, and water to drink. 13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the youths that eat of [k] the king's meat; and as thou seest, deal with thy servants. 14 So he hearkened unto them in this matter, and proved them ten days. 15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer, and they were fatter in flesh, than all the youths which did eat of [k] the king's meat. 16 [w] So [2] the steward took away their meat, and the wine that they should drink, and gave them [x] pulse. 17 Now as for these four youths, [y] God gave them knowledge and [z] skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had [a] understanding in all visions and dreams. 18 And at the end of [b] the days which the king had [3] appointed for bringing them in, the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar. 19 And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore [c] stood they before the king. 20 And in every matter of wisdom and understanding, concerning which the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all [d] the magicians and [e] enchanters that were in all his realm. 21 And Daniel [f] continued even unto the first year of [g] king Cyrus.

1 And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams; and [h] his spirit was troubled, and [i] his sleep brake from him. 2 Then the king commanded to call [d] the magicians, and [e] the enchanters, and the [j] sorcerers, and [k] the Chaldeans, for to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and [l] stood before the king. 3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and [h] my spirit is troubled to know the dream. 4 Then spake [k] the Chaldeans to the king [4] in the Syrian language, [5] [m] O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. 5 The king answered and said to [k] the Chaldeans, [6] The thing is gone from me: if ye make not known unto me the dream and the interpretation thereof, ye shall be [n] cut in pieces, [n] and your [o] houses shall be made a dunghill. 6 But if ye shew the dream and the interpretation thereof, [p] ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: [q] therefore shew me the dream and the interpretation thereof. 7 They answered the second time and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation. 8 The king answered and said, I know of a certainty that ye would [7] [r] gain time, because ye see [8] the thing is gone from me. 9 But if ye make not known unto me the dream, [s] there is but one law for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till [t] the time be changed: [u] therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof. 10 [v] The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: forasmuch as no king, [9] lord, nor ruler, hath asked such a thing of any magician, or enchanter, or [v] Chaldean. 11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except [w] the gods, [x] whose dwelling is not with flesh. 12 For this cause the king was angry and [y] very furious, and [z] commanded to destroy all [a] the wise men of Babylon. 13 So the decree went forth, and the wise men were to be slain; and they sought [b] Daniel and his companions to be slain. 14 Then Daniel returned answer with counsel and prudence to [c] Arioch the [d] captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; 15 he answered and said to [c] Arioch the king's captain, Wherefore is the decree [e] so urgent from the king? Then [c] Arioch made the thing known to Daniel. 16 And Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would [10] appoint him a time, [11] and he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to [f]Hananiah, [f]Mishael, and [f]Azariah, his companions: 18 [g]that they would desire mercies of the [h]God of heaven concerning this secret; that Daniel and his companions should not [i]perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. 19 Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in [j]a vision of the night. Then Daniel [k]blessed the [h]God of heaven. 20 Daniel answered and said, [l]Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: [m]for wisdom and might are his: 21 and [n]he changeth the times and the seasons: [o]he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: [p]he giveth wisdom unto the wise, [p]and knowledge to them that know understanding: 22 [q]he revealeth the deep and secret things: [q]he knoweth what is in the darkness, [r]and the light dwelleth with him. 23 [s]I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou [t]God of my fathers, [u]who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast now made known unto me what [v]we desired of thee: for thou hast made known unto us the king's matter. 24 Therefore Daniel went in unto [w]Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then [w]Arioch brought in Daniel before the king [x]in haste, and said thus unto him, I have found a man [y]of the children of the captivity of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation. 26 The king answered and said to Daniel, [z]whose name was Belteshazzar, [a]Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof? 27 Daniel answered before the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded can neither wise men, [b]enchanters, [b]magicians, nor [c]soothsayers, shew unto the king; 28 but [d]there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and he hath made known to the king Nebuchadnezzar [e]what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and [f]the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these: 29 as for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: [g]and he that revealeth secrets hath made known to thee what shall come to pass. 30 But [h]as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but to the intent that the interpretation may be made known to the king, and that [i]thou mayest know the thoughts of thy heart. 31 Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This image, which was mighty, and whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the aspect thereof was terrible. 32 As for this image, [j]his head was of fine gold, [k]his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and [k]his thighs of brass, 33 [l]his legs of iron, his feet part of iron, and part of clay. 34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out [m]without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and [n]brake them in pieces. 35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, [n]broken in pieces together, and became [o]like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that [p]no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became [q]a great [1]mountain, [r]and filled the whole earth. 36 This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king. 37 Thou, O king, art [s]king of kings, unto whom [t]the God of heaven [u]hath given the kingdom, the power, and the strength, and the glory; 38 and wheresoever the children of men dwell, [v]the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee to rule over them all: thou art [w]the head of gold. 39 And after thee shall arise [x]another kingdom inferior to thee; and another third kingdom [w]of brass, [y]which shall bear rule over all the earth. 40 And [z]the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron [a]breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that crusheth all these, shall it [a]break in pieces and crush. 41 And whereas thou sawest [b]the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom; but there shall be in it of the

[z]strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with [1]miry clay. 42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly [2]broken. 43 And whereas thou sawest the iron mixed with [1]miry clay, they shall mingle themselves [3]with the seed of men; but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron doth not mingle with clay. 44 And in the days of those kings shall [c]the God of heaven set up [d]a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the sovereignty thereof be left to another people; but [e]it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and [d]it shall stand for ever. 45 Forasmuch as [f]thou sawest that [g]a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that [e]it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the [h]great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure. 46 Then the king Nebuchadnezzar [i]fell upon his face, and [j]worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should [k]offer an oblation and [l]sweet odours unto him. 47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth your [m]God is the God of gods, and [n]the Lord of kings, and [o]a revealer of secrets, seeing thou hast been able to reveal this secret. 48 Then the king made Daniel great, and gave him many great [p]gifts, and made him to rule over the whole [q]province of Babylon, and to be [r]chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. 49 And Daniel requested of the king, and he [s]appointed [t]Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of [q]the province of Babylon: but Daniel was [4]in [u]the gate of the king.

3 1 Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in [v]the plain of Dura, in [w]the province of Babylon. 2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together [x]the satraps, the deputies, and [y]the governors, the [5]judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the [6]sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 3 Then [x]the satraps, the deputies, and the governors, the [5]judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the [6]sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up. 4 Then the herald [z]cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O [a]peoples, nations, and languages, 5 that at what time ye hear the [b]sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, [7]dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye [c]fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up: 6 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour [d]be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 7 Therefore at that time, when all the peoples heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all [a]the peoples, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. 8 Wherefore at that time certain [e]Chaldeans [f]came near, and brought accusation against the Jews. 9 They answered and said to Nebuchadnezzar the king, [g]O king, live for ever. 10 Thou, O king, [h]hast made a decree, that every man that shall [i]hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, [i]shall fall down and worship the golden image: 11 and whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, [d]shall be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace. 12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast [j]appointed over the affairs of [w]the province of Babylon, [k]Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego; these men, O king, [l]have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. 13 Then Nebuchadnezzar [m]in his rage and fury commanded to bring [k]Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king. 14 Nebuchadnezzar answered and said unto them, Is it of purpose, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, that ye serve not my god, nor worship the golden image which I have set up? 15 Now if ye be ready that at what time [n] ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, [d] ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; and [o] who is that god that shall deliver you out of my hands? 16 [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, [1] we have no need to answer thee in this matter. 17 [2] If it be so, [p] our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace; and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king. 18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up. 19 Then was Nebuchadnezzar [q] full of fury, and the form of his visage [r] was changed against [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace seven times more than it was wont to be heated. 20 And he commanded certain mighty men that were in his army [s] to bind [k] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace. 21 Then these men were [s] bound in their hosen, their [3] tunics, and their mantles, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 22 Therefore because the king's commandment was [t] urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire [u] slew those men that took up [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. 23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down [s] bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. 24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was [w] astonied, and rose up [x] in haste: he spake and said unto his [y] counsellors, Did not we cast three men [z] bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king. 25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, [a] walking in the midst of the fire, and they [b] have no hurt; and the aspect of the fourth is like [c] a son of the gods. 26 Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the [4] mouth of the burning fiery furnace: he spake and said, [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the [d] Most High God, come forth, and come hither. Then [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, [e] came forth out of the midst of the fire. 27 And the [f] satraps, the deputies, and the governors, and [y] the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, that [g] the fire had no power upon their bodies, nor was the hair of their head singed, neither were their [h] hosen changed, nor had the smell of fire passed on them. 28 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who [i] hath sent his angel, and [j] delivered his servants that [k] trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and have yielded their bodies, that they might not [l] serve nor worship any god, except their own God. 29 Therefore [m] I make a decree, that every [n] people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, [o] shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other god that is able to deliver after this sort. 30 Then the king promoted [v] Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in [p] the province of Babylon.

4 1 Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all the [q] peoples, nations, and languages, [r] that dwell in all the earth; [s] peace be multiplied unto you. 2 It hath seemed good unto me to shew the [t] signs and wonders that the [u] Most High God hath wrought toward me. 3 How great are [t] his signs! and how mighty are his [t] wonders! [v] his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, [v] and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace. 5 I saw a dream which made me afraid; and the [1]thoughts upon my bed and [w]the visions of my head troubled me. 6 Therefore [x]made I a decree to bring in [y]all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream. 7 Then came in [z]the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but [a]they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof. 8 But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was [b]Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is [c]the spirit of the holy gods: and I told the dream before him, saying, 9 O Belteshazzar, [d]master of the magicians, because I know that [c]the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no [e]secret troubleth thee, tell me [w]the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof. 10 Thus were [w]the visions of my head upon my bed: I saw, and [f]behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great. 11 [g]The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth. 12 [h]The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: [i]the beasts of the field had [j]shadow under it, and [i]the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the branches thereof, and all flesh was fed of it. 13 I saw in [w]the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, [k]a watcher and [l]an holy one came down from heaven. 14 He [m]cried aloud, and said thus, [n]Hew down the tree, and [o]cut off his branches, [o]shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: [o]let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches. 15 Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth: 16 let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; [p]and let seven times [q]pass over him. 17 The sentence is by the decree of [k]the watchers, and the [2]demand by the word of [l]the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the Most High [r]ruleth in the kingdom of men, [s]and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and [t]setteth up over it the lowest of men. 18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen: and thou, O [b]Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation, forasmuch as [u]all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation; but thou art able, for [v]the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whose name was [b]Belteshazzar, was [w]astonied for a while, and [x]his thoughts troubled him. The king answered and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, [y]the dream be to them that hate thee, [y]and the interpretation thereof to thine adversaries. 20 [z]The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth; 21 [a]whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation: 22 [b]it is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: [c]for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, [c]and thy dominion to the end of the earth. 23 And whereas the king saw [d]a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, [e]Hew down the tree, and destroy it; nevertheless leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till [f]seven times pass over him; 24 this is the interpretation, O king, and it is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king: 25 [g]that thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and thou shalt be made [h]to eat grass as oxen, and shalt be wet with the dew of heaven, and [f]seven times shall pass over thee; till [i]thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 26 And whereas they commanded [j]to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule. 27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and [1]break off thy sins by [k]righteousness, [l]and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor; [m]if there may be [2]a lengthening of thy tranquillity. 28 All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar. 29 At the end of twelve months he was walking [3]in the royal palace of Babylon. 30 The king spake and said, [n]Is not this great Babylon, which I have built for the royal dwelling place, by [o]the might of my power and for [o]the glory of my majesty? 31 [p]While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken: the kingdom is departed from thee. 32 [q]And thou shalt be driven from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field; thou shalt be made to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee; [q]until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will. 33 The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and [q]he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hair was grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws. 34 And [r]at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and [s]mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured [t]him that liveth for ever; [u]for his dominion is an everlasting dominion, and [u]his kingdom from generation to generation: 35 [v]and all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and [w]he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: [x]and none can [4]stay his hand, or [y]say unto him, What doest thou? 36 At the same time [z]mine understanding returned unto me; and for [a]the glory of my kingdom, [a]my majesty and brightness returned unto me; and [b]my counsellors and [c]my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent greatness was [d]added unto me. 37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar [e]praise and extol and honour the [f]King of heaven; [g]for all his works are truth, and his ways judgement: and [h]those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

1 [i]Belshazzar the king [j]made a great feast to a thousand of his [k]lords, and drank wine before the thousand. 2 [i]Belshazzar, whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring [l]the golden and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem; that the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, might drink therein. 3 Then they brought [l]the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem; and the king and his lords, his wives and his concubines, drank in them. 4 They drank wine, and [m]praised the [n]gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone. 5 [o]In the same hour came forth [p]the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw [q]the part of the hand that wrote. 6 [r]Then the king's [5]countenance was changed in him, [s]and his thoughts troubled him; and the joints of [t]his loins were loosed, and [u]his knees smote one against another. 7 [v]The king cried aloud to bring in [v]the enchanters, the [w]Chaldeans, and [x]the soothsayers. The king spake and said to the wise men of Babylon, [y]Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and [z]shall [6]be the third ruler in the kingdom. 8 Then came in all the king's wise men: but [a]they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation. 9 Then was king Belshazzar greatly [b]troubled, [r]and his countenance was changed in him, and his

Now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought in before the king. The king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of [m]the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Judah? 14 I have heard of thee, that [f]the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that [g]light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee. 15 And now [n]the wise men, the [v]enchanters, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but [o]they could not shew the interpretation of the thing. 16 [p]But I have heard of thee, that thou canst give interpretations, and [q]dissolve doubts: [r]now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, [r]thou shalt be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, [s]and shalt [2]be the third ruler in the kingdom. 17 Then Daniel answered and said before the king, [t]Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation. 18 O thou king, the [u]Most High God [v]gave [w]Nebuchadnezzar thy father [x]the kingdom, and greatness, and glory, and majesty: 19 and because of the greatness that he gave him, [y]all the peoples, nations, and languages [z]trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew, and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he raised up, and whom he would he put down. 20 But [a]when his heart was lifted up, and his spirit was hardened that he dealt proudly, [b]he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him: 21 [c]and he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses; he was fed with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven: [c]until he knew that the [u]Most High God ruleth in the kingdom of men, and that he setteth up over it whomsoever he will. 22 And thou his son, O [d]Belshazzar, [e]hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this; 23 but hast lifted up thyself against [f]the Lord of heaven; and they have brought [g]the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; [h]and thou hast praised the [i]gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: [j]and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and [k]whose are all thy ways, [l]hast thou not glorified: 24 then was [m]the part of the hand sent from before him, and this writing was inscribed. 25 And this is the writing that was inscribed, [3]MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. 26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and brought it to an end. 27 TEKEL; [n]thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting. 28 [4]PERES; thy kingdom is divided, and given to [o]the Medes and [p]Persians. 29 Then commanded [d]Belshazzar, and [q]they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made proclamation concerning him, [r]that he should [2]be the third ruler in the kingdom. 30 [s]In that night [d]Belshazzar the [t]Chaldean king was slain. 31 And [t]Darius [o]the Mede received the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

6 1 It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom [u] an hundred and twenty [v] satraps, which should be throughout the whole kingdom; 2 and over them [w] three presidents, of whom Daniel was one; that these [v] satraps might give account unto them, and that the king should have no damage. 3 Then this Daniel was [x] distinguished above [w] the presidents and [v] the satraps, because [y] an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought [z] to set him over the whole realm. 4 Then [w] the presidents and [v] the satraps [a] sought to find occasion against Daniel as touching the kingdom; [b] but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, [b] neither was there any error or fault found in him. 5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God. 6 Then these [w] presidents and [v] satraps [1] assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, [c] King Darius, live for ever. 7 All the [w] presidents of the kingdom, the deputies and the satraps, the [d] counsellors and the governors, have consulted together [2] to establish a royal statute, and to make a strong [e] interdict, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions. 8 Now, O king, establish [e] the interdict, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to [f] the law of [g] the Medes and Persians, [h] which [3] altereth not. 9 Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and [e] the interdict. 10 And when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; ([i] now his windows were open in his chamber [j] toward Jerusalem;) and he kneeled upon his knees [k] three times a day, and prayed, and [l] gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime. 11 Then these men assembled together, and found Daniel making petition and supplication before his God. 12 Then they [m] came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's interdict; Hast thou not signed [n] an interdict, that every man that shall make petition unto any god or man within thirty days, save unto thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of [g] the Medes and Persians, [h] which [3] altereth not. 13 Then answered they and said before the king, That [o] Daniel, which is [p] of the children of the captivity [o] of Judah, [q] regardeth not thee, O king, nor [n] the interdict that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition [k] three times a day. 14 Then [r] the king, when he heard these words, [r] was sore displeased, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to rescue him. 15 Then these men assembled together unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians, that no [n] interdict nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed. 16 [s] Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, [t] Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee. 17 [u] And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; [v] and the king sealed it [w] with his own signet, and with the signet of his [x] lords; [4] that nothing might be changed concerning Daniel. 18 Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: [y] neither were [5] instruments of music brought before him: and [z] his sleep fled from him. 19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions. 20 And when he came near unto the den to Daniel, he cried with a lamentable voice: the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of [a] the living God, [t] is thy God, whom thou servest continually, [b] able to deliver thee from the lions? 21 Then said Daniel unto the king, [c] O king, live for ever. 22 My God [d] hath sent his angel, [e] and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me: forasmuch as [f] before him innocency was found in me; [f] and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt. 23 Then was the king exceeding glad, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and [g]no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he had trusted in his God. 24 And the king commanded, and [h]they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces, or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 Then king Darius wrote unto all [i]the peoples, nations, and languages, [j]that dwell in all the earth; [k]Peace be multiplied unto you. 26 [l]I make a decree, that in all the dominion of my kingdom [m]men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for [n]he is [o]the living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, [o]and his dominion shall be even [p]unto the end: 27 he delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh [q]signs and wonders in heaven and in earth; who hath [r]delivered Daniel from the power of the lions. 28 So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in [s]the reign of [t]Cyrus the Persian.

7 1 In the first year of [u]Belshazzar king of Babylon [v]Daniel [1]had a dream and [w]visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream and told the sum of the matters. 2 Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, [x]the four winds of the heaven brake forth upon the great sea. 3 And four great beasts [y]came up from the sea, diverse one from another. 4 The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made to stand upon two feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. 5 And behold [z]another beast, a second, like to a bear, and [2]it was raised up on one side, and three ribs were in his mouth between his teeth: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. 6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a [a]leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and [b]dominion was given to it. 7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold [c]a fourth beast, [d]terrible and [3]powerful, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: [d]it devoured and brake in pieces, [d]and stamped the residue with his feet: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it: and [e]it had ten horns. 8 I considered the horns, and, behold, [f]there came up among them another horn, a little one, [f]before which three of the first horns were plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man, and [g]a mouth speaking great things. 9 I beheld till [h]thrones were [4]placed, and one that was [i]ancient of days did sit: [j]his raiment was white as snow, and [k]the hair of his head like pure wool; his throne was fiery flames, and [l]the wheels thereof burning fire. 10 [m]A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: [n]thousand thousands [o]ministered unto him, [n]and ten thousand times ten thousand [p]stood before him: the [q]judgement was set, and [r]the books were opened. 11 I beheld at that time because of the voice of [g]the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till [s]the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, [s]and he was given [5]to be burned with fire. 12 And as for the rest of the beasts, [t]their dominion was taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. 13 I saw in the night visions, and, [u]behold, there came with the clouds of heaven one like unto a son of man, and he came even to the [i]ancient of days, and they brought him near before him. 14 [v]And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all [w]the peoples, nations, and languages should serve him: [x]his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 As for me Daniel, my spirit was grieved in the midst of [6]my body, and [y]the visions of my head troubled me. 16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth concerning all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. 17 [z]These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. 18 But [a]the saints of the Most High shall receive the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever. 19 Then I desired to know the truth concerning [b]the fourth beast, which was diverse from all of them, exceeding terrible, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet; 20 [c]and concerning the ten horns that were on his head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three fell; even that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows. 21 I beheld, and the same horn [d]made war with the saints, and prevailed against them; 22 until the [e]ancient of days came, and [a]judgement was given [1]to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that [a]the saints possessed the kingdom. 23 Thus he said, [b]The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all the kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall [2]tread it down, and break it in pieces. 24 And as for the ten horns, out of this kingdom shall ten kings arise: and another shall arise after them; and he shall be diverse from the former, and he shall put down three kings. 25 [f]And he shall speak words against the Most High, and shall wear out the saints of the Most High: [g]and he shall think to [h]change the times and the law; and they shall be given into his hand until [i]a time and times and half a time. 26 [j]But the judgement shall sit, and [k]they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it [l]unto the end. 27 [m]And the kingdom and the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of [m]the saints of the Most High: [n]his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him. 28 [3]Here is the end of the matter. [o]As for me Daniel, my [p]thoughts much troubled me, [q]and my [4]countenance was changed in me: but [r]I kept the matter in my heart.

1 In the third year of the reign of [s]king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, [t]after that which appeared unto me [t]at the first. 2 And I saw in the vision; now it was so, that when I saw, I was in [u]Shushan the [5]palace, which is in the province of [v]Elam; and [w]I saw in the vision, [w]and I was by the river [x]Ulai. 3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river [y]a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last. 4 I saw [z]the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; and no [a]beasts [b]could stand before him, [c]neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; but [d]he did according to his will, and [e]magnified himself. 5 And as I was considering, behold, an [f]he-goat came from the west over the face of the whole earth, and [6]touched not the ground: and the goat had [f]a notable horn between his eyes. 6 And he came to [y]the ram that had the two horns, which I saw standing before the river, [g]and ran upon him in the fury of his power. 7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, [h]and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns; [i]and there was no power in the ram to stand before him: but he [j]cast him down to the ground, and trampled upon him; and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand. 8 And [f]the he-goat [k]magnified himself exceedingly: and when he was strong, [l]the great horn was broken; and instead of it there came up four [m]notable horns toward [m]the four winds of heaven. 9 And out of one of them came forth [n]a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward [o]the south, and toward [p]the east, and toward [q]the glorious land. 10 [r]And it waxed great, [s]even to the host of heaven; and some of the host [s]and of [t]the stars it cast down to the ground, and [u]trampled upon them. 11 Yea, [v]it magnified itself, even to [w]the prince of the host; [x]and [1]it took away from him the continual burnt offering, [y]and the place of his sanctuary was cast down. 12 And [2]the host was given over to it together with the continual burnt offering through transgression; and it cast down truth to the ground, and [z]it did its pleasure and prospered. 13 Then I heard [a]a holy one speaking; and another holy one said unto that certain one which spake, [b]How long shall be the vision concerning the continual burnt offering, and [c]the transgression that maketh desolate, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot? 14 And he said [3]unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred [d]evenings and mornings; [e]then shall the sanctuary be [4]cleansed.

15 And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, that I [f]sought [5]to understand it; and, behold, there stood before me as [g]the appearance of a man. 16 [h]And I heard a man's voice [h]between the banks of [i]Ulai, which called, and said, [j]Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision. 17 So he came near where I stood; and when he came, [k]I was affrighted, [l]and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, [m]O son of man; for the vision belongeth [n]to the time of the end. 18 Now as he was speaking with me, [o]I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground: but [p]he touched me, and set me [6]upright. 19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the latter time of [q]the indignation: for it belongeth to [r]the appointed time of the end. 20 [s]The ram which thou sawest that had the two horns, they are the kings of [t]Media and Persia. 21 And [u]the rough he-goat is [v]the king of [7]Greece: and [u]the great horn that is between his eyes is [w]the first king. 22 [x]And as for that which was broken, in the place whereof four stood up, [y]four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, [z]but not with his power. 23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, [a]when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up. 24 And his power shall be mighty, [b]but not [8]by his own power; and he shall [9]destroy wonderfully, [c]and shall prosper and do his pleasure: [d]and he shall [9]destroy the mighty ones [e]and [10]the holy people. 25 [f]And through his policy he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand; and [g]he shall magnify himself in his heart, and [h]in their security shall he [9]destroy many: he [g]shall also stand up against the prince of princes; [i]but he shall be broken [j]without hand. 26 And the vision of [k]the evenings and mornings which hath been told [l]is true: but [m]shut thou up the vision; [n]for it belongeth to many days to come. 27 And [o]I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days; then I rose up, and did the king's business: and I was astonished at the vision, [11][p]but none understood it.

1 [q]In the first year of [r]Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the [s]Medes, which was made king over the realm of the [t]Chaldeans; 2 in the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by the books the number of the years, whereof [u]the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, for the accomplishing of the desolations of Jerusalem, even seventy years. 3 And I set my face unto the Lord God, [12]to seek by [v]prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes. 4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and [w]made confession, and said, [x]O Lord, the [x]great and dreadful God, which [y]keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments; 5 [z]we have sinned, and have dealt perversely, and have done wickedly, [a]and have rebelled, even turning aside from thy precepts and from thy judgements: 6 [b]neither have we hearkened unto [c]thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to [d]our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. 7 [e]O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of face, as at this day; to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, [f]that are near, [f]and that are far off, through [g]all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of [h]their trespass that they have trespassed against thee. 8 [i]O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, [i]to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because [z]we have sinned against thee. 9 [j]To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses; [1]for we have rebelled against him; 10 [b]neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by [c]his servants the prophets. 11 Yea, [k]all Israel have transgressed thy law, even turning aside, [l]that they should not obey thy voice: [m]therefore hath the curse been poured out upon us, and the oath [n]that is written in the law of [o]Moses the servant of God; for [z]we have sinned against him. 12 And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against [p]our judges that judged us, by [q]bringing upon us a great evil: [r]for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem. 13 [n]As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: [s]yet have we not intreated the favour of the LORD our God, [t]that we should turn from our iniquities, and [2]have discernment in thy truth. 14 [u]Therefore hath the LORD watched over the evil, and brought it upon us: [v]for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth, and [w]we have not obeyed his voice. 15 And now, [x]O Lord our God, [x]that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt [y]with a mighty hand, and [z]hast gotten thee renown, as at this day; [a]we have sinned, we have done wickedly. 16 O Lord, [b]according to all thy [3]righteousness, [c]let thine anger and thy fury, I pray thee, be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, [d]thy holy mountain: [e]because for our sins, and for [f]the iniquities of our fathers, [g]Jerusalem and thy people are become [h]a reproach to all that are round about us. 17 Now therefore, O our God, hearken unto the prayer of thy servant, and to his supplications, and [i]cause thy face to shine upon [j]thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake. 18 [k]O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold [l]our desolations, and [m]the city which is called by thy name: [n]for we do not [4]present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies. 19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; [o]defer not; [p]for thine own sake, O my God, because [m]thy city and [q]thy people are called by thy name.

20 [r]And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for [s]the holy mountain of my God; 21 yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, the man [t]Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, [5]being caused to fly swiftly, [6][u]touched me about [v]the time of the evening oblation. 22 And [w]he [7]instructed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to make thee [x]skilful of understanding. 23 [y]At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment went forth, [z]and I am come to tell thee; for [a]thou art [8]greatly beloved: therefore consider the matter, [b]and understand the vision. 24 [c]Seventy weeks are decreed upon thy people and upon [d]thy holy city, [9]to finish [10][e]transgression, and [11]to make an end of sins, [f]and to [12]make reconciliation for iniquity, and [g]to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up vision and [13]prophecy, and [h]to anoint [14]the most holy. 25 [i]Know therefore and discern, that [j]from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to [k]build Jerusalem unto [15][l]the anointed one, [m]the prince, shall be [16]seven weeks: and threescore and two weeks, it shall be built again, with street and moat, [n]even in troublous times. 26 And [o]after the threescore and two weeks shall [l]the anointed one [p]be cut off, and [17]shall

1 [w]In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia a thing was revealed unto Daniel, [x]whose name was called Belteshazzar; and [y]the thing was true, even a great warfare: and [z]he understood the thing, and [z]had understanding of the vision. 2 In those days I Daniel was mourning [a]three whole weeks. 3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I [b]anoint myself at all, till [a]three whole weeks were fulfilled. 4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was [c]by the side of the great river, [d]which is [6]Hiddekel, 5 [e]I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold [f]a man clothed in linen, whose loins were [g]girded with pure [h]gold of Uphaz: 6 his body also was like [i]the beryl, and his face [j]as the appearance of lightning, and [k]his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and [l]his feet like in colour to burnished brass, and [l]the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude. 7 [m]And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, and they fled to hide themselves. 8 So I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and [n]there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, [o]and I retained no strength. 9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: [p]and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I fallen into a deep sleep on my face, [p]with my face toward the ground. 10 And, behold, [q]a hand touched me, which [7]set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands. 11 And he said unto me, O Daniel, [r]thou man greatly beloved, [s]understand the words that I speak unto thee, and [s]stand upright; for unto thee [t]am I now sent: and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. 12 Then said he unto me, [u]Fear not, Daniel; for from the first day that thou didst [v]set thine heart to understand, and to [v]humble thyself before thy God, [w]thy words were heard: [x]and I am come for thy words' sake. 13 But [y]the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me [z]one and twenty days; but, lo, [a]Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me: and I [8]remained there with the kings of Persia. 14 [x]Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people [b]in the latter days: for [c]the vision is yet for many days. 15 And when he had spoken unto me according to these words, [d]I set my face toward the ground, [e]and was dumb. 16 And, behold, [f]one like the similitude of the sons of men [g]touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by reason of the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and [h]I retain no strength. 17 For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither was there breath left in me. 18 Then there [g]touched me again [f]one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me. 19 And he said, [i]O man greatly beloved, [j]fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he spake unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me. 20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the [k]prince of Persia: and when I go forth, lo, the [l]prince of [9]Greece shall come. 21 But I will tell thee that which is inscribed in [m]the writing of truth: and there is none that [10]holdeth with me [11]against these, but [n]Michael your

11 1 And as for me, [o]in the first year of [o]Darius the Mede, I stood up to confirm and strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee [p]the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and when he is waxed strong through his riches, [1]he shall stir up all against the realm of [2][l]Greece. 3 And [q]a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and [r]do according to his will. 4 And when he shall stand up, [s]his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided [s]toward the [t]four winds of heaven; but [u]not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion wherewith he ruled; for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside these. 5 And the king of the south [3]shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, [v]and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion. 6 And at the end of years [w]they shall join themselves together; and the daughter of the king of the south shall come to the king of the north to make [4]an agreement: but she shall not retain the strength of her arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in those times. 7 But out of a shoot from her roots shall one stand up in his [5]place, which shall come [6]unto the army, and shall enter into the [x]fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail: 8 and also their gods, with their [7]molten images, and with their goodly [y]vessels of silver and of gold, shall he carry captive into Egypt; and he shall [8]refrain some years from the king of the north. 9 And he shall come into the realm of the king of the south, but he shall return into his own land. 10 And his sons shall war, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces, [9]which shall come on, [z]and overflow, and pass through: and [10]they shall return and war, even to his [x]fortress. 11 And the king of the south shall be [a]moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: [b]and he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be given into his hand. 12 And the multitude shall [11]be lifted up, and his heart shall be exalted: and he shall cast down tens of thousands, but he shall not prevail. 13 And the king of the north shall return, [c]and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former; and he shall come on at the end of [d]the times, even [12]of years, with a great army and with much substance. 14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the children of the violent among thy people shall lift themselves up to establish the vision; but [e]they shall fall. 15 So the king of the north shall come, and [f]cast up a mount, and take [13]a well fenced city: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand. 16 But he that cometh against him shall [g]do according to his own will, and [h]none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in [i]the glorious land, and in his hand shall be destruction. 17 And he shall [j]set his face to come with the strength of his whole kingdom, [14]and [4]upright ones with him; and he shall do his pleasure: and he shall give him the daughter of women, [15]to corrupt her; but [16]she shall not stand, neither be for him. 18 After this shall he turn his face unto the [17]isles, and shall take many: but a [18]prince shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease; yea, moreover, he [k]shall cause his reproach to turn upon him. 19 Then he shall turn his face toward the [l]fortresses of his own land: but he shall [m]stumble and fall, [n]and shall not be found. 20 Then shall stand up in his [5]place [o]one that shall cause [p]an exactor to pass through the glory of the kingdom: but within few days [q]he shall be [19]destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle. 21 And in his [5]place shall stand up [r]a contemptible person, to whom they had not given the honour of the kingdom: [s] but he shall come in time of security, [t] and shall obtain the kingdom [u] by flatteries. 22 And with the arms of [v] a flood shall they be swept away from before him, and shall be broken; yea, also the prince of [1] the covenant. 23 And after the league made with him [w] he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong, with a small people. 24 [x] In time of security shall he come even upon [y] the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; [z] he shall scatter among them prey, and spoil, and substance: yea, he shall devise his devices against the strong holds, even for a time. 25 [a] And he shall stir up his power and his courage against [b] the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall war in battle with an exceeding great and mighty army: but he shall not stand, for they shall devise devices against him. 26 Yea, they that eat of his [2] meat shall [3] destroy him, and his army shall [c] overflow: [d] and many shall fall down slain. 27 And as for both these kings, their hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table: but it shall not prosper; for yet [e] the end shall be at the time appointed. 28 Then shall he return into his land [f] with great substance; and [g] his heart shall be against the holy covenant; [h] and he shall do his pleasure, and return to his own land. 29 At the time appointed he shall return, [i] and come into the south; but it shall not be in the latter time as it was in the former. 30 For ships of [j] Kittim shall come against him; therefore he shall be grieved, and shall return, and [k] have indignation against the holy covenant, and [k] shall do his pleasure: he shall even return, and [l] have regard unto them that [m] forsake the holy covenant. 31 And arms shall stand on his part, and [n] they shall profane the sanctuary, even the fortress, and [o] shall take away the continual burnt offering, and [p] they shall set up the abomination that maketh desolate. 32 [q] And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he [4] pervert by flatteries: but the people that know their God [r] shall be strong, and do exploits. 33 [s] And [5] they that be wise among the people shall instruct many: [t] yet they shall fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by spoil, many days. 34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with [u] a little help: but many shall join themselves unto them with flatteries. 35 And some of [6] them that be wise shall fall, [v] to refine them, [w] and to purify, and [x] to make them white, even to [y] the time of the end: [y] because it is yet for the time appointed. 36 And the king shall [z] do according to his will; and [a] he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, [b] and shall speak marvellous things against [c] the God of gods: and [d] he shall prosper [e] till the indignation be accomplished; for [f] that which is determined shall be done. 37 Neither shall he regard the gods of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for [a] he shall magnify himself above all. 38 But in his [7] place shall he honour the god of fortresses: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour [g] with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things. 39 And he shall deal with the strongest fortresses by the help of a strange god; [8] whosoever acknowledgeth him he will increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and [h] shall divide the land for a price. 40 [i] And at the time of the end shall the king of the south [9] contend with him: and the king of the north shall come against him [j] like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and [k] shall overflow and pass through. 41 He shall enter also into [l] the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall be delivered out of his hand, [m] Edom, and [m] Moab, and the chief of the children of [m] Ammon. 42 [n] He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape. 43 [o] But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the [p]Libyans and the [q]Ethiopians shall be at his steps. 44 [r]But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: and he shall go forth with great fury to destroy and [1]utterly to make away many. 45 And he shall plant the tents of his palace [2]between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; [s]yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

12 1 And at that time shall [t]Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and [u]there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, [v]every one that shall be found written in the book. 2 And many of them that [w]sleep in [x]the dust of the earth shall [x]awake, [y]some to everlasting life, and [y]some to shame and everlasting [3]contempt. 3 [z]And [4]they that be wise [a]shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and [b]they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. 4 But thou, O Daniel, [c]shut up the words, and [d]seal the book, even to [e]the time of the end: [f]many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on [g]the brink of the river on this side, and the other on the brink of the river on that side. 6 And one said to [h]the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, [i]How long shall it be to the end of these wonders? 7 And I heard [h]the man clothed in linen, which was above the waters of the river, when [j]he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and [k]sware by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a [l]time, times, and an half; and when they have made an end of breaking in pieces [m]the power of [m]the holy people, all these things shall be finished. 8 And I heard, [n]but I understood not: then said I, O my lord, what shall be the [5]issue of these things? 9 And he said, [o]Go thy way, Daniel: [p]for the words are shut up and sealed till the time of the end. 10 [q]Many shall purify themselves, and make themselves white, and be refined; but [r]the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand: [z]but [4]they that be wise shall understand. 11 And from the time that [s]the continual burnt offering shall be taken away, and [t]the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days. 12 [u]Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days. 13 [v]But go thou thy way till the end be: [w]for thou shalt rest, and shalt stand in thy lot, at [x]the end of the days.

HOSEA.

1 1 THE word of the LORD that came unto Hosea the son of Beeri, [a]in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of [b]Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2 When the LORD spake at the first [6]by Hosea, the LORD said unto Hosea, [c]Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredom and [d]children of whoredom: for [e]the land doth commit great whoredom, departing from the LORD. 3 So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim; and she conceived, and bare him a son. 4 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel; for yet a little while, and [f]I will [7]avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and [g]will cause the kingdom of the house of Israel to cease. 5 And it shall come to pass at that day, that [h]I will break the bow of Israel [i]in the valley of Jezreel. 6 And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And the LORD said unto him, [j]Call her name [8]Lo-ruhamah: for [k]I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel, that I should in any wise pardon them. 7 But [l] I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and [m] will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen. 8 Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son. 9 And the LORD said, [n] Call his name [1] Lo-ammi: for [o] ye are not my people, and I will not be [2] your God.

10 Yet [p] the number of the children of Israel shall be [q] as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and [r] it shall come to pass that, [3] [s] in the place where it was said unto them, [o] Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, [t] Ye are the sons of [u] the living God. 11 And [v] the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall be gathered together, and [w] they shall appoint themselves one head, and shall go up from the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

2 Plead with your mother, plead; for [z] she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: and let her put away [a] her whoredoms from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts; 3 lest [b] I strip her naked, and set her as [c] in the day that she was born, and [d] make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst; 4 yea, [e] upon her children will I have no mercy; [f] for they be children of whoredom. 5 For [g] their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for [h] she said, I will go after my lovers, that [i] give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my [6] drink. 6 Therefore, behold, [j] I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and [k] I will make a fence against her, that she shall not find her paths. 7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: [l] then shall she say, I will go and return to [m] my first husband; [l] for then was it better with me than now. 8 For [n] she did not know that [o] I gave her [p] the corn, and the wine, and the oil, and multiplied unto [q] her silver and gold, [r] which they [7] used for Baal. 9 Therefore [s] will I [8] take back my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and [s] will pluck away my wool and my flax which should have covered her nakedness. 10 And now [t] will I discover her [9] lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand. 11 [u] I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feasts, her [v] new moons, and her [v] sabbaths, and all her [10] [w] solemn assemblies. 12 And [x] I will lay waste her vines and her fig trees, [y] whereof she hath said, These are [z] my hire that my lovers have given me: and [x] I will make them a forest, [a] and the beasts of the field shall eat them. 13 And [b] I will visit upon her [c] the days of the Baalim, [11] unto which she burned incense; when [d] she decked herself with her [12] earrings and her jewels, and went after her lovers, and forgat me, saith the LORD. 14 Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and [e] bring her into the wilderness, and [f] speak [13] comfortably unto her. 15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of [14] Achor for a door of hope: and she shall [15] make answer there, [g] as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt. 16 And it shall be [h] at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me [16] Ishi; and shalt call me no more [17] Baali. 17 For [i] I will take away the names of the Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be [18] mentioned by their name. 18 And in that day [j] will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and [k] I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the land, and will make them to lie down [l] safely. 19 And I will betroth thee unto me [m] for ever; yea, [n] I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgement, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies. 20 [n] I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and [o] thou shalt know the LORD. 21 And it shall come to pass [p] in that day, [q] I will answer, saith the LORD, I will answer the heavens, and they shall answer the earth; 22 and the earth shall answer the corn, and the wine, and the oil; and they shall answer [1] [r] Jezreel. 23 And [s] I will sow her unto me in the [2] earth; and [t] I [u] will have mercy upon [3] her that had not obtained mercy; and [v] I will say to [4] them which were not my people, [w] Thou art my people; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

3 1 And the LORD said unto me, [x] Go yet, love a woman beloved [5] of her friend and an adulteress, even as the LORD loveth the children of Israel, though they turn unto other gods, and [6] love [y] cakes of raisins. 2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and an [z] homer of barley, and an [7] half homer of barley: 3 and I said unto her, Thou shalt [a] abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be any man's wife: so will I also be toward thee. 4 For the children of Israel [a] shall abide many days [b] without king, and without prince, and [c] without sacrifice, and [d] without [8] [e] pillar, and without [f] ephod or [g] teraphim: 5 afterward [h] shall the children of Israel return, and [i] seek the LORD their God, and [j] David their king; [k] and shall come with fear unto the LORD and to his goodness in the [l] latter days.

4 1 [m] Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for [n] the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, [o] nor knowledge of God in the land. 2 [p] There is nought but swearing and breaking faith, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery; they break out, and [q] blood toucheth blood. 3 Therefore [r] shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, [s] with the beasts of the field and the fowls of heaven; [t] yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away. 4 [u] Yet let no man strive, neither let any man reprove; for thy people are as [v] they that strive with the priest. 5 And thou shalt stumble in the day, and the prophet also shall stumble with thee in the night; and I will destroy [w] thy mother. 6 My people are destroyed [x] for lack of knowledge: [y] because thou hast rejected knowledge, [9] I will also reject thee, that [z] thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, [a] I also will forget thy children. 7 [b] As they were multiplied, so they sinned against me: [c] I will change their glory into shame. 8 [d] They feed on the sin of my people, and set their heart on their iniquity. 9 [e] And it shall be, like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and will reward them their doings. 10 And [f] they shall eat, and not have enough; they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD. 11 Whoredom and wine and new wine [g] take away the [10] understanding. 12 My people [h] ask counsel at their stock, and their staff declareth unto them: for [i] the spirit of whoredom hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God. 13 [j] They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, [k] under oaks and poplars and terebinths, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters commit whoredom, and your [11] brides commit adultery. 14 I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your [11] brides when they commit adultery; for [l] they themselves go apart with whores, and they sacrifice with the [m] harlots: and the people [n] that doth not understand shall be overthrown. 15 Though thou, [o] Israel, play the harlot, yet let not [o] Judah [12] offend; and [p] come not ye unto [q] Gilgal, neither go ye up to [r] Beth-aven, nor swear, As the LORD liveth. 16 For Israel hath behaved himself stubbornly, like a stubborn heifer: now will the LORD feed them as a lamb in a large place. 17 [s] Ephraim is joined to idols; [t] let him alone. 18 [13] Their drink is become sour: they commit whoredom

1 [x]Hear this, O ye priests, and hearken, ye house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king, for [5]unto you pertaineth the judgement; for [y]ye have been a snare at Mizpah, and a net spread upon [z]Tabor. 2 And [a]the revolters [b]are gone deep [6]in making slaughter; but [c]I am [7]a rebuker of them all. 3 [d]I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou hast committed whoredom, Israel is defiled. 4 [8] [e]Their doings will not suffer them to turn unto their God: for [f]the spirit of whoredom is [9]within them, and they know not the LORD. 5 And [g]the [10]pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore [h]Israel and Ephraim shall stumble in their iniquity; [h]Judah also shall stumble with them. 6 They shall go [i]with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; [i]but they shall not find him: [j]he hath withdrawn himself from them. 7 [k]They have dealt treacherously against the LORD; for they have [11]borne strange children: now shall [12]the new moon devour them with their [13]fields.

8 [l]Blow ye the cornet in [m]Gibeah, and the trumpet in [n]Ramah: sound an alarm at [o]Beth-aven: [14]behind thee, O Benjamin. 9 Ephraim shall become a desolation in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be. 10 The princes of Judah are like [p]them that remove the landmark: I will pour out my wrath upon them like water. 11 Ephraim is [q]oppressed, he is crushed in judgement; [r]because he was content to walk after [15]the command. 12 [16]Therefore am I unto Ephraim [s]as a moth, and to the house of Judah [t]as rottenness. 13 When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw [t]his wound, then went Ephraim [u]to Assyria, and sent to [17]king Jareb: [v]but he is not able to heal you, neither shall he cure you of [t]your wound. 14 For I will be unto [w]Ephraim [x]as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of [w]Judah: [y]I, even I, will tear and go away; I will carry off, and there shall be none to deliver. 15 [z]I will go and return to my place, till they [18]acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: [a]in their affliction they will seek me [19]earnestly.

1 Come, and let us [b]return unto the LORD: for [c]he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and [d]he will bind us up. 2 After two days [e]will he revive us: on the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live before him. 3 And [f]let us know, [f]let us follow on to know the LORD; [g]his going forth is sure as the morning: and he shall come unto us [h]as the rain, as [i]the latter rain that watereth the earth.

4 [j]O [k]Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O [k]Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for [l]your [20]goodness is [m]as a morning cloud, and [m]as the dew that goeth early away. 5 Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets; I have slain them [n]by the words of my mouth: [21]and thy judgements are as the light that goeth forth. 6 For [o]I desire [20]mercy, and not sacrifice; and [p]the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. 7 But [q]they [22]like [23]Adam [r]have transgressed the covenant: [s]there have they dealt treacherously against me. 8 [t]Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, it is [u]stained with blood. 9 [24]And as troops of robbers [v]wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way toward [w]Shechem: yea, they have committed lewdness. 10 In the house of Israel I have seen an horrible thing: [x]there whoredom is found in Ephraim, [y]Israel is defiled. 11 Also, O [y]Judah, there is [z]an harvest appointed for thee, when [a]I bring again the captivity of my people.

1 [b]When I would heal Israel, then is the iniquity of Ephraim discovered, and the wickedness of [c]Samaria; for [d]they commit falsehood: and the thief entereth in, and the troop of robbers [25]spoil-

8 1 [11]Set [i]the trumpet to thy mouth. [j]As an eagle he cometh against the house of the LORD: because [k]they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. 2 They shall cry unto me, [l]My God, we Israel know thee. 3 Israel hath cast off that which is good: the enemy shall pursue him. 4 [m]They have set up kings, [n]but not by me; [12][o]they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. 5 [p]He hath cast off thy calf, O Samaria; mine anger is kindled against them: [q]how long will it be ere they attain to innocency? 6 For from Israel is even this; the workman made it, and it is no God: yea, [p]the calf of Samaria [r]shall be broken in pieces. 7 For [s]they sow the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: [13]he hath no standing corn; the blade shall yield no meal; if so be it yield, [t]strangers shall swallow it up. 8 [u]Israel is swallowed up: now are they among the nations as [v]a vessel wherein is no pleasure. 9 For [w]they are gone up to Assyria, [x]like a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired [14]lovers. 10 Yea, though they hire among the nations, now will I gather them; and [y]they [15]begin to be minished by reason of the burden of the [16][z]king of princes. 11 Because Ephraim [a]hath multiplied altars to sin, altars have been unto him to sin. 12 [17]Though [b]I write for him my law in ten thousand precepts, they are counted as a strange thing. 13 As for the sacrifices of mine offerings, [c]they sacrifice flesh and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not: [d]now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins; [e]they shall return to Egypt. 14 For [f]Israel hath forgotten [g]his Maker, and [h]builded [18]palaces; and [f]Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but [i]I will send a

1 Rejoice not, O Israel, [2] for joy, like the peoples; [3] [j] for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, [k] thou hast loved hire upon every cornfloor. 2 [l] The threshing-floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and [l] the new wine shall fail her. 3 They shall not dwell in [m] the LORD's land; but [n] Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and [o] they shall eat unclean food in Assyria. 4 [p] They shall not pour out wine offerings to the LORD, [4] [q] neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as [r] the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread shall be for their appetite; [s] it shall not come into the house of the LORD. 5 [t] What will ye do in the day of solemn assembly, and in the day of the feast of the LORD? 6 For, lo, they are gone away from destruction, yet [u] Egypt shall gather them up, [v] Memphis shall bury them: [w] their pleasant things of silver, nettles shall possess them: [x] thorns shall be in their tents. 7 [y] The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come; Israel shall know it: [z] the prophet is a fool, the man that hath the spirit is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and because the enmity is great. 8 Ephraim [5] was [a] a watchman with my God: as for the prophet, [b] a fowler's snare is in all his ways, and enmity in the house of his God. 9 [c] They have deeply corrupted themselves, as [d] in the days of Gibeah: [c] he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins. 10 [e] I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first season: but [f] they came to Baal-peor, and [6] [g] consecrated themselves unto the [7] shameful thing, and [h] became abominable like that which they loved. 11 As for Ephraim, [i] their glory shall fly away like a bird: [j] there shall be no birth, and none with child, and no conception. 12 [k] Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there be not a man left: yea, [l] woe also to them when [m] I depart from them! 13 Ephraim, [8] like [n] as I have seen Tyre, is planted in a pleasant place: but [k] Ephraim shall bring out his children to the slayer. 14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them [o] a miscarrying womb and dry breasts. 15 All their wickedness is in [p] Gilgal; for there I hated them: because of the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house: I will love them no more; all [q] their princes are [r] revolters. 16 Ephraim is smitten, [s] their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, [t] though they bring forth, [k] yet will I slay the beloved fruit of their womb. 17 [u] My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and [v] they shall be wanderers among the nations.

1 [w] Israel is a luxuriant vine, which putteth forth his fruit: according to the multitude of his fruit [x] he hath multiplied his altars; according to the [9] goodness of his land they have made goodly [10] [y] pillars. 2 [11] Their heart is [12] divided; now shall they be found guilty: [z] he shall smite their altars, he shall spoil their [10] pillars. 3 Surely now shall they say, [a] We have no king: for we fear not the LORD; and the king, what can he do for us? 4 They speak [b] vain words, [13] swearing falsely in making covenants: therefore [c] judgement [14] springeth up as [15] hemlock [d] in the furrows of the field. 5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall be in terror for [e] the calves of [f] Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and [16] the priests thereof that rejoiced over it, for [g] the glory thereof, because it is departed from it. 6 [h] It also shall be carried unto Assyria for a present to [i] king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed [j] of his own counsel. 7 [17] As for Samaria, [k] her king is cut off, as [18] foam upon the water. 8 The high places also of [f] Aven, [l] the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: [m] the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; and [n] they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us. 9 O Israel, thou hast sinned [1] from [o] the days of Gibeah: [2] there they stood; [3] that the battle against the children of iniquity should not overtake them in Gibeah. 10 [p] When it is my desire, [q] I will chastise them; and the peoples shall be gathered against them, when they are [4] bound [5] to [r] their two transgressions. 11 And Ephraim is [s] an heifer that is taught, that [t] loveth to tread out the corn; but I have passed over upon her fair neck: I will set a rider on [u] Ephraim; [u] Judah shall plow, Jacob shall break his clods. 12 [v] Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap according to mercy; [w] break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and [6] [x] rain righteousness upon you. 13 [y] Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of [7] lies: for thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men. 14 Therefore [z] shall a tumult arise [8] among thy [9] people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as [a] Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: [b] the mother was dashed in pieces with her children. 15 [10] So shall [c] Beth-el do unto you because of your great wickedness: at daybreak [k] shall the king of Israel be utterly cut off.

11 1 [d] When Israel was a child, then [e] I loved him, and [f] called [g] my son out of Egypt. 2 [h] As they called them, so they went from them: [i] they sacrificed unto the Baalim, and burned incense to graven images. 3 Yet [j] I taught Ephraim to go; [11] I took them on my arms; but they knew not that [k] I healed them. 4 [l] I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love; and [m] I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and [n] I laid meat before them. 5 [o] He shall not return into the land of Egypt; but [p] the Assyrian shall be his king, [q] because [r] they refused to return. 6 [s] And the sword shall [12] fall upon his cities, and shall consume his bars, and devour them, [t] because of their own counsels. 7 And my people are bent [u] to backsliding from me: though [v] they call them to him that is on high, none at all will [13] exalt him. 8 How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? [w] how shall I make thee [x] as Admah? how shall I set thee [x] as Zeboim? [y] mine heart is turned within me, my compassions are kindled together. 9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: [z] for I am God, and not man; [a] the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not [14] enter into the city. 10 [b] They shall walk after the LORD, [c] who shall roar like a lion: for he shall roar, and the children shall come trembling [d] from the west. 11 They shall come trembling as a bird [e] out of Egypt, and [f] as a dove [g] out of the land of Assyria: and I will make them to dwell in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 [h] Ephraim [i] compasseth me about with falsehood, and the house of Israel with deceit: [15] [j] but [h] Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the Holy One.

12 1 Ephraim feedeth on wind, and followeth after [k] the east wind: he continually multiplieth [i] lies and desolation; and [l] they make a covenant with Assyria, and [m] oil is carried into Egypt. 2 [n] The LORD hath also a controversy with Judah, and will [16] punish Jacob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him. 3 [o] In the womb he took his brother by the heel; and in his [17] manhood [p] he [18] had power with God: 4 yea, [p] he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: [q] he found him at Beth-el, and there he spake with us; 5 [19] even the LORD, the God of hosts; [r] the LORD is his memorial. 6 Therefore [s] turn thou to thy God: [t] keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

7 [20] He is [21] a trafficker, [u] the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth [v] to [22] oppress. 8 And Ephraim said, Surely [w] I am become rich, I have found me wealth: in all my labours [x] they shall find in me none iniquity that were sin. 9 But [y] I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; I will yet again make thee [z] to dwell in tents, as in the days of the solemn feast. 10 [a] I have also spoken unto the prophets, and I have multiplied [b] visions; and [1] by the ministry of the prophets have I used similitudes. 11 [c] Is Gilead iniquity? they are altogether vanity; [d] in Gilgal they sacrifice bullocks: yea, [e] their altars [2] are as heaps [f] in the furrows of the field. 12 And [g] Jacob fled into the field of [h] Aram, and Israel [i] served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. 13 And by [j] a prophet [k] the LORD brought Israel up out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he [3] preserved. 14 [l] Ephraim hath provoked to anger most bitterly: therefore shall [m] his blood be left upon him, [n] and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

1 When Ephraim [4] spake, there was trembling; [o] he exalted himself in Israel: but when he [5] offended [p] in Baal, he died. 2 And now they sin more and more, and [q] have made them molten images of their silver, even idols according to their own understanding, [r] all of them the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let [6] the men that sacrifice [s] kiss the calves. 3 Therefore they shall be [t] as the morning cloud, and [t] as the dew that passeth early away, [u] as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the threshing-floor, and [v] as the smoke out of the chimney. 4 Yet [w] I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt; and [x] thou [7] shalt know no god but me, and [y] beside me there is no saviour. 5 [z] I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought. 6 [a] According to their pasture, so were they filled; [b] they were filled, and their heart was exalted: [a] therefore have they forgotten me. 7 Therefore [c] am I unto them as a lion: [d] as a leopard will I watch by the way: 8 I will meet them [e] as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart: and there will I devour them like a lion; [f] the wild beast shall tear them. 9 [8] It is thy destruction, O Israel, [9] that thou art against me, against [g] thy help. 10 [h] Where now is thy king, that he may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom [i] thou saidst, Give me a king and princes? 11 [j] I have given thee a king in mine anger, and [k] have taken him away in my wrath. 12 The iniquity of Ephraim is [l] bound up; his sin is [l] laid up in store. 13 [m] The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son; [10] for it is time he should not tarry [n] in the place of the breaking forth of children. 14 [o] I will ransom them from the [11] power of [12] the grave; [o] I will redeem them from death: [p] O [q] death, [13] where are thy plagues? [p] O [12] [q] grave, [13] where is thy destruction? [r] repentance shall be hid from mine eyes. 15 Though [s] he be fruitful among his brethren, [t] an east wind shall come, the [14] breath of the LORD coming up from the wilderness, [u] and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: [15] he shall spoil [v] the treasure of all pleasant vessels. 16 Samaria [w] shall [16] bear her guilt; for [x] she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword; [y] their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and [z] their women with child shall be ripped up.

1 O Israel, [a] return unto the LORD thy God; for [b] thou hast fallen by thine iniquity. 2 Take with you words, and return unto the LORD: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and [17] accept [c] that which is good: so will we render [18] as bullocks [d] the offering of our lips. 3 [e] Asshur shall not save us; [f] we will not ride upon horses: [g] neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for [h] in thee the fatherless findeth mercy. 4 I [i] will heal [j] their backsliding, [k] I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him. 5 [l] I will be as the dew unto Israel: [m] he shall blossom as the lily, and cast forth his roots [n] as Lebanon. 6 His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be [o] as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon. 7 They

JOEL.

1 1 THE word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel.

2 [a] Hear this, [b] ye old men, and give ear, [b] all ye inhabitants of the land. [c] Hath this been in your days, or in the days of your fathers? 3 [d] Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation. 4 That which [3][e] the palmerworm hath left hath [3][f] the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath [3][g] the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath [3][h] the caterpiller eaten. 5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and [i] howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of [j] the sweet wine; for it is cut off from your mouth. 6 For [k] a nation is come up upon my land, [k] strong, and without number; [l] his teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the jaw teeth of a great lion. 7 He hath laid my vine waste, and [4] barked my [m] fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it [5] away; the branches thereof are made white. 8 Lament like a virgin [n] girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth. 9 [o] The meal offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD; [p] the priests, [p] the LORD's ministers, mourn. 10 The field is wasted, [q] the land mourneth; for [r] the corn is wasted, [r] the new wine is [6] dried up, the oil languisheth. 11 [7][s] Be ashamed, O ye husbandmen, howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; [t] for the harvest of the field is perished. 12 The vine is [6] withered, [u] and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: for [v] joy is [6] withered away from the sons of men. 13 [w] Gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament, [p] ye priests; [x] howl, ye ministers of the altar; come, [w] lie all night in sackcloth, [p] ye ministers of my God: [y] for the meal offering and the drink offering is withholden from the house of your God. 14 [z] Sanctify a fast, [z] call a solemn assembly, gather [a] the [8] old men and [a] all the inhabitants of the land unto the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD. 15 Alas for the day! [b] for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as destruction from [9] the Almighty shall it come. 16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, [c] joy and gladness from the house of our God? 17 [d] The seeds [10] rot under their clods; the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for [e] the corn is [6] withered. 18 How do [f] the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep [11] are made desolate. 19 [g] O LORD, to thee do I cry: [h] for the fire hath devoured the [12] pastures of the wilderness, [h] and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field. 20 Yea, [f] the beasts of the field [i] pant unto thee: for the water brooks are dried up, [h] and the fire hath devoured the [12] pastures of the wilderness.

2 1 [j] Blow ye the trumpet in [k] Zion, and sound an alarm in [k] my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for [l] the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand; 2 [m] a day of darkness and gloominess, [m]a day of clouds and thick darkness, as the dawn spread upon the mountains; [n]a great people and a strong, [o]there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after them, even to the years of many generations. 3 [p]A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as [q]the garden of Eden before them, and [r]behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and none hath escaped them. 4 [s]The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as [1]horsemen, so do they run. 5 [t]Like the noise of chariots on the tops of the mountains do they leap, like the noise of [u]a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, [n]as a strong people set in battle array. 6 At their presence the peoples are in anguish: [v]all faces are waxed pale. 7 They run like mighty men; they climb the wall like men of war; and they march every one on his ways, and they break not their ranks. 8 Neither doth one thrust another; [w]they march every one in his path: and [2]they burst through the weapons, and [3]break not off their course. 9 [x]They leap upon the city; they run upon the wall; [y]they climb up into the houses; [y]they enter in at the windows [z]like a thief. 10 [a]The earth quaketh before them; the heavens tremble: [b]the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining: 11 and [c]the LORD uttereth his voice before [d]his army; for his camp is very great; [e]for he is strong that executeth his word: [f]for the day of the LORD is [g]great and very terrible; [h]and who can abide it? 12 Yet even now, saith the LORD, [i]turn ye unto me with all your heart, and [j]with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning: 13 and [k]rend your heart, and not [l]your garments, and [i]turn unto the LORD your God: [m]for he is gracious and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, [n]and repenteth him of the evil. 14 [o]Who knoweth whether he will not turn and repent, and [p]leave a blessing behind him, even [q]a meal offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?

15 [r]Blow the trumpet in Zion, [s]sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly: 16 gather the people, [t]sanctify the congregation, assemble the [4]old men, [u]gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: [v]let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet. 17 Let [w]the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep [x]between the [y]porch and the [z]altar, and let them say, [a]Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the nations should [5]rule over them: [b]wherefore should they say among the peoples, Where is their God?

18 [c]Then was the LORD jealous for his land, and [d]had pity on his people. 19 And the LORD answered and said unto his people, Behold, [e]I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, [e]and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations: 20 but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, [6]his forepart [7]into [f]the eastern sea, and his hinder part [7]into [g]the western sea; and [h]his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things. 21 Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for [i]the LORD hath done great things. 22 Be not afraid, [j]ye beasts of the field; for [k]the pastures of the wilderness do spring, [l]for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and [l]the vine do yield their strength. 23 [m]Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and [m]rejoice in the LORD your God: for he giveth you [n]the former rain [8]in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, [n]the former rain and [o]the latter rain, [9]in the first month. 24 And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil. 25 And I will restore to you the years that [p]the locust hath eaten, [p]the cankerworm, and [p]the caterpiller, and [p]the palmerworm, [q]my great army which I sent among you. 26 And [r]ye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people [s]shall never be ashamed. 27 [t]And ye shall know that I am [u]in the midst of Israel, and that [v] I am the LORD your God, [w] and there is none else: and my people [s] shall never be ashamed.

28 [x] And it shall come to pass afterward, that [y] I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and [z] your sons and [a] your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: 29 and [b] also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. 30 And I will shew [c] wonders in the heavens [c] and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. 31 [d] The sun shall be turned into darkness, [e] and the moon into blood, [f] before the great and terrible day of the LORD come. 32 And it shall come to pass, that [g] whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: [h] for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and [1] among [i] the remnant those whom the LORD doth call.

3 1 For, behold, [j] in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, 2 [k] I will gather all nations, and will bring them down into [l] the valley of Jehoshaphat; and [m] I will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land. 3 And [n] they have cast lots for my people: and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink. 4 Yea, and what are ye to me, [o] O Tyre, and Zidon, and all [p] the regions of Philistia? [2] will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily [q] will I return your [3] recompence upon your own head. 5 Forasmuch [r] as ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things; 6 [s] the children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border: 7 behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and [q] will return your [3] recompence upon your own head; 8 and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of [t] Sheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 Proclaim ye this among the nations; [4][u] prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let them come up. 10 [v] Beat your plowshares into swords, and [v] your pruning-hooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong. 11 [5][w] Haste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together: [x] thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD. 12 Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to [y] the valley of [6] Jehoshaphat: [z] for there will I sit to judge all the nations round about. 13 [a] Put ye in the sickle, [b] for the [7] harvest is ripe: [c] come, [8] tread ye; [c] for the winepress is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great. 14 [d] Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for [e] the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. 15 [f] The sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. 16 [g] And the LORD shall roar from Zion, and [g] utter his voice from Jerusalem; [h] and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be [i] a refuge unto his people, and a strong hold to the children of Israel. 17 [j] So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God, [k] dwelling in Zion [l] my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and [m] there shall no strangers pass through her any more. 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, [n] that the mountains shall drop down sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and [o] all the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters; [p] and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water [9] the valley of [q] Shittim. 19 [r] Egypt shall be a desolation, and [s] Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, [t] for the violence done to the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land. 20 [u] But Judah shall [10] abide for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. 21 And [v] I will [11] cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: [k] for the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

AMOS.

1 1 THE words of [a] Amos, who was among the [b] herdmen of [c] Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel [d] in the days of [e] Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of [f] Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before [g] the earthquake.

2 And he said, [h] The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and [i] the [1] pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the [j] top of [k] Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD: [l] For three transgressions of [m] Damascus, yea, for four, [m] I will not [2] turn away [3] the punishment thereof; because they have threshed [n] Gilead with threshing instruments of iron: 4 [o] but I will send a fire into the house of [p] Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of [p] Ben-hadad. 5 And I will [q] break the bar of [m] Damascus, and cut off [4] the inhabitant from the valley of [5] [r] Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from [6] the house of [s] Eden: and the people of [t] Syria shall go into captivity unto [u] Kir, saith the LORD.

6 Thus saith the LORD: [l] For three transgressions of [v] Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [w] they carried away captive [7] the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom: 7 but I will send a fire on the wall of [v] Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof: 8 and I will cut off the inhabitant from [x] Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD.

9 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of [z] Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up [7] the whole people to Edom, and remembered not [8] the brotherly covenant: 10 but I will send a fire on the wall of [z] Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of [a] Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; [a] because he did pursue his brother with the sword, [b] and [9] did cast off all pity, [c] and his anger did tear perpetually, [c] and he kept his wrath for ever: 12 but I will send a fire upon [d] Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of [e] Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of the children of [f] Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [g] they have ripped up the women with child of [h] Gilead, that they might enlarge their border: 14 but I will kindle a fire in the wall of [i] Rabbah, [j] and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, [j] with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind: 15 and [k] their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

2 1 Thus saith the LORD: [y] For three transgressions of [l] Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [m] he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime: 2 but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of [n] Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet: 3 and [o] I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay [o] all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

4 Thus saith the LORD: [p] For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; [q] because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and [r] their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers did walk: 5 but [s] I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith the LORD; [p] For three transgressions of Israel, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [t] they have sold the righteous for [u] silver, and

Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD. 12 But ye gave the Nazirites [f]wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, [g]Prophesy not. 13 Behold, [2]I will press you in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. 14 [h]And [3]flight shall perish from the swift, [h]and the strong shall not strengthen his force, [i]neither shall the mighty deliver [4]himself: 15 neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is [j]swift of foot shall not deliver himself: [k]neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver [4]himself: 16 and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

1 [l]Hear this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against [m]the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying, 2 [n]You only have I known of all the families of the earth: [o]therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities. 3 Shall two walk together, except they have [5]agreed? 4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing? 5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is set for him? shall a snare spring up from the ground, and have taken nothing at all? 6 [p]Shall the trumpet be blown in a city, and the people not be afraid? [q]shall evil befall a city, and the LORD hath not done it? 7 Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, [r]but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. 8 The lion hath roared, who will not fear? [s]the Lord GOD hath spoken, who can but prophesy?

9 Publish ye [6]in the palaces at [t]Ashdod, and [6]in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon [u]the mountains of Samaria, and behold what great tumults are therein, and [v]what oppressions in the midst thereof. 10 For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, [w]who store up violence and robbery in their palaces. 11 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD: [x]An adversary there shall be, even round about the land: and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and [y]thy palaces shall be spoiled. 12 Thus saith the LORD: [z]As the shepherd rescueth out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; [a]so shall the children of Israel be rescued [b]that sit in Samaria in the corner of a couch, and [7]on the silken cushions of a bed. 13 Hear ye, [c]and testify against the house of Jacob, saith the Lord GOD, [d]the God of hosts. 14 For in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him, [e]I will also visit the altars of Beth-el, and [f]the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground. 15 [g]And I will smite [h]the winter house with [i]the summer house; and [j]the houses of ivory shall perish, and [8]the great houses shall have an end, saith the LORD.

4 [q]Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to [r]Gilgal, and multiply transgression; [q]and bring your [s]sacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days; 5 and [1]offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of [t]that which is leavened, and proclaim [u]freewill offerings and publish them: [v]for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord GOD. 6 And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and [w]want of bread in all your places: [x]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 7 And I also [y]have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: [z]and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered. 8 So two or three cities [a]wandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: [x]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 9 [b]I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath [c]the palmerworm devoured: [x]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 10 I have sent among you the pestilence [d]after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, [2]and [e]have carried away your horses; and [f]I have made the stink of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: [x]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 11 I have overthrown some among you, [g]as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were [h]as a brand plucked out of the burning: [x]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. 13 For, lo, [i]he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and [j]declareth unto man what is his thought, [k]that maketh the morning darkness, and [l]treadeth upon the high places of the earth; [m]the LORD, the God of hosts, is his name.

5 1 Hear ye this word which I [n]take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. 2 [o]The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she [3]is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up. 3 For thus saith the Lord GOD: The city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left, and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Israel. 4 For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, [p]Seek ye me, and ye shall live: 5 but seek not [q]Beth-el, nor enter into [q]Gilgal, and pass not to [r]Beer-sheba: for [q]Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and [q]Beth-el shall [4]come to nought. 6 [p]Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; [s]lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour and there be none to quench it in [q]Beth-el: 7 [t]ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth; 8 seek him that maketh the [u]Pleiades and Orion, and turneth [5]the shadow of death into the morning, and [v]maketh the day dark with night; that [w]calleth for the waters of the sea, [w]and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; [x]the LORD is his name; 9 [y]that [6]bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh upon the fortress. 10 [z]They hate him that reproveth [a]in the gate, and they [b]abhor him that speaketh uprightly. 11 Forasmuch therefore as ye [c]trample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: [d]ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; [d]ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. 12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that [e]take a bribe, and that [f]turn aside the needy [a]in the gate from their right. 13 Therefore he that is prudent shall [g]keep silence in such a time; [h]for it is an evil time. 14 [i]Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, [j]the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye say. 15 [k]Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement [a]in the gate: [l]it may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD, [j] the God of hosts, the Lord: [m] Wailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, [1] and [m] such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. 17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for [n] I will pass through the midst of thee, saith the LORD. 18 Woe unto you that desire [o] the day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? [p] it is darkness, and not light. 19 [q] As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; [2] or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. 20 [p] Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? 21 [r] I hate, I despise your feasts, and I [3] will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. 22 [s] Yea, though ye offer me [4] your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the [5] peace offerings of your fat beasts. 23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear [t] the melody of thy viols. 24 But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteousness as a [6] mighty stream. 25 [u] Did ye bring unto me sacrifices and [7] offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? 26 [v] Yea, [w] ye [8] have borne [9] Siccuth your king and [10] Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. 27 [x] Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond [y] Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is [j] the God of hosts.

6 1 [z] Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in [a] the mountain of Samaria, [b] the notable men of [c] the chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! 2 Pass ye unto [d] Calneh, and see; and from thence go ye to [e] Hamath the great: then go down to [f] Gath of the Philistines: [g] be they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? 3 [h] Ye that put far away the evil day, [i] and cause the [11] seat of violence to come near; 4 [j] that lie upon [k] beds of ivory, [j] and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, [l] and the calves out of the midst of the stall; 5 [m] that sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; [m] that devise for themselves instruments of music, [12] like David; 6 [n] that drink [13] wine in bowls, and [o] anoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. 7 [p] Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away. 8 [q] The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor [r] the [14] excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: [s] therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. 9 And it shall come to pass, [t] if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. 10 And when a man's [15] uncle shall take him up, [u] even he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, [v] Hold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD. 11 For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and [16] [w] the great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts. 12 Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? [x] that ye have turned judgement into [y] gall, [x] and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood: 13 ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, [z] Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength? 14 For, behold, [a] I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the [b] entering in of Hamath unto the brook of [c] the Arabah.

shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings. 2 And it came to pass that when they made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: [f] how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. 3 [g] The LORD repented concerning this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 [d] Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called [h] to contend by fire; and it devoured the great deep, and would have eaten up the [1] land. 5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: [f] how shall Jacob stand? for he is small. 6 [g] The LORD repented concerning this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 [d] Thus he shewed me: and, behold, the Lord stood [2] beside a wall made by [i] a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand. 8 And the LORD said unto me, [j] Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set [i] a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel; [j] I will not again pass by them any more: 9 and [k] the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against [l] the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 Then Amaziah [m] the priest of Beth-el sent to [n] Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath [o] conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words. 11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and [p] Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land. 12 Also Amaziah said unto Amos, [q] O thou seer, go, flee thee away [r] into the land of Judah, and there [s] eat bread, and prophesy there: 13 but [t] prophesy not again any more at Beth-el: for [u] it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house. 14 Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, [v] I [3] was no prophet, neither [3] was I [4] a prophet's son; but [w] I [3] was an herdman, and a dresser of sycomore trees: 15 [x] and the LORD took me from following the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, [y] prophesy unto my people Israel. 16 [z] Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, [t] Prophesy not against Israel, and [a] drop not thy word against the house of [b] Isaac; 17 [c] therefore thus saith the LORD: Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land [d] shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and [p] Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

1 [e] Thus the Lord GOD shewed me: and behold, a basket of summer fruit. 2 And he said, [f] Amos, what seest thou? And I said, [g] A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, [h] The end is come upon my people Israel; [f] I will not again pass by them any more. 3 [i] And the songs of the [5] temple [j] shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD: [k] the dead bodies shall be many; in every place [6] shall they cast them forth [l] with silence. 4 Hear this, [m] O ye that would swallow up the needy, and cause the poor of the land to fail, 5 saying, When will [n] the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and [o] the sabbath, that we may [7] set forth wheat? making [p] the ephah small, and the shekel great, and dealing falsely with [q] balances of deceit; 6 that we may buy the poor for [r] silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell the refuse of the wheat. 7 The LORD hath sworn by [s] the excellency of Jacob, Surely [t] I will never forget any of their works. 8 [u] Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? [v] yea, it shall rise up wholly like the River; and it shall be troubled [w] and sink again, like the River of Egypt. 9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that [x] I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day. 10 [y] And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; [z] and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, [z] and baldness upon every head; [a] and I will make it as the mourning for an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day. 11 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD GOD, that [b]I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, [c]but of hearing the words of the LORD. 12 [d]And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east; they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, [e]and shall not find it. 13 [e]In that day shall the fair virgins and the young men [f]faint for thirst. 14 They that swear by [g]the sin of Samaria, and say, As thy God, O Dan, liveth; and, As [h]the [1]way of [i]Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

9 1 I saw the Lord standing [2]beside the altar: and he said, [j]Smite the chapiters, that [j]the thresholds may [k]shake: [l]and break them in pieces on the head of all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: [3][m]there shall not one of them flee away, and there shall not one of them escape. 2 [n]Though they dig into [4]hell, thence shall mine hand take them; [n]and though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down. 3 And though they hide themselves in [o]the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence; and [p]though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them. 4 [q]And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: [r]and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good. 5 For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, is he that toucheth the land and [s]it melteth, and all that dwell therein shall mourn; [t]and it shall rise up wholly like the River; [t]and shall sink again, like the River of Egypt; 6 [u]it is he that buildeth his chambers in the heaven, and hath founded his vault upon the earth; [v]he that calleth for the waters of the sea and poureth them out upon the face of the earth; [w]the LORD is his name. 7 Are ye not as the children of [x]the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. [y]Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt, and [z]the Philistines from [a]Caphtor, and the Syrians from [b]Kir? 8 Behold, [c]the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth; [d]saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD. 9 For, lo, I will command, [e]and I will [5]sift the house of Israel among all the nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth. 10 All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, [f]The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.

11 In that day [g]will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old; 12 [h]that they may possess the remnant of Edom, [i]and all the nations, which [6]are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this. 13 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, [j]that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed; [k]and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt. 14 And [l]I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel, and [m]they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; [n]and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. 15 [o]And I will plant them upon their land, [p]and they shall no more be plucked up out of their land [q]which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

1 THE vision of Obadiah.

Thus saith the Lord GOD [a] concerning Edom: [b] We have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. 2 Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. 3 [c] The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of [1] the rock, whose habitation is high; [d] that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? 4 Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. 5 If [e] thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if [e] grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? 6 [f] How are [2] the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! 7 All the men of thy confederacy have [3] brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; [4] [g] they that eat thy bread lay a [5] snare under thee: [h] there is none understanding [6] in him. 8 [i] Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of [j] the mount of Esau? 9 And thy mighty men, [k] O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from [j] the mount of Esau by slaughter. 10 [l] For the violence done to thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, [m] and thou shalt be cut off for ever. 11 [n] In the day that thou stoodest [7] on the other side, [o] in the day that strangers carried away his [8] substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, [p] and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them. 12 [q] But look not thou on the day of thy brother in [9] the day of his disaster, [r] and rejoice not over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction; [s] neither speak proudly in the day of distress. 13 [t] Enter not into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity; [t] yea, look not thou on their affliction in the day of their calamity, [u] neither lay ye hands on their substance in the day of their calamity. 14 [v] And stand thou not in the crossway, to cut off those of his that escape; and deliver not up those of his that remain in the day of distress. 15 For [w] the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations: [x] as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee; thy [10] dealing shall return upon thine own head. 16 [y] For as ye have drunk upon [z] my holy mountain, so shall all the nations drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and [11] swallow down, [a] and shall be as though they had not been. 17 [b] But in mount Zion there shall be those that escape, and it shall be holy; [c] and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions. 18 [d] And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for [e] stubble, and they shall burn among them, and devour them: [f] and there shall not be any remaining to the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it. 19 And they of [g] the South [c] shall possess [h] the mount of Esau; and they of [i] the lowland the Philistines: and they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of [j] Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead. 20 And the captivity of this [12] host of the children of Israel, [13] which are among the Canaanites, shall possess even unto [k] Zarephath; and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the South. 21 [l] And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge [i] the mount of Esau; and [m] the kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

JONAH.

1 1 Now the word of the LORD came unto [a]Jonah the son of Amittai, saying, 2 Arise, go to [b]Nineveh, that [c]great city, and cry against it; [d]for their wickedness is come up before me. 3 But Jonah [e]rose up to flee unto [f]Tarshish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to [g]Joppa, and found a ship going to [f]Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto [f]Tarshish [h]from the presence of the LORD. 4 But [i]the LORD [1]sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like [j]to be broken. 5 Then the mariners were afraid, and [k]cried every man unto his god; and [l]they cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. 6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, [k]call upon thy God, [m]if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. 7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us [n]cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. 8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? 9 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear [o]the LORD, the God of heaven, [p]which hath made the sea and the dry land. 10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that [h]he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them. 11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. 12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: [q]for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. 13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and [r]lay not upon us innocent blood: [s]for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee. 15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: [t]and the sea ceased from her raging. 16 Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; [u]and they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, [v]and made vows. 17 And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; [w]and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

2 1 Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly. 2 And he said,

[x]I called [2]by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD,
And he answered me;
[y]Out of the belly of [3]hell cried I,
[z]And thou heardest my voice.
3 [a]For thou didst cast me into the depth, in the heart of the seas,
And the flood was round about me;
[b]All thy waves and thy billows passed over me.
4 [c]And I said, I am cast out from before thine eyes;
[d]Yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.
5 [e]The waters compassed me about, [f]even to the soul;
The deep was round about me;
The weeds were wrapped about my head.
6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;
The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever:
Yet hast thou brought up my life [g]from [4]the pit, O LORD my God.
7 [h]When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD:

1 And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying, 2 Arise, go unto [n]Nineveh, that great city, and [1]preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. 3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now [n]Nineveh was [2][o]an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. 4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and [p]Nineveh shall be overthrown. 5 [q]And the people of Nineveh believed God; [r]and they proclaimed a fast, and [s]put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. 6 [3]And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and [t]he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, [u]and sat in ashes. 7 And he made proclamation and [4]published through Nineveh [v]by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor [w]beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water: 8 but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and [w]beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, [x]let them turn every one from his evil way, and from [y]the violence that is in their hands. 9 [z]Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, [a]and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? 10 And God saw their works, [b]that they turned from their evil way; [b]and God repented of the evil, which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not.

1 But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and [c]he was angry. 2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? [d]Therefore I [5]hasted to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew that [e]thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, [e]and repentest thee of the evil. 3 [f]Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; [g]for it is better for me to die than to live. 4 And the LORD said, [6][h]Doest thou well to be angry? 5 Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there [i]made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city. 6 And the LORD God prepared a [7]gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd. 7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered. 8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry [j]east wind; [k]and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he [l]fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, [g]It is better for me to die than to live. 9 And God said to Jonah, [m]Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. 10 And the LORD said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: 11 and should not I have pity on [n]Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much [o]cattle?

MICAH.

1 1 THE word of the LORD that came to [a]Micah [b]the Morashtite [c]in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw [d]concerning [e]Samaria and Jerusalem.

2 [f]Hear, ye peoples, all of you; [g]hearken, O earth, and [1]all that therein is: and [h]let the Lord GOD be witness [2]against you, [i]the Lord from his holy temple. 3 For, behold, [j]the LORD cometh forth out of [k]his place, and will come down, and [l]tread upon the high places of the earth. 4 And [m]the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. 5 For [n]the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. [o]What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not [e]Samaria? and what are [p]the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem? 6 Therefore I will make [e]Samaria [q]as an heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof [r]into the valley, and I will [s]discover the foundations thereof. 7 And [t]all her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and [u]all her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for of [u]the hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire of an harlot shall they return. 8 [v]For this will I wail and howl, I will go [w]stripped and naked: I will make a wailing [x]like the jackals, and a mourning [y]like the ostriches. 9 [z]For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. 10 [a]Tell it not in [b]Gath, weep not at all: at [3]Beth-le-Aphrah [4][c]have I rolled myself in the dust. 11 Pass ye away, O [5]inhabitant of Shaphir, [d]in nakedness and shame: the [5]inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the [6]stay thereof. 12 For the [5]inhabitant of Maroth [7]waiteth anxiously for good: because evil is come down [e]from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem. 13 Bind the chariot to the swift steed, O [5]inhabitant of [f]Lachish: she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; for [g]the transgressions of Israel were found in thee. 14 Therefore shalt thou give a parting gift to [h]Moresheth-gath: the houses of [i]Achzib shall be [8]a deceitful thing unto the kings of Israel. 15 I will yet bring unto thee, O [5]inhabitant of [i]Mareshah, [j]him that shall possess thee: the glory of Israel shall come even unto [k]Adullam. 16 [l]Make thee bald, and poll thee for the children of thy delight: [l]enlarge thy baldness as the [9]eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

2 1 [m]Woe to them that devise iniquity and work evil [n]upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand. 2 And they covet fields, and [o]seize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage. 3 Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against [p]this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, [q]neither shall ye walk haughtily; [r]for it is an evil time. 4 In that day [s]shall they take up a parable against you, and lament [10]with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: [t]he changeth the portion of my people: [t]how doth he [11]remove it from me! [u]to the rebellious he divideth our fields. 5 Therefore thou shalt have none [v]that shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the LORD. 6 [12][w]Prophesy ye not, thus they prophesy. [x]They shall not prophesy [13]to these: [y]reproaches shall not depart. 7 [14]Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, [x]Is the spirit of the LORD [15]straitened? are these his doings? Do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly? 8 But [16]of late [z]my people is risen up as an enemy: ye strip the robe from off the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war. 9 The women of my people ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their young children ye take away my glory for ever. 10 [a]Arise ye, and depart; for this is not [b]your rest: because of [c]uncleanness [1]that destroyeth, even with a grievous destruction. 11 If a man walking [2]in [d]wind and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee [e]of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; [f]I will surely gather [g]the remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of [h]Bozrah: [i]as a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men. 13 [j]The breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, [k]and are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and [l]the LORD at the head of them.

3 1 And I said, [m]Hear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: [n]is it not for you to know judgement? 2 [o]who hate the good, and love the evil; [p]who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; 3 [q]who also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron. 4 [r]Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, [s]he will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. 5 Thus saith the LORD concerning [t]the prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth [u]and cry, Peace; and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even [3][v]prepare war against him: 6 Therefore [w]it shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and [x]the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. 7 [y]And the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; [z]yea, they shall all cover their lips: for [a]there is no answer of God. 8 But [b]I truly am full of power [4]by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob [c]his transgression, and to Israel his sin. 9 [d]Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, [e]that abhor judgement, and pervert all equity. 10 [f]They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 [g]The heads thereof judge for reward, and [h]the priests thereof teach for hire, and [i]the prophets thereof divine for money: [j]yet will they lean upon the LORD, and [k]say, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? [l]no evil shall come upon us. 12 Therefore [m]shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem [n]shall become heaps, and [o]the mountain of the house [p]as the high places of a forest.

4 1 [q]But in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established [5]in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. 2 And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth [6]the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. 3 And he shall judge [7]between [8]many peoples, and shall [9]reprove strong nations afar off; and they shall [r]beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. 4 [s]But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; [t]and none shall make them afraid: [u]for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. 5 For [v]all the peoples [10]will walk every one in the name of his god, and [w]we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 [x]In that day, saith the LORD, [y]will I assemble her [z]that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted;

7 and I will make her that halted [a]a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and [b]the LORD shall reign over them [c]in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever. 8 And thou, O tower of [1]the flock, [2]the hill of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come; yea, the former dominion shall come, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem. 9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? [d]Is there no king in thee, [e]is thy counsellor perished, that [f]pangs have taken hold of thee as of a woman in travail? 10 [g]Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for [h]now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and shalt dwell in the field, and [i]shalt come even unto Babylon; there shalt thou be rescued; [j]there shall the LORD redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies. 11 And now [k]many nations are assembled against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and [l]let our eye [3]see its desire upon Zion. 12 But [m]they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for [n]he hath gathered them as the sheaves to the threshing-floor. 13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many peoples: and [4][o]thou shalt devote [p]their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto [q]the Lord of the whole earth.

1 Now shalt thou gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: [r]they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.

2 [s]But thou, Beth-lehem Ephrathah, which art little to be among the [5]thousands of [t]Judah, out of thee shall one come forth unto me that is to be [u]ruler in Israel; [v]whose goings forth are [w]from of old, [6]from everlasting. 3 Therefore will he give them up, [x]until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then [y]the residue of his brethren shall return [7]unto the children of Israel. 4 And he shall stand, [z]and shall feed his flock [a]in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God: and they shall abide; for now [b]shall he be great unto the ends of the earth. 5 And this man shall be [c]our peace: [d]when the Assyrian shall come into our land, and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven [e]shepherds, and eight [8]principal men. 6 And they shall [9]waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of [f]Nimrod in the entrances thereof: and he shall deliver us from the Assyrian, [d]when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our border. 7 And [y]the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many peoples as dew from the LORD, as showers upon the grass; that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men. 8 And [y]the remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, [g]as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: [h]who, if he go through, treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and there is none to deliver. 9 Let thine hand [i]be lifted up above thine adversaries, and let all thine enemies be cut off.

10 And it shall come to pass [j]in that day, saith the LORD, that [k]I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and will destroy thy chariots: 11 [l]and I will cut off the cities of thy land, and will throw down all thy strong holds: 12 and I will cut off [m]witchcrafts out of thine hand; and [n]thou shalt have no more soothsayers: 13 and [o]I will cut off thy graven images and [p]thy [10]pillars out of the midst of thee; [q]and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands. 14 And I will pluck up thine [r]Asherim out of the midst of thee: [l]and I will destroy thy [11]cities. 15 And [s]I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the nations [12]which hearkened not.

of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. 3 O my people, [w]what have I done unto thee? and [x]wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. 4 For [y]I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and [z]redeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and [a]Miriam. 5 O my people, remember now [b]what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember from [c]Shittim unto [d]Gilgal, that ye may know [e]the righteous acts of the LORD. 6 [f]Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before [g]the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? 7 [h]Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? [i]shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? 8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and [j]what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to [k]walk humbly with thy God?

9 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will [1]see [l]thy name: hear ye [m]the rod, and who hath appointed it. 10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant [2]measure that is abominable? 11 Shall I be pure [n]with wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 For the rich men thereof are [o]full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof [p]have spoken lies, and [q]their tongue is deceitful in their mouth. 13 Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; [r]I have made thee desolate because of thy sins. 14 [s]Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy [3]humiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. 15 [t]Thou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. 16 For the statutes of [u]Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of [v]Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee [4][w]a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof [w]an hissing: and ye shall bear [x]the reproach of my people.

7 1 Woe is me! for I am [y]as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; [5]my soul desireth [z]the firstripe fig. 2 [a]The godly man is perished out of the earth, and [b]there is none upright among men: [c]they all lie in wait for blood; they hunt [d]every man his brother with a net. 3 [6][e]Their hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; [f]the prince asketh, and [g]the judge is ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together. 4 The best of them is [h]as a brier: [7]the most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of [i]thy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; [j]now shall be their perplexity. 5 [k]Trust ye not in a friend, [l]put ye not confidence in a [8]guide: keep [m]the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. 6 For [n]the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; [o]a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 But as for me, [9]I will look unto the LORD; [p]I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. 8 [q]Rejoice not against me, O [r]mine enemy: [s]when I fall, I shall arise; [t]when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. 9 [u]I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until [v]he plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: [w]he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. 10 Then [x]mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; which [y]said unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? [z]Mine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down [a]as the mire of the streets. 11 [10][b]A day for building thy walls! in that day shall [c]the NAHUM.

I 1 [a]THE [7]burden of [b]Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.

2 [c]The LORD is a jealous God and avengeth; the LORD avengeth and is full of wrath; [d]the LORD taketh vengeance on his adversaries, and [e]he reserveth wrath for his enemies. 3 [f]The LORD is slow to anger, and [g]great in power, and [h]will by no means clear the guilty: the LORD [i]hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet. 4 [j]He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: [k]Bashan languisheth, and [l]Carmel, and the flower of [k]Lebanon languisheth. 5 [m]The mountains quake at him, and [n]the hills melt; and the earth is upheaved at his presence, yea, [o]the world, and all that dwell therein. 6 [p]Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury [q]is poured out like fire, and [r]the rocks are broken asunder by him. 7 [s]The LORD is good, [t]a strong hold in the day of trouble; and [u]he knoweth them that put their trust in him. 8 But [v]with an overrunning flood he will make a full end of the place thereof, and [w]will pursue his enemies into darkness. 9 What [x]do ye imagine against the LORD? [y]he will make a full end: affliction shall not rise up the second time. 10 For though they be [z]like tangled thorns, and be drenched as it were in their drink, [a]they shall be devoured [8]utterly as dry stubble. 11 There is one gone forth out of thee, [b]that imagineth evil against the LORD, [9]that counselleth [10]wickedness. 12 Thus saith the LORD: Though they be in full strength, and likewise many, [c]even so shall they be cut down, and he shall pass away. [11][d]Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more. 13 And now [e]will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder. 14 And the LORD hath given commandment concerning thee, [f]that no more of thy name be sown: out of [g]the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten

1 [o] He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: [p] keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily. 2 For [q] the LORD bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and [r] marred their vine branches. 3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, [s] the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots [2] flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the [3] spears are shaken terribly. 4 [t] The chariots rage in the streets, they justle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like the lightnings. 5 He remembereth [u] his worthies: [v] they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared. 6 [w] The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is [x] dissolved. 7 [4] And Huzzab is [y] uncovered, she is carried away, and her handmaids [5] [z] mourn as with the voice of doves, [a] tabering upon their [6] breasts. 8 But [b] Nineveh hath been [7] from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away; Stand, stand, they cry; but [c] none [8] looketh back. 9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, the [9] glory of all pleasant furniture. 10 [d] She is empty, and void, and waste: and [e] the heart melteth, and [f] the knees smite together, and [g] anguish is in all loins, and [h] the faces of them all are waxed pale. 11 Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of [i] the young lions, where the lion [10] and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and [j] none made them afraid? 12 [k] The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves [l] with prey, and his dens with ravin. 13 [m] Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and [n] I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and [o] the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

1 Woe to [p] the bloody city! it is all full of lies and rapine; [q] the prey departeth not. 2 The noise of the whip, and the noise of [r] the rattling of wheels; and [s] pransing horses, and [t] jumping chariots; 3 the horseman [11] mounting, and the flashing sword, and [u] the glittering spear; [v] and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their corpses: 4 because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured [w] harlot, [x] the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. 5 [m] Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and [y] I will discover thy skirts [12] upon thy face; and I will shew the nations [z] thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame. 6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and [a] make thee vile, and will set thee as [b] a gazingstock. 7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee [c] shall flee from thee, and say, [d] Nineveh is laid waste: [e] who will bemoan her? [f] whence shall I seek comforters for thee? 8 [g] Art thou better than [h] No-amon, that was situate [i] among the [13] rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was [14] the sea, and her wall [15] was of the sea? 9 [j] Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; [k] Put and [l] Lubim were thy helpers. 10 [m] Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: [n] her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and [o] they cast lots for her honourable men, [p] and all her great men were bound in chains. 11 [q] Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; [r] thou also shalt seek [16] a strong hold because of the enemy. 12 All thy fortresses shall be [s] like fig trees

1 [a] THE [5] burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

2 O LORD, [b] how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee [c] of violence, and thou wilt not save. 3 [d] Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and [6] look upon perverseness? for spoiling [c] and violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. 4 [e] Therefore the law is slacked, and judgement [7] doth never go forth: [f] for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judgement goeth forth perverted. 5 [g] Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvellously: [h] for [8] I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. 6 For, lo, [i] I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation; [j] which march through the breadth of the earth, [k] to possess dwelling places that are not theirs. 7 [9] They are terrible and dreadful: [l] their judgement and their dignity proceed from themselves. 8 [m] Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than [n] the evening wolves; and their horsemen [10] spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far; [o] they fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour. 9 They come all of them [p] for violence; [11] their faces are set eagerly [12] as [q] the east wind; and they gather captives [r] as the sand. 10 [13] Yea, he scoffeth at kings, and princes are a derision unto him: [s] he derideth every strong hold; for [t] he heapeth up dust, and taketh it. 11 [14] Then shall he sweep by as a wind, and shall [15] pass over, and [u] be guilty: even he [v] whose might is his god. 12 Art not thou [w] from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? [16] [x] we shall not die. O LORD, [y] thou hast ordained him for judgement; and thou, O [z] Rock, hast established him for correction. 13 Thou that art [a] of purer eyes than to behold evil, and that canst not look on perverseness, [b] wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and [c] holdest thy peace when the wicked swalloweth up the man that is more righteous than he; 14 and makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them? 15 [d] He taketh up all of them [e] with the angle, he catcheth them in his net, and gathereth them in his drag: therefore he rejoiceth and is glad. 16 [f] Therefore he sacrificeth unto his net, and burneth incense unto his drag; because by

[1] Or, lay hold of the brickmould [2] Or, spreadeth himself [3] Or, scribes [4] Or, walls [5] Or, oracle [6] Or, cause me to look [7] Or, goeth not forth unto victory [8] Or, one worketh [9] Heb. He, and so in vv. 8, 9. [10] Or, bear themselves proudly [11] Heb. the eagerness (or assembling) of their faces is &c. [12] Or, towards the east Or, forwards [13] Or, And they scoff &c. [14] Or, Then shall the wind sweep by, and he shall pass away [15] Or, transgress [16] According to an ancient Jewish tradition, thou diest not.

2 1 I will [h]stand upon my watch, and set me upon the [2]tower, and will [i]look forth to see [j]what he will speak [3]with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. 2 And the LORD answered me, and said, [k]Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. 3 For [l]the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it [4]hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, [m]wait for it; because [n]it will surely come, it will not delay. 4 Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not [5]upright in him: but [o]the just shall live [6]by his faith. 5 [7]Yea, moreover, wine is [p]a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and [8]that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire [q]as [9]hell, and he is as death, [r]and cannot be satisfied, but [s]gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples. 6 Shall not all these [t]take up a parable against him, and a taunting [10]proverb against him, and say, [u]Woe to him [v]that increaseth that which is not his! [w]how long? and [x]that ladeth himself with pledges! 7 [y]Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall [11]bite thee, and awake that shall [12]vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them? 8 [z]Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; [a]because of men's blood, and [a]for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

9 [u]Woe to [b]him that getteth an evil gain for his house, [c]that he may [d]set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! 10 Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, [e]by cutting off many peoples, and [f]hast sinned against thy soul. 11 For [g]the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

12 [u]Woe to him [h]that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity! 13 Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that [i]the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? 14 [j]For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of [k]the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

15 [u]Woe unto him [l]that giveth his neighbour drink, that [13]addest thy [14]venom thereto, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look [m]on their nakedness! 16 Thou art filled [n]with shame for glory: [o]drink thou also, and [15]be as one uncircumcised: [o]the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and [p]foul shame shall be upon thy glory. 17 For [q]the violence [r]done to Lebanon shall cover thee, and the destruction of the beasts, [16]which made them afraid; [q]because of men's blood, and for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

18 [s]What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and [t]the teacher of lies, that the maker of [17]his work trusteth therein, to make [u]dumb idols? 19 [v]Woe unto him [w]that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise! Shall this teach? Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and [x]there is no breath at all in the midst of it. 20 But [y]the LORD is in his holy temple: [18][z]let all the earth keep silence before him.

3 1 A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet, set to Shigionoth.

2 O LORD, [a]I have heard [19]the report of thee, and [20]am afraid:
O LORD, [b]revive [c]thy work in the midst of the years,
In the midst of the years make it known;
[d]In wrath remember mercy.
3 God [21]came from [e]Teman,
[f]And the Holy One from mount Paran. [Selah
His glory covered the heavens,
And the earth was full of his praise.
4 [g]And his brightness was as the light;

He had [1]rays coming forth [2]from his hand:
And there was the hiding of his power.
5 [h]Before him went the pestilence,
[i]And [3]fiery bolts went forth [j]at his feet.
6 He stood, [k]and [4]measured the earth;
He beheld, and drove asunder the nations:
And the [l]eternal mountains [m]were scattered,
The everlasting hills did bow;
[5]His goings were [n]as of old.
7 I saw the tents of [o]Cushan in affliction:
[p]The curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.
8 [q]Was the LORD displeased against the rivers?
Was thine anger against the rivers,
[q]Or thy wrath against the sea,
[r]That thou didst ride upon thine horses,
[r]Upon thy chariots of salvation?
9 Thy bow was made quite bare;
[6][s]The oaths to the tribes were a sure word. [Selah
[t]Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.
10 [u]The mountains saw thee, and [7]were afraid;
The tempest of waters passed by:
[v]The deep uttered his voice,
[w]And lifted up his hands on high.
11 [x]The sun and moon stood still in their habitation;
[y]At the light of thine arrows as they went,
At the shining of thy glittering spear.
12 [z]Thou didst march through the land in indignation,
[a]Thou didst thresh the nations in anger.
13 [z]Thou [8]wentest forth for the salvation of thy people,
[9]For the salvation of [b]thine anointed;
[10][c]Thou [11]woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, Laying bare the foundation even unto the neck. [Selah 14 Thou [12]didst pierce with his own staves the head of his [13]warriors:
They came as a whirlwind to scatter me:
Their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.
15 [d]Thou [14]didst tread the sea with thine horses,
The [15]heap of mighty waters.

16 [e]I heard, and [f]my belly trembled,
My lips quivered at the voice;
[g]Rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in my place:
That [h]I should rest [16]in the day of trouble, [17]When it cometh up against the people [18]which invadeth him in troops.
17 For though the fig tree shall not blossom,
Neither shall fruit be in the vines;
The labour of the olive shall fail,
And the fields shall yield no meat;
The flock shall be cut off from the fold,
And there shall be no herd in the stalls:
18 [i]Yet I will rejoice in the LORD,
[j]I will joy in the God of my salvation.
19 Jehovah, the Lord, is my strength,
And [k]he maketh my feet like hinds' feet,
And will make me to [l]walk upon mine [m]high places.

ZEPHANIAH.

I 1 THE word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, [a]in the days of [b]Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.
2 [c]I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. 3 I will consume [d]man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven,
and [d]the fishes of the sea, and [e]the stumblingblocks with the wicked;
and I will [f]cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD.
4 And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; [g]and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the [h]Chemarim
with the priests; 5 and [i]them
that worship the host of heaven
upon the housetops; and [j]them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by [1][k]Malcam; 6 and [l]them that are turned back from following the LORD; and [m]those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him.
7 [n]Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: for [o]the day of the LORD is at hand: for [p]the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath [q]sanctified his guests. 8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that [r]I will [2]punish
the princes, and the king's sons,
and [s]all such as are clothed with foreign apparel. 9 And in that day
I will [2]punish all those [t]that leap over the threshold, which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. 10 And in that day, saith
the LORD, there shall be the noise of a cry from [u]the fish gate, and [v]an howling from [w]the [3]second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. 11 [x]Howl, ye inhabitants of [4]Maktesh, for all [5][y]the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with silver are cut off.
12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that [z]I will search Jerusalem [a]with [6]candles; and I will [2]punish the men [b]that are [7]settled on their lees, [c]that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil. 13 And their wealth shall become [d]a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, [e]they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit
them; and [f]they shall plant vineyards,
but shall not drink the wine thereof. 14 [g]The great day of the LORD is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD; [h]the mighty man crieth
there bitterly. 15 That day is [i]a day
of wrath, a day of trouble and distress,
a day of [j]wasteness and desolation, [k]a day of darkness and gloominess, [k]a day of clouds and thick darkness, 16 [l]a day of the trumpet and alarm, [m]against the fenced cities, and against the high [8][n]battlements. 17 And [o]I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk [p]like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and [q]their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh [r]as dung.
18 [s]Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them
in the day of the LORD's wrath;
but [t]the whole land shall be devoured
by [u]the fire of his jealousy:
[v]for he shall make an end, yea, a [9]terrible end, of all them that dwell
in the land.

2 1 Gather yourselves together,
yea, gather together, O nation [w]that hath no [10]shame; 2 [x]before the decree bring forth, [11]before the day pass [y]as the chaff, [z]before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD's anger come upon you.
3 [a]Seek ye the LORD, [b]all ye meek
of the earth, which have wrought
his judgement; [c]seek righteousness, seek meekness: [c]it may be [d]ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD's anger. 4 [e]For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation:
they shall drive out Ashdod
at the noonday, and Ekron shall be rooted up. 5 Woe unto [f]the inhabitants of [12]the sea coast, the nation of [g]the Cherethites! [h]The word of the LORD is against you, [i]O Canaan,
the land of the Philistines; I will destroy thee, [j]that there shall be no

[l]shall be pastures, with [1]cottages for shepherds and folds for flocks.
7 [m]And the coast shall be for [n]the remnant of the house of Judah; [l]they shall feed their flocks thereupon:
in the houses of Ashkelon
shall they lie down in the evening;
for the LORD their God [o]shall visit them, and [p]bring again their captivity.
8 I have heard [q]the reproach of Moab, and [r]the revilings of the children of Ammon, wherewith they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves [s]against their border. 9 Therefore [t]as I live, saith
the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be [u]as Sodom,
and the children of Ammon [u]as Gomorrah, a possession of [2]nettles,
and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation:
the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my nation shall inherit them.
10 This shall they have [v]for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.
11 The LORD will be terrible unto them: [w]for he will famish all the gods of the earth; and [x]men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all [y]the [3]isles of the nations.
12 [z]Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword. 13 And he will stretch out his hand against the north, [a]and destroy Assyria;
and [b]will make Nineveh a desolation,
and dry like the wilderness.
14 [c]And herds shall lie down in the midst of her, [4]all the beasts of the nations: [d]both the pelican and the porcupine shall lodge in the chapiters

that said in her heart, I am, and there is none else beside me: how is she become a desolation, [g]a place for beasts to lie down in! [h]every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and

LORD; she drew not near to her
God. 3 [m]Her princes in the midst of her are roaring lions; her judges are [n]evening wolves; they [7]leave nothing till the morrow. 4 [o]Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: [o]her priests [p]have profaned
the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law. 5 The LORD in the midst of her [q]is righteous;
he will not do iniquity;
[8][r]every morning doth he bring his judgement to light, he faileth not;
but [s]the unjust knoweth no shame.
6 [t]I have cut off nations, their [9]battlements are desolate; I have made their streets waste, [u]that none passeth
by: their cities are destroyed,
so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant. 7 [v]I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, [w]thou wilt receive [6]correction; so her dwelling should not be cut off, [10]according to all that I have appointed concerning her: but [x]they rose early and corrupted all their doings. 8 Therefore [y]wait ye for me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my [11]determination is [z]to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger; for [a]all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy. 9 For then will I turn to the peoples [b]a pure [12]language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one [13]consent. 10 [c]From beyond the rivers [d]of Ethiopia [14]my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.
11 [e]In that day [f]shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me:
for then [g]I will take away out of the midst of thee [15]thy proudly exulting ones, and [h]thou shalt no more be haughty in my holy mountain.
12 But I will leave in the midst of thee [i]an afflicted and poor people, and [j]they shall trust in the name of the LORD. 13 [k]The remnant of Israel [l]shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies; [m]neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: [n]for they shall feed and lie

HAGGAI.

1 [a] IN the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto [b] Zerubbabel the son of [c] Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to [d] Joshua the son of [e] Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, 2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, [8] It is not the time for us to come, the time for the LORD's house to be built. 3 Then came the word of the LORD [f] by Haggai the prophet, saying, 4 [g] Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while [h] this house lieth waste? 5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: [9] [i] Consider your ways. 6 [j] Ye have sown much, and bring in little; [k] ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that [l] earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [9] [i] Consider your ways. 8 Go up to the [10] mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and [m] I will take pleasure in it, and [n] I will be glorified, saith the LORD. 9 [j] Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, [o] I did [11] blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house [h] that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. 10 Therefore [12] [p] for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. 11 And [q] I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon [r] the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and [s] upon all the labour of the hands.

12 [t] Then [u] Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and [u] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all [v] the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. 13 Then spake Haggai [w] the LORD's messenger in the LORD's message unto the people, saying, [x] I am with you, saith the LORD. 14 And [y] the LORD stirred up the spirit of [u] Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of [u] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all [v] the remnant of the people; and they came and [z] did work in the house of the LORD of

1 1 In the eighth month, [a] in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto [b] Zechariah the son of [c] Berechiah, the son of [d] Iddo, the prophet, saying, 2 [e] The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. 3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [f] Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and [g] I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. 4 [h] Be ye not as your fathers, [i] unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, [f] Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but [j] they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD. 5 [k] Your fathers, where are they? and [l] the prophets, do they live for ever? 6 [m] But my words and my statutes, which I commanded [n] my servants the prophets, did they not [o] overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, [p] Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to [q] our ways, and according to [q] our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month [r] Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto [b] Zechariah the son of [c] Berechiah, the son of [d] Iddo, the prophet, saying, 8 I saw in the night, and behold [s] a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the [1] bottom; and behind him there were [t] horses, red, sorrel, and white. 9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And [u] the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be. 10 And [s] the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, [v] These are they whom the LORD hath sent to [w] walk to and fro through the earth. 11 And they answered [u] the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, [w] We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and [x] is at rest. 12 Then [u] the angel of the LORD answered and said, [y] O LORD of hosts, [y] how long wilt thou not [z] have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these [a] threescore and ten years? 13 And the LORD answered [u] the angel that talked with me with [b] good words, even comfortable words. 14 So [u] the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [c] I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. 15 [d] And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are [e] at ease: [f] for I was but a little displeased, [g] and they [2] helped forward the affliction. 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD: [h] I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies; [i] my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and [j] a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem. 17 Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [k] My cities [3] through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; [l] and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet [m] choose Jerusalem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold [n] four horns. 19 And I said unto [u] the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, [n] These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. 20 And the LORD shewed me four smiths. 21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, [n] These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come [o] to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, [p] which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 1 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold [q] a man with a measuring line in his hand. 2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, [r] To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof. 3 And, behold, [s] the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, 4 and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, say-

1 And he shewed me [m]Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, [n]and [3]Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. 2 And the LORD said unto Satan, [o]The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan; yea, the LORD that hath [p]chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this [q]a brand plucked out of the fire? 3 Now [m]Joshua was [r]clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel. 4 And he answered and spake unto [s]those that stood before him, saying, [t]Take the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, Behold, [u]I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and [v]I will clothe thee with rich apparel. 5 And [4]I said, [w]Let them set a fair [5]mitre upon his head. So they set a fair [5]mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD stood by. 6 And the angel of the LORD protested unto [m]Joshua, saying, 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt [x]keep my charge, then thou also shalt [y]judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee [6]a place of access among [z]these that stand by. 8 Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for [a]they are men which are a [7]sign: for, behold, I will bring forth [b]my servant [c]the [8]Branch. 9 For behold, [d]the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are [e]seven eyes: behold, I will [f]engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and [g]I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. 10 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour [h]under the vine and under the fig tree.

1 And [i]the angel that talked with me came again, [j]and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. 2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and behold, [k]a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its [l]seven lamps thereon; [9]there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top thereof: 3 and [m]two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof. 4 And I answered and spake to [i]the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord? 5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, [n]Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. 6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto [o]Zerubbabel, saying, [p]Not by [10]might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts. 7 Who art thou, [q]O great mountain? before [o]Zerubbabel [r]thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth [s]the head stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it. 8 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 9 [t]The hands of [o]Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also [u] finish it; [v] and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. 10 [w] For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see [x] the plummet in the hand of [o] Zerubbabel, even [y] these seven, [y] which are the eyes of the LORD; [z] they run to and fro through the whole earth. 11 Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these [m] two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof? 12 And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What be these [m] two olive branches, [1] which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty [2] the golden oil out of themselves? 13 And he answered me and said, [a] Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. 14 Then said he, [b] These are the two sons of oil, that stand by [c] the Lord of the whole earth.

5 1 Then again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying [d] roll. 2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying [d] roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. 3 Then said he unto me, This is [e] the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that [f] stealeth shall be purged out [3] on the one side according to it; and every one that [g] sweareth shall be purged out [3] on the other side according to it. 4 I will cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of [h] him that sweareth falsely by my name: and [i] it shall abide in the midst of his house, and [j] shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 [k] Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, [l] Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. 6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is [m] the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their [4] resemblance in all the land: 7 (and behold, there was lifted up a [5] talent of lead:) and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. 8 And he said, This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast [m] the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. 9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and [n] the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven. 10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah? 11 And he said unto me, To build her an house in the [o] land of Shinar: and when it is [6] prepared, she shall be set there [7] in her own place.

6 1 And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between [8] two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of [p] brass. 2 In the first chariot were [q] red horses; and in the second chariot [r] black horses; 3 and in the third chariot [s] white horses; and in the fourth chariot grisled [9] bay horses. 4 Then I answered and said unto [t] the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord? 5 And the angel answered and said unto me, [u] These are the four [10] winds of heaven, which go forth from [11] [v] standing before [w] the Lord of all the earth. 6 The chariot wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward [x] the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grisled went forth toward [y] the south country. 7 And the [12] bay went forth, and sought to go that they might [z] walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, [z] walk to and fro through the earth. [z] So they walked to and fro through the earth. 8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward [x] the north country have quieted my spirit in [x] the north country.

9 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 10 Take of them of the captivity, even of [a] Heldai, of Tobijah, and of [b] Jedaiah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of [c] Zephaniah, whither they are come from Babylon; 11 yea, take of them silver and gold, and make [13] crowns, [d] and set them upon the head of [e] Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest; 12 and speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold, the man [1]whose name is [f]the [2]Branch; and he shall [3]grow up out of his place, and [g]he shall build the temple of the LORD: 13 [g]even he shall build the temple of the LORD; [h]and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne; [i]and [4]he shall be a priest upon his throne: [j]and the counsel of peace shall be between them both. 14 And the [5][k]crowns shall be to [l]Helem, and to [m]Tobijah, and to [m]Jedaiah, and [6]to Hen [m]the son of Zephaniah, for [n]a memorial in the temple of the LORD. 15 [o]And they that are far off shall come and [p]build in the temple of the LORD, [q]and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. [r]And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

7 1 And it came to pass in [s]the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in [t]Chislev. 2 [7]Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, [u]to intreat the favour of the LORD, 3 and [v]to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to [w]the prophets, saying, Should I weep in [x]the fifth month, [y]separating myself, as I have done these so many years? 4 Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying, 5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in [x]the fifth and in [y]the seventh month, even these [z]seventy years, [a]did ye at all fast [a]unto me, even to me? 6 [b]And when ye eat, and when ye drink, [8]do not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? 7 [c]Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried [d]by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, [e]and the cities thereof round about her, and the [e]South and the [e]lowland were inhabited?

8 And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying, 9 Thus hath the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, [f]Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother: 10 and [g]oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, [h]nor the poor; and [i]let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. 11 But [j]they refused to hearken, [k]and [9]pulled away the shoulder, and [10]stopped their ears, that they should not hear. 12 Yea, [l]they made their hearts as an adamant stone, [m]lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent [m]by his spirit by the hand of [n]the former prophets: [o]therefore came there great wrath from the LORD of hosts. 13 [p]And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; [p]so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts; 14 [q]but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all [r]the nations whom they have not known. [s]Thus the land was desolate after them, [t]that no man passed through nor returned: [u]for they laid the [11]pleasant land desolate.

8 1 And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, 2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [v]I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury. 3 Thus saith the LORD: [w]I am returned unto Zion, and [x]will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: [y]and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; [z]and the mountain of the LORD of hosts The holy mountain. 4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet [a]old men and old women [12]dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand [13]for very age. 5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. 6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: [b]If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, [c]should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, [d]I will save my people [e]from the east country, and from the west country: 8 and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; [f] and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, [g] in truth and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith the LORD of hosts:
[h] Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of [i] the prophets, which were in [j] the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple,
that it might be built. 10 For before those days [k] there was no hire
for man, nor any hire for beast;
neither was there any peace to him
that went out or came in because of the adversary: for I set all men
every one against his neighbour.
11 But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 [l] For there shall be the seed of peace; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, [m] and the heavens shall give their dew; [n] and I will cause
the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. 13 And it shall come to pass that, as [o] ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, [d] so will I save you, and [p] ye shall be a blessing: [q] fear not, but [h] let your hands be strong. 14 For thus saith
the LORD of hosts: [r] As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers
[s] provoked me to wrath, saith
the LORD of hosts, and I [t] repented not; 15 so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem
and to the house of Judah: [q] fear ye not. 16 These are the things that ye shall do; [u] Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour;
[1] [v] execute the judgement of [w] truth and peace in your gates:
17 and [x] let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour;
and [y] love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith
the LORD.

18 And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying, 19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast
of the [z] fourth month, and the fast of the [a] fifth, and the fast of the [b] seventh, and the fast of the [c] tenth,
shall be to the house of Judah [d] joy
and gladness, and cheerful feasts;
therefore love [e] truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of [2] many cities: 21 and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, [f] Let us go speedily

will go also. 22 Yea, [f] many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and [g] to intreat the favour of the LORD. 23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that [h] ten men shall

of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying,

unto thee: he is just, and [1]having [2]salvation; [g]lowly, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass. 10 And [h]I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and [i]the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and [j]he shall speak peace unto the nations: and [k]his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from [l]the River to the ends of the earth. 11 As for thee also, because of [m]the blood of thy covenant [n]I have sent forth thy prisoners out of [o]the pit wherein is no water. 12 [3]Turn you to the strong hold, ye [p]prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that [q]I will render double unto thee. 13 For [r]I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, [s]O [4]Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man. 14 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and [t]his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and [u]the Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with [v]whirlwinds [w]of the south. 15 The LORD of hosts [x]shall defend them; and [y]they shall devour, [z]and shall tread down the sling stones; and [a]they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, [b]like the corners of the altar. 16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as [c]the flock of his people: for they shall be [d]as the stones of a crown, [5]lifted on high over his land. 17 [e]For how great is [6]his [7]goodness, and how great is [6]his beauty! [f]corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maids.

10 1 Ask ye [g]of the LORD rain in the time of [h]the latter rain, even of the LORD [i]that maketh lightnings; and [j]he shall give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field. 2 For [k]the teraphim [l]have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and [8][m]they have told false dreams, they comfort in vain: therefore [n]they go their way like sheep, they are afflicted, because there is no shepherd. 3 [o]Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and [p]I will punish the he-goats: for [q]the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and shall make them as his goodly horse in the battle. 4 From him shall come forth [r]the corner stone, from him [s]the nail, from him the battle bow, from him every [9][t]exactor together. 5 And they shall be as mighty men, [u]treading down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them: [v]and the riders on horses shall be confounded. 6 And [w]I will strengthen the house of Judah, and [x]I will save the house of Joseph, and [y]I will [10]bring them again, [z]for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for [a]I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them. 7 And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and [b]their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their heart shall be glad in the LORD. 8 [c]I will hiss for them, and [d]gather them; for I have redeemed them: and [e]they shall increase as they have increased. 9 [11][f]And I will sow them among the peoples; and [g]they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children, and shall return. 10 [h]I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and [i]I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and [j]place shall not be found for them. 11 And [k]he shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall smite [12]the waves in the sea, [l]and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and [m]the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away. 12 And [n]I will strengthen them in the LORD; and [o]they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

11 1 Open thy doors, [p]O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars. 2 Howl, O fir tree, for the cedar is fallen, because the [13]goodly ones are spoiled: howl, [p]O ye oaks of Bashan, for the [14]strong forest is come down. 3 A voice of [q]the howling of [q]the shepherds! for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of [r]young lions! pride of Jordan is spoiled. 4 Thus said the LORD my God: [t]Feed the flock of slaughter; 5 [u]whose [1]possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD, for [v]I am rich: and [2]their own shepherds pity them not. 6 For [w]I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. 7 [x]So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily [3][y]the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called [4][z]Beauty, and the other I called [5][a]Bands; [x]and I fed the flock. 8 And [b]I cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. 9 Then said I, I will not feed you: [c]that that dieth, let it die; and [6]that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. 10 And I took [d]my staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. 11 And it was broken in that day: and [7]thus [3][y]the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. 12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire [e]thirty pieces of silver. 13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it [8]unto the potter, [f]the goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the [e]thirty pieces of silver, and cast them [8]unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. 14 Then I cut asunder [g]mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of [h]a foolish shepherd. 16 For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, [i]which shall not [9]visit those that be [10]cut off, neither shall seek [11]those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which [12]is sound, but [j]he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear their hoofs in pieces. 17 [k]Woe to the worthless shepherd [l]that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and [m]upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

1 [n]The [13]burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel. Thus saith the LORD, [o]which stretcheth forth the heavens, and [p]layeth the foundation of the earth, and [o]formeth the spirit of man within him: 2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem [q]a cup of reeling unto [r]all the peoples round about, and [14][s]upon Judah also [15]shall it be in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 And it shall come to pass [t]in that day, that I will make Jerusalem [u]a burdensome stone for all the peoples; [v]all that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; and [r]all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. 4 [t]In that day, saith the LORD, [w]I will smite every horse [x]with astonishment, and his rider [x]with madness: and [y]I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples [x]with blindness. 5 And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God. 6 [t]In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah [z]like a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and [a]they shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and [b]Jerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, even in Jerusalem. 7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8 [t]In that day [c]shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and [d]he [16]that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, [e]as the angel of the LORD before them. 9 And it shall come to pass [t]in that day, that [f]I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. 10 And [g]I will pour upon

13 1 [q] In that day there shall be [r] a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for uncleanness. 2 And it shall come to pass [q] in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that [s] I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and [t] they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause [u] the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land. 3 And it shall come to pass that, when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, [v] Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth. 4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [w] the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he prophesieth; neither shall they wear [x] a hairy mantle to deceive: 5 but he shall say, [y] I am no prophet, I am a tiller of the ground; for I have been made a bondman from my youth. 6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds between thine [2] arms? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my [3] friends.

7 Awake, O sword, against [z] my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: [a] smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered; and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones. 8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; [b] but the third shall be left therein. 9 And [c] I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: [d] they shall call on my name, and [e] I will hear them: [f] I will say, It is my people; and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

14 1 Behold, [g] a day of the LORD cometh, when thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee. 2 For [h] I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle; and [i] the city shall be taken, [j] and the houses rifled, [k] and the women ravished: and [l] half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city. 3 [m] Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle. 4 And his feet shall stand [n] in that day [o] upon [p] the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and [p] the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, [q] and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south. 5 And [4] ye shall flee [5] by the valley of [6] my mountains; for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azel: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before [r] the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and [s] the LORD my God shall come, and all the holy ones with thee. 6 And it shall come to pass [n] in that day, [t] that [7] the light shall not be [8] with brightness and [t] with gloom: 7 [u] but it shall be one day [v] which is known unto the LORD; not day, and not night: but it shall come to pass, [w] that [u] at evening time there shall be light. 8 And it shall come to pass [n] in that day, that [x] living waters shall go out from Jerusalem; half of them toward [y] the eastern sea, and half of them toward [y] the western sea:

1 1 [a]THE [1]burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by [2][b]Malachi.
2 [c]I have loved you, saith the LORD. [d]Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? [3]Was not Esau [e]Jacob's brother? saith the LORD:
yet [f]I loved Jacob; 3 but Esau I hated, and [g]made his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage
to the jackals of the wilderness.
4 [4]Whereas Edom saith, We are [5]beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down: and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. 5 And [h]your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD [6]be magnified [7]beyond the border of Israel.
6 [i]A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be [j]a father, where is mine honour? and if I be [k]a master, where is my fear?
saith the LORD of hosts unto you,
[l]O priests, that despise my name.
[d]And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? 7 [m]Ye offer polluted [n]bread upon mine altar.
[d]And ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, [o]The table of the LORD is contemptible.
8 [p]And when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil!
Present it now unto thy governor;
will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts. 9 And now, I pray
you, [q]intreat the favour of God,
that he may be gracious unto us:
this hath been [8]by your means:
[r]will he [9]accept any of your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.
10 [s]Oh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, [t]neither will I accept an offering at your hand. 11 For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same [u]my name [10][v]is great among the Gentiles; and in every place [11]incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for [u]my name [10][v]is great among the Gentiles, saith the LORD of hosts.
12 But ye profane it, in that ye say,
[w]The table of the LORD is polluted,
and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. 13 Ye say also, Behold, [x]what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and [y]ye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick;
thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. 14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock [z]a male, and [a]voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing:
for [b]I am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is [c]terrible among the Gentiles.

2 1 And now, [d]O ye priests,
[e]this commandment is for you.
2 [f]If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send [g]the curse upon you, and I will curse [h]your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. 3 Behold, [i]I will rebuke [12]the seed for your sake, and [j]will spread dung upon your faces, even [k]the dung of your [13]sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away [14]with it. 4 And ye shall know that I have sent [l]this commandment unto you, that [m]my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.
5 My covenant was with him of life and [n]peace; and I gave them to him [o]that he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. 6 [p]The law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked
with me in peace and uprightness, and did [q]turn many away from iniquity. 7 For [r]the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is [s]the messenger of the LORD of hosts. 8 But ye are turned aside out of the way; [t]ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted [u]the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. 9 Therefore [v]have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but [w]have had respect of persons in the law.

10 Have we not all [x]one father? hath not [y]one God created us? why do we [z]deal treacherously every man against his brother, profaning the covenant of our fathers? 11 Judah [z]hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for [a]Judah hath profaned the [1]holiness of the LORD which he loveth, and hath married the daughter of a strange god. 12 The LORD will cut off to the man that doeth this him that waketh and him that answereth, out of the tents of Jacob, [b]and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts. 13 And this [2]again ye do: [c]ye cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with sighing, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, neither receiveth it with good will at your hand. 14 [d]Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD [e]hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, [f]against whom [z]thou hast dealt treacherously, though she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant. 15 [3]And [g]did he not make one, although he had the residue of the spirit? And wherefore one? He sought [h]a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none [z]deal treacherously against the wife of his youth. 16 For [4][i]I hate putting away, saith the LORD, the God of Israel, and him that covereth his garment with violence, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye [z]deal not treacherously.

17 [j]Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. [d]Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that [k]ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or [l]where is the God of judgement?

3 1 [m]Behold, I send [n]my messenger, and [o]he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, [p]whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple; [5]and [q]the [6]messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in, behold, he cometh, saith the LORD of hosts. 2 But [r]who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for [s]he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap: 3 and he shall sit [t]as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver; and they shall offer unto the LORD [u]offerings in righteousness. 4 [v]Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ancient years. 5 And I will come near to you to judgement; and I will be [w]a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers; and against those [x]that oppress the hireling in his wages, [y]the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts. 6 For [z]I the LORD change not; [a]therefore ye, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.

7 [b]From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. [c]Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. [d]But ye say, Wherein shall we return? 8 Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. [d]But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [e]In tithes and [7]offerings. 9 [f]Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. 10 [g]Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and [h]prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you [i]the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. 11 And I will rebuke [j]the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. 12 And [k]all nations shall call you

APPENDIX.

The American Old Testament Revision Company, while recognizing the cordial acceptance given to many of their suggestions, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as of sufficient importance to be appended to the Revision in accordance with the original agreement.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

I. Substitute the Divine name "Jehovah" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for "the LORD" and "GOD" and omit the marg. to "the LORD" at Gen. ii. 4, and "Heb. Jehovah" from the marg. at Ex. iii. 15; also substitute "Jehovah" for "the LORD" or "Jah" wherever the latter occurs in the Hebrew text, and retain or insert "Heb. Jah" in the marg.; where "Jehovah" immediately follows, viz. in Is. xii. 2, xxvi. 4, read "Jehovah, even Jehovah" and omit "Jehovah" from the marg.

II. Substitute "Sheol" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for the renderings "the grave" "the pit" and "hell" and omit these renderings from the marg.

III. Substitute "a" for "an", "my" for "mine" and "thy" for "thine" wherever followed by "h" aspirated.

IV. Substitute "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons.

V. Substitute "are" for "be" in the present indicative, and omit "for" before infinitives.

VI. Omit from the margin all renderings from the LXX., Vulgate, and other ancient Versions or "authorities"

VII. The following substitutions are preferred, with the necessary inflectional variations:

"adder" for "basilisk"

"annul" for "disannul"

"ascent" for "going up" when used as a noun.

"astonished" for "astonied"

"a year old" for "of the first year"

"base man" for "man of Belial" or "son of B."; "base woman" for "daughter of Belial"; "base men" for "men of Belial" "sons of B." or "children of B."

"before" for "afore"; also for "or ever" except in Ps. xc. 2; Eccl. xii. 1, 2, 6.

"blow the trumpet" for "blow with (or, "blow up") the trumpet"

"boil" "boiled" for "seethe" "sod" "sodden"

"bonds" for "bands" in Job xxxix. 5, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.

"capital" for "chapiter"

"chiefs" for "dukes"

"contend" for "plead" in Judg. vi. 31 (three times) and so wherever the latter rendering represents the same Hebrew verb unless followed by "cause", except in Is. i. 17. But substitute "enter into judgment" for "plead" in Jer. xxv. 31; Ezek. xvii. 20; xx. 35, 36 (twice).

"courses" for "rows" of timber or stone.

"devise" for "imagine" in Ps. x. 2; xxi. 11; cxl. 2; Hos. vii. 15; Nah. i. 9, 11; Zech. vii. 10; viii. 17.

"diminish" for "minish"

"encamp" for "camp"; also, for "pitch" when used intransitively.

"far be it from me" ("thee" etc.) for "God forbid", except in 1 Sam. xiv. 45; xx. 2, where substitute "Far from it"

"find favour" for "find grace"

"food" for "meat"

"fortified" for "fenced" and "defenced"

"frighten" for "fray"

"grain" for "corn"

"harlot" for "whore" and "whorish woman"; "play the harlot" for "go a whoring" and "commit whoredom"

“ oil ” for “ ointment ”

“ olive oil ” for “ oil olive ”

“ perfumer ” for “ apothecary ” and “ confectionary ”

“ perverse ” (“ perverseness ”) for “ froward ” (“ frowardness ”) except in 2 Sam. xxii. 27 ; Job v. 13 ; Ps xviii. 26 ; “ wayward ” for “ perverse ” in Prov. ii. 15 ; for “ froward ” in iv. 24 ; xvii. 20, and “ cunning ” for “ froward ” in Job v. 13.

“ put to shame ” for “ ashamed ”

“ scoffer ” for “ scorner ” and “ scoffing ” for “ scornful ” and “ scorning ”

“ sitteth above ” (the cherubim) for “ sitteth upon ” with marg. Or, is enthroned

“ skill ” for “ cunning ” (noun) and “ skilful ” for “ cunning ” (adj.) when either relates to workman or work “ stench ” for “ stink ” , when used as a noun.

“ trespass offering ” for “ guilt offering ”

“ wail ” for “ howl ” where it is used of persons.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

The English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539–41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:—'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:—'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tyndale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:—'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:—'The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.' This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should 'be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,' which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:—'No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.' Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:—'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' The Translators had also the liberty, in 'any place of special obscurity,' to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month, with the exception of August and September, in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek Text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek Text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either reaffirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are, — Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorized Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no ess necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatical peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated,—the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament,—all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870–73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing: though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version: and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked: but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that his favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in his name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

S. MATTHEW.

I

1 [1][a] THE book of the [2] generation of Jesus Christ, [b] the son of David, [c] the son of Abraham.

2 [d] Abraham begat Isaac; and [e] Isaac begat Jacob; and [f] Jacob begat Judah and his brethren; 3 and [g] Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar; and Perez begat Hezron; and Hezron begat [3] Ram; 4 and [3] Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon begat Salmon; 5 and Salmon begat Boaz of [h] Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; 6 and [i] Jesse begat David the king.

And [j] David begat Solomon of [k] her that had been the wife of Uriah; 7 and [l] Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat [4] Asa; 8 and [4] Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; [m] and Joram begat Uzziah; 9 and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz begat Hezekiah; 10 and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat [5] Amon; and [5] Amon begat Josiah; 11 and [n] Josiah begat [o] Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the [6] carrying away to Babylon.

12 And after the [6] carrying away to Babylon, [p] Jechoniah begat [7][q] Shealtiel; and [7][r] Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; 13 and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; 14 and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; 15 and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; 16 and Jacob begat [s] Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the [6] carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the [6] carrying away to Babylon unto [t] the Christ fourteen generations.

s Luke 3. 23.

18 Now the [8] birth [9] of [u] Jesus Christ was on this wise: [v] When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found with child [w] of the [10] Holy Ghost. 19 And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing [x] to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. 20 But when he thought on these things, behold, [y] an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is [11] conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. 21 And she shall bring forth a son; and [z] thou shalt call his name JESUS; [a] for it is he that shall save his people from their sins. 22 [b] Now all this is come to pass, [c] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

23 [d] Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son,
And they shall call his name [12][e] Immanuel;

which is, being interpreted, God [f] with us. 24 And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his wife; 25 and knew her not till she had brought forth a son: and [g] he called his name JESUS.

scribes of the people, he inquired of them where [p] the Christ should be born. 5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judæa: for thus it is written [1] by the prophet,

6 [q] And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,
Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:
For out of thee shall come forth a governor,
Which shall be [r] shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the [2] wise men, and learned of them carefully [3] what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him. 9 And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. 11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures [s] they offered unto him gifts, [t] gold and [u] frankincense and [v] myrrh. 12 And [w] being warned of God [x] in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 Now when they were departed, behold, [y] an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt; 15 and was there until the death of Herod: [z] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, [a] Out of Egypt did I call my son. 16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the [2] wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the [2] wise men. 17 [b] Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [1] by Jeremiah the prophet, saying,

18 [c] A voice was heard in Ramah,
Weeping and great mourning,
Rachel weeping for her children;
And she would not be comforted,
because they [d] are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for [e] they are dead that sought the young child's life. 21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judæa in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and [f] being warned of God in a dream, he withdrew into the parts of Galilee, 23 and came and dwelt in a city called [g] Nazareth: [h] that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [1] by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

3 1 And [i] in those days cometh [j] John the Baptist, preaching in [k] the wilderness of Judæa, 2 saying, [l] Repent ye; for [m] the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 3 For this is he that was spoken of [1] by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

[n] The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
[o] Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had [p] his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was [q] locusts and [r] wild honey. 5 Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the region round about Jordan; 6 and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, [s] confessing their sins. 7 But when he saw many of [t] the Pharisees and [u] Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, [v] Ye offspring of [w] vipers, who warned you to flee from [x] the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruit [y] worthy of [4] repentance: 9 and think not to say within yourselves,

[3] Or, the time of the star that appeared

[4] Or, your repentance

[z]We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of [a]these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. 10 And even now is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: [b]every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 11 [c]I indeed baptize you [1]with water [d]unto repentance: but [e]he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not [2]worthy to bear: he shall baptize you [1][f]with the Holy Ghost and with [g]fire: 12 whose [h]fan is in his hand, and he will throughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and he will [i]gather his wheat into the garner, [j]but the chaff he will burn up with [k]unquenchable fire.

13 [l]Then cometh Jesus [m]from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. 14 But [n]John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? 15 But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer [3]it now: for thus it becometh [o]us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffereth him. 16 And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, [p]the heavens were opened [4]unto him, and he [q]saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him; 17 and lo, [r]a voice out of the heavens, saying, [5][s]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

4 1 [t]Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness [u]to be tempted of the devil. 2 And when he had fasted [v]forty days and forty nights, he afterward [w]hungered. 3 And [x]the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art [y]the Son of God, command that [z]these stones become [6]bread. 4 But he answered and said, [a]It is written, [b]Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. 5 [c]Then the devil taketh him into [d]the holy city; and he set him on the [7]pinnacle of the temple, 6 and saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,

And on their hands they shall bear thee up,
Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, Again [f]it is written, [g]Thou shalt not [h]tempt the Lord thy God. 8 [i]Again, the devil taketh him unto an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; 9 and he said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. 10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, [j]Satan: for [k]it is written, [l]Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and [m]him only shalt thou serve. 11 Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, [n]angels came and ministered unto him.

12 Now when he heard that [o]John was delivered up, [p]he withdrew into Galilee; 13 and leaving [q]Nazareth, he came and dwelt in [r]Capernaum, which is by [s]the sea, in the borders of [t]Zebulun and Naphtali: 14 [u]that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [8]by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

15 [v]The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, [9]Toward the sea, beyond Jordan,
[w]Galilee of the [10]Gentiles,
16 [x]The people which sat in darkness
Saw a great light,
And to them which sat in the region and [y]shadow of death,
To them did light spring up.

17 [z]From that time [a]began Jesus to preach, and to say, [b]Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 [c]And walking by [d]the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you [e]fishers of men. 20 And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. 21 And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, [11]James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 [f]And [1]Jesus went about in all Galilee, [g]teaching in their synagogues, and [h]preaching the [2]gospel of the kingdom, and [i]healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 And the report of him went forth into all [j]Syria: and [i]they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and [k]torments, [3][l]possessed with devils, and [m]epileptic, and [n]palsied; and he healed them. 25 [o]And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and [p]Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from beyond Jordan.

5 1 And seeing the multitudes, [q]he went up into the mountain: and when he had [r]sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and [s]he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 [t]Blessed are [u]the poor [v]in spirit: for [w]theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 [4]Blessed are [x]they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are [y]the [v]meek: for they [y]shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and [z]thirst [a]after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are [b]the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are [c]the pure in heart: for [d]they shall see God.

9 Blessed are [e]the peacemakers: for [f]they shall be called [g]sons of God.

10 [h]Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for [w]theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11 [i]Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, [j]for my sake. 12 [k]Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for [l]so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

17 [r]Think not that I came to destroy [s]the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but [t]to fulfil. 18 For verily I say unto you, [u]Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished. 19 [v]Whosoever therefore shall break [w]one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least [x]in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great [x]in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed [y]the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye [z]shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 [a]Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, [b]Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of [c]the judgement: 22 but I say unto you, that [d]every one who is angry with his brother [5]shall be in danger of [c]the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, [6]Raca, shall be in danger of [e]the council; and whosoever shall say, [7][f]Thou fool, shall be in danger [8]of [g]the [9]hell of fire. 23 [h]If therefore [i]thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee, 24 leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. 25 [j]Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge [10]deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. 26 Verily I say unto thee, [k]Thou shalt by no means come out thence,

till thou have paid the last farthing.

27 [l] Ye have heard that it was said, [m] Thou shalt not commit adultery: 28 but I say unto you, that [n] every one that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart. 29 [o] And if thy right eye [p] causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body be cast into [1] [q] hell. 30 [o] And if thy right hand [p] causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy whole body go into [1] [q] hell. 31 [l] It was said also, [r] Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: 32 [s] but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: and [t] whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, [l] ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, [u] Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but [v] shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths: 34 but I say unto you, [w] Swear not at all; neither by the heaven, for [x] it is the throne of God; 35 nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor [2] by Jerusalem, for it is [y] the city of the great King. 36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, for thou canst not make one hair white or black. 37 [3] But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: and [z] whatsoever is more than these is of [4] [a] the evil one.

38 [l] Ye have heard that it was said, [b] An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: 39 but I say unto you, [c] Resist not [5] him that is evil: but [d] whosoever [e] smiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. 40 And [c] if any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. 41 And whosoever shall [6] [f] compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. 42 [g] Give to him that asketh thee, and [h] from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 [i] Ye have heard that it was said, [j] Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and [k] hate thine enemy: 44 but I say unto you, [l] Love your enemies, and [m] pray for them that persecute you; 45 [n] that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and [o] sendeth rain on the just and the unjust. 46 [p] For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the [7] publicans the same? 47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even [q] the Gentiles the same? 48 [r] Ye therefore shall be [s] perfect, [t] as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 1 Take heed that ye [u] do not your righteousness before men, [v] to be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

2 [w] When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may [x] have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have [y] received their reward. 3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: 4 that thine alms may be in secret: [z] and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

5 And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love [a] to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. [b] Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 6 But thou, when thou prayest, [c] enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, [d] and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee. 7 And in praying use not vain repetitions, as [e] the Gentiles do: for [f] they think that they shall be heard [g] for their much speaking. 8 Be not therefore like unto them: [h] for [8] your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. 9 [i] After this manner therefore pray ye: [j] Our Father which art in heaven, [k] Hallowed be [l] thy name. 10 [m] Thy kingdom come. [n] Thy will be done, [o] as in heaven, so on earth. 11 [p] Give us [q] this day [9] our daily bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. 13 And [r]bring us not into temptation, but [s]deliver us from [1][t]the evil one.[2][u] 14 [v]For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 [w]But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

[1] Gr. Gehenna. [2] Or, toward [3] Some ancient authorities read But your speech shall be. [4] Or, evil: as in ver. 39; 6. 13. [5] Or, evil [6] Gr. impress. [7] That is, collectors or renters of Roman taxes: and so elsewhere. [8] Some ancient authorities read God your Father. [9] Gr. our bread for the coming day.

16 Moreover [x]when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. [y]Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 17 But thou, when thou fastest, [z]anoint thy head, and wash thy face; 18 that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: [a]and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

19 [b]Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where [c]moth and rust doth consume, and where thieves [3][d]break through and steal: 20 [b]but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not [3]break through nor steal: 21 for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. 22 [e]The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. 23 [e]But if [f]thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness! 24 [g]No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and [h]mammon. 25 [i]Therefore I say unto you, [j]Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 26 [k]Behold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. [l]Are not ye of much more value than they? 27 And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his [4][m]stature? 28 And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: 29 yet I say unto you, that [n]even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, [o]O ye of little faith? 31 Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 For after all these things do [p]the Gentiles seek; [q]for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But [r]seek ye first [s]his kingdom, and his righteousness; [t]and all these things shall be added unto you. 34 [u]Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

7 1 [v]Judge not, that ye be not judged. 2 [w]For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and [x]with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. 3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but [y]considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? 5 Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 [z]Give not that which is holy unto [a]the dogs, neither cast your [b]pearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 [c]Ask, [d]and it shall be given you; [e]seek, and ye shall find; [f]knock, and it shall be opened unto you: 8 for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for [g]a loaf, will give him [g]a stone; 10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? 11 If ye then, [h]being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall [d]your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him? 12 [i] All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is [j] the law and the prophets.

13 [k] Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide [1] is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. 14 [2] For narrow is the gate, and straitened [l] the way, that leadeth unto life, and [m] few be they that find it.

1 And when he was come down from the mountain, [h] great multitudes followed him. 2 [i] And behold, there came to him a leper and [j] worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 3 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus saith unto him, [k] See thou tell no man; but go thy way, [l] shew thyself to the priest, and [m] offer the gift that Moses commanded, [n] for a testimony unto them.

5 And [o] when he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, 6 and saying, Lord, my [5] servant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. 7 And he saith unto him, I will come and heal him. 8 And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not [6] worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but [p] only say [7] the word, and my [5] servant shall be healed. 9 For I also am a man [8] under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my [9] servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 10 And when Jesus heard it, [q] he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, [10] I have not found so great [r] faith, no, not in Israel. 11 And I say unto you, that [s] many shall come from the east and the west, and shall [11] sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12 [t] but the sons of the kingdom [u] shall be cast forth into the outer darkness: [v] there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; [w] as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. wife's mother lying sick of a fever. 15 And he [a]touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. 16 And when even was come, they brought unto him many [1][b]possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits [c]with a word, and healed all that were sick: 17 [d]that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [2]by Isaiah the prophet, saying, [e]Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now [f]when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, [g]he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. 19 [h]And there came [3]a scribe, and said unto him, [4]Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have [5][i]nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 21 And another of the disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 22 But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave [j]the dead to bury their own dead.

23 [k]And when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but [l]he was asleep. 25 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, [m]Save, Lord; we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye [n]fearful, [o]O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and [p]rebuked the winds and the sea; and [q]there was a great calm. 27 And the men [r]marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even [s]the winds and the sea obey him?

28 [t]And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two [1][u]possessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way. 29 And behold, they [v]cried out, saying, [w]What have we to do with thee, [x]thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us [y]before the time? 30 Now there was afar off from them a herd of many swine feeding. 31 And the [6]devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were [1][z]possessed with devils. 34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, [a]they besought him that he would depart from their borders.

9 1 And he entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into [b]his own city. 2 [c]And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus [d]seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, [7]Son, [e]be of good cheer; [f]thy sins are forgiven. 3 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, [g]This man blasphemeth. 4 And Jesus [8][h]knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? 5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk? 6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath [9]power on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 7 And he arose, and departed to his house. 8 But when the multitudes saw it, [i]they were afraid, and [i]glorified God, which had [j]given such [9]power unto men.

9 [k]And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called [l]Matthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to pass, as he [10]sat at meat in the house, behold, many [m]publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. 11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, [n]Why eateth your [4]Master with [m]the publicans and sinners? 12 But when he heard it, he said, They that are [11]whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. 13 But go ye and learn [o]what this meaneth, [p]I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for [q]I came not to call the righteous, [r]but sinners.

ciples of John, saying, [t]Why do we and [u]the Pharisees fast [1]oft, but thy disciples fast not? 15 And Jesus said unto them, [v]Can the sons of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but [w]the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and [x]then will they fast. 16 And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. 17 Neither do men put new wine into old [2][y]wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

18 [z]While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came [3]a ruler, and [a]worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. 19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples. 20 And behold, a woman, [b]who had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched [c]the border of his garment: 21 for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be [4]made whole. 22 But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, [d]be of good cheer; thy faith hath [5]made thee whole. [e]And the woman was [4]made whole from that hour. 23 And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw [f]the flute-players, and the crowd making a tumult, 24 he said, Give place: for [g]the damsel is not dead, but [h]sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. 25 But [i]when the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and [j]took her by the hand; and the damsel arose. 26 And [6]the fame hereof went forth into all that land.

27 [k]And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, [l]thou son of David. 28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. 29 [m]Then touched he their eyes, saying, [n]According to your faith be it done unto you. 30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus [7]strictly charged them, saying, [o]See that no man know it. 31 [p]But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

32 And as they went forth, behold, [q]there was brought to him a dumb man [r]possessed with a [8]devil. 33 And when the [8]devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes [s]marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. 34 But the Pharisees said, [9]By the prince of the [10]devils casteth he out [10]devils.

35 [t]And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. 36 But [u]when he saw the multitudes, [v]he was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, [w]as sheep not having a shepherd. 37 [x]Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. 38 [y]Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he [z]send forth labourers into his harvest.

10 1 [a]And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

2 [b]Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, [c]who is called Peter, and [d]Andrew his brother; [d]James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother; 3 Philip, and Bartholomew; Thomas, and [e]Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus; 4 Simon the [11]Cananæan, and Judas Iscariot, who also [12]betrayed him. 5 [a]These twelve Jesus sent forth, and charged them, saying,

Go not into any way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of [f]the Samaritans: 6 [g]but go rather to [h]the lost sheep of [i]the house of Israel. 7 And as ye go, preach, saying, [j]The kingdom of heaven is at hand. 8 [k]Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out [10]devils: [l]freely ye received, freely give. 9 [m]Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your [13]purses; 10 no wallet for your journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff:

for [n]the labourer is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatsoever city or village ye shall enter, search out who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go forth. 12 And as ye enter into the house, [o]salute it. 13 And if the house be [p]worthy, let [o]your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let [o]your peace [q]return to you. 14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, as ye go forth out of that house or that city, [r]shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Verily I say unto you, [s]It shall be more tolerable for [t]the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, than for that city.

16 [u]Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore [v]wise as serpents, and [1][w]harmless as doves. 17 But beware of men: for [x]they will deliver you up to [y]councils, and [z]in their synagogues they will scourge you; 18 [x]yea and before governors and kings shall ye be brought for my sake, [a]for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles. 19 [b]But [x]when they deliver you up, [c]be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for [d]it shall be given you in that hour what ye shall speak. 20 [e]For it is not ye that speak, but [f]the Spirit of your Father that speaketh in you. 21 [g]And brother shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child: and children shall rise up against parents, and [2]cause them to be put to death. 22 [h]And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: [i]but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. 23 But when they [j]persecute you in this city, [k]flee into the next: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone through the cities of Israel, [l]till the Son of man be come.

34 [z]Think not that I came to [9]send peace on the earth: [a]I came not to [9]send peace, but a sword! 35 [z]For I came [b]to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law: 36 [c]and a man's foes shall be they of his own household. 37 [d]He that loveth father or mother more than me is not [e]worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me. 38 And [f]he that doth not take his cross and [g]follow after me, is not worthy of me. 39 [h]He that [10]findeth his [11]life shall lose it; and he that [12]loseth his [11]life for my sake shall find it.

40 [i]He that receiveth you receiveth me, and [j]he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. 41 [k]He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And [l]whosoever shall give to drink unto one of [m]these little ones a cup of cold water only, in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

2 [n]Now when John heard [o]in the prison the works of [p]the Christ, he sent by [q]his disciples, and said unto him, 3 Art thou [r]he that cometh, or [s]look we for another? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things which ye do hear and see: 5 [t]the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and [u]the poor have [1]good tidings preached to them. 6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall [v]find none occasion of stumbling in me. 7 And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out [w]into the wilderness to behold? [x]a reed shaken with the wind? 8 But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in kings' houses. 9 [2]But wherefore went ye out? to see [y]a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 10 This is he, of whom it is written,

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is [3]but little in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. 12 And [a]from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by force. 13 [a]For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. 14 And if ye are willing to receive [4]it, this is [b]Elijah, which is to come. 15 [c]He that hath ears [5]to hear, let him hear. 16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the marketplaces, which call unto their fellows, 17 and say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not [6]mourn. 18 For John came [d]neither eating [e]nor drinking, and they say, He hath a [7]devil. 19 The Son of man came [f]eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, [g]a friend of [h]publicans and sinners! And [i]wisdom [8]is justified by her [9]works.

20 [j]Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his [10]mighty works were done, because they repented not. 21 [k]Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the [10]mighty works had been done in [l]Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. 22 [m]Howbeit I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for [k]Tyre and Sidon in [n]the day of judgement, than for you. 23 And thou, Capernaum, [o]shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt [11]go down unto [p]Hades: for if the [10]mighty works had been done in Sodom which were done in thee, it would have remained until this day. 24 [m]Howbeit I say unto you, that [q]it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in [n]the day of judgement, than for thee.

25 [r]At that season Jesus answered and said, I [12]thank thee, O Father, [s]Lord of heaven and earth, that [t]thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst [u]reveal them unto babes: 26 yea, Father, [13]for so [v]it was well-pleasing in thy sight. 27 [w]All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth the Son, [x]save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he [y]to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. 28 [z]Come unto [a]me, all ye that labour and are [b]heavy laden, and I will give you rest. 29 Take my [c]yoke upon you, and [d]learn of me; for I am [e]meek and lowly in heart: and [f]ye shall find rest unto your souls. 30 For [g]my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

12 1 At that season [h]Jesus went on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples were an hungred, and [i]began to pluck ears of corn, and to eat. 2 But the Pharisees, when they saw it, said unto him, [j]Behold, thy disciples do [k]that which it is not lawful to do upon the sabbath. 3 But he said unto them, [l]Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him; 4 how he entered into the house of God, and [1]did eat [m]the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests? 5 Or have ye not read [n]in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? 6 But I say unto you, [o]that [2]one greater than the temple is here. 7 But if ye had known [p]what this meaneth, [q]I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. 8 For [r]the Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

9 And he departed thence, and [s]went into their synagogue: 10 and behold, a man having a withered hand. And they asked him, saying, [t]Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? [u]that they might accuse him. 11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be of you, that shall have one sheep, and [v]if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? 12 [w]How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore [x]it is lawful to do good on the sabbath day. 13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And [y]he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, as the other. 14 But the Pharisees went out, and [z]took counsel against him, how they might destroy him. 15 And Jesus perceiving it [a]withdrew from thence: and [b]many followed him; and he healed them all, 16 and [c]charged them that they should not make him known: 17 [d]that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [3]by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

18 [e]Behold, my [f]servant whom I have chosen;
[g]My beloved in whom my soul is well pleased:
[h]I will put my Spirit upon him,
And he shall declare judgement to the Gentiles.
19 He shall not strive, nor cry aloud;
Neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets.
20 A bruised reed shall he not break,
And smoking flax shall he not quench,
Till he send forth judgement unto victory.
21 [i]And in his name shall the Gentiles hope.

22 [j]Then was brought unto him [4]one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the dumb man spake and saw. 23 [k]And all the multitudes were amazed, and said, [k]Is this the son of David? 24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man doth not cast out [5]devils, [l]but [6]by Beelzebub the prince of the [5]devils. 25 And [m]knowing their thoughts [n]he said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: 26 and if Satan casteth out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand? 27 And if I [6]by Beelzebub cast out [5]devils, [6][o]by whom do [p]your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. 28 But if I [6][q]by the Spirit of God cast out [5]devils, then is [r]the kingdom of God come upon you. 29 Or [s]how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then [t]he will spoil his house. 30 [u]He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 31 [v]Therefore I say unto you, Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven [7]unto men; but [w]the blasphemy against the Spirit shall not be forgiven. 32 And whosoever shall speak a word [x]against the Son of man, [y]it shall be forgiven him; but [w]whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in [z]this [8]world, nor in that which is to come. 33 [a]Either make the tree good, and its fruit good; or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt: [b]for the tree is known by its fruit. 34 [c]Ye offspring of vipers, how can ye, [d]being evil, speak good things? dance of the heart the mouth speaketh. 35 [e]The good man out of his good treasure bringeth forth good things: and the evil man out of his evil treasure bringeth forth evil things. 36 And I say unto you, that [f]every idle word that men shall speak, [g]they shall give account thereof [h]in the day of judgement. 37 For [i]by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, [1]Master, [j]we would see a sign from thee. 39 But he answered and said unto them, [k]An evil and [l]adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah the prophet: 40 for [m]as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the [2]whale; [n]so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. 41 [o]The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and [p]shall condemn it: for [q]they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, [3][r]a greater than Jonah is here. 42 [s]The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, [3][r]a greater than Solomon is here. 43 But [t]the unclean spirit, when [4]he is gone out of the man, passeth through [u]waterless places, seeking rest, and findeth it not. 44 Then [4]he saith, I will return into my house whence I came out; and when [4]he is come, [4]he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. 45 Then goeth [4]he, and taketh with [5]himself seven other spirits more evil than [5]himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and [v]the last state of that man becometh worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this [w]evil generation.

46 While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, [x]his mother and his [y]brethren stood without, seeking to speak to him. 47 [6]And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee. 48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? 49 And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 50 For [z]whosoever shall [a]do the will of my Father which is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

13 1 On that day went Jesus out of the house, [b]and sat by the sea side. 2 And there were gathered unto him great multitudes, [c]so that he entered into a boat, and sat; and all the multitude stood on the beach. 3 And [d]he spake to them many things in parables, saying, Behold, [e]the sower went forth to sow; 4 and as he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them: 5 and others fell upon the rocky places, where they had not much earth: and straightway they sprang up, because they had no deepness of earth: 6 and [f]when the sun was risen, they were scorched; and because they had no root, [g]they withered away. 7 And others fell upon [h]the thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked them: 8 and others fell upon the good ground, and yielded fruit, some [i]a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty. 9 [j]He that hath ears[7], let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? 11 And he answered and said unto them, [k]Unto you it is given [l]to know [m]the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. 12 [n]For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, [o]from him shall be taken away even that which he hath. 13 Therefore speak I to them in parables; because [p]seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, [q]neither do they understand. 14 And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

[r]By hearing ye shall hear, and
shall in no wise understand;

[1] Or, Teacher [2] Gr. sea-monster. [3] Gr. more than. [4] Or, it [5] Or, itself [6] Some ancient authorities omit ver. 47. [7] Some ancient authorities add here, and in ver. 43, to hear: as in Mark 4. 9; Luke 8. 8.

And their ears are [s]dull of hearing,
And [t]their eyes they have closed;
Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And [u]understand with their heart,
And [v]should turn again,
And I should heal them.

16 But [w]blessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. 17 [w]For verily I say unto you, [x]that many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not. 18 [y]Hear then ye the parable of the sower. 19 When any one heareth the word of [z]the kingdom, and [a]understandeth it not, then cometh [b]the evil one, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way side. 20 And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway [c]with joy receiveth it; 21 yet hath he not root in himself, but [d]endureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway [e]he stumbleth. 22 And he that was sown among the thorns, this is he that heareth the word; and [f]the care of [g]the [1]world, and [h]the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful. 23 And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that heareth the word, and [a]understandeth it; who verily [i]beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some [j]a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 Another parable set he before them, saying, [k]The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good seed in his field: 25 but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed [2]tares also among the wheat, and went away. 26 But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also. 27 And the [3]servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares? 28 And he said unto them, [4]An enemy hath done this. And the [3]servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? 29 But he saith, [l]Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. 30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but [m]gather the wheat into my barn.

31 Another parable set he before them, saying, [n]The kingdom of heaven is like unto [o]a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field: 32 which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 Another parable spake he unto them; [p]The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in [q]three [5]measures of meal, till it was [r]all leavened.

34 [s]All these things spake Jesus in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he nothing unto them: 35 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [6]by the prophet, saying,

[t]I will open my mouth in parables;
[u]I will utter things hidden [v]from the foundation [7]of the world.

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into [w]the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, [x]Explain unto us the parable of the tares of the field. 37 And he answered and said, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man; 38 and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are [y]the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are [z]the sons of the evil one; 39 and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and [a]the harvest is [8][b]the end of the world; and the reapers are angels. 40 As therefore the tares [c]are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in [8][b]the end of the world. 41 [d]The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all [e]things that cause stumbling, and [f]them that do iniquity, 42 [g]and

[1] Or, age [2] Or, darnel [3] Gr. bondservants. [4] Gr. A man that is an enemy. [5] The word in the Greek denotes the Hebrew seah, a measure containing nearly a peck and a half. [6] Or, through [7] Many ancient authorities omit of the world. [8] Or, the consummation of the age

shall cast them into the furnace of fire: [h]there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 43 Then shall [i]the righteous shine forth as the sun [j]in the kingdom of their Father. [k]He that hath ears, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of heaven [l]is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and [1]in his joy [m]he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and [n]buyeth that field.

45 Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant seeking goodly pearls: 46 and having found [o]one pearl of great price, [m]he went and sold all that he had, and [n]bought it.

47 Again, the kingdom of heaven is [p]like unto a [2]net, that was cast into the sea, and [q]gathered of every kind: 48 which, when it was filled, [r]they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away. 49 So shall it be in [3][s]the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and [t]sever the wicked from among the righteous, 50 [u]and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: [u]there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 [v]Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea. 52 And he said unto them, Therefore every [w]scribe [x]who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which [y]bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence. 54 [z]And coming into [a]his own country [b]he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that [c]they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these [4]mighty works? 55 [d]Is not this [e]the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and [f]his brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas? 56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things? 57 And [g]they were [5]offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, [h]A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house. 58 And he did not many [4]mighty works there [i]because of their unbelief.

14 1 [j]At that season [k]Herod the tetrarch heard the report concerning Jesus, 2 and said unto his servants, [l]This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore do [m]these powers work in him. 3 For [n]Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and [o]put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife. 4 For John said unto him, [p]It is not lawful for thee to have her. 5 And when he would have put him to death, he [q]feared the multitude, because they counted him as [r]a prophet. 6 But when Herod's [s]birthday came, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst, and pleased Herod. 7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she should ask. 8 And she, being put forward by her mother, saith, Give me here in a charger the head of John the Baptist. 9 And the king was grieved; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them which sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given; 10 and he sent, and beheaded John in the prison. 11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother. 12 And [t]his disciples came, and took up the corpse, and buried him; and they went and told Jesus.

13 Now when Jesus heard it, [u]he withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard thereof, they followed him [6]on foot from the cities. 14 And he came forth, and [v]saw a great multitude, and [v]he had compassion on them, and healed their sick. 15 And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past; [w]send the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food. 16 But Jesus said unto them, They have no need to go away; [x]give ye them to eat. 17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. 18 And he said, Bring them hither to me. 19 And he commanded the multi-

22 [a] And straightway he [b] constrained the disciples to enter into the boat, and to go before him unto the other side, till he should send the multitudes away. 23 And after he had sent the multitudes away, [c] he went up into the mountain apart to pray: and when [d] even was come, he was there alone. 24 But the boat [2] was now in the midst of the sea, distressed by the waves; for the wind was contrary. 25 And [d] in the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, walking upon the sea. 26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, [e] they were troubled, saying, It is [f] an apparition; and they cried out for fear. 27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, [g] Be of good cheer; it is I; [g] be not afraid. 28 And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee upon the waters. 29 And he said, Come. And Peter went down from the boat, and [h] walked upon the waters, [3] to come to Jesus. 30 But when he saw the wind [4], he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried out, saying, [i] Lord, save me. 31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and took hold of him, and saith unto him, [j] O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou [k] doubt? 32 And when they were gone up into the boat, [i] the wind ceased. 33 And [l] they that were in the boat [m] worshipped him, saying, [n] Of a truth thou art [o] the Son of God.

34 [p] And when they had crossed over, they came to the land, unto [q] Gennesaret. 35 And when the men of that place knew him, they sent into all that region round about, and [r] brought unto him all that were sick; 36 and they besought him that they might only touch [s] the border of his garment: and [t] as many as touched were made whole.

15 1 [u] Then there come to Jesus [v] from Jerusalem Pharisees and [v] scribes, saying, 2 [w] Why do thy disciples transgress [x] the tradition of [y] the elders? [z] for they wash not their hands when they eat bread. 3 And he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition? 4 For God said, [a] Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [b] He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him [5] die the death. 5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is given to God; 6 he shall not honour his father [6]. And ye have [c] made void the [7] word of God because of your tradition. 7 [d] Ye hypocrites, well did Isaiah prophesy of you, saying,

8 [e] This people honoureth me with their lips;
But their heart is far from me.
9 But in vain do they worship me,
Teaching as their [f] doctrines the precepts of men.

10 And he called to him the multitude, and said unto them, [g] Hear, and understand: 11 [h] Not that which entereth into the mouth defileth the man; but that which proceedeth out of the mouth, this defileth the man. 12 Then came the disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were [8] [i] offended, when they heard this saying? 13 But he answered and said, [j] Every [9] plant which my heavenly Father planted not, [k] shall be rooted up. 14 Let them alone: [l] they are blind guides. And [m] if the blind guide the blind, both shall fall into a pit. 15 And Peter answered and said unto him, [n] Declare unto us the parable. 16 And he said, [o] Are ye also even yet without understanding? 17 Perceive ye not, that [p] whatsoever goeth into the mouth passeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught? 18 But [q] the things which proceed out of the mouth come forth out of the heart; and they defile the man. 19 For out of the heart come forth [r] evil thoughts, [s] murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, [t] railings: 20 [u] these are the things which defile the man: but [v] to eat with unwashen hands defileth not the man.

21 [w] And Jesus went out thence, and withdrew into the parts of Tyre and Sidon. 22 And behold, [x] a Canaanitish woman came out from those borders, and cried, saying, [y] Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a [1] devil. 23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, [z] Send her away; for she crieth after us. 24 But he answered and said, [a] I was not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel. 25 But she came and [b] worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. 26 And he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's [2] bread and [c] cast it to the dogs. 27 But she said, Yea, Lord: for even the dogs eat of [d] the crumbs which fall from their masters' table. 28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, [e] great is thy faith: [f] be it done unto thee even as thou wilt. [g] And her daughter was [f] healed from that hour.

29 [h] And Jesus departed thence, and came [i] nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and he [j] went up into the mountain, and sat there. 30 And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them [k] the lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and they cast them down at his feet; and he healed them: 31 [l] insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb speaking, [m] the maimed whole, and the lame walking, and the blind seeing: and [n] they glorified [o] the God of Israel.

32 [p] And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, [q] I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. 33 And the disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so many loaves in a desert place, as to fill so great a multitude? 34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, [r] Seven, and a few small fishes. 35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground; 36 and he took the seven loaves and the fishes; and he [s] gave thanks and brake, and gave to the disciples, and the disciples to the multitudes. 37 And [t] they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained over of the broken pieces, seven baskets full. 38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children. 39 And he sent away the multitudes, and entered into the boat, and came into the borders of [u] Magadan.

16 1 [v] And the Pharisees and Sadducees came, and [w] tempting him [x] asked him to shew them [y] a sign from heaven. 2 But he answered and said unto them, [3] [z] When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the heaven is red. 3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the heaven is red and lowring. [a] Ye know how to discern the face of the heaven; but ye cannot discern [b] the signs of the times. 4 [c] An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of Jonah. And [d] he left them, and departed.

5 And the disciples came to the other side and forgot to take [4] bread. 6 And Jesus said unto them, Take heed and [e] beware of [f] the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, [5] We took no [4] bread. 8 And [g] Jesus perceiving it said, [h] O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have no [4] bread? 9 [i] Do ye not yet perceive, neither remember [j] the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many [6] baskets ye took up? 10 Neither [k] the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many [6] baskets ye took up? 11 How is it that ye do not perceive that I spake not to you concerning [4] bread? But [e] beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 12 [l] Then understood they how that he bade

[2] Or, loaf
[3] The following words, to the end of ver. 3, are omitted by some of the most ancient and other important authorities.
[4] Gr. loaves.
[5] Or, It is because we took no bread.
[6] Basket in ver. 9 and 10 represents different Greek words.

them not beware of the leaven of [1] bread, but of [m] the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 [n] Now when Jesus came into the parts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say [2] that the Son of man is? 14 And they said, Some say [o] John the Baptist; some, [p] Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. 15 He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? 16 And Simon Peter answered and said, [q] Thou art [r] the Christ, [s] the Son of [t] the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, [u] Blessed art thou, [v] Simon Bar-Jonah: for [w] flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, [x] but my Father which is in heaven. 18 And I also say unto thee, that [y] thou art [3] Peter, and [z] upon this [4] rock I will build my church; and [a] the gates of [b] Hades shall not prevail against it. 19 I will give unto thee [c] the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and [d] whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 20 [e] Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21 [f] From that time began [5] [g] Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that [h] he must go unto Jerusalem, and [i] suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and [j] the third day be raised up. 22 And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, [6] [k] Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall never be unto thee. 23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, [l] Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art [m] a stumblingblock unto me: for thou [n] mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him [o] deny himself, and [p] take up his cross, and follow me. 25 For [p] whosoever would save his [7] life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his [7] life for my sake shall find it. 26 For [q] what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his [7] life? or [r] what shall a man give in exchange for his [7] life? 27 [s] For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with [t] his angels; and [u] then shall he render unto every man according to his [8] deeds. 28 Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise [v] taste of death, [w] till they see the Son of man [x] coming in his kingdom.

1 [y] And after six days Jesus taketh with him [z] Peter, and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: 2 and he was [a] transfigured before them: and [b] his face did shine as the sun, and [c] his garments became white as the light. 3 And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him. 4 And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three [9] [d] tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 5 While he was yet speaking, behold, [e] a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, [e] a voice out of the cloud, saying, [f] This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; [g] hear ye him. 6 And when [h] the disciples heard it, [i] they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jesus came and [j] touched them and said, Arise, and [k] be not afraid. 8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.

9 [l] And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, [m] Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes [n] that Elijah must first come? 11 And he answered and said, Elijah indeed cometh, and [o] shall restore all things: 12 but I say unto you, that Elijah is come already, and they knew him not, but [p] did unto him whatsoever they listed. [q] Even so shall the Son of man also suffer of them. [r] 13 Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

[1] Gr. loaves. [2] Many ancient authorities read that I the Son of man am. See Mark 8. 27; Luke 9. 18. [3] Gr. Petros. [4] Gr. petra. [5] Some ancient authorities read Jesus Christ. [6] Or, God have mercy on thee [7] Or, soul [8] Gr. doing. [9] Or, booths

the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is [t]epileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and [u]they could not cure him. 17 And Jesus answered and said, O [v]faithless and [v]perverse generation, [w]how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. 18 And Jesus [x]rebuked him; and the [1]devil went out from him: and [y]the boy was cured from that hour. 19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? 20 And he saith unto them, [z]Because of your little faith: for [a]verily I say unto you, [b]If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, [c]ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and [d]nothing shall be impossible unto you.[2]

22 [e]And while they [3]abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men; 23 and they shall kill him, and [f]the third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 And [g]when they were come to Capernaum, they that received [h]the [4]half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not your [5]master pay the [4]half-shekel? 25 He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, [i]What thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive [j]toll or [j]tribute? from their sons, or from strangers? 26 And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. 27 But, lest we [k]cause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a [6]shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

1 [l]In that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is [7]greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2 And he called to him a little child, and set him in the midst of them, 3 and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye [m]turn, and [n]become as little children, ye [o]shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 [p]Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the [7][o]greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And [q]whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me: 6 but [r]whoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that [8]a great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea. 7 Woe unto the world because of [s]occasions of stumbling! [t]for it must needs be that the occasions come; [u]but woe to that man through whom the occasion cometh! 8 [v]And if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into [w]the eternal fire. 9 [v]And if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the [9][v]hell of fire. 10 See that ye despise not [x]one of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven [y]their angels do always [z]behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.[10] 12 [a]How think ye? [b]if any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that which goeth astray? 13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray. 14 Even so [c]it is not [11]the will of [12]your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 [d]And if thy brother sin [13]against thee, [e]go, shew him his fault between thee and him alone: if he hear thee, thou hast [f]gained thy brother. 16 But if he hear thee not, take with thee one or two more, that [g]at the mouth of two witnesses or three every word may be established. 17 And if he refuse to hear them, [h]tell it unto the [1]church: and if he refuse to hear the [1]church also, [i]let him be unto thee as [j]the Gentile and [j]the publican. 18 Verily I say unto you, [k]What things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 19 Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall [l]agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, [m]it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. 20 For where two or three are [n]gathered together in my name, [o]there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Peter, and said to him, Lord, how oft [p]shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? [q]until seven times? 22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until [2][r]seventy times seven. 23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would [s]make a reckoning with his [3]servants. 24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him [t]ten thousand [4][u]talents. 25 [v]But forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him [w]to be sold, and his wife, and [x]children, and all that he had, and payment to be made. 26 The [5]servant therefore fell down and [y]worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. 27 And the lord of that [5]servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and [v]forgave him the [6]debt. 28 But that [5]servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred [7][z]pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest. 29 So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. 30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due. 31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. 32 Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked [5]servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: 33 [a]shouldest not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? 34 [b]And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, [c]till he should pay all that was due. 35 [d]So shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother [e]from your hearts.

1 And it came to pass when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from [f]Galilee, and [g]came [h]into the borders of Judæa beyond Jordan; 2 and [i]great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 And there came unto him [8]Pharisees, [j]tempting him, and saying, [k]Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? 4 And he answered and said, [l]Have ye not read, that he which [9]made them from the beginning made them male and female, 5 and said, [m]For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and [n]the twain shall become one flesh? 6 So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. [o]What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 7 They say unto him, [p]Why then did Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away? 8 He saith unto them, Moses for your [q]hardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so. 9 [r]And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, [10]except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: [11]and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth adultery. 10 The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, it is not expedient to marry. 11 But he said unto them, [s]All men cannot receive this saying, but [t]they to [u]whom it is given. 12 For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are

[1] Or, congregation. [2] Or, seventy times and seven. [3] Gr. bondservants. [4] This talent was probably worth about £240. [5] Gr. bondservant. [6] Gr. loan. [7] The word in the Greek denotes a coin worth about eight pence halfpenny. [8] Many authorities, some ancient, insert the. [9] Some ancient authorities read created. [10] Some ancient authorities read saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress: as in ch. 5. 32. [11] The following words, to the end of the verse, are omitted by some ancient authorities.

eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, [v]which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 [w]Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples [x]rebuked them. 14 But Jesus said, [y]Suffer the little children, and [z]forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. 15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 [a]And behold, one came to him and said, [1][2]Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may [b]have [c]eternal life? 17 And he said unto him, [3]Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but [d]if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments. 18 He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, [e]Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [f]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 20 The young man saith unto him, [g]All these things have I observed: what lack I yet? 21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be [h]perfect, go, [i]sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [j]treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 22 [k]But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, [l]It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven. 24 [m]And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into [n]the kingdom of God. 25 And when the disciples heard it, they were astonished exceedingly, saying, Who then can be saved? 26 And Jesus [o]looking upon them said to them, [p]With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible. 27 Then answered Peter and said unto him, Lo, [q]we have left all, and followed thee; what then shall we have? 28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration [r]when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, [s]ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones [t]judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 [u]And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, [4]or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive [5]a hundredfold, and shall [v]inherit eternal life. 30 But [w]many shall be last that are first; and [x]first that are last.

20 1 For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. 2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for [y]a [6]penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. 3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in the marketplace idle; 4 and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. 5 Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. 6 And [z]about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? 7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard. 8 And [a]when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his [b]steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. 9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a [6]penny. 10 And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received every man a [6]penny. 11 And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, 12 saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and [c]the [7]scorching heat. 13 But he answered and said to one of them, [d]Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a

[1] Or, Teacher [2] Some ancient authorities read Good Master. See Mark 10. 17; Luke 18. 18. [3] Some ancient authorities read Why callest thou me good? None is good save one, even God. See Mark 10. 18; Luke 18. 19. [4] Many ancient authorities add or wife: as in Luke 18. 29. [5] Some ancient authorities read manifold. [6] See marginal note on ch. 18. 28. [7] Or, hot wind

[1]penny? 14 Take up [e]that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. 15 [f]Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or [g]is thine eye evil, because I am good? 16 So [h]the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 [i]And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, 18 Behold, [j]we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall [k]condemn him to death, 19 and shall [l]deliver him unto the Gentiles [m]to mock, and to scourge, and [n]to crucify: and [o]the third day he shall be raised up.

20 [p]Then came to him [q]the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, [r]worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of him. 21 And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons [s]may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, [t]in thy kingdom. 22 But Jesus answered and said, [u]Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able [v]to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are able. 23 He saith unto them, [w]My cup indeed [x]ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to give, [y]but it is for them for whom it hath been [z]prepared of my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, [a]Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles [b]lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 26 [c]Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among you shall be your [2][d]minister; 27 and whosoever would be first among you shall be your [3][e]servant: 28 even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but [f]to minister, and [g]to give his life a ransom for [h]many.

29 [i]And as they went out from Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou [j]son of David. 31 And the multitude [k]rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

1 [l]And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto [m]the mount of Olives, then Jesus [n]sent two disciples, 2 saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me. 3 And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 Now this is come to pass, [o]that it might be fulfilled which was spoken [4]by the prophet, saying,

5 [p]Tell ye the daughter of Zion,
Behold, thy King cometh unto thee,
[q]Meek, and riding upon an ass,
And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them, 7 and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. 8 And the most part of the multitude [r]spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, [s]Hosanna to [t]the son of David: [u]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna [v]in the highest. 10 And [w]when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitudes said, This is [x]the prophet, Jesus, [y]from Nazareth of Galilee.

12 [z]And Jesus entered into the temple [1]of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of [a]the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold [b]the doves; 13 and he saith unto them, It is written, [c]My house shall be called a house of prayer: but [d]ye make it a den of robbers. 14 [e]And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them. 15 [f]But when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, [s]Hosanna to the son of David; they were moved with indignation, 16 and said unto him, Hearest thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: [g]did ye never read, [h]Out of the mouth of [i]babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? 17 And [j]he left them, and [k]went forth out of the city to [l]Bethany, and lodged there.

18 [m]Now in the morning as he returned to the city, [n]he hungered. 19 [o]And seeing [2]a fig tree by the way side, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only; and he saith unto it, Let there be no fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And immediately the fig tree withered away. 20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How did the fig tree immediately wither away? 21 And Jesus answered and said unto them, [p]Verily I say unto you, [q]If ye have faith, and [r]doubt not, ye shall not only do what is done to the fig tree, but even if ye shall say unto this mountain, [s]Be thou taken up and cast into the sea, it shall be done. 22 And [t]all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, [q]believing, ye shall receive.

23 [u]And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him [v]as he was teaching, and said, [w]By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority? 24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one [3]question, which if ye tell me, I likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things. 25 The baptism of John, [x]whence was it? [y]from heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, [z]Why then did ye not believe him? 26 But if we shall say, From men; [a]we fear the multitude; for all hold John as [b]a prophet. 27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. 28 [c]But what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, [4]Son, go work to-day in [d]the vineyard. 29 And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he [e]repented himself, and went. 30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. 31 Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that [f]the publicans and [g]the harlots go into [h]the kingdom of God before you. 32 For John came unto you [i]in the way of righteousness, and [j]ye believed him not: but [k]the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even [e]repent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 [l]Hear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted [m]a vineyard, [n]and set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and [o]let it out to husbandmen, and [p]went into another country. 34 And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his [5]servants to the husbandmen, [o]to receive [6]his fruits. 35 [q]And the husbandmen took his [5]servants, and beat one, and killed another, and [r]stoned another. 36 [s]Again, he sent other [5]servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. 37 But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. 38 But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, [t]This is the heir; come, [u]let us kill him, and take his inheritance. 39 And they took him, and [v]cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. 40 [w]When therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husband-men? 41 They say unto him, [x]He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and [y]will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. 42 Jesus saith unto them, [z]Did ye never read in the scriptures,

[a]The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner:
This was from the Lord;
And it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, [x]The kingdom of God [b]shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation [c]bringing forth the fruits thereof. 44 [1]And [d]he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but [e]on whomsoever it shall fall, [f]it will scatter him as dust. 45 And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. 46 And [g]when they sought to lay hold on him, [h]they feared the multitudes, because they took him for [i]a prophet.

22 1 And Jesus answered and [j]spake again in parables unto them, saying, 2 [k]The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made [l]a marriage feast for his son, 3 and [m]sent forth his [2]servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 [n]Again he sent forth other [2]servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my [o]dinner: [p]my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. 5 But [q]they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: 6 and the rest laid hold on his [2]servants, and [r]entreated them shamefully, and [s]killed them. 7 But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and [t]destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. 8 Then saith he to his [2]servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not [u]worthy. 9 Go ye therefore unto [v]the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. 10 And those [2]servants went out into the highways, and [w]gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. 11 But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there [x]a man which had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, [y]Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the [3]servants, Bind him hand and foot, and [z]cast him out into the outer darkness; [z]there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are [a]called, but few [a]chosen.

15 [b]Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how [c]they might ensnare him in his talk. 16 And they send to him [d]their disciples, with [e]the Herodians, saying, [4]Master, [f]we know that thou art true, and teachest [g]the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for [h]thou regardest not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give [i]tribute unto [j]Cæsar, or not? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why [k]tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? 19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a [5]penny. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They say unto him, Cæsar's. Then saith he unto them, [l]Render therefore unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; and unto God the things that are God's. 22 And when they heard it, they marvelled, and [m]left him, and went their way.

23 On that day there came to him [n]Sadducees, [6][o]which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, 24 saying, [4]Master, Moses said, [p]If a man die, having no children, his brother [7]shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife unto his brother; 26 in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the [8]seventh. 27 And after them all the woman died. 28 In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. 29 But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, [q] not knowing the scriptures, nor [r] the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither [s] marry, nor [s] are given in marriage, but are as angels [1] in heaven. 31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, [t] have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 [u] I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living. 33 And when the multitudes heard it, [v] they were astonished at his teaching.

34 [w] But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put [x] the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together. 35 [y] And one of them, [z] a lawyer, asked him a question, [a] tempting him, 36 [2] Master, which is the great commandment in the law? 37 And he said unto him, [b] Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. 38 This is the great and first commandment. 39 [3] And [c] a second like unto it is this, [d] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 40 [e] On these two commandments hangeth [f] the whole law, and the prophets.

41 [g] Now while the Pharisees [h] were gathered together, Jesus asked them a question, 42 saying, What think ye of [i] the Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, [i] The son of David. 43 He saith unto them, How then doth David [j] in the Spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 [k] The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I put thine enemies underneath thy feet?

45 If David then calleth him Lord, [l] how is he his son? 46 [m] And no one was able to answer him a word, [n] neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

1 Then [o] spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, 2 saying, [p] The scribes and the Pharisees [q] sit on Moses' seat: 3 all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, these do and observe: [r] but do not ye after their works; [s] for they say, and do not. 4 Yea, [t] they bind heavy burdens [4] and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with their finger. 5 [o] But all their works they do [u] for to be seen of men: for they make broad [v] their phylacteries, and enlarge [w] the borders of their garments, 6 and [x] love the chief place at feasts, and [y] the chief seats in the synagogues, 7 and [y] the salutations in [z] the marketplaces, and to be called of men, [a] Rabbi. 8 [b] But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your [c] teacher, and all ye are [d] brethren. 9 [e] And call no man your father on the earth: for [f] one is your Father, [5] which is in heaven. 10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your master, even [g] the Christ. 11 [h] But he that is [6] greatest among you shall be your [7] servant. 12 And [i] whosoever shall exalt himself shall be humbled; and whosoever shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 But woe [j] unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye [k] shut the kingdom of heaven [8] against men: for ye [l] enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter.[9]

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one [m] proselyte; and when he is become so, ye make him twofold more [n] a son of [10] [o] hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, [p] ye [q] blind guides, which say, [r] Whosoever shall swear by the [11] temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the [11] temple, he is [12] a debtor. 17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or [s] the [11] temple that hath sanctified the gold? 18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by [t] the gift that is upon it, he is [12] a debtor. 19 Ye blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or [u] the altar that sanctifieth the gift? 20 He therefore that sweareth by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon. 21 And he that sweareth by the [11] temple, sweareth by it, and by [v] him that dwelleth therein. 22 And he that sweareth by [w] the heaven, sweareth

23 [z] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for [a] ye tithe mint and [1] anise and [b] cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, [c] judgement, and mercy, and faith: [d] but these ye ought to have done, and not to have left the other undone. 24 Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow [e] the camel.

25 [f] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for [g] ye cleanse the outside of [h] the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from [i] extortion and excess. 26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of [h] the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 [j] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto [k] whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of [l] all uncleanness. 28 Even so ye also [m] outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of [n] hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 [o] Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of the righteous, 30 and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. 31 Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are [p] sons of them that slew the prophets. 32 [q] Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. 33 Ye serpents, [r] ye offspring of vipers, how shall ye escape the judgement of [2] [s] hell? 34 [t] Therefore, behold, [u] I send unto you [v] prophets, and wise men, and [w] scribes: [x] some of them shall ye kill and crucify; and [x] some of them shall ye [y] scourge in your synagogues, and [z] persecute from city to city: 35 that upon you may come all [a] the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of [b] Abel the righteous unto the blood of [c] Zachariah son of Barachiah, [d] whom ye slew between [e] the sanctuary and [f] the altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, [g] All these things shall come upon this generation.

1 [r] And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the buildings of the temple. 2 But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, [s] There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on [t] the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him [u] privately, saying, Tell us, [v] when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy [4] [w] coming, and of [5] [x] the end of the world? 4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, [y] Take heed that no man lead you astray. 5 For [z] many shall come in my name, saying, I am [a] the Christ; and shall lead many astray. 6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye [b] be not troubled: for these things [c] must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 7 For [d] nation shall rise against nation, and [e] kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be [f] famines and earthquakes in divers places. 8 But all these things are the beginning of [g] travail. 9 Then [h] shall they deliver you up [i] unto tribulation, and [j] shall kill you: and [k] ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. 10 And then shall many stumble, and shall [l] deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. 11 And many [m] false prophets shall arise, [n] and shall lead many astray. 12 And because iniquity shall be multiplied, [o] the love of the many shall wax cold. 13 [p] But he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. 14 And [6] this gospel of the kingdom [q] shall be preached in the whole [7] world [r] for a testimony

16 then let them that are in Judæa
flee unto the mountains: 17 [x]let him
that is on [y]the housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: 18 and let him
that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. 19 But [z]woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 20 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: 21 for then shall be [a]great tribulation, [b]such as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. 22 And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for [c]the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.
23 [d]Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or,
Here; believe [3]it not. 24 For there shall arise [e]false Christs, and [f]false prophets, and [g]shall shew great

go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe [4]it not. 27 [j]For as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the [5][k]coming of the Son of man.
28 [l]Wheresoever the carcase is, there will the [6]eagles be gathered together.

29 But immediately, after [m]the tribulation of those days, [n]the sun
shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and [o]the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: 30 and then [p]shall appear [q]the sign of the Son of man in heaven:
and then [r]shall all the tribes
of the earth mourn, and [s]they shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven [t]with power and great glory. 31 And [u]he shall send forth his angels [7]with [8]a great sound of [v]a trumpet, and they shall [w]gather together [x]his elect from [y]the four winds, [z]from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 33 even so ye also,
when ye see all these things, know ye that [9]he is nigh, even [a]at the doors. 34 [b]Verily I say unto you,
This generation shall not pass away,
till all these things be accomplished.
35 [c]Heaven and earth shall pass away, but [d]my words shall not pass away. 36 But of that day and hour [e]knoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, [10][f]neither the Son, [g]but the Father only. 37 [h]And as were the days of Noah, [i]so shall be the [5]coming of the Son of man.
38 [h]For as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, [j]marrying and giving in marriage, until [k]the day that Noah entered into the ark, 39 and they knew not until the flood came,
and took them all away; [i]so shall be the [5]coming of the Son of man.
40 [l]Then shall two men be in the field; one is taken, and one is left:
41 [m]two women shall be grinding
[n]at the mill; one is taken, and one is left. 42 [o]Watch therefore: for ye know not on what day [p]your Lord cometh. 43 [11][q]But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch [r]the thief was coming, he would have watched,
and would not have suffered his house to be [12][s]broken through.
44 Therefore be ye also [t]ready: for in an hour that ye think not [u]the Son of man cometh. 45 Who then is [v]the faithful and [w]wise [13]servant,
whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food
in due season? 46 [x]Blessed is that [13]servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 47 Verily
I say unto you, that [y]he will set him over all that he hath. 48 But if that evil [13]servant shall say in his heart, My lord [z]tarrieth; 49 and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants,
and shall eat and drink with [a]the drunken; 50 the lord of that [13]servant shall come [b]in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, 51 and shall [1]cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: [c]there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

25 1 Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto [d]ten virgins, which took their [2]lamps, and went forth to meet [e]the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were foolish, and five were [w]wise. 3 For the foolish, when they took their [2]lamps, took no oil with them: 4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their [2]lamps. 5 Now while the bridegroom [f]tarried, they all slumbered and slept. 6 But [g]at midnight there is a cry, Behold, the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet him. 7 Then all those virgins arose, and [h]trimmed their [2]lamps. 8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our [2]lamps are going out. 9 But the wise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. 10 And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and [i]they that were ready went in with him to [j]the marriage feast: and [k]the door was shut. 11 Afterward come also the other virgins, saying, [l]Lord, Lord, open to us. 12 [l]But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, [m]I know you not. 13 [n]Watch therefore, for ye [o]know not the day nor the hour.

14 [p]For [q]it is as when a man, [r]going into another country, called his own [3]servants, and delivered unto them his goods. 15 And unto one he gave five [s]talents, to another two, to another one; [t]to each according to his several ability; and he [r]went on his journey. 16 Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents. 17 In like manner he also that received the two gained other two. 18 But he that received the one went away and [u]digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. 19 Now [v]after a long time the lord of those [3]servants cometh, and [w]maketh a reckoning with them. 20 And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. 21 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and [x]faithful [4]servant: [y]thou hast been faithful over a few things, [z]I will set thee over many things: enter thou into [a]the joy of thy lord. 22 And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. 23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful [4]servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 24 And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art [b]a hard man, reaping [c]where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter: 25 and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, [d]thou hast thine own. 26 But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou [e]wicked and [e]slothful [4]servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter; 27 thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with interest. 28 Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents. 29 [f]For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. 30 And [g]cast ye out [h]the unprofitable [4]servant into the outer darkness: [g]there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 [i]But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the angels with him, [j]then shall he sit on the throne of his glory: 32 and before him [k]shall be gathered [l]all the nations: and [m]he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth [n]the sheep from the [5]goats: 33 and he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the [5]goats on the left. 34 Then shall [o]the King say unto [p]them on his right hand, Come, ye [q]blessed of my Father, [r]inherit [s]the kingdom [t]prepared for you [u]from the foundation of the world: 35 for [v]I was an hungred, and

1 And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said unto his disciples, 2 [m] Ye know that after two days [n] the passover cometh, and [o] the Son of man [p] is delivered up to be crucified. 3 [q] Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto [r] the court of the high priest, who was called [s] Caiaphas; 4 [t] and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. 5 But they said, Not during the feast, [u] lest a tumult arise among the people.

6 [v] Now when Jesus was in [w] Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, 7 there came unto him a woman having [2] an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he sat at meat. 8 But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste? 9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and [x] given to the poor. 10 But [y] Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For [z] ye have the poor always with you; but [a] me ye have not always. 12 For in that she [3] poured this ointment upon my body, she did it [b] to prepare me for burial. 13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever [4][c] this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of [d] for a memorial of her.

14 [e] Then one of the twelve, who was called [f] Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, 15 and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they [g] weighed unto him [h] thirty pieces of silver. 16 And from that time he sought opportunity [i] to deliver him unto them.

17 [j] Now on [k] the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready for thee to eat the passover? 18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, [l] The [5] Master saith, [m] My time is at hand; I keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. 19 And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them; and they made ready the passover. 20 [n] Now when even was come, he was sitting at meat with the twelve [6] disciples; 21 and as they were eating, [o] he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. 22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto him every one, Is it I, Lord? 23 And he answered and said, [p] He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. 24 The Son of man goeth, [q] even as it is written of him: but [r] woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! [s] good were it [7] for that man if he had not been born. 25 And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is

and said unto him, If all shall be [5][g]offended in thee, I will never be [5]offended. 34 [k]Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, [l]before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. 35 [m]Peter saith unto him, Even if I must die
with thee, yet will I not deny thee.
Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 [n]Then cometh Jesus with them [e]unto [6]a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye
here, while I go yonder and pray.
37 And he took with him [o]Peter and [p]the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and sore troubled. 38 Then saith he unto them, [q]My soul is exceeding sorrowful,
even unto death: abide ye here, and [r]watch with me. 39 And he went forward a little, and fell on his face, [s]and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let [t]this cup pass away from me:
[u]nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. 40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them
sleeping, and saith unto Peter,
What, could ye not watch with me
one hour? 41 [7][r]Watch and [v]pray,
that ye [w]enter not into temptation:
the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 42 Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, [x]thy will be done. 43 And he came again
and found them sleeping, for [y]their eyes were heavy. 44 And he left them again, and went away, and prayed [z]a third time, saying again
the same words. 45 Then cometh
he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, [a]the hour is at hand,
and [b]the Son of man is betrayed
into the hands of sinners. 46 Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

47 [c]And while he yet spake, lo,
[d]Judas, one of the twelve, came,
and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.
48 Now he that betrayed him
gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever
I shall kiss, that is he: take him. 49 And straightway he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, [e]Rabbi;
and [8][f]kissed him. 50 And Jesus said unto him, [g]Friend, [h]do that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. 51 And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his [i]sword,
and smote the [9]servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear.
52 Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place:
for [j]all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword. 53 Or [k]thinkest thou that I cannot beseech
my Father, and he shall even now send me [l]more than twelve [m]legions of angels? 54 [n]How then should the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be? 55 In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes,
Are ye come out as against a robber
with swords and staves to seize me? [o]I sat daily in the temple
[p]teaching, and ye took me not.
56 But [n]all this is come to pass,
that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. [q]Then all the disciples left him, and fled.

57 [r]And [s]they that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of [t]Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. 58 But [u]Peter followed him afar off, unto [t]the court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with [v] the officers, to see the end. 59 Now the chief priests and the whole [w] council [x] sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death; 60 and they found it not, [y] though many false witnesses came. But afterward came [z] two, 61 and said, This man said, [a] I am able to [b] destroy the [1] temple of God, and to build it in three days. 62 And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 63 [c] But Jesus held his peace. [d] And the high priest said unto him, [e] I adjure thee by [f] the living God, that thou [g] tell us whether thou be [h] the Christ, [i] the Son of God. 64 Jesus saith unto him, [j] Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth [k] ye shall see the Son of man [l] sitting at the right hand of power, and [k] coming on the clouds of heaven. 65 Then the high priest [m] rent his garments, saying, [n] He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: 66 what think ye? They answered and said, [o] He is [2] worthy of death. 67 Then [p] did they spit in his face and buffet him: [q] and some [r] smote him [3] with the palms of their hands, 68 saying, Prophesy unto us, thou [s] Christ: who is he that struck thee?

69 [t] Now Peter was sitting without [u] in the court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilæan. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus [v] the Nazarene. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. 73 And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art one of them; for [w] thy speech bewrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, [x] Before the cock crow, thou shalt [y] deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 1 [z] Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people [a] took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: 2 and they bound him, and [b] led him away, and [c] delivered him up to [d] Pilate the governor.

3 Then [e] Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, [f] repented himself, and brought back [g] the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, 4 saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed [4] [h] innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? [i] see thou to it. 5 And he cast down the pieces of silver into [j] the sanctuary, and departed; and [k] he went away and hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into [l] the [5] treasury, since it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. 8 Wherefore [m] that field was called, The field of blood, [n] unto this day. 9 [o] Then was fulfilled that which was spoken [6] by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, [p] And [7] they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, [8] whom certain of the children of Israel did price; 10 and [9] they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 [q] Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou [r] the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, [s] Thou sayest. 12 [t] And when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. 13 Then saith Pilate unto him, [u] Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? 14 And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly. 15 [v] Now at [10] the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, whom they would. 16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. 17 When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or [w] Jesus which is called Christ? 18 For he knew that [x] for envy they had delivered him up. 19 And while he was sitting on [y] the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with [z] that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day [a] in a dream because of him. 20 Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should [b] ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. 22 Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? [c] They all say, Let him be crucified. 23 And he said, Why, [d] what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. 24 So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that [e] a tumult was arising, he took water, and [f] washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent [1] of the blood of [g] this righteous man: [h] see ye to it. 25 And all the people answered and said, [i] His blood be on us, and [j] on our children. 26 Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he [k] scourged and delivered to be crucified.

27 [l] Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the [2] [m] palace, and gathered unto him the whole [3] [n] band. 28 And they [4] stripped him, and put on him [o] a scarlet robe. 29 And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and [p] mocked him, saying, Hail, [q] King of the Jews! 30 And [r] they spat upon him, and took the reed and smote him on the head. 31 And when they had mocked him, they took off from him the robe, and put on him his garments, and [s] led him away to crucify him.

32 [t] And [u] as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they [5] [v] compelled to go with them, that he might [t] bear his cross. 33 [w] And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, 34 [x] they gave him wine to drink mingled with [y] gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. 35 And when they had crucified him, [z] they parted his garments among them, casting lots: 36 and they sat and [a] watched him there. 37 And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS [b] THE KING OF THE JEWS. 38 Then are there crucified with him two [c] robbers, [d] one on the right hand, and one on the left. 39 And [e] they that passed by [f] railed on him, [g] wagging their heads, 40 and saying, [h] Thou that destroyest the [6] temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: [i] if thou art [j] the Son of God, come down from the cross. 41 In like manner also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 [k] He saved others; [7] [l] himself he cannot save. [m] He is the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. 43 [n] He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am the Son of God. 44 [o] And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the [8] land until the ninth hour. 46 And about the ninth hour Jesus [p] cried with a loud voice, saying, [q] Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, [9] why hast thou forsaken me? 47 And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah. 48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with [r] vinegar, and put it on a reed, and [s] gave him to drink. 49 And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to save him.[10] 50 And Jesus [t] cried again with a loud voice, and [u] yielded up his spirit. 51 And behold, [v] the veil of the [6] temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and [w] the earth did quake; and the rocks were rent; 52 and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of [x]the saints [y]that had fallen asleep were raised; 53 and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into [z]the holy city and appeared unto many. 54 [a]Now the centurion, and they that were with him [b]watching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, [c]Truly this was [1] [d]the Son of God. 55 And [e]many women were there beholding [f]from afar, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, [g]ministering unto him: 56 among whom was [g]Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and [h]the mother of the sons of Zebedee.

57 [i]And when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathæa, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: 58 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. 59 And Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 and [j]laid it in his own new tomb, [k]which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled [l]a great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. 61 And Mary Magdalene was there, and [m]the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 Now on the morrow, which is the day after [n]the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, 63 saying, Sir, we remember that [o]that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, [p]After three days I rise again. 64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, [q]lest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the first. 65 Pilate said unto them, [2]Ye have [r]a guard: go your way, [3]make it as sure as ye can. 66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, [s]sealing the stone, the guard being with them.

28 1 [t]Now late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and [u]the other Mary to see the sepulchre. 2 And behold, there was a great earthquake; for [v]an angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. 3 [w]His appearance was as lightning, and [x]his raiment white as snow: 4 and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and [y]became as dead men. 5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which hath been crucified. 6 He is not here; for he is risen, [z]even as he said. Come, see the place [4]where the Lord lay. 7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, [a]he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. 8 And they departed quickly from the tomb [b]with fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. 9 And behold, Jesus [c]met them, saying, All hail. And they came and [d]took hold of his feet, and [e]worshipped him. 10 Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: [f]go tell [g]my brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now while they were going, behold, some of [h]the guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the things that were come to pass. 12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 saying, Say ye, [i]His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. 14 And if this [5]come to [j]the governor's ears, we will [k]persuade him, and rid you of care. 15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth [l]until this day.

16 But the eleven disciples [m]went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. 17 And when they saw him, they [n]worshipped him: but some doubted. 18 And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, [o]All authority hath been given unto me [p]in heaven and on earth. 19 [q]Go ye therefore, and [r]make disciples of [s]all the nations, [q]baptizing them [t]into [u]the name of the Father and

S. MARK.

1 THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, [3] [a] the Son of God.

2 [b] Even as it is written [4] in Isaiah the prophet,

[c] Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way;
3 [d] The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
[e] Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight;

4 [f] John came, who baptized in [g] the wilderness and preached [h] the baptism of [i] repentance [j] unto remission of sins. 5 And there went out unto him all the country of Judæa, and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, [k] confessing their sins. 6 And John was [l] clothed with camel's hair, and [l] had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat [m] locusts and [n] wild honey. 7 And he preached, saying, [o] There cometh after me he that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not [5] worthy to stoop down and unloose. 8 [p] I baptized you [6] with water; but [q] he shall baptize you [6] with the [7] Holy Ghost.

9 [r] And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus [s] came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John [8] in the Jordan. 10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he [t] saw [u] the heavens rent asunder, [v] and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him: 11 and [w] a voice came out of the heavens, [x] Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.

12 [y] And straightway the Spirit driveth him forth into the wilderness. 13 [y] And he was in the wilderness forty days [z] tempted of [a] Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and [b] the angels ministered unto him.

14 [c] Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus [d] came into Galilee, preaching [e] the gospel of God, 15 and saying, [f] The time is fulfilled, and [g] the kingdom of God is at hand: [h] repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

16 [i] And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting a net in the sea: for they were fishers. 17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become [j] fishers of men. 18 And straightway they left the nets, and followed him. 19 And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets. 20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 [k] And they go into Capernaum; and straightway [l] on the sabbath day [m] he entered into the synagogue and taught. 22 And [n] they were astonished at his teaching: [n] for he taught them as having authority, and not as the scribes. 23 And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, 24 saying, [o] What have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [p] I know thee who thou art, [q] the Holy One of God. 25 And Jesus [r] rebuked [9] him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. 26 And the unclean spirit, [10] [s] tearing him and [t] crying with a loud voice, came out of him. 27 And they were all [u] amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this? [v] a new teaching! with authority

he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him. 28 And the report of him went out straightway everywhere into all the region of Galilee round about.

29 [w] And straightway, [1] when they were come [x] out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 Now [y] Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her: 31 and he came and [z] took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were [2] [a] possessed with devils. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 [b] And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many [3] devils; and [c] he suffered not the [3] devils to speak, because they knew him[4].

35 [d] And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and [e] there prayed. 36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; 37 and they found him, and say unto him, [f] All are seeking thee. 38 And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for [g] to this end came I forth. 39 [h] And [i] he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out [3] devils.

40 [j] And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, [5] and [k] kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, [l] If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 41 And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou made clean. 42 And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 And [m] he [6] strictly charged him, and straightway sent him out, 44 and saith unto him, [n] See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, [o] shew thyself to the priest, and [p] offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, [q] for a testimony unto them. 45 [r] But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the [7] matter, insomuch that [8] Jesus could no more openly enter into [9] [s] a city, but was without in [s] desert places: and [t] they came to him from every quarter.

2 1 And when he entered again into [u] Capernaum after some days, it was noised that he was [10] in the house. 2 And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the word unto them. 3 [v] And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne of four. 4 And when they could not [11] come nigh unto him for the crowd, [w] they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay. 5 And Jesus [x] seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, [12] Son, [y] thy sins are forgiven. 6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man thus speak? [z] he blasphemeth: [a] who can forgive sins but one, even God? 8 And straightway Jesus, [b] perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? 9 Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? 10 But that ye may know that [c] the Son of man hath [13] power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy), 11 I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 12 And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and [d] glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and [e] all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. 14 [f] And as he passed by, he saw [g] Levi the son of Alphæus sitting at the place of toll, and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him. 15 And it came to pass, that he was sitting at meat in his house, and many

[1] [h] publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him. 16 And [i] the scribes [2] of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and publicans, said unto his disciples, [3] [h] He eateth [4] and drinketh with publicans and sinners. 17 And when Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are [5] whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick: [j] I came not to call the righteous, [k] but sinners.

18 And [l] John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they come and say unto him, [m] Why do John's disciples and [n] the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? 19 And Jesus said unto them, [o] Can the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. 20 But [p] the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and [q] then will they fast in that day. 21 No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else that which should fill it up taketh from it, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made. 22 And no man putteth new wine into old [6] [r] wine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine perisheth, and the skins: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins.

23 [s] And it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples [7] [t] began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn. 24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, [u] why do they on the sabbath day [v] that which is not lawful? 25 And he said unto them, [w] Did ye never read [x] what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him? 26 How he entered into the house of God [8] when [y] Abiathar was high priest, and did eat [z] the shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with him? 27 And he said unto them, [a] The sabbath was made for man, and [b] not man for the sabbath: 28 so that [c] the Son of man is lord even of the sabbath.

3 1 [d] And [e] he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had his hand withered. 2 And [f] they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him. 3 And he saith unto the man that had his hand withered, [9] Stand forth. 4 And he saith unto them, [g] Is it lawful on the sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to kill? But they held their peace. 5 And when he had [h] looked round about on them with anger, being grieved at [i] the hardening of their heart, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And [j] he stretched it forth: and his hand was restored. 6 [k] And the Pharisees went out, and straightway with [l] the Herodians [k] took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

7 [m] And Jesus with his disciples withdrew to the sea: and [n] a great multitude from Galilee followed: and from Judæa, 8 and from Jerusalem, and from [o] Idumæa, and beyond Jordan, and about [p] Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, hearing [10] what great things he did, came unto him. 9 And he spake to his disciples, that [q] a little boat should wait on him because of the crowd, lest they should [r] throng him: 10 for [s] he had healed many; insomuch that as many as had [11] [t] plagues [12] pressed upon him [u] that they might touch him. 11 [v] And the unclean spirits, whensoever they beheld him, [w] fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art [x] the Son of God. 12 And [y] he charged them much that they should not make him known.

13 [z] And he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth unto him [a] whom he himself would: and they went unto him. 14 [z] And he appointed twelve, [13] that they might be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, 15 [z] and to have authority to cast out [14] devils: 16 [15] [b] and Simon [c] he surnamed Peter; 17 and [d] James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of

[1] See marginal note on Matt. 5. 46. [2] Some ancient authorities read and the Pharisees. [3] Or, How is it that he eateth . . . sinners? [4] Some ancient authorities omit and drinketh. [5] Gr. strong. [6] That is, skins used as bottles. [7] Gr. began to make their way plucking. [8] Some ancient authorities read in the days of Abiathar the high priest. [9] Gr. Arise into the midst. [10] Or, all the things that he did [11] Gr. scourges. [12] Gr. fell. [13] Some ancient authorities add whom also he named apostles. See Luke 6. 13. [14] Gr. demons. [15] Some ancient authorities insert and he appointed twelve.

James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, [e]Sons of thunder: 18 and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and [f]Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the [1]Cananæan, 19 and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And he cometh [2][g]into a house. 20 And the multitude cometh together again, [h]so that they could not so much as eat bread. 21 [i]And when [j]his friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He [k]is beside himself. 22 And [l]the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, [m]He hath Beelzebub, and, [3]By the prince of the [4]devils casteth he out the [4]devils. 23 [n]And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. 25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. 26 And if Satan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. 27 But [o]no one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and [p]then he will spoil his house. 28 [q]Verily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: 29 but whosoever shall [r]blaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin: 30 because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 [s]And there come his mother and his [t]brethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling him. 32 And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. 33 And he answereth them, and saith, Who is my mother and my brethren? 34 And [u]looking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my brethren! 35 For [v]whosoever shall [w]do the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

4 1 And again [x]he began to teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, [y]so that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land. 2 And [z]he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his teaching, 3 Hearken: Behold, [a]the sower went forth to sow: 4 and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured it. 5 And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no deepness of earth: 6 and [b]when the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, [c]it withered away. 7 And other fell among [d]the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. 8 And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and [e]a hundredfold. 9 And he said, [f]Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And [g]when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parables. 11 And he said unto them, [h]Unto you is given [i]the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto [j]them that are without, all things are done in parables: 12 [k]that [l]seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they [m]should turn again, and it should be forgiven them. 13 [n]And he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables? 14 [o]The sower soweth [p]the word. 15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Satan, and taketh away the word which hath been sown in them. 16 And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it [q]with joy; 17 and they have no root in themselves, but [r]endure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway [s]they stumble. 18 And others are they that are sown among the thorns; these are they that have heard the word, 19 and [t]the cares of [u]the [5]world, and [v]the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. 20 And those are they that were sown upon the good ground; such as hear the word, and accept it; and [w]bear fruit, [x]thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.

21 [y]And he said unto them, [z]Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand? 22 [a]For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. 23 [b]If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. 24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: [c]with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be given unto you. 25 [d]For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

26 And he said, [e]So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; 27 and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, [f]he knoweth not how. 28 The earth [1]beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. 29 But when the fruit [2]is ripe, straightway [g]he [3]putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 [h]And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? 31 [4]It is like [i]a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, 32 yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

33 And [j]with many such parables spake he [k]the word unto them, [l]as they were able to hear it: 34 and [m]without a parable spake he not unto them: but [n]privately to his own disciples he [o]expounded all things.

35 [p]And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. 36 And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, [q]even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. 37 And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves [r]beat into the boat, insomuch that the boat was now filling. 38 And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, [5]Master, carest thou not that we perish? 39 And he awoke, and [s]rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and [t]there was a great calm. 40 And he said unto them, Why are ye [u]fearful? have ye not yet faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, [v]Who then is this, that even [w]the wind and the sea obey him?

1 [x]And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes. 2 And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, 3 [y]who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not with a chain; 4 because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and no man had strength to tame him. 5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. 6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and [z]worshipped him; 7 and [a]crying out with a loud voice, he saith, [b]What have I to do with thee, Jesus, [c]thou Son of [d]the Most High God? [e]I adjure thee by God, torment me not. 8 For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. 9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is [f]Legion; for we are many. 10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. 11 Now there was there on the mountain side a great herd of swine feeding. 12 And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. 13 And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand; and they were choked in the sea. 14 And they that fed them fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see what it was that had come to pass. 15 And they come to Jesus, and behold [1] him that was possessed with devils sitting, [g] clothed and in his right mind, even him that had [h] the legion: and they were afraid. 16 And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell [1] him that was possessed with devils, and concerning the swine. 17 And [i] they began to beseech him to depart from their borders. 18 And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with [2] devils besought him that he might be with him. 19 And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and [j] tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee. 20 And he went his way, and began to publish in [k] Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus had crossed over again in the boat unto the other side, a great multitude was gathered unto him: and he was by the sea. 22 [l] And there cometh one of [m] the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name; and seeing him, he falleth at his feet, 23 and beseecheth him much, saying, My little daughter is at the point of death: I pray thee, that thou come and [n] lay thy hands on her, that she may be [3] made whole, and live. 24 And he went with him; and a great multitude followed him, and they [o] thronged him.

25 And a woman, [p] which had an issue of blood twelve years, 26 and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, 27 having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and touched his garment. 28 For she said, If I touch but his garments, I shall be [3] made whole. 29 [q] And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her [4] [r] plague. 30 And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that [s] the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments? 31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? 32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. 33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. 34 And he said unto her, Daughter, [t] thy faith hath [5] made thee whole; [t] go in peace, and be whole of thy [4] [r] plague.

35 While he yet spake, they come from [u] the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why [v] troublest thou [w] the [6] Master any further? 36 But Jesus, [7] not heeding the word spoken, saith unto [u] the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe. 37 And he suffered no man to follow with him, save [x] Peter, and James, and [y] John the brother of James. 38 And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beholdeth a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly. 39 And when he was entered in, he saith unto them, [z] Why make ye a tumult, and weep? the child is not dead, but [a] sleepeth. 40 And they laughed him to scorn. But he, [b] having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was. 41 And [c] taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, [d] Arise. 42 And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement. 43 And [e] he charged them much that no man should know this: and he commanded that something should be given her to eat.

6 1 [f] And he went out from thence; and he cometh into [g] his own country; and his disciples follow him. 2 And [h] when the sabbath was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and [8] [i] many hearing him were astonished, saying, Whence hath this man these things?

and, What is the wisdom that is given unto this man, and what mean such [1] mighty works wrought by his hands? 3 [j] Is not this [k] the carpenter, the son of Mary, and [l] brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And [m] they were [2] offended in him. 4 And Jesus said unto them, [n] A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house. 5 And [o] he could there do no [3] mighty work, save that [p] he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them. 6 And [q] he marvelled because of their unbelief.

7 [s] And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits; 8 and he charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no bread, no wallet, no [4] [t] money in their [5] purse; 9 but to go [u] shod with sandals: and, said he, put not on two coats. 10 And he said unto them, Wheresoever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart thence. 11 And whatsoever place shall not receive you, and they hear you not, as ye go forth thence, [v] shake off the dust that is under your feet [w] for a testimony unto them. 12 [x] And they went out, and [y] preached [z] that men should repent. 13 [y] And they cast out many [6] devils, and [a] anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14 [b] And king Herod heard thereof; for his name had become known: and [7] he said, [c] John [8] the Baptist is risen from the dead, and therefore do these powers work in him. 15 [c] But others said, It is Elijah. And others said, It is [d] a prophet, even as one of the prophets. 16 But Herod, when he heard thereof, said, John, whom I beheaded, he is risen. 17 [e] For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and [f] bound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her. 18 [e] For John said unto Herod, [g] It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. 19 And Herodias [h] set herself against him, and desired to kill him; and she could not; 20 for Herod [i] feared John, knowing that he was a righteous man and a holy, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he [9] was much perplexed; and he [j] heard him gladly. 21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod [k] on his birthday [l] made a supper to his lords, and the [10] high captains, and the chief men of Galilee; 22 and when [11] the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, [12] she pleased Herod and them that sat at meat with him; and the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. 23 And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, [m] unto the half of my kingdom. 24 And she went out, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John [8] the Baptist. 25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou forthwith give me in a charger the head of John [8] the Baptist. 26 And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat, he would not reject her. 27 And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, 28 and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. 29 And when [n] his disciples heard thereof, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 [o] And [p] the apostles gather themselves together unto Jesus; and they told him all things, whatsoever they had done, and whatsoever they had taught. 31 And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while. For there were many coming and going, and [q] they had no leisure so much as to eat. 32 [r] And they went away in [s] the boat to a desert place apart. 33 And the people saw them going, and many [t] knew them, and they ran

there together [1] on foot from all the cities, and outwent them. 34 And he came forth and [u] saw a great multitude, and [u] he had compassion
on them, because they were as sheep
not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.
35 And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him,
and said, The place is desert, and the day is now far spent: 36 [v] send them away, that they may go into the country and villages round about, and buy themselves somewhat to eat. 37 But he answered
and said unto them, [w] Give ye them to eat. And [x] they say unto him, [y] Shall we go and buy two hundred [2] pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat? 38 And he saith unto them, How many loaves have ye?
go and see. And when they knew,
they say, [z] Five, and two fishes.
39 And he commanded them that all should [3] sit down by companies upon the green grass. 40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds,
and by fifties. 41 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and [a] looking up to heaven, [b] he blessed,
and brake the loaves; and he gave
to the disciples to set before them;
and the two fishes divided he among them all. 42 And they did all eat, and were filled. 43 And they took up broken pieces, twelve basketfuls,
and also of the fishes. 44 And they that ate the loaves were five thousand men.

45 [c] And straightway he [d] constrained his disciples to enter into [e] the boat, and to go before him
unto the other side [f] to Bethsaida, while he himself sendeth the multitude away. 46 And after he had taken leave of them, [g] he departed into the mountain to pray. 47 And when [h] even was come, the boat was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. 48 And seeing them distressed in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them, about [h] the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking on the sea; and [i] he would have passed by them: 49 but they, when they saw him walking on the sea, supposed that it was [j] an apparition, and cried out: 50 for they all saw him, and [k] were troubled. But he straightway spake with them, and saith unto them, [l] Be of good cheer: it is I; [l] be not afraid. 51 And he went up unto them into the boat; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves; 52 for [m] they understood not concerning the loaves, but their heart [n] was hardened.

God, and hold fast the tradition of men. 9 And he said unto them, Full well do ye [h]reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. 10 For Moses said, [i]Honour thy father and thy mother; and, [j]He that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him [1]die the death: 11 but ye say, If a man shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is [k]Corban, that is to say, Given to God; 12 ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; 13 [l]making void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things ye do. 14 And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, [m]Hear me all of you, and understand: 15 [n]there is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man.[2] 17 And when he was entered [o]into the house from the multitude, [p]his disciples asked of him the parable. 18 And he saith unto them, [q]Are ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, it cannot defile him; 19 because it goeth not into his heart, [r]but into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? [s]This he said, making all meats clean. 20 And he said, [t]That which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of men, [3][u]evil thoughts proceed, fornications, 22 thefts, [v]murders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, [w]lasciviousness, [x]an evil eye, [y]railing, [z]pride, [a]foolishness: 23 [b]all these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man.

24 And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre [4]and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he could not be hid. 25 But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. 26 [c]Now the woman was a [5][d]Greek, [e]a Syrophœnician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the [6]devil out of her daughter. 27 And he said unto her, Let the children [f]first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's [7]bread and [g]cast it to the dogs. 28 But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of the children's [h]crumbs. 29 And he said unto her, For this saying [i]go thy way; the [6]devil is gone out of thy daughter. 30 And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the [6]devil gone out.

31 [j]And again he went out from the borders of Tyre, and came through Sidon unto [k]the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the borders of [l]Decapolis. 32 And they bring unto him [m]one that was deaf, and [m]had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to [n]lay his hand upon him. 33 And [o]he took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and [o]he spat, and touched his tongue; 34 and [p]looking up to heaven, [q]he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. 35 [m]And his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. 36 And [r]he charged them that they should tell no man: but [s]the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it. 37 And they were [t]beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 1 [u]In those days, when there was again a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, 2 [v]I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: 3 and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint in the way; and some of them are come from far. 4 And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to fill these men with [8]bread here in a desert place? 5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, [w]Seven. 6 And he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and [x]having given thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set them before the multitude. 7 And they had a few small fishes: and [y] having blessed them, he commanded to set these also before them. 8 And [z] they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained over, [w] seven baskets. 9 And they were about four thousand: and he sent them away. 10 And straightway he entered into [a] the boat with his disciples, and came into the parts of [b] Dalmanutha.

11 [c] And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, [d] seeking of him [e] a sign from heaven, [f] tempting him. 12 And [g] he sighed deeply [h] in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation. 13 And [i] he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side.

14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, [j] beware of [k] the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of [l] Herod. 16 And they reasoned one with another, [1] saying, [2] We have no bread. 17 And [m] Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? [n] do ye not yet perceive, [o] neither understand? [o] have ye your heart hardened? 18 [p] Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake [q] the five loaves among the five thousand, how many [3] baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. 20 And when [r] the seven among the four thousand, how many [3] basketfuls of broken pieces took ye up? And they say unto him, Seven. 21 And he said unto them, Do ye not yet understand?

22 And they come [s] unto Bethsaida. And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. 23 And [t] he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when [t] he had [u] spit on his eyes, and [v] laid his hands upon him, he asked him, Seest thou aught? 24 And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I behold them as trees, walking. 25 Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored, and saw all things clearly. 26 And he sent him away to his home, saying, [w] Do not even enter into the village.

27 [x] And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæsarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am? 28 And they told him, saying, [y] John the Baptist: and others, [z] Elijah; but others, One of the prophets. 29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith unto him, [a] Thou art [b] the Christ. 30 [c] And he charged them that they should tell no man of him. 31 [d] And he began to teach them, that [e] the Son of man must [f] suffer many things, and [g] be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and [h] after three days rise again. 32 And he spake the saying [i] openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, [j] Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou [k] mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 34 And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him [l] deny himself, and [m] take up his cross, and follow me. 35 For [m] whosoever would save his [4] life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his [4] life for my sake [n] and the gospel's shall save it. 36 [o] For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his [4] life? 37 For [p] what should a man give in exchange for his [4] life? 38 For [q] whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this [r] adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, [s] when he cometh in the glory of his Father with [t] the holy angels.

wise [u]taste of death, [v]till they see the kingdom of God come [w]with power.

2 [x]And after six days Jesus taketh with him [y]Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was [z]transfigured before them: 3 and [a]his garments became glistering, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, [b]Rabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three [1][c]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 6 For [d]he wist not what to answer; for they became sore afraid. 7 And there came [e]a cloud overshadowing them: and there came [e]a voice out of the cloud, [f]This is my beloved Son: [g]hear ye him. 8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 [h]And as they were coming down from the mountain, [i]he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, [j]save when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead. 10 [k]And they kept the saying, [l]questioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean. 11 And they asked him, saying, [2]The scribes say [m]that Elijah must first come. 12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and [n]restoreth all things: and [o]how is it written of the Son of man, that he should [p]suffer many things and [q]be set at nought? 13 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and [r]they have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.

14 [s]And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, [t]were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them, What question ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude answered him, [3]Master, I brought unto thee my son, which hath [u]a dumb spirit; 18 and wheresoever it taketh him, it [4]dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and [v]they were not able. 19 And he answereth them and saith, O [w]faithless generation, [w]how long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit [5][x]tare him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. 22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but [y]if thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 And Jesus said unto him, [y]If thou canst! [z]All things are possible to him that believeth. 24 Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said[6], I believe; [a]help thou mine unbelief. 25 And when Jesus saw that [b]a multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, [c]Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And having cried out, and [5][x]torn him much, he came out: and the child became as one dead; insomuch that the more part said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus [d]took him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come [e]into the house, his disciples asked him privately, [7]saying, We could not cast it out. 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer[8].

30 [f]And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, [g]after three days he shall rise again. 32 [h]But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And [i]they came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house [j]he asked them, What were ye reason-

38 [o] John said unto him, [2] Master, we saw one [p] casting out [3] devils in thy name: and [q] we forbade him, because he followed not us. 39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a [4] mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil of me. 40 [r] For he that is not against us is for us. 41 For [s] whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, [5] [t] because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. 42 And [u] whosoever shall cause one of [v] these little ones that believe [6] on me to stumble, [w] it were better for him if [7] a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. 43 [x] And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into [8] [y] hell, into [z] the unquenchable fire.[9] 45 [a] And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet to be cast into [8] [y] hell. 47 [b] And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into [8] [y] hell; 48 where [c] their worm dieth not, and [d] the fire is not quenched. 49 For every one shall be salted with fire[10]. 50 [e] Salt is good: [f] but if the salt have lost its saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [g] Have salt in yourselves, and [h] be at peace one with another.

10 1 [i] And he arose from thence, and cometh [j] into the borders of Judæa and beyond Jordan: and multitudes come together unto him again; and, [k] as he was wont, he taught them again. 2 And there came unto him Pharisees, and asked him, [l] Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? [m] tempting him. 3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you? 4 And they said, [n] Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. 5 But Jesus said unto them, For your [o] hardness of heart he wrote you this commandment. 6 But [p] from the beginning of the creation, [q] Male and female made he them. 7 [r] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, [11] and shall cleave to his wife; 8 and [s] the twain shall become one flesh: so that they are no more twain, but one flesh. 9 [t] What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. 10 And in the house the disciples asked him again of this matter. 11 And he saith unto them, [u] Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her: 12 and [v] if she herself shall put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery.

13 [w] And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples [x] rebuked them. 14 But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, [y] Suffer the little children to come unto me; [z] forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. 15 [a] Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not [b] receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein. 16 And [c] he took them in his arms, and blessed them, [d] laying his hands upon them.

17 [e] And as he was going forth [12] into the way, there ran one to him, and [f] kneeled to him, and asked him, Good [2] Master, what shall I do that I may [g] inherit eternal life? 18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one, even God. 19 Thou knowest the commandments, [h] Do not kill, Do not commit adultery. Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. 20 And he said unto him, [1]Master, [i]all these things have I observed from my youth. 21 And Jesus [j]looking upon him [k]loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, [l]sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m]treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 22 [n]But his countenance fell at the saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

23 And Jesus [o]looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, [p]How hardly shall they that have riches enter into [q]the kingdom of God! 24 And the disciples [r]were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, [s]Children, [t]how hard is it [2]for them [u]that trust in riches to enter into [q]the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into [q]the kingdom of God. 26 And they were astonished exceedingly, saying [3]unto him, Then who can be saved? 27 Jesus [v]looking upon them saith, [w]With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with God. 28 Peter began to say unto him, Lo, [x]we have left all, and have followed thee. 29 Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, [y]There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands, for my sake, and [z]for the gospel's sake, 30 but he shall receive a hundredfold [a]now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, [b]with persecutions; and in [c]the [4]world to come eternal life. 31 But [d]many that are first shall be last; and the last first.

32 [e]And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and [f]Jesus was going before them: and [g]they were amazed; [5]and they that followed were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were to happen unto him, saying, 33 Behold, [h]we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall [i]condemn him to death, and shall [j]deliver him unto the Gentiles: 34 and they shall [k]mock him, and shall [l]spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and [m]after three days he shall rise again.

35 [n]And there come near unto him James and John, [o]the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, [1]Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us [p]whatsoever we shall ask of thee. 36 And he said unto them, [q]What would ye that I should do for you? 37 And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we [r]may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, [s]in thy glory. 38 But Jesus said unto them, [t]Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able [u]to drink the cup that I drink? or [v]to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? 39 And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, [w]The cup that I drink [x]ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal [y]shall ye be baptized: 40 but to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give: [z]but it is for them for whom it hath been [a]prepared. 41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John. 42 [b]And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles [c]lord it over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them. 43 But [d]it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your [6][e]minister: 44 and whosoever would be first among you, shall be [7][f]servant of all. 45 For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but [g]to minister, and [h]to give his life a ransom for [i]many.

46 [j]And they come to Jericho: and [k]as he went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timæus, Bartimæus, [l]a blind beggar, was sitting by the way side. 47 And when he heard that it was [m]Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. 48 And many [n]rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. 49 And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, [o]Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth thee. 50 And he, casting away his [p]garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. 51 And Jesus answered him, and said, [q]What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, [r]Rabboni, that I may receive my sight. 52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; [s]thy faith hath [1][t]made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way.

1 [u]And when they draw nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and [v]Bethany, at [w]the mount of Olives, he sendeth [x]two of his disciples, 2 and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you: and straightway as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, [y]whereon no man ever yet sat; loose him, and bring him. 3 And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he [2]will send him [3]back hither. 4 And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loose him. 5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? 6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had said: and they let them go. 7 And they bring the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and he sat upon him. 8 And many [z]spread their garments upon the way; and others [4]branches, which they had cut from the fields. 9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, [a]Hosanna; [b]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: 10 Blessed is [c]the kingdom that cometh, [d]the kingdom of [e]our father [c]David: [a]Hosanna [f]in the highest.

11 [g]And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, [h]he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

12 [i]And on the morrow, when they were come out from Bethany, [j]he hungered. 13 [k]And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for [l]it was not the season of figs. 14 And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 [m]And they come to Jerusalem: and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of [n]the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold [o]the doves; 16 and he would not suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the temple. 17 And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, [p]My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but [q]ye have made it a den of robbers. 18 And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and [r]sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for [s]all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

19 [t]And [5]every evening [6]he went forth out of the city.

20 [u]And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. 21 And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, [v]Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. 22 And Jesus answering saith unto them, [w]Have [x]faith in God. 23 [y]Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, [z]Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not [a]doubt in his heart, but shall [b]believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he shall have it. 24 Therefore I say unto you, [c]All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, [b]believe that ye [d]have received them, and ye shall have them. 25 And whensoever [e]ye stand praying, [f]forgive, [g]if ye have aught against any one; that [h]your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.[7]

27 [i]And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders; 28 and they said unto him, [j]By what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee this authority to do these things? 29 And Jesus said unto them, I will ask of you one [1] question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. 30 The baptism of John, was it [k] from heaven, or from men? answer me. 31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, [l] Why then did ye not believe him? 32 [2] But should we say, From men—[m] they feared the people: [3] for all verily held John to be [n] a prophet. 33 And they answered Jesus and say, We know not. And Jesus saith unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

12 1 [o] And he began to speak unto them in parables. A man planted [p] a vineyard, [q] and set a hedge about it, and digged [r] a pit for the winepress, and built a tower, and [s] let it out to husbandmen, and [t] went into another country. 2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a [4] servant, that he might [s] receive from the husbandmen of the fruits of the vineyard. 3 [u] And they took him, and beat him, and sent him away empty. 4 [u] And again [v] he sent unto them another [4] servant; and him [w] they wounded in the head, and [x] handled shamefully. 5 [u] And he sent another; and him they killed: and many others; beating some, and killing some. 6 He had yet one, [y] a beloved son: he sent him [z] last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son. 7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, [a] This is the heir; come, [b] let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours. 8 And they took him, and killed him, and [c] cast him forth out of the vineyard. 9 What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? [d] he will [e] come and destroy the husbandmen, and [f] will give the vineyard unto others. 10 [g] Have ye not read even [h] this scripture;

The same was made the head of the corner:
11 This was from the Lord,
And it is marvellous in our eyes?

13 [m] And they send unto him certain of [n] the Pharisees and of [n] the Herodians, that they might [o] catch him in talk. 14 And when they were come, they say unto him, [5] Master, [p] we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one: for [q] thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest [r] the way of God: Is it lawful to give [s] tribute unto [t] Cæsar, or not? 15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing [u] their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why [v] tempt ye me? bring me [w] a [6] penny, that I may see it. 16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cæsar's. 17 And Jesus said unto them, [x] Render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. And they marvelled greatly at him.

18 And there come unto him [y] Sadducees, [z] which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying, 19 [5] Master, Moses wrote unto us, [a] If a man's brother die, and leave a wife behind him, and leave no child, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 20 There were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed; 21 and the second took her, and died, leaving no seed behind him; and the third likewise: 22 and the seven left no seed. Last of all the woman also died. 23 In the resurrection whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife. 24 Jesus said unto them, Is it not for this cause that ye err, that [b] ye know not the scriptures, nor [c] the power of God? 25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither [d] marry, nor [d] are given in marriage; but are as angels in heaven. 26 But as touching the dead, that they are raised; [e] have ye not read in [f] the book of Moses, [g] in [h] the place concerning the Bush, how God spake unto him, saying, [i] I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? 27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

28 [j] And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? 29 Jesus answered, The first is, [k] Hear, O Israel; [1] The Lord our God, [l] the Lord is one: 30 and thou shalt love the Lord thy God [2] with all thy heart, and [2] with all thy soul, and [2] with all thy mind, and [2] with all thy strength. 31 [m] The second is this, [n] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment [o] greater than these. 32 And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, [3] Master, thou hast well said that [l] he is one; and [p] there is none other but he: 33 and to love him with all the heart, and with all [q] the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, [r] is much more than all [s] whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. 34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. [t] And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 [u] And Jesus answered and said, as [v] he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that [w] the Christ is the son of David? 36 David himself said [x] in the Holy Spirit,

[y] The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,
Till I make thine enemies [4] [z] the footstool of thy feet.

37 David himself calleth him Lord; and [a] whence is he his son? And [5] the common people [b] heard him gladly.

38 [c] And in his teaching he said, Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and to have salutations in the marketplaces, 39 and chief seats in the synagogues, and [d] chief places at feasts: 40 they [e] which devour widows' houses, [6] and [f] for a pretence make long prayers; these shall receive [g] greater condemnation.

41 [h] And he sat down over against [i] the treasury, and beheld how the multitude [j] cast [7] [k] money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. 42 And there came [8] a poor widow, and she cast in two [l] mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [m] This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the treasury: 44 for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her [n] want did cast in all that she had, even all her [o] living.

13 1 [p] And as he went forth out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, [8] Master, behold, what manner of stones and what manner of buildings! 2 And Jesus said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? [q] there shall not be left here one stone upon another, which shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on [r] the mount of Olives over against the temple, [s] Peter and James and John and [t] Andrew asked him [u] privately, 4 Tell us, [v] when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are all about to be accomplished? 5 And Jesus began to say unto them, [w] Take heed that no man lead you astray. 6 [x] Many shall come in my name, saying, [y] I am he; and shall lead many astray. 7 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, [z] be not troubled: these things [a] must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 8 For [b] nation shall rise against nation, and [c] kingdom against kingdom: there shall be [d] earthquakes in divers places; there shall be [e] famines: these things are the beginning of travail.

9 [f] But [g] take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to [h] councils; and [i] in synagogues shall ye be beaten; and before [j] governors and [k] kings shall ye stand for my sake, [l] for a testimony unto them. 10 And the gospel must first be preached [m] unto all the nations. 11 And when they lead you to judgement, and deliver you up, [n] be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak: but [o] whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: [p] for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. 12 [q] And brother

shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and [1] cause them to be put to death. 13 [r] And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: [s] but he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.

14 But when ye see [t] the abomination of desolation standing where he ought not [u] (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: 15 and [v] let him that is on [w] the housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house: 16 and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. 17 But [x] woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! 18 And pray ye that it be not in the winter. 19 For those days shall be [y] tribulation, [z] such as there hath not been the like [a] from the beginning of the creation which [b] God created until now, and never shall be. 20 And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for [c] the elect's sake, whom [d] he chose, he shortened the days. 21 And [e] then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ; or, Lo, there; 22 believe [2] it not: for there shall arise [f] false Christs and false prophets, and [g] shall shew signs and wonders, [h] that they may lead astray, if possible, [i] the elect. 23 But [j] take ye heed: behold, [k] I have told you all things beforehand.

24 But in those days, after [l] that tribulation, [m] the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, 25 and [n] the stars shall be falling from heaven, and the powers that are in the heavens shall be shaken. 26 And then shall they see [o] the Son of man coming in clouds [p] with great power and glory. 27 And then [q] shall he send forth the angels, and shall [r] gather together [s] his elect from [t] the four winds, from [u] the uttermost part of the earth [v] to the uttermost part of heaven.

28 Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; 29 even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that [3] he is nigh, even [w] at the doors. 30 [x] Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, until all these things be accomplished. 31 [y] Heaven and earth shall pass away: but [z] my words shall not pass away. 32 But of that day or that hour [a] knoweth no one, not even the angels in heaven, [b] neither the Son, [c] but the Father. 33 [d] Take ye heed, [e] watch [4] and pray: for ye know not when the time is. 34 [f] It is as when a man, [g] sojourning in another country, having left his house, and given authority to his [5] servants, [h] to each one his work, commanded also [i] the porter to watch. 35 [j] Watch therefore: for ye know not when the lord of the house cometh, whether [k] at even, or [k] at midnight, or [l] at cockcrowing, or [m] in the morning; 36 lest [n] coming suddenly he [o] find you sleeping. 37 And what I say unto you I say unto all, [j] Watch.

1 [p] Now after two days was the feast of [q] the passover and the unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes [r] sought how they might take him with subtilty, and kill him: 2 for they said, Not during the feast, [s] lest haply there shall be a tumult of the people.

3 [t] And while he was in [u] Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having [6] an alabaster cruse of ointment of [7] spikenard very costly; and she brake the cruse, and poured it over his head. 4 But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the ointment been made? 5 For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred [8] pence, and [v] given to the poor. 6 And they [w] murmured against her. But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me. 7 For [x] ye have the poor always with you, and whensoever [y] ye will ye can do them good: but [z] me ye have not always. 8 [a] She hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand for [b] the burying. 9 And verily I say unto you, Wheresoever [c] the gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of [d] for a memorial of her.

[1] Or, put them to death [2] Or, him [3] Or, it [4] Some ancient authorities omit and pray. [5] Gr. bondservants. [6] Or, a flask [7] Gr. pistic nard, pistic being perhaps a local name. Others take it to mean genuine; others, liquid. [8] See marginal note on ch. 12. 15.

10 [e] And [f] Judas Iscariot, [1] he that was one of the twelve, [f] went away unto the chief priests, that he might deliver him unto them. 11 And they, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently [g] deliver him unto them.

12 [h] And on [i] the first day of unleavened bread, when they [j] sacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat the passover? 13 And he sendeth [k] two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him; 14 and wheresoever he shall enter in, say to the goodman of the house, [l] The [2] Master saith, Where is my [m] guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 15 And he will himself shew you [n] a large upper room furnished and ready: and there make ready for us. 16 And the disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17 [o] And when it was evening he cometh with the twelve. 18 And as they [3] sat and were eating, [p] Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me, even [q] he that eateth with me. 19 They began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? 20 And he said unto them, It is [r] one of the twelve, [q] he that dippeth with me in the dish. 21 For the Son of man goeth, [s] even as it is written of him: but [t] woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! [u] good were it [4] for that man if he had not been born.

22 [v] And as they were eating, he took [5] bread, and when he had [w] blessed, he brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take ye: [x] this is my body. 23 And he took a cup, and when he had [y] given thanks, he gave to them: and they all drank of it. 24 And he said unto them, [x] This is my [z] blood of [6] the [7] covenant, which is shed for [a] many. 25 Verily I say unto you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 [b] And when they had sung a hymn, [c] they went out unto [d] the mount of Olives.

27 And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be [8] [e] offended: for it is written, I will [f] smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. 28 Howbeit, after I am raised up, [g] I will go before you into Galilee. 29 But [h] Peter said unto him, Although all shall be [8] [e] offended, yet will not I. 30 And [i] Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou to-day, even this night, before [j] the cock crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. 31 But [k] he spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

32 [l] And they come [c] unto [9] a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I pray. 33 And he taketh with him [m] Peter and James and John, and began [n] to be greatly amazed, and sore troubled. 34 And he saith unto them, [o] My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death: abide ye here, and [p] watch. 35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, [q] and prayed that, if it were possible, [r] the hour might pass away from him. 36 And he said, [s] Abba, Father, [t] all things are possible unto thee; remove [u] this cup from me: [v] howbeit not what I will, but what thou wilt. 37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour? 38 [10] [p] Watch and [w] pray, that ye [x] enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. 39 And again he went away, and prayed, [y] saying the same words. 40 And again he came, and found them sleeping, for [z] their eyes were very heavy; and [a] they wist not what to answer him. 41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: [b] It is enough; [c] the hour is come; behold, [d] the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Arise, let us be going: behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 [e] And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh [f] Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him away safely. 45 And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, [g] Rabbi; and [1] [h] kissed him. 46 And they laid hands on him, and took him. 47 But a certain one of them that stood by drew his [i] sword, and smote the [2] servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me? 49 [j] I was daily with you in the temple [k] teaching, and ye took me not: but [l] this is done that the scriptures might be fulfilled. 50 [m] And they all left him, and fled.

53 [o] And [p] they led Jesus away to the high priest: and there come together with him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. 54 [p] And [q] Peter had followed him afar off, [r] even within, into [s] the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with [t] the officers, and [u] warming himself in the light of the fire. 55 Now the chief priests and the whole [v] council sought witness against Jesus to put him to death; and found it not. 56 [w] For many bare false witness against him, and their witness [x] agreed not together. 57 And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 [y] We heard him say, [z] I will destroy this [3] temple [a] that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another [b] made without hands. 59 And not even so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 61 But [c] he held his peace, and answered nothing. [d] Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou [e] the Christ, the Son of [f] the Blessed? 62 And Jesus said, I am: and [g] ye shall see the Son of man [h] sitting at the right hand of power, and [g] coming with the clouds of heaven. 63 And the high priest [i] rent his clothes, and saith, What further need have we of witnesses? 64 Ye have heard [j] the blasphemy: what think ye? And they [k] all condemned him to be [4] [l] worthy of death. 65 [m] And some began [n] to spit on him, and [o] to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the officers received him [p] with [5] blows of their hands.

66 [q] And as Peter was beneath in [r] the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest; 67 and seeing Peter [r] warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with [s] the Nazarene, even Jesus. 68 But he denied, saying, [6] I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest: and he went out into the [7] porch; [8] and [t] the cock crew. 69 And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. 70 But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art a Galilæan. 71 But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. 72 And straightway [u] the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, [v] Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt [w] deny me thrice. [9] And when he thought thereon, he wept.

15 1 [x] And straightway in the morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, [y] held a consultation, and [z] bound Jesus, and [a] carried him away, and [b] delivered him up to [c] Pilate. 2 [d] And Pilate asked him, [e] Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering saith unto him, [f] Thou sayest. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things.

4 And Pilate again asked him, saying, [g]Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. 5 But Jesus [g]no more answered anything; insomuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 [h]Now at [1]the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. 7 And there was one called Barabbas, lying bound with them that had [i]made insurrection, [j]men who in the insurrection had committed murder. 8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. 9 And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 10 For he perceived that [k]for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him [l]whom ye call the King of the Jews? 13 And they cried out again, Crucify him. 14 And Pilate said unto them, Why, [m]what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. 15 And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had [n]scourged him, to be crucified.

16 [o]And the soldiers led him away within [p]the court, which is [q]the [2]Prætorium; and they call together the whole [3][r]band. 17 And they clothe him with [s]purple, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it on him; 18 and they began to salute him, Hail, [t]King of the Jews! 19 And they smote his head with a reed, and [u]did spit upon him, and bowing their knees [v]worshipped him. 20 And when they had [w]mocked him, they took off from him [s]the purple, and put on him his garments. And they [x]lead him out to crucify him.

21 [y]And they [4][z]compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and [a]Rufus, to go with them, that he might [y]bear his cross. 22 [b]And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they offered him wine mingled with [c]myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And they crucify him, and [d]part his garments among them, casting lots upon them, what each should take. 25 And [e]it was the third hour, and they crucified him. 26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, [f]THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucify two [g]robbers; [h]one on his right hand, and one on his left.[5] 29 And [i]they that passed by railed on him, [j]wagging their heads, and saying, [k]Ha! [l]thou that destroyest the [6]temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself, 30 and come down from the cross. 31 In like manner also the chief priests mocking him among themselves with the scribes said, [m]He saved others; [7][n]himself he cannot save. 32 Let [o]the Christ, [p]the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may [q]see and believe. [r]And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole [8]land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour Jesus [s]cried with a loud voice, [t]Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, [9]why hast thou forsaken me? 35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah. 36 And one ran, and filling a sponge full of [u]vinegar, put it on a reed, [v]and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to take him down. 37 And Jesus [w]uttered a loud voice, and [x]gave up the ghost. 38 And [y]the veil of the [6]temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. 39 [z]And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he [10]so gave up the ghost, he said, [a]Truly this man was [11][b]the Son of God. 40 And there were also [c]women beholding [d]from afar: among whom were both [e]Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James [f]the [12]less and of Joses, and [g]Salome; 41 who, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and [e]ministered unto him; and many other women which [h]came up with him unto Jerusalem.

42 [i]And when even was now come, because it was [j]the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, 43 there came Joseph of Arimathæa, a councillor of [k]honourable estate, who also himself [l]was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went in unto Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him [m]the centurion, he asked him whether he [1]had been any while dead. 45 And when he learned it of [m]the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. 46 And he bought [n]a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and [o]laid him in a tomb [p]which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled [q]a stone against the door of the tomb. 47 And [r]Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

16 1 [s]And [t]when the sabbath was past, [u]Mary Magdalene, and [u]Mary the mother of James, and [g]Salome, [v]bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. 2 And very early on the first day of the week, they come to the tomb when the sun was risen. 3 And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away [w]the stone from the door of the tomb? 4 and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back: for [x]it was exceeding great. 5 And [y]entering into the tomb, they saw [z]a young man sitting on the right side, [a]arrayed in [b]a white robe; and [c]they were amazed. 6 And he saith unto them, [c]Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, [d]the Nazarene, which hath been crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold, the place where they laid him! 7 But go, tell his disciples and Peter, [e]He goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, [e]as he said unto you. 8 And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them: and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

9 [2]Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, [f]he appeared first to [g]Mary Magdalene, [g]from whom he had cast out seven [3]devils. 10 [h]She went and told them that had been with him, [i]as they [j]mourned and wept. 11 And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her [k]disbelieved.

12 [l]And after these things [m]he was manifested in [n]another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. 13 [o]And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

14 And afterward [m]he was manifested [p]unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and he upbraided them with their [q]unbelief and [r]hardness of heart, because [s]they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. 15 And he said unto them, [t]Go ye into all the world, and [u]preach the gospel to [v]the whole creation. 16 [w]He that believeth and [x]is baptized [y]shall be saved; but [w]he that [z]disbelieveth shall be condemned. 17 And [a]these signs shall follow them that believe: [b]in my name shall they cast out [3]devils; [c]they shall speak with [4]new tongues; 18 [d]they shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; [e]they shall lay hands [f]on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 So then the Lord Jesus, [g]after he had spoken unto them, [h]was received up into heaven, and [i]sat down at the right hand of God. 20 And they went forth, and preached everywhere, [j]the Lord working with them, and confirming [k]the word [l]by the signs that followed. Amen.

S. LUKE.

1 FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which [a]have been [1]fulfilled among us, 2 [b]even as they [c]delivered them unto us, which [d]from the beginning were [e]eyewitnesses and [f]ministers of [g]the word, 3 it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee [h]in order, [i]most excellent [j]Theophilus; 4 that thou mightest know [k]the certainty concerning the [2]things [3]wherein [l]thou wast instructed.

5 THERE was [m]in the days of Herod, king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, [n]of [o]the course of Abijah: and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. 6 And they were both [p]righteous before God, [q]walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord [r]blameless. 7 And they had no child, because that [s]Elisabeth was barren, and [t]they both were now [4]well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, [u]while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of [v]his course, 9 according to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was [w]to enter into [x]the [5]temple of the Lord and burn incense. 10 And the whole multitude of the people [y]were praying [z]without at the hour of incense. 11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of [a]the altar of incense. 12 And [b]Zacharias was troubled when he saw him, and [c]fear fell upon him. 13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because [d]thy supplication is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and [e]thou shalt call his name John. 14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall [f]rejoice at his birth. 15 For he shall be [g]great in the sight of the Lord, and [h]he shall drink no wine nor [6]strong [i]drink; and [i]he shall be [j]filled with the [7]Holy Ghost, [k]even from his mother's womb. 16 And many of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. 17 And [l]he shall [8]go before his face [m]in the spirit and power of Elijah, [n]to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and [o]the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; [p]to make ready for the Lord a people prepared for him. 18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, [q]Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife [9]well stricken in years. 19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am [r]Gabriel, [s]that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring thee these good tidings. 20 And behold, [t]thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season. 21 And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they marvelled [10]while he tarried in [u]the [5]temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in [u]the [5]temple: and [v]he continued making signs unto them, and remained dumb. 23 And it came to pass, [w]when the days of his [x]ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house.

24 And after these days Elisabeth his wife conceived; and she hid herself five months, saying, 25 Thus hath the Lord done unto me in the days wherein he looked upon me,

[y] to take away my reproach among men.

26 Now in the sixth month the angel [z] Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named [a] Nazareth, 27 [b] to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, [c] of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou [d] that art [1] highly favoured, [e] the Lord is with thee[2]. 29 But [f] she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. 30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for [g] thou hast found [3] favour with God. 31 And behold, [h] thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and [i] shalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and [j] shall be called the Son of [k] the Most High: and the Lord God [l] shall give unto him the throne of [m] his father David: 33 and he shall reign over the house of Jacob [4] [n] for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, [o] The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of [k] the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also [5] that which [6] is to be born [7] [j] shall be called [p] holy, [q] the Son of God. 36 And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her [r] that [8] was called barren. 37 For [s] no word from God shall be void of power. 38 And Mary said, Behold, the [9] handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And [t] the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in these days and went into [u] the hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth [v] was filled with the Holy Ghost; 42 and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, [w] Blessed art thou among women, and [x] blessed is [y] the fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of [z] my Lord should come unto me? 44 For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. 45 And [a] blessed is she that [10] [b] believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. 46 And Mary said,

[c] My [d] soul doth [e] magnify the Lord,
47 [f] And my [d] spirit hath rejoiced
in [g] God my Saviour.
48 For [h] he hath looked upon the low estate of his [11] handmaiden:
For behold, from henceforth all generations [i] shall call me blessed.
49 For [j] he that is mighty [k] hath done to me great things;
And [l] holy is his name.
50 And [m] his mercy is unto generations and generations
On them that fear him.
51 [n] He hath shewed strength with his arm;
[o] He hath scattered the proud [12] in the imagination of their heart.
52 [p] He hath put down princes from their thrones,
[o] And hath exalted them of low degree.
53 [q] The hungry he hath filled with good things;
And the rich [r] he hath sent empty
away.
54 He hath [s] holpen [t] Israel his servant,
[u] That he might remember mercy
55 [v] (As he spake unto our fathers)
[u] Toward Abraham and his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.

57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord [w] had magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass [x] on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him

Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; [y]but he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 62 And [z]they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. 63 And he asked for [a]a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, [y]His name is John. 64 And they marvelled all. [b]And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue [c]loosed, and he spake, [d]blessing God. 65 And [e]fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all [f]the hill country of Judæa. 66 And all that heard them [g]laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For [h]the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias [i]was filled with the Holy Ghost, and [j]prophesied, saying,

80 [n]And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was [o]in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

2 1 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out [p]a decree from [q]Cæsar Augustus, that all [4]the world should be [r]enrolled. 2 This was the first [r]enrolment made when Quirinius [s]was governor of Syria. 3 And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up [t]from Galilee, out of the city of [u]Nazareth, into Judæa, to [v]the city of David, which is called [w]Bethlehem, [x]because he was of the house and family of David; 5 to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being great with child. 6 And it came to pass, [w]while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered. 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son; and she [y]wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and [z]laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in [a]the inn.

8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping [5]watch by night over their flock. 9 And an angel of the Lord [b]stood by them, and [c]the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. 10 And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all [d]the people: 11 for [e]there is born to you this day in [f]the city of David [g]a Saviour, which is [6][h]Christ [i]the Lord. 12 And [j]this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe [k]wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. 13 And suddenly there was with the angel [l]a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

[1] Or, heart of mercy [2] Or, Wherein [3] Many ancient authorities read hath visited us. [4] Gr. the inhabited earth. [5] Or, night-watches [6] Or, Anointed Lord

[n] And on earth [1] [o] peace [p] among [2] men in whom he is well pleased.

15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this [3] thing that is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. 16 And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe [q] lying in the manger. 17 And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spoken to them about this child. 18 And all that heard it wondered at the things which were spoken unto them by the shepherds. 19 But [r] Mary kept all these [4] sayings, pondering them in her heart. 20 And the shepherds returned, [s] glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken unto them.

21 And [t] when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, [u] his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And [v] when the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, [w] to present him to the Lord 23 (as it is written in [x] the law of the Lord, [y] Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord), 24 and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in [x] the law of the Lord, [z] A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. 25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was [a] righteous and [b] devout, [c] looking for [d] the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26 And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not [e] see death, before he had seen [f] the Lord's Christ. 27 And he came [g] in the Spirit into the temple: and when [h] the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of the law, 28 then he received him into his arms, and [i] blessed God, and said,

29 Now [j] lettest thou thy [5] servant depart, O [6] Lord, [k] According to thy word, [l] in peace;
30 For [m] mine eyes have seen thy [n] salvation,
31 [o] Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;
32 [p] A light for [7] [q] revelation to the Gentiles,
And [r] the glory of [s] thy people Israel.

33 And [t] his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were spoken concerning him; 34 and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set [u] for the falling and rising up of many in Israel; and for a sign [v] which is spoken against; 35 yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna, [w] a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was [8] of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, 37 and she had been a widow even for fourscore and four years), which departed not from the temple, [x] worshipping with [y] fastings and supplications night and day. 38 And coming up at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were [z] looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. 39 And when they had accomplished all things that were according to [a] the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city [b] Nazareth.

40 [c] And the child grew, and waxed strong, [9] filled with wisdom: and [d] the grace of God was upon him.

41 And [e] his parents went [f] every year to Jerusalem at [g] the feast of the passover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, [h] they went up after the custom of the feast; 43 and when they had fulfilled [i] the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and [e] his parents knew it not; 44 but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance: 45 and when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking for him. 46 And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, [j] sitting in the midst of [k] the [1] doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: 47 and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. 48 And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, [2] Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, [l] thy father and I sought thee sorrowing. 49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that [m] I must be [3][n] in [o] my Father's house? 50 And [p] they understood not the saying which he spake unto them. 51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and [q] his mother kept all these [4] sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus [r] advanced in wisdom and [5][s] stature, and in [6][r] favour with God and men.

3 1 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of [t] Tiberius Cæsar, [u] Pontius Pilate [v] being governor of Judæa, and [w] Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituræa and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, 2 in [x] the high-priesthood of Annas and [y] Caiaphas, [z] the word of God came unto [a] John the son of Zacharias in [b] the wilderness. 3 And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching [c] the baptism of repentance [d] unto remission of sins; 4 as it is written in [e] the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

[f] The voice of one crying in the wilderness,
[g] Make ye ready the way of the Lord,
Make his paths straight.
5 [h] Every valley shall be filled,
[i] And every mountain and hill shall be brought low;
[j] And the crooked shall become straight,
And the rough ways smooth;
6 [k] And all flesh shall see [l] the salvation of God.

7 He said therefore to the multitudes that went out to be baptized of him, [m] Ye offspring of [n] vipers, who warned you to flee from [o] the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits [p] worthy of [7] repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, [q] We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of [r] these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. 9 And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: [s] every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 10 And the multitudes asked him, saying, [t] What then must we do? 11 And he answered and said unto them, [u] He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise. 12 And [v] there came also [8] publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, [9] Master, [t] what must we do? 13 And he said unto them, [w] Extort no more than that which is appointed you. 14 And [10][x] soldiers also asked him, saying, And we, [t] what must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither [11][w] exact anything wrongfully; and be content with your [y] wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, [z] whether haply he were [a] the Christ; 16 [b] John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but [c] there cometh he that is mightier than I, [d] the latchet of whose shoes I am not [12] worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you [13][e] with the Holy Ghost and with [f] fire: 17 whose [g] fan is in his hand, throughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to [h] gather the wheat into his garner; [i] but the chaff he will burn up with [j] unquenchable fire.

18 [k] With many other exhortations therefore preached he [14] good tidings unto the people; 19 but [l] Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother's wife, and for all the evil things which Herod had done, 20 added yet this above all, that [m] he shut up John in prison.

21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that, [n] Jesus also having been baptized, and praying, [o] the heaven was opened, 22 and [p] the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and [q] a voice came out of heaven, [r] Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

19 [q] To proclaim the acceptable
year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the [1] book, and gave it back to the attendant, and [r] sat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were [s] fastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, To-day [t] hath [u] this scripture been fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at [v] the words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, [w] Is not this [x] Joseph's son? 23 And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, [y] Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done [z] at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, [a] No prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25 But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when [b] the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land; 26 and unto none of them was Elijah sent, [c] but only to [2] Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. 27 And [d] there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, [e] but only Naaman the Syrian. 28 And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things; 29 and they rose up, and [f] cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 30 But he [g] passing through the midst of them went his way.

31 [h] And he [i] came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And [j] he was teaching them [k] on the sabbath day: 32 and [l] they were astonished at his teaching; [l] for his word was with authority. 33 And [j] in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean [3] devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 [4] Ah! [m] what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? [n] I know thee who thou art, [o] the Holy One of God. 35 And Jesus [p] rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the [3] devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. 36 And [q] amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one with another, saying, What is [5] this word? [q] for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. 37 And [r] there went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

38 [s] And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And [t] Simon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her. 39 And he stood over her, and [u] rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and [v] he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 41 [w] And [6] devils also came out from many, [x] crying out, and saying, Thou art [y] the Son of God. And rebuking them, [w] he suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was [z] the Christ.

42 [a] And when it was day, he came out and went [b] into a desert place: and [c] the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. 43 But he said unto them, [d] I must [e] preach the [7] good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

1 Now it came to pass, while the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by [h] the lake of Gennesaret; 2 [i] and he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were [j] washing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. And [k] he sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. 4 And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, [l] Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon answered and said, Master, [m] we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the nets. 6 And when they had this done, [n] they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and [n] their nets were breaking; 7 and they beckoned unto [o] their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. 8 But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, [p] Depart from me; for [q] I am a sinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; 10 and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt [1] [r] catch men. 11 And when they had brought their boats to land, [s] they left all, and followed him.

12 And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities; [t] behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he [u] fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, [v] if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 13 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him. 14 And he charged him [w] to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew [x] thyself to the priest, and [y] offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, [z] for a testimony unto them. 15 [a] But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. 16 But [b] he withdrew himself in the deserts, and [b] prayed.

17 And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and [c] doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem: and [d] the power of the Lord was with him [2] to heal. 18 [e] And behold, men bring [f] on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him before him. 19 And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to [g] the housetop, and let him down [h] through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus. 20 And [i] seeing their faith, he said, Man, [j] thy sins are forgiven thee. 21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh [k] blasphemies? [l] Who can forgive sins, but God alone? 22 But Jesus [m] perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, [3] What reason ye in your hearts? 23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk? 24 But that ye may know that [n] the Son of man hath [4] power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house. 25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his house, [o] glorifying God. 26 And amazement took hold on all, and they [o] glorified God; and they were filled [o] with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

27 [p] And after these things he went forth, and beheld [q] a publican, named [r] Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said unto him, Follow me. 28 And [s] he forsook all, and rose up and followed him. 29 And Levi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude [t] of publicans and of others that were sitting at meat with them. 30 And [5] the Pharisees and [u] their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, [v] Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? 31 And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but they that are sick. 32 [w] I am not come to call the righteous [x] but sinners [y] to repentance. 33 And they said unto him, [z] The disciples of John [a] fast often, and [a] make supplications; [b] likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. 34 And Jesus said unto them, [c] Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? 35 But [d] the days will come; and when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, [e]then will they fast in those days. 36 And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old [1][f]wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins will perish. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wine-skins. 39 And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is [2]good.

6 1 [g]Now it came to pass on a [3]sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples [h]plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. 2 But certain of the Pharisees said, [i]Why do ye [j]that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? 3 And Jesus answering them said, [k]Have ye not read even this, [l]what David did, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; 4 how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat [m]the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; [m]which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests alone? 5 And he said unto them, [n]The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

6 And it came to pass on another sabbath, that [o]he entered into the synagogue [p]and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. 7 And the scribes and the Pharisees [q]watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; [r]that they might find how to accuse him. 8 But [s]he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. 9 And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, [t]Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? 10 And [u]he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And [v]he did so: and his hand was restored. 11 But they were filled with [4][w]madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

12 And it came to pass in these days, that [x]he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. 13 And when it was day, [y]he called his disciples: [z]and [a]he chose from them twelve, whom also he named [b]apostles; 14 Simon, [c]whom he also named Peter, and [d]Andrew his brother, and [d]James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, 15 and [e]Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Simon which was called [f]the Zealot, 16 and [g]Judas the [5]son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was the traitor; 17 and [h]he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and [i]a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judæa and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of [j]Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; 18 and [k]they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. 19 And all the multitude [l]sought to touch him: for [m]power came forth from him, and healed them all.

20 And [n]he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, [o]and said, Blessed are [p]ye poor: for [q]yours is the kingdom of God. 21 [r]Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. [s]Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. 22 Blessed are ye, when [t]men shall hate you, and when they shall [u]separate you from their company, and [v]reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, [w]for the Son of man's sake. 23 [x]Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for [y]in the same manner did their fathers unto the prophets. 24 [z]But woe unto you that are rich! [a]for ye [b]have received your consolation. 25 Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for [c]ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, [d]ye that laugh now! [d]for ye shall mourn and weep. 26 Woe unto you, [e]when all men shall speak well of you! for [f]in the same manner did their fathers to [g]the false prophets.

27 But I say unto you which hear, [h]Love your enemies, [i]do good to them that hate you, 28 [j]bless them that curse you, [h] pray for them that despitefully use you. 29 [k] To him that [l] smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; and from him that taketh away thy cloke withhold not thy coat also. 30 [m] Give to every one that asketh thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. 31 And [n] as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. 32 And [o] if ye love them that love you, what thank have ye? for even sinners love those that love them. 33 And if ye do good to them that do good to you, what thank have ye? for even sinners do the same. 34 And [p] if ye [q] lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? even sinners lend to sinners, to receive again as much. 35 But [r] love your enemies, and do them good, and lend, [1] never [s] despairing; and your reward shall be great, and [t] ye shall be sons of [u] the Most High: for [v] he is kind toward the unthankful and evil. 36 [w] Be ye merciful, even as [x] your Father is merciful. 37 [y] And [z] judge not, and ye shall not be judged: and condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: [z] release, and ye shall be released: [a] give, and it shall be given unto you; 38 good measure, pressed down, shaken together, running over, shall they give [b] into your bosom. For [c] with what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake also a parable unto them, [d] Can the blind guide the blind? shall they not both fall into a pit? 40 [e] The disciple is not above his [2] master: but every one when he is [f] perfected shall be as his [2] master. 41 [y] And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but [g] considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 42 Or how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me cast out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye. 43 For [h] there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit; nor again a corrupt tree that bringeth forth good fruit. 44 For [i] each tree is known by its own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes. 45 [j] The good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and the evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth [k] that which is evil: [l] for out of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 And [m] why [n] call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say? 47 [o] Every one that cometh unto me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: 48 he is like a man building a house, who digged and went deep, and laid a foundation upon the rock: and when a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it: [3] because it had been well builded. 49 [p] But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth without a foundation; against which the stream brake, and straightway it fell in; and [q] the ruin of that house was great.

1 After he had ended all his sayings in the ears of the people, [r] he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurion's [4] servant, who was [5] dear unto him, was sick and at the point of death. 3 And when he heard concerning Jesus, [s] he sent unto him elders of the Jews, asking him that he would come and save his [4] servant. 4 And they, when they came to Jesus, besought him earnestly, saying, [t] He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him: 5 for he loveth our nation, and himself built us [u] our synagogue. 6 And Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, [v] trouble not thyself: for I am not [6] worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: 7 wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but [7] [w] say the word, and my [8] servant shall be healed. 8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my [1]servant, Do this, and he doeth it. 9 And when Jesus heard these things, [x]he marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great [y]faith, no, not in Israel. 10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the [1]servant whole.

11 And it came to pass [2]soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a great multitude. 12 Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, [z]the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. 13 And when the Lord saw her, [a]he had compassion on her, and [b]said unto her, Weep not. 14 And he came nigh and touched [c]the bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, [d]Arise. 15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And [e]he gave him to his mother. 16 And fear took hold on all: and [f]they glorified God, saying, [g]A great prophet is arisen among us: and, [h]God hath visited his people. 17 And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judæa, and all the region round about.

18 [i]And [j]the disciples of John told him of all these things. 19 And John calling unto him [3]two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou [k]he that cometh, or [l]look we for another? 20 And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou [k]he that cometh, or [l]look we for another? 21 In that hour, [m]he cured many of diseases and [4][n]plagues and evil spirits; and [o]on many that were blind he bestowed sight. 22 And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; [p]the blind receive their sight, the lame walk, [q]the lepers are cleansed, and [r]the deaf hear, [s]the dead are raised up, [t]the poor have [5]good tidings preached to them. 23 And blessed is he, whosoever shall [u]find none occasion of stumbling in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out [v]into the wilderness to behold? [w]a reed shaken with the wind? 25 But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts. 26 But what went ye out to see? [x]a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. 27 This is he of whom it is written,

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is [6]but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. 29 [z]And all the people when they heard, and [a]the publicans, justified God, [7][a]being baptized with [b]the baptism of John. 30 [c]But the Pharisees and [d]the lawyers [e]rejected for themselves [f]the counsel of God, [8]being not baptized of him. 31 Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? 32 They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not weep. 33 For John the Baptist is come [g]eating no bread [h]nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a [9]devil. 34 The Son of man is come [i]eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, [j]a friend of publicans and sinners! 35 And [k]wisdom [10]is justified of all her children.

36 And [l]one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. 37 [m]And behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought [11]an alabaster cruse of ointment, 38 and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and [n]wiped them with the hair of her head, and [1] [o] kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. 39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, [p] This man, if he were [2] [q] a prophet, [r] would have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth him, that she is a sinner. 40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, [3] Master, say on. 41 A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred [4] [s] pence, and the other fifty. 42 [t] When they had not wherewith to pay, he [u] forgave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most? 43 Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. 44 And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, [v] thou gavest me no water for my feet: but [w] she hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. 45 [x] Thou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to [5] [y] kiss my feet. 46 [z] My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, [a] which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. 48 And he said unto her, [b] Thy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say [6] within themselves, [c] Who is this that even forgiveth sins? 50 And he said unto the woman, [d] Thy faith hath saved thee; [e] go in peace.

1 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about [f] through cities and villages, preaching and [g] bringing the [7] good tidings of the kingdom of God, and with him the twelve, 2 and [h] certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, [i] Mary that was called Magdalene, [j] from whom seven [8] devils had gone out, 3 and [k] Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto [9] them of their substance.

4 [l] And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: 5 [m] The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it. 6 And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, [n] it withered away, because it had no moisture. 7 And other fell amidst [o] the thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. 8 And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit [p] a hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, [q] He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him what this parable might be. 10 And he said, [r] Unto you it is given [s] to know [t] the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; [u] that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. 11 [v] Now the parable is this: The seed is [w] the word of God. 12 And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not [x] believe and be saved. 13 And those on the rock are they which, when they have heard, receive the word [y] with joy; and these have no root, which [z] for a while believe, and in time of temptation [a] fall away. 14 And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and [b] as they go on their way they are choked with [c] cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. 15 And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and [d] bring forth fruit [e] with patience.

16 [f] And [g] no man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but putteth it on a stand, that they which enter in may see the light. 17 [h] For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light. 18 [i] Take heed therefore how ye hear: [j] for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he [1]thinketh he hath.

19 [k]And there came to him his mother and [l]brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. 20 And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. 21 But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these [m]which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 [n]Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of [o]the lake: and they launched forth. 23 But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on [o]the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and [p]rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, [q]and there was a calm. 25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being [r]afraid they [s]marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that [t]he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

26 [u]And they arrived at the country of the [2]Gerasenes, which is over against Galilee. 27 And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had [3]devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, [v]but in the tombs. 28 And when he saw Jesus, he [w]cried out, and fell down before him, and [w]with a loud voice said, [x]What have I to do with thee, Jesus, [y]thou Son of [z]the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not. 29 For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For [4]oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the [5]devil [a]into the deserts. 30 And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, [b]Legion; for many [3]devils were entered into him. 31 And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into [c]the abyss. 32 Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them leave. 33 And the [3]devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into [d]the lake, and were choked. 34 And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country. 35 And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the [3]devils were gone out, sitting, [e]clothed and in his right mind, [f]at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. 36 And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with [3]devils [g]was [6]made whole. 37 And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about [h]asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. 38 But the man from whom the [3]devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him away, saying, 39 Return to thy house, and [i]declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

40 And as Jesus returned, the multitude [j]welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. 41 [k]And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was [l]a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; 42 for he had [m]an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes [n]thronged him.

43 And a woman [o]having an issue of blood twelve years, which [7]had spent all her [p]living upon physicians, and could not be healed of any, 44 came behind him, and touched [q]the border of his garment: and [r]immediately the issue of her blood stanched. 45 And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? And when all denied, Peter said, [1]and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes press thee and crush thee. 46 But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that [s]power had gone forth from me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 And he said unto her, Daughter, [t]thy faith hath [2]made thee whole; [t]go in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from [u]the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; [v]trouble not [w]the [3]Master. 50 But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be [4]made whole. 51 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save [x]Peter, and [y]John, and James, and the father of the maiden and her mother. 52 And all were weeping, and [z]bewailing her: but he [a]said, Weep not; for [b]she is not dead, but [c]sleepeth. 53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. 54 But he, [d]taking her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, [e]arise. 55 And [f]her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that something be given her to eat. 56 And her parents were amazed: but [g]he charged them to tell no man what had been done.

1 [h]And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all [5]devils, and to cure diseases. 2 [i]And he sent them forth to [j]preach the kingdom of God, and to heal [6]the sick. 3 [k]And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, [l]neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats. 4 And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence depart. 5 And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, [m]shake off the dust from your feet [n]for a testimony [o]against them. 6 [p]And they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.

7 [q]Now [r]Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done: and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, that [s]John was risen from the dead; 8 and [s]by some, that Elijah had appeared; and [s]by others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. 9 And Herod said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And [t]he sought to see him.

10 [u]And the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. [v]And he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Bethsaida. 11 But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he [w]welcomed them, and [x]spake to them of the kingdom of God, and [x]them that had need of healing he healed. 12 And [y]the day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, [z]Send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place. 13 But he said unto them, [a]Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than [b]five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy food for all this people. 14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them [7]sit down in companies, about fifty each. 15 And they did so, and made them all [7]sit down. 16 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and [c]looking up to heaven, [d]he blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.

18 [e]And it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? 19 And they answering said, [f]John the Baptist; but others say, [g]Elijah; and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again. 20 And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? manded them to tell this to no man; 22 [j]saying, [k]The Son of man must [l]suffer many things, and [m]be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and [n]the third day be raised up. 23 And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him [o]deny himself, and [p]take up his cross [q]daily, and follow me. 24 For [p]whosoever would save his [1]life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his [1]life for my sake, the same shall save it. 25 [r]For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit his own self? 26 For [s]whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, [t]when he cometh in [u]his own glory, and the glory of the Father, and of [v]the holy angels. 27 But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise [w]taste of death, [x]till they see the kingdom of God.

28 [y]And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him [z]Peter and John and James, and [a]went up into the mountain to pray. 29 And as he was praying, the fashion of his countenance was [b]altered, and [c]his raiment became white and dazzling. 30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elijah; 31 who appeared in glory, and spake of his [2][d]decease which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. 32 Now Peter and they that were with him [e]were heavy with sleep: but [3]when they were fully awake, [f]they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. 33 And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three [4][g]tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah: [h]not knowing what he said. 34 And while he said these things, there came [i]a cloud and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. 35 And [i]a voice came out of the cloud, saying, [j]This is [5]my Son, [k]my chosen: [l]hear ye him. 36 And when the voice [6]came, Jesus was found alone. [m]And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen.

37 [n]And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. 38 And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, [7]Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for [o]he is mine only child: 39 and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it [8][p]teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him sorely. 40 And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and [q]they could not. 41 And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and [r]perverse generation, [s]how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? bring hither thy son. 42 And as he was yet a coming, the [9]devil [10]dashed him down, and [11][p]tare him grievously. But Jesus [t]rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and [u]gave him back to his father. 43 And they were all astonished at [v]the majesty of God.

[w]But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said [x]unto his disciples, 44 Let these words sink into your ears: [x]for the Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men. 45 [y]But they understood not this saying, and [z]it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

46 [a]And there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be [12]greatest. 47 But when Jesus [b]saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little child, and set him by his side, 48 and said unto them, [c]Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receiveth me: and [c]whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for [d]he that is [13]least among you all, the same is great.

49 [e]And John answered and said, Master, we saw one [f]casting out [14]devils in thy name; and [g]we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. 50 But Jesus said unto

51 And it came to pass, when the days [1]were well-nigh come that [i]he should be received up, [j]he stedfastly
set his face [k]to go to Jerusalem, 52 and [l]sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of [m]the Samaritans,
to make ready for him. 53 And [n]they did not receive him, because [o]his face was as though he were going to Jerusalem. 54 And when his disciples James and John saw this,
they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid [p]fire to come down from heaven,
and consume them [2][q]? 55 But he turned, and rebuked them[3][r].
56 And they went to another village.

57 And as they went [s]in the way,
[t]a certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 58 And Jesus said unto him,
The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have [4][u]nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay
his head. 59 And he said unto another,
Follow me. But he said,
Lord, suffer me first to go and bury
my father. 60 But he said unto him, Leave [v]the dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and [w]publish abroad the kingdom of God. 61 And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; [x]but first suffer me to bid farewell to them that are at my house. 62 But Jesus said unto him, [y]No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

1 Now after these things
the Lord appointed [z]seventy [5]others, and [a]sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was about to come. 2 [b]And he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous,
but the labourers are few: [c]pray ye
therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. 3 Go your ways: [d]behold,
I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. 4 [e]Carry no
purse, no wallet, no shoes: and [f]salute
no man on the way. 5 And into whatsoever house ye shall [6]enter,
first say, [g]Peace be to this house.

joiced [1][i]in the Holy Spirit, and said, I [2]thank thee, O Father, [j]Lord of heaven and earth, that [k]thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst [l]reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; [3]for so [m]it was well-pleasing in thy sight. 22 [n]All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, [n]save the Father; and who the Father is, [n]save the Son, and he [o]to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. 23 And turning to the disciples, he said privately, [p]Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: 24 for I say unto you, [q]that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

25 [r]And behold, a certain [s]lawyer stood up and [t]tempted him, saying, [4]Master, what shall I do to [u]inherit eternal life? 26 And he said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? 27 And he answering said, [v]Thou shalt love the Lord thy God [5]with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and [w]thy neighbour as thyself. 28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: [x]this do, and thou shalt live. 29 But he, [y]desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? 30 Jesus made answer and said, A certain man [z]was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. 31 And by chance a certain [a]priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. 32 And in like manner [a]a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. 33 But a certain [b]Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, 34 and came to him, and [c]bound up his wounds, pouring on them [c]oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. 35 And on the morrow he took out two [6][d]pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee. 36 Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? 37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named [e]Martha [f]received him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called [e]Mary, which also [g]sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. 40 But Martha was [7][h]cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. 41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, [8]Martha, Martha, thou art [i]anxious and troubled about many things: [9][j]but one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen [k]the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

11 1 And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught [l]his disciples. 2 And he said unto them, [m]When ye pray, say, [10][n]Father, [o]Hallowed be [p]thy name. [q]Thy kingdom come.[11] 3 [r]Give us [s]day by day [12]our daily bread. 4 And [t]forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And [u]bring us not into temptation[13].

5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; 6 for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; 7 and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee? 8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, [v] because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him [1] as many as he needeth. 9 And I say unto you, [w] Ask, and [x] it shall be given you; [y] seek, and ye shall find; [z] knock, and it shall be opened unto you. 10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 11 And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask [2] [a] a loaf, and he give him [a] a stone? or a fish, and he for a fish give him a serpent? 12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? 13 If ye then, [b] being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father [c] give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 [d] And he was casting out a [3] devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the [3] devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled. 15 But some of them said, [4] [e] By Beelzebub the prince of the [5] devils casteth he out [5] devils. 16 And others, [f] tempting him, sought of him [g] a sign from heaven. 17 [h] But he, [i] knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; [6] and a house divided against a house falleth. 18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out [5] devils [4] by Beelzebub. 19 And if I [4] by Beelzebub cast out [5] devils, [j] by whom do [k] your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. 20 But if I by [l] the finger of God cast out [5] devils, then is [m] the kingdom of God come upon you. 21 When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own court, his goods are in peace: 22 [n] but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and [o] overcome him, he taketh from him his [p] whole armour wherein he trusted, and [q] divideth his spoils. 23 [r] He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. 24 [s] The unclean spirit when [7] he is gone out of the man, passeth through [t] waterless places, seeking rest; and finding none, [7] he saith, I will turn back unto my house whence I came out. 25 And when [7] he is come, [7] he findeth it swept and garnished. 26 Then goeth [7] he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than [8] himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and [u] the last state of that man becometh worse than the first.

27 And it came to pass, as he said these things, [v] a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, [w] Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. 28 But he said, Yea rather, [x] blessed are they [y] that hear the word of God, and [z] keep it.

29 And [a] when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, [b] This generation is an evil generation: [c] it seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah. 30 For even as [d] Jonah became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. 31 [e] The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and [f] shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, [9] [g] a greater than Solomon is here. 32 [h] The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and [f] shall condemn it: for [i] they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, [9] [g] a greater than Jonah is here.

33 [j] No man, when he hath lighted a lamp, putteth it in a cellar, neither under the bushel, but on the stand, that they which enter in may see the light. 34 [k] The lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when it is [l] evil, thy body also is full of darkness. 35 [k] Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not darkness. 36 If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, [m] as when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

37 Now as he spake, [n] a Pharisee asketh him to [10] [o] dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled [p]that he had not first washed before [1][o]dinner. 39 And the Lord said unto him, [q]Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward part is full of [r]extortion and wickedness. 40 [s]Ye foolish ones, [q]did not he that made the outside make the inside also? 41 Howbeit [t]give for alms those things which [2]are within; and behold, [u]all things are clean unto you.

42 [v]But woe unto you Pharisees! for [w]ye tithe mint and rue and every herb, and pass over [x]judgement and [y]the love of God: [z]but these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe unto you Pharisees! for [a]ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in [b]the marketplaces. 44 Woe unto you! [c]for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over them know it not.

45 And one of [d]the lawyers answering saith unto him, [3]Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. 46 And he said, Woe unto you [e]lawyers also! for [f]ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 [g]Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 [h]So ye are witnesses and [i]consent unto the works of [j]your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their tombs. 49 Therefore also said [k]the wisdom of God, [l]I will send unto them [m]prophets and apostles; [n]and some of them they shall [o]kill and persecute; 50 that [p]the blood of all the prophets, which was shed [q]from the foundation of the world, may be [r]required of this generation; 51 from the blood of [s]Abel unto the blood of [t]Zachariah, who perished between [u]the altar and [v]the [4]sanctuary: yea, I say unto you, it shall be [r]required of this generation. 52 Woe unto you [w]lawyers! [x]for ye took away the key of [y]knowledge: ye [z]entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

53 And when he was come out from thence, the scribes and the Pharisees began to [5][a]press upon him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of [6]many things; 54 [b]laying wait for him, [c]to catch something out of his mouth.

12 1 In the mean time, [d]when [7][e]the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to [8]say unto his disciples first of all, [f]Beware ye of [g]the leaven of the Pharisees, [h]which is hypocrisy. 2 [i]But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and hid, that shall not be known. 3 Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in [j]the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon [k]the housetops. 4 And I say unto you [l]my friends, [m]Be not afraid of them which kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. 5 But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, [n]which after he hath killed hath [9]power to cast into [10][o]hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and [p]not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. 7 But [q]the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: [r]ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8 And I say unto you, [s]Every one who shall confess [11]me before men, [12]him shall the Son of man also confess [t]before the angels of God: 9 but [u]he that denieth me in the presence of men [v]shall be denied [t]in the presence of the angels of God. 10 And [w]every one who shall speak a word [x]against the Son of man, [y]it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that [z]blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven. 11 [a]And when they [b]bring you before the synagogues, and [c]the rulers, and [c]the authorities, [d]be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: 12 [e]for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say.

said unto him, [1]Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. 14 But he said unto him, [g]Man, [h]who made me a judge or a divider over you? 15 And he said unto them, [i]Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: [2]for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. 16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, [j]The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: 17 and he reasoned within himself, saying, [k]What shall I do, because I have not where to bestow my fruits? 18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my [l]barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my corn and my goods. 19 And I will say to my [3]soul, [3]Soul, thou hast much goods laid up [m]for many years; take thine ease, [n]eat, drink, be merry. 20 But God said unto him, [o]Thou foolish one, [l]this night [4][p]is thy [3]soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, [q]whose shall they be? 21 So is he [r]that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

22 And he said unto his disciples, [s]Therefore I say unto you, [t]Be not anxious for your [5]life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. 23 For the [5]life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. 24 [u]Consider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no storechamber nor barn; and God feedeth them: [v]of how much more value are ye than the birds! 25 And which of you by being anxious can add a cubit unto his [6][w]stature? 26 If then ye are not able to do even that which is least, why are ye anxious concerning the rest? 27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, [x]Even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 28 But if God doth so clothe the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more shall he clothe you, [y]O ye of little faith? 29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, and what ye shall drink, neither [z]be ye of doubtful mind. 30 For all these things [a]do the nations of the world seek after: but [a]your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. 31 Howbeit [b]seek ye [7][c]his kingdom, [d]and these things shall be added unto you. 32 [e]Fear not, little [f]flock; for [g]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you [h]the kingdom. 33 [i]Sell that ye have, and [j]give alms; [k]make for yourselves purses which wax not old, [l]a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth destroyeth. 34 [m]For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [n]Let your loins be girded about, and [o]your lamps burning; 36 and be ye yourselves like unto men [p]looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and [q]knocketh, they may straightway open unto him. 37 [r]Blessed are those [8]servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find [r]watching: verily I say unto you, that [s]he shall gird himself, and [t]make them sit down to meat, and shall come and serve them. 38 And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find them so, blessed are those servants. 39 [9][u]But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour [v]the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have left his house to be [10][w]broken through. 40 Be ye also [x]ready: for in an hour that ye think not [y]the Son of man cometh.

41 And Peter said, Lord, [z]speakest thou this parable unto us, or even unto all? 42 And the Lord said, Who then is [11][a]the faithful and [a]wise [b]steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season? 43 [c]Blessed is that [12]servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. 44 Of a truth I say unto you, that [d]he will set him over all that he hath. 45 But if that [12]servant shall say in his heart, My lord [e]delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, 49 [o] I came to cast fire upon the earth; and what will I, if it is already kindled? 50 But [p] I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how [q] am I straitened till it be accomplished! 51 [r] Think ye that I am come to give peace in the earth? 52 I tell you, [s] Nay; but rather division: for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. 53 They shall be divided, [t] father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 And he said to the multitudes also, [u] When ye see [v] a cloud rising in the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it cometh to pass. 55 And [t] when ye see a south wind blowing, ye say, There will be [w] a [3] scorching heat; and it cometh to pass. 56 Ye hypocrites, [x] ye know how to [4] interpret the face of the earth and the heaven; but how is it that ye know not how to [4] interpret this time? 57 And why even [y] of yourselves [z] judge ye not what is right? 58 For [a] as thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, on the way give diligence to be quit of him; lest haply he hale thee unto the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the [5] officer, and the [5] officer shall cast thee into prison. 59 I say unto thee, [b] Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the very last [c] mite.

13 1 Now there were some present at that very season which told him of the Galilæans, whose blood [d] Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices. 2 And he answered and said unto them, [e] Think ye that these Galilæans were sinners above all the Galilæans, because they have suffered these things? 3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye [f] repent, ye shall all in like manner perish. 4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in [g] Siloam fell, and killed them, think ye that they were [6] [h] offenders above all the men that dwell in Jerusalem? 5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye [f] repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 And he spake this parable; A certain man had [i] a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. 7 And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: [j] cut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? 8 And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: 9 and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

10 And [k] he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. 11 And behold, a woman which had [l] a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. 12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. 13 And he [m] laid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and [n] glorified God. 14 And [o] the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus [p] had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, [q] There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. 15 But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, [r] doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the [7] stall, and lead him away to watering? 16 And ought not this woman, [s] being a daughter of Abraham, whom [t] Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? 17 And as he said these things, [u] all his adversaries were put to shame: and [v] all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 [w] He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? 19 It is like unto [x] a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. 20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 [y] It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in [z] three [1] measures of meal, till it was [a] all leavened.

22 [b] And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and [c] journeying on unto Jerusalem. 23 And one said unto him, Lord, are they few [d] that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 [e] Strive [f] to enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be [2] able. 25 [g] When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, [h] Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, [i] I know you not whence ye are; 26 then shall ye begin to say, [j] We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; 27 and he shall say, I tell you, [i] I know not whence ye are; [k] depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. 28 [l] There shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see [l] Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and [l] yourselves cast forth without. 29 And [l] they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and [m] shall [3] sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And behold, [n] there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go [o] hence: for [p] Herod would fain kill thee. 32 And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out [4] devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third day [q] I am perfected. 33 Howbeit [r] I [s] must go on my way to-day and to-morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that [t] a prophet perish out of Jerusalem. 34 [u] O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, [v] which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! [w] how often would I have [x] gathered [y] thy children together, [z] even as a hen gathereth her own brood [a] under her wings, and [b] ye would not! 35 Behold, [c] your house is left unto you desolate: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, [d] Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 1 And it came to pass, [e] when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were [f] watching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto [g] the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, [h] Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said unto them, [i] Which of you shall have [5] an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? 6 [j] And they could not answer again unto these things.

7 And he spake a parable unto those which were bidden, when he marked [k] how they chose out the chief seats; 8 saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, [6] sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, 9 and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. 10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; [l] that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. 11 For [m] every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest [n] a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; [o] lest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. 13 But when thou makest a feast, [p] bid [q] the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; 14 because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed [r] in [s] the resurrection of the just.

15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, [t] Blessed is he that shall [u] eat bread in the kingdom of God. 16 But he said unto him, [v] A certain man [w] made a great supper; and he bade many: 17 and he [x] sent forth his [1] servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. 18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. 19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. 20 And another said, [y] I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. 21 And the [1] servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his [1] servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither [z] the poor and maimed and blind and lame. 22 And the [1] servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. 23 And the lord said unto the [1] servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and [a] constrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. 24 For I say unto you, that [b] none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, 26 [c] If any man cometh unto me, and [d] hateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, [e] yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. 27 [f] Whosoever doth not [g] bear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. 28 For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not [h] first sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? 29 Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, 30 saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. 31 Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not [i] sit down first and take counsel whether he is able [j] with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? 32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and asketh conditions of peace. 33 [k] So therefore whosoever he be of you that [l] renounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. 34 [m] Salt therefore is good: [n] but if even the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? 35 It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. [o] He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

15 1 Now all [p] the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for to hear him. 2 And both the Pharisees and the scribes [q] murmured, saying, [r] This man receiveth sinners, and [s] eateth with them.

3 And he spake unto them this parable, saying, 4 [t] What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and [u] having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine [v] in the wilderness, and [w] go after that which is lost, until he find it? 5 And when he hath found it, [x] he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, for [y] I have found my sheep which was lost. 7 I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that [z] repenteth, more than over ninety and nine [a] righteous persons, which need no repentance.

8 Or what woman having ten [2] pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until she find it? 9 And when she hath found it, she calleth together

her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. 10 Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of [b] the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he said, A certain man had two sons: 12 and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me [c] the portion of [1] thy substance that falleth to me. And [d] he divided unto them [e] his living. 13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his substance with [f] riotous living. 14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country; and he began to be in want. 15 And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. 16 And he [g] would fain have been filled with [2] the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. 17 But [h] when he [i] came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with hunger! 18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, [j] I have sinned against [k] heaven, and in thy sight: 19 [l] I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. 20 And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and [m] ran, and [n] fell on his neck, and [3] [o] kissed him. 21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: [l] I am no more worthy to be called thy son[4]. 22 But the father said to his [5] servants, Bring forth quickly [p] the best robe, and put it on him; and put [q] a ring on his hand, and [r] shoes on his feet: 23 and bring [s] the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat, and [t] make merry: 24 for this my son [u] was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called to him one of the [5] servants, and inquired what these things might be. 27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. 28 But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came out, and intreated him. 29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might [v] make merry with my friends: 30 but when this thy son came, [w] which hath devoured [x] thy living with harlots, thou killedst for him the fatted calf. 31 And he said unto him, [6] Son, [y] thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. 32 But it was meet [v] to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother [z] was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

1 And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had [a] a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods. 2 And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy [b] stewardship; for thou canst be no longer steward. 3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred [7] measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy [8] bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. 7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred [9] measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy [8] bond, and write fourscore. 8 And his lord commended [10] [c] the unrighteous steward because he had done [d] wisely: for [e] the sons of this [11] world are for their own generation [d] wiser than [f] the sons of the light. 9 And I say unto you, [g] Make to yourselves friends [1] by means of [h] the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal tabernacles. 10 [i] He that is [j] faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. 11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? 12 And if ye have not been faithful in [k] that which is another's, who will give you that which is [2] your own? 13 [h] No [3] servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And [l] the Pharisees, who were [m] lovers of money, heard all these things; and they [n] scoffed at him. 15 And he said unto them, Ye are they that [o] justify yourselves in the sight of men; but [p] God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men [q] is an abomination in the sight of God. 16 [r] The law and the prophets were until John: from that time [s] the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and [t] every man entereth violently into it. 17 But [u] it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall. 18 [v] Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in [w] purple and fine linen, [4] [x] faring sumptuously every day: 20 and a certain beggar named Lazarus [y] was laid at his gate, full of sores, 21 and desiring to be fed with [z] the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores. 22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by [a] the angels [b] into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried. 23 And in [c] Hades he lifted up his eyes, [d] being in torments, and [e] seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus [b] in his bosom. 24 And he cried and said, [f] Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and [g] cool my tongue; for [h] I am in anguish in this flame. 25 But Abraham said, [5] Son, remember that [i] thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. 26 And [6] beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us. 27 And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; 28 for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. 29 But Abraham saith, They have [j] Moses and the prophets; [k] let them hear them. 30 And he said, Nay, [l] father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. 31 And he said unto him, If they hear not [j] Moses and the prophets, [m] neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

17 1 And he said unto his disciples, [n] It is impossible but that [o] occasions of stumbling should come: but [p] woe unto him, through whom they come! 2 [q] It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. 3 Take heed to yourselves: [r] if thy brother sin, [s] rebuke him; and if he repent, [t] forgive him. 4 And if he sin against thee [u] seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And [v] the apostles said unto the Lord, [w] Increase our faith. 6 And the Lord said, [x] If ye have faith as [y] a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this [z] sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would have obeyed you. 7 But who is there of you, having a [7] servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat; 8 and will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and ᵃ gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? 9 Doth he thank the [1] servant because he did the things that were commanded? 10 Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are ᵇ unprofitable [2] servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

11 And it came to pass, [3] ᶜ as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that ᵈ he was passing [4] through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. 12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, ᵉ which stood afar off: 13 and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. 14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and ᶠ shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were cleansed. 15 And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice ᵍ glorifying God; 16 and ʰ he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was ⁱ a Samaritan. 17 And Jesus answering said, Were not ʲ the ten cleansed? but where are the nine? 18 [5] Were there none found that returned ᵏ to give glory to God, save this [6] ˡ stranger? 19 And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: ᵐ thy faith hath [7] ᵐ made thee whole.

20 And being asked by the Pharisees, ⁿ when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God ᵒ cometh not with observation: 21 neither ᵖ shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is [8] ᑫ within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, ʳ The days will come, when ye shall desire ˢ to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. 23 ᵗ And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow after them: 24 ᵘ for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be [9] ᵛ in his day. 25 But first ʷ must he suffer many things and ˣ be rejected of this generation. 26 ʸ And as it came to pass in the days of ʸ Noah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. 27 ᶻ They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. 28 Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of ᵃ Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; 29 ᵇ but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: 30 after the same manner shall it be ᶜ in the day that the Son of man is revealed. 31 In that day, ᵈ he which shall be on ᵉ the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not return back. 32 ᶠ Remember Lot's wife. 33 ᵍ Whosoever shall seek to ʰ gain his [10] life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his [10] life shall [11] ⁱ preserve it. 34 I say unto you, In that night there shall be two men on one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. 35 ʲ There shall be two women ᵏ grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.[12] 37 And they answering say unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, ˡ Where the body is, thither will the [13] eagles also be gathered together.

18 1 And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought ᵐ always to pray, and not ⁿ to faint; 2 saying, There was in a city a judge, which ᵒ feared not God, and regarded not man: and there was a widow in that city; 3 and she came oft unto him, saying, [14] Avenge me of mine adversary. 4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, ᵖ Though I fear not God, nor regard man; 5 yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she [15] ᑫ wear me out by her continual coming. 6 And the Lord said, Hear what [16] ʳ the unrighteous judge saith. 7 And ˢ shall not God avenge ᵗ his elect, ᵘ which cry to him day and night, and [v]he is longsuffering over them? 8 I say unto you, that he will avenge them [w]speedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, [x]shall he find [1]faith on the earth?

9 And he spake also this parable unto certain [y]which trusted [z]in themselves that they were righteous, [a]and set [2]all others at nought: 10 Two men [b]went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. 11 The Pharisee [c]stood and prayed [d]thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. 12 [e]I fast twice in the week; [f]I give tithes of all that I get. 13 But the publican, [c]standing afar off, [g]would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but [h]smote his breast, saying, God, [3][i]be merciful to me [4]a sinner. 14 I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for [j]every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 [k]And they brought unto him also their babes, that he should touch them: but when the disciples saw it, they [l]rebuked them. 16 But Jesus called them unto him, saying, [m]Suffer the little children to come unto me, and [n]forbid them not: [m]for of such is the kingdom of God. 17 [o]Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not [p]receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

18 [q]And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good [5]Master, What shall I do to [r]inherit eternal life? 19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, even God. 20 Thou knowest the commandments, [s]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and mother. 21 And he said, [t]All these things have I observed from my youth up. 22 And when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: [u]sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have [v]treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. 23 [w]But when he heard these things, he became exceeding sorrowful; for he was very rich. 24 And Jesus seeing him said, [x]How hardly shall they that have riches enter into [y]the kingdom of God! 25 For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into [y]the kingdom of God. 26 And they that heard it said, Then who can be saved? 27 But he said, [z]The things which are impossible with men are possible with God. 28 And Peter said, Lo, [a]we have left [6]our own, and followed thee. 29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [b]There is no man that hath left house, or wife, or brethren, or parents, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30 who shall not receive [c]manifold more [d]in this time, and in [e]the [7]world to come eternal life.

31 [f]And he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, [g]we go up to Jerusalem, and [h]all the things that are written [8]by the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of man. 32 For he shall be [i]delivered up unto the Gentiles, and shall be [j]mocked, and shamefully entreated, and [k]spit upon: 33 and they shall scourge and kill him: and [l]the third day he shall rise again. 34 [m]And they understood none of these things; and [n]this saying was hid from them, and they perceived not the things that were said.

35 [o]And it came to pass, as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain [p]blind man sat by the way side begging: 36 and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what this meant. 37 And they told him, that [q]Jesus of Nazareth passeth by. 38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, [r]thou son of David, have mercy on me. 39 And they that went before [s]rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. 40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 [t]What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. 42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: [u] thy faith hath [1] [v] made thee whole. 43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, [w] glorifying God: and [x] all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

19 1 And [y] he entered and was passing through Jericho. 2 And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican, and he was rich. 3 And [z] he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature. 4 And he ran on before, and climbed up into [a] a sycomore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. 5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day [b] I must abide at thy house. 6 And he made haste, and came down, and [c] received him joyfully. 7 And when they saw it, they all [d] murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner. 8 And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods [e] I give to the poor; and if I have [f] wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore [g] fourfold. 9 And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as [h] he also is a son of Abraham. 10 For [i] the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because [j] they supposed that the kingdom of God was immediately to appear. 12 He said therefore, [k] A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. 13 And he called [l] ten [2] servants of his, and gave them ten [3] pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye herewith [m] till I come. 14 But [n] his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us. 15 And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these [2] servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. 16 And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound hath made ten pounds more. 17 And he said unto him, Well done, thou good [4] servant: because thou wast found [o] faithful in a very little, [p] have thou authority over ten cities. 18 And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds. 19 And he said unto him also, Be thou also over five cities. 20 And [5] another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I kept laid up in [q] a napkin: 21 for I feared thee, because thou art [r] an austere man: thou takest up [s] that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. 22 He saith unto him, [t] Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, [u] thou wicked [4] servant. Thou knewest that I am [r] an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow; 23 then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and [6] I at my coming should have required it with interest? 24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. 25 And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds. 26 I say unto you, that [v] unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him. 27 Howbeit [n] these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and [w] slay them before me.

28 And when he had thus spoken, [x] he went on before, [y] going up to Jerusalem.

29 [z] And it came to pass, when he drew nigh unto Bethphage and [a] Bethany, at the mount that is called [b] the mount of Olives, he sent [c] two of the disciples, 30 saying, Go your way into the village over against you; in the which as ye enter ye shall find a colt tied, [d] whereon no man ever yet sat: loose him, and bring him. 31 And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The Lord hath need of him. 32 And they that were sent went away, and found [e] even as he had said unto them. 33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them,

[1] Or, saved thee [2] Gr. bondservants. [3] Mina, here translated a pound, is equal to one hundred drachmas. See ch. 15. 8. [4] Gr. bondservant. [5] Gr. the other. [6] Or, I should have gone and required

Why loose ye the colt? 34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.
35 And they brought him to Jesus:
and they threw their garments upon
the colt, and set Jesus thereon.
36 And as he went, they [f]spread their garments in the way. 37 And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, [g]the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise
God with a loud voice [h]for all the [1]mighty works which they had seen;
38 saying, [i]Blessed is [j]the King that cometh in the name of the Lord:
peace in heaven, and [k]glory in the highest. 39 [l]And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, [2]Master, rebuke thy disciples.
40 And he answered and said, I tell you that, if these shall hold their peace, [m]the stones will cry out.

41 [n]And when he drew nigh, he saw the city and [o]wept over it, 42 saying, [3][p]If thou hadst known in this day, even thou, the things which belong unto peace! but now
[q]they are hid from thine eyes.
43 For [r]the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies [s]shall cast
up a [4]bank about thee, and [t]compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 [u]and shall dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and [v]they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not [w]the time of thy [x]visitation.

45 [y]And he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them
that sold, 46 saying unto them, It is written, [z]And my house shall be a house of prayer: but [a]ye have made it a den of robbers.

47 [b]And he was teaching daily in the temple. [c]But the chief priests and the scribes and the principal men of the people sought to destroy him: 48 and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

20 1 [d]And it came to pass, on one of the days, [e]as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, [f]there came upon him the chief priests and the scribes with the elders; 2 and they spake, saying unto him, Tell us: [g]By what authority doest thou these things?
or who is he that gave thee this authority? 3 And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a [5]question; and tell me: 4 The baptism of John, was it [h]from heaven, or from men? 5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, [i]Why did ye not believe him?
6 But if we shall say, From men;
all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was [j]a prophet. 7 And they answered, that they knew not whence it was.
8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 [k]And he began to speak unto the people this parable: A man planted [l]a vineyard, and [m]let it out to husbandmen, and [n]went into another country for a long time.
10 And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a [6]servant, that [m]they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: [o]but the husband-men beat him, and sent him away empty. 11 [o]And [p]he sent yet another [6]servant: and him also they beat, and [q]handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty. 12 [o]And he sent yet a third: and him also they wounded, and cast him forth.
13 And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my [r]beloved son: it may be they will reverence him. 14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying,
[s]This is the heir: [t]let us kill him,
that the inheritance may be ours.
15 And they [u]cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? 16 [v]He will [w]come and destroy these husband-men, and [x]will give the vineyard unto others. And when they heard it, they said, [7]God forbid. 17 But he [y]looked upon them, and said,
What then is this that is written,

[z]The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner?

18 [a]Every one that falleth on that stone shall be broken to pieces;
but [b]on whomsoever it shall fall,
[c]it will scatter him as dust.
19 [d]And the scribes and the chief priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake this parable against them. 20 [e] And they [f] watched him, and sent forth spies, which [g] feigned themselves to be righteous, that they might [h] take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of [i] the governor. 21 And they asked him, saying, [1] Master, [j] we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and [k] acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest [l] the way of God: 22 Is it lawful for us to give [m] tribute unto [n] Cæsar, or not? 23 But he perceived their [o] craftiness, and said unto them, 24 Shew me [p] a [2] penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? And they said, Cæsar's. 25 And he said unto them, Then [q] render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. 26 And they were not able [r] to take hold of the saying before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 And there came to him certain of [s] the Sadducees, [t] they which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, 28 saying, [1] Master, Moses wrote unto us, [u] that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless; 30 and the second; 31 and the third took her; and likewise the seven also left no children, and died. 32 Afterward the woman also died. 33 In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be? for the seven had her to wife. 34 And Jesus said unto them, [v] The sons of this [3] world [w] marry, and [w] are given in marriage: 35 but they that are [x] accounted worthy to attain to [y] that [3] world, and the resurrection from the dead, [z] neither marry, [z] nor are given in marriage: 36 for [a] neither can they die any more: for they are [b] equal unto the angels; and [c] are [d] sons of God, being [e] sons of the resurrection. 37 But that the dead are raised, [f] even Moses shewed [g] in [h] the place concerning the Bush, when he calleth [i] the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. 38 Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all [j] live unto him. 39 And certain of the scribes answering [k] said, [1] Master, thou hast well said. 40 For [l] they durst not any more ask him any question.

41 [m] And he said unto them, How say they that [n] the Christ is [n] David's son? 42 For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

[o] The Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,
43 Till I make thine enemies [p] the footstool of thy feet.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, and [q] how is he his son?

45 [r] And in the hearing of all the people he said unto his disciples, 46 Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love salutations in the marketplaces, and chief seats in the synagogues, and [s] chief places at feasts; 47 [t] which devour widows' houses, and [u] for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive [v] greater condemnation.

21 1 [w] And he looked up, [4] and saw the rich men that were [x] casting their gifts into [y] the treasury. 2 And he saw a certain poor widow casting in thither two [z] mites. 3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, [a] This poor widow cast in more than they all: 4 for all these did of their superfluity cast in unto the gifts: but she of her [b] want did cast in all [c] the living that she had.

5 [d] And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and [e] offerings, he said, 6 As for these things which ye behold, [f] the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. 7 And they asked him, saying, [1] Master, [g] when therefore shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are about to come to pass? 8 And he said, [h] Take heed that ye be not led astray: for [i] many shall come in my name, saying, [j] I am he; and, [k] The time is at hand: go ye not after them. 9 And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not [l] terrified: for these things [m]must needs come to pass

first; but the end is not immediately.
10 Then said he unto them, [n]Nation shall rise against nation, and [o]kingdom against kingdom: 11 and there shall be great [p]earthquakes, and in divers places [q]famines and pestilences; and there shall be [r]terrors
and great [s]signs from heaven.
12 But before all these things, [t]they shall lay their hands on you, and shall persecute you, delivering you up to [u]the synagogues and [v]prisons, [1][w]bringing you before [x]kings and [y]governors for my name's sake.
13 [z]It shall turn unto you for a testimony.
14 Settle it therefore in your hearts, [a]not to meditate beforehand
how to answer: 15 for [b]I will give you a mouth and [c]wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or [d]to gainsay. 16 But ye shall be delivered up [e]even by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk,
and friends; and some of you [2]shall
they cause to be put to death.
17 [f]And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. 18 And [g]not a hair of your head shall perish. 19 In your [h]patience [i]ye shall win your [3]souls.

20 But [j]when ye see Jerusalem
compassed with armies, then know that [k]her desolation is at hand.
21 Then let them that are in Judæa
flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. 22 For these are [l]days of [m]vengeance, [n]that all things which are written may be fulfilled. 23 [o]Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the [4]land, and [p]wrath unto this people. 24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and [q]shall be led captive into all the nations: and [r]Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, [s]until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. 25 And [t]there shall be signs in sun and moon [u]and stars;
and upon the earth [v]distress of nations,
in perplexity for the roaring
of the sea and the billows; 26 men [5]fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on [6]the world: for [w]the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. 27 And then shall they see [x]the Son of man coming in a cloud [y]with power and great glory. 28 But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and [z]lift up your heads; because [a]your redemption draweth nigh.

29 And he spake to them a parable:
Behold the fig tree, and all the trees: 30 when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know [b]of your own selves that the summer is now nigh. 31 Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God
is nigh. 32 [c]Verily I say unto you,
This generation shall not pass away,
till all things be accomplished.
33 [d]Heaven and earth shall pass away: but [e]my words shall not pass
away.

34 But take heed to yourselves,
[f]lest haply [g]your hearts be overcharged
with surfeiting, and drunkenness,
and [h]cares of this life, and [i]that day come on you suddenly [j]as a snare: 35 for so shall it come [j]upon all them that dwell on the face of all the earth. 36 But [k]watch ye at every season, [l]making supplication, that ye may [m]prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and [n]to stand before the Son of man.

37 And [o]every day he was teaching in the temple; and [p]every night
he went out, and lodged in the mount that is called [q]the mount of Olives. 38 And [o]all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

1 [r]Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called [s]the Passover. 2 And the chief priests and the scribes [t]sought how they might put him to death; for they feared the people.
3 [u]And [v]Satan entered into [w]Judas who was called Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. 4 And he went away, and communed with the chief priests and [x]captains, how he might deliver him unto them.
5 And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. 6 And he consented, and sought opportunity to [y]deliver him unto them [1][z]in the absence of the multitude.

7 [a]And [b]the day of unleavened bread came, on which the passover must be sacrificed. 8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and make ready for us the passover, that we may eat. 9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we make ready? 10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house whereinto he goeth. 11 And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, [c]The [2]Master saith unto thee, Where is [d]the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? 12 And he will shew you [e]a large upper room furnished: there make ready. 13 And they went, and found [f]as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 [g]And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles with him. 15 And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: 16 for I say unto you, I will not eat of it, [h]until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. 17 And he received a cup, and [i]when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: 18 [j]for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, [h]until the kingdom of God shall come. 19 [k]And he took [3]bread, and [i]when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, [l]This is my body [4]which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. 20 And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, [l]This cup is [m]the new [5][n]covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you. 21 [o]But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is [p]with me on the table. 22 For the Son of man indeed goeth, [q]as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man through whom he is betrayed! 23 And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 And [r]there arose also a contention among them, which of them is accounted to be [6]greatest. 25 [s]And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles [t]have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called [u]Benefactors. 26 [v]But ye shall not be so: but [t]he that is the greater among you, let him become as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. 27 For whether is greater, [w]he that [7]sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that [7]sitteth at meat? but [x]I am in the midst of you as he that serveth. 28 But ye are they which have continued with me [y]in my temptations; 29 and [8][z]I appoint unto you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed unto me, 30 [a]that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom; and [b]ye shall sit on thrones judging [c]the twelve tribes of Israel. 31 Simon, Simon, behold, [d]Satan [9]asked to have you, [e]that he might sift you as wheat: 32 but [f]I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and do thou, when once thou hast turned again, [g]stablish thy brethren. 33 And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both [h]to prison and [i]to death. 34 [j]And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 And he said unto them, [k]When I sent you forth without purse, and wallet, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing. 36 And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: [10]and he that hath none, let him sell his cloke, and buy a sword. 37 For I say unto you, that [l]this which is written must be fulfilled in me, [m]And he was reckoned with transgressors: for [n]that which concerneth me hath [11]fulfilment. 38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two [o]swords. And he said unto them, [p]It is enough.

39 [q]And he came out, and went, [r]as his custom was, unto [s]the mount of Olives; and the disciples also followed him. 40 [t]And when he was at [u]the place, he said unto them, [v]Pray that ye [w]enter not into temptation. 41 And he was parted from them about a stone's cast; and [x]he kneeled down and prayed, 42 saying, [y]Father, if thou be willing, remove [z]this cup from me: [a]nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done. 43 [1]And there appeared unto him [b]an angel from heaven, strengthening him. 44 And [y]being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat became as it were great drops of blood falling down upon the ground. 45 And when he rose up from his prayer, he came unto the disciples, and found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 and said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and [c]pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

47 [d]While he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called [e]Judas, one of the twelve, went before them; and he drew near unto Jesus to kiss him. 48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss? 49 And when they that were about him saw what would follow, they said, Lord, shall we smite [f]with the sword? 50 And a certain one of them smote the [2]servant of the high priest, and struck off his right ear. 51 But Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him. 52 And Jesus said unto the chief priests, and [g]captains of the temple, and elders, which were come against him, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves? 53 When [h]I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is [i]your hour, and [j]the power of darkness.

54 [k]And they seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. [l]But Peter followed afar off. 55 [m]And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of [n]the court, and had sat down together, Peter sat in the midst of them. 56 And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking stedfastly upon him, said, This man also was with him. 57 But he denied, saying, Woman, I know him not. 58 And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. 59 And after the space of about one hour another [o]confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him: for he is a Galilæan. 60 But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. 61 And the Lord turned, and [p]looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, [q]Before the cock crow this day, thou shalt [r]deny me thrice. 62 And he went out, and wept bitterly.

63 [s]And the men that held [3]Jesus mocked him, and beat him. 64 [s]And they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, [t]Prophesy: [t]who is he that struck thee? 65 And many other things spake they against him, [u]reviling him.

66 [v]And as soon as it was day, [w]the assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away into their [x]council, [y]saying, 67 [z]If thou art [a]the Christ, tell us. But he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe: 68 and if I ask you, ye will not answer. 69 But from henceforth shall the Son of man be seated [b]at the right hand of the power of God. 70 And they all said, Art thou then [c]the Son of God? And he said unto them, [4][d]Ye say that I am. 71 And they said, What further need have we of witness? for we ourselves have heard from his own mouth.

23 1 [e]And the whole company of them rose up, and brought him before Pilate. 2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man [f]perverting our nation, and [g]forbidding to give tribute to [h]Cæsar, and saying that he himself is [5]Christ [i]a king. 3 [j]And Pilate asked him, saying, [k]Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, [l]Thou sayest. 4 And Pilate said unto the chief priests and the multitudes, [m]I find no fault in this man. 5 But they were the more urgent, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Judæa, and [n]beginning from Galilee even unto this place. 6 But when Pilate heard it, he asked whether the man were a Galilæan. 7 And when he knew that he was of [o] Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

8 Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: [p] for he was of a long time desirous to see him, [q] because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped [r] to see some [1] miracle done by him. 9 And he questioned him in many words; but he answered him nothing. 10 And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. 11 And Herod with his soldiers [s] set him at nought, and [t] mocked him, and [u] arraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to Pilate. 12 And [v] Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 And Pilate called together the chief priests and [w] the rulers and the people, 14 and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, [x] as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, [y] having examined him before you, [z] found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: 15 for [a] he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him. 16 [b] I will therefore chastise him, and release him.[2] 18 [c] But they cried out altogether, saying, [d] Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas: 19 one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and [e] for murder, was cast into prison. 20 And Pilate spake unto them again, desiring to release Jesus; 21 but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify him. 22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, [f] what evil hath this man done? [g] I have found no cause of death in him: [h] I will therefore chastise him and release him. 23 But they were instant with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. 24 And Pilate [i] gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. 25 And he released him that [j] for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for; [k] but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

26 [l] And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

27 And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women who [m] bewailed and lamented him. 28 But Jesus turning unto them said, [n] Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. 29 For behold, [o] the days are coming, in which they shall say, [p] Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that never gave suck. 30 [q] Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. 31 For [r] if they do these things in [s] the green tree, what shall be done in [s] the dry?

32 [t] And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 [u] And when they came unto the place which is called [3] The skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, [t] one on the right hand and the other on the left. 34 [4] And Jesus said, Father, [v] forgive them; [w] for they know not what they do. [x] And parting his garments among them, they cast lots. 35 And [y] the people stood beholding. [z] And [a] the rulers also [b] scoffed at him, saying, [c] He saved others; [d] let him save himself, [e] if this is [f] the Christ of God, [g] his chosen. 36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, [h] offering him vinegar, 37 and saying, [i] If thou art [j] the King of the Jews, save thyself. 38 [k] And there was also a superscription over him, THIS IS [j] THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 And [l] one of the malefactors which were hanged [m] railed on him, saying, Art not thou [n] the Christ? save thyself and us. 40 But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? 41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss. 42 And he said, Jesus, remember me [o] when thou comest [1] in thy kingdom. 43 And he said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To-day shalt thou be with me in [p] Paradise.

[1] Gr. sign. [2] Many ancient authorities insert ver. 17 Now he must needs release unto them at the feast one prisoner. Others add the same words after ver. 19. [3] According to the Latin, Calvary, which has the same meaning. [4] Some ancient authorities omit And Jesus said, Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do.

44 [q] And it was now about the sixth hour, and a darkness came over the whole [2] land until the ninth hour, [3] [r] the sun's light failing: 45 and [s] the veil of the [4] temple was rent in the midst. 46 [5] And [t] when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, [u] into thy hands I [x] commend my spirit: and having said this, [y] he gave up the ghost. 47 And [z] when the centurion saw what was done, [a] he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. 48 And all the multitudes that came together to this sight, when they beheld the things that were done, returned [b] smiting their breasts. 49 And all [c] his acquaintance, and [d] the women that followed with him from Galilee [e] stood afar off, seeing these things.

50 [f] And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a righteous 51 (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who [g] was looking for the kingdom of God: 52 this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. 53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and [h] laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, [i] where never man had yet lain. 54 And it was the day of [j] the Preparation, and the sabbath [6] drew on. 55 And [k] the women, [l] which had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, and how his body was laid. 56 And they returned, and [m] prepared spices and ointments.

1 [o] But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, [p] bringing the spices which they had prepared. 2 And they found [q] the stone rolled away from the tomb. 3 And they entered in, and found not the body [7] of the Lord Jesus. 4 And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, [r] two [s] men stood by them in dazzling apparel: 5 and as they were [t] affrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye [8] [u] the living among the dead? 6 [9] He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you [v] when he was yet in Galilee, 7 [v] saying that the Son of man [w] must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and [x] be crucified, and [y] the third day rise again. 8 And [z] they remembered his words, 9 and returned [10] from the tomb, and [a] told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest. 10 Now they were [b] Mary Magdalene, and [c] Joanna, and Mary the mother of James: and the other women with them told these things unto the apostles. 11 And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk; and [d] they disbelieved them. 12 [11] But [e] Peter arose, and ran unto the tomb; and stooping and looking in, he seeth [f] the linen cloths by themselves; and he [12] departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

13 And behold, [g] two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs from Jerusalem. 14 And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened. 15 And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. 16 [h] But their eyes were holden that they should not know him. 17 And he said unto them, [13] What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood still, looking sad. 18 And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said unto him, [14] Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days? 19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, The things concerning [i] Jesus of Nazareth, which was [j] a prophet [k] mighty in deed and word before God and all the people: 20 and [l] how the chief priests and [m] our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. 21 But we hoped that it was he [n] which should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now [o] the third day since these things came to pass. 22 Moreover certain women of our company amazed us, [p] having been early at the tomb; 23 and [q] when they found not his body, they came, saying, that [r] they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. 24 [s] And certain of them that were with us went to the tomb, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. 25 And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe [1] in all that the prophets have spoken! 26 [t] Behoved it not [u] the Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into [v] his glory? 27 And [w] beginning from [x] Moses and from [y] all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. 28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and [z] he made as though he would go further. 29 And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and [a] the day is now far spent. And he went in to abide with them. 30 And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to meat, he took the [2] bread, and [b] blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. 31 [c] And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and [d] he vanished out of their sight. 32 And they said one to another, [e] Was not our heart burning within us, while he spake to us in the way, while he [f] opened to us the scriptures? 33 And they rose up that very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and [g] found the eleven gathered together, and [h] them that were with them, 34 saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and [i] hath appeared to Simon. 35 And they rehearsed the things that happened in the way, and [j] how he was known of them in [k] the breaking of the bread.

36 And as they spake these things, [l] he himself stood in the midst of them, [3] and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. 37 But they were [m] terrified and [n] affrighted, and [o] supposed that they beheld a spirit. 38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do reasonings arise in your heart? 39 See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: [p] handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having. 40 [4] And when he had said this, [q] he shewed them his hands and his feet. 41 And while they still disbelieved [r] for joy, and wondered, [s] he said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat? 42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish[5]. 43 And he took it, and [t] did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, [u] These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, [v] how that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and [w] the psalms, concerning me. 45 Then [x] opened he their mind, that they might understand the scriptures; 46 and he said unto them, Thus [y] it is written, [z] that the Christ should suffer, and [a] rise again from the dead the third day; 47 and that [b] repentance [6] and remission of sins should be preached [c] in his name [d] unto all the [7] nations, [e] beginning from Jerusalem. 48 [f] Ye are witnesses of these things. 49 And behold, I send forth [g] the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city, until ye [h] be clothed with [i] power [j] from on high.

50 And [k] he led them out until they were over against [l] Bethany: and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. 51 And it came to pass, while he blessed them, [m] he parted from them, [8] and was carried up into heaven. 52 And they [9] [n] worshipped him, and [k] returned to Jerusalem [o] with great joy: 53 and [p] were continually in the temple, [q] blessing God.

1 [a]In the beginning was [b]the Word, and [c]the Word was with God, and [d]the Word was God. 2 The same was in the beginning with God. 3 [e]All things were made [1]by him; and without him [2]was not anything made that hath been made. 4 [f]In him was life; and [g]the life was the light of men. 5 And [h]the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness [3]apprehended it not. 6 There came a man, [i]sent from God, whose name was [j]John. 7 The same came [k]for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, [l]that all might believe through him. 8 [m]He was not the light, but came [k]that he might bear witness of the light. 9 [4]There was [n]the true light, even the light which lighteth [5]every man, [o]coming into the world. 10 He was in the world, and [e]the world was made [1]by him, and [p]the world knew him not. 11 He came unto [6][q]his own, and [r]they that were his own [s]received him not. 12 But as many as received him, [t]to them gave he the right [u]to become [v]children of God, even to them [w]that believe on his name: 13 which [x]were [7]born, [y]not of [8]blood, [z]nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. 14 And [a]the Word [b]became flesh, and [9][c]dwelt among us (and [d]we beheld his glory, glory as of [10]the only begotten from the Father), full of [e]grace and [f]truth. 15 [g]John beareth witness of him, and crieth, saying, [11]This was he of whom I said, [h]He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was [12]before me. 16 For of [i]his fulness we all received, and [j]grace for grace. 17 For [k]the law was given [1]by Moses: [l]grace and truth came [1]by Jesus Christ. 18 [m]No man hath seen God at any time; [13][n]the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, [o]he hath declared him.

19 And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent unto him from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him, [p]Who art thou? 20 And [q]he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, I am not the Christ. 21 And they asked him, What then? [r]Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou [s]the prophet? And he answered, No. 22 They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? 23 He said, I am [t]the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet. 24 [14]And they had been sent from the Pharisees. 25 And they asked him, and said unto him, [u]Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the Christ, neither Elijah, neither the prophet? 26 John answered them, saying, [v]I baptize [15]with water: in the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not, 27 even [w]he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to unloose. 28 These things were done in [16][x]Bethany beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, [y]the Lamb of God, which [17][z]taketh away the sin [a]of the world! 30 This is he of whom I said, [b]After me cometh a man which is become before me: for he was [12]before me. 31 And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, [c]for this cause came I baptizing [15]with water. 32 And John [d]bare witness, saying, [e]I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven; and [f]it abode upon him. 33 And I knew him not: but [g]he that sent me to baptize [1][h]with water, he said unto me, Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and abiding upon him, [i]the same is he that baptizeth [1][h]with the Holy Spirit. 34 And I have seen, and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.

35 Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; 36 and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and saith, Behold, [j]the Lamb of God! 37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. 38 And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, [k]What seek ye? And they said unto him, [l]Rabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, [2]Master), where abidest thou? 39 He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was about the tenth hour. 40 [m]One of the two that heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. 41 He findeth first his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found [n]the Messiah (which is, being interpreted, [3][o]Christ). 42 He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of [4][p]John: thou shalt be called [q]Cephas (which is by interpretation, [5][r]Peter).

43 On [s]the morrow he was minded [t]to go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me. 44 Now [u]Philip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip findeth [v]Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom [w]Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus [x]of Nazareth, [y]the son of Joseph. 46 And Nathanael said unto him, [z]Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, [a]an Israelite indeed, [b]in whom is no guile! 48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence [c]knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. 49 Nathanael answered him, [d]Rabbi, [e]thou art the Son of God; thou art [f]King of Israel. 50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. 51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see [g]the heaven opened, and [h]the angels of God ascending and descending upon [i]the Son of man.

2 1 And [j]the third day there was a marriage in [k]Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 and Jesus also was bidden, and [l]his disciples, to the marriage. 3 And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. 4 And Jesus saith unto her, [m]Woman, [n]what have I to do with thee? [o]mine hour is not yet come. 5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. 6 Now there were six waterpots of stone set there [p]after the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three [q]firkins apiece. 7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. 8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the [6]ruler of the feast. And they bare it. 9 And when the ruler of the feast tasted [r]the water [7]now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast calleth the bridegroom, 10 and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse: thou hast kept the good wine until now. 11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested [s]his glory; and [t]his disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and [u]his brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And [v]the passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus [w]went up to Jerusalem. 14 [x]And he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: 15 and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables; 16 and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not [y]my Father's house a house of merchandise. 17 His disciples remembered that it was written, [z]The zeal of thine house shall eat me up. 18 The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, [a]What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? 19 Jesus answered and said unto them, [b]Destroy this [1]temple, and in three days [c]I will raise it up. 20 The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this [1]temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? 21 But he spake of [d]the [1]temple of his body. 22 When therefore he was raised from the dead, [e]his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed [f]the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, [g]beholding his signs which he did. 24 But Jesus [h]did not trust himself unto them, for that [i]he knew all men, 25 and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning [2]man; for [i]he himself knew what was in man.

3 1 Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named [j]Nicodemus, [k]a ruler of the Jews: 2 the same came unto him [l]by night, and said to him, [m]Rabbi, [n]we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou doest, [o]except God be with him. 3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be [p]born [3][q]anew, he cannot [r]see the kingdom of God. 4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born? 5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born [s]of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. 6 [t]That which is born of the flesh is [u]flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit [v]is spirit. 7 [w]Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born [3][x]anew. 8 [4][y]The wind bloweth [z]where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. 9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, [a]How can these things be? 10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, [b]and understandest not these things? 11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [c]We speak that we do know, and bear witness of that we have seen; and [c]ye receive not our witness. 12 If I told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you heavenly things? 13 And [d]no man hath ascended into heaven, but [e]he that descended out of heaven, even the Son of man, [5][f]which is in heaven. 14 And [g]as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man [h]be lifted up: 15 that whosoever [6]believeth may [i]in him [j]have eternal life.

16 For [k]God so loved [l]the world, [m]that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not [n]perish, but have eternal life. 17 For [o]God sent not the Son into the world [p]to judge the world; but that the world should be saved through him. 18 [q]He that believeth on him is not judged: he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not [r]believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19 [s]And this is the judgement, that [t]the light is come into the world, and [u]men loved the darkness rather than the light; for [v]their works were evil. 20 [w]For every one that [7]doeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, [x]lest his works should be [8]reproved. 21 But he that [y]doeth the truth [z]cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, [9]that they have been wrought in God.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and there he tarried with them, and [a]baptized. 23 And John also was baptizing in Ænon near to [b]Salim, because there [10]was much water there: and they came, and were baptized. 24 For [c]John was not yet cast into prison. 25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about [d] purifying. 26 And they came unto John, and said to him, [e] Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, [f] to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and [g] all men come to him. 27 John answered and said, [h] A man can receive nothing, [i] except it have been given him [j] from heaven. 28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, [k] I am not the Christ, but, that [l] I am sent before him. 29 [m] He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but [n] the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, [o] rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. 30 [p] He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 [q] He that cometh from above [r] is above all: he that is of the earth is of the earth, and of the earth [s] he speaketh: [1] [t] he that cometh from heaven [r] is above all. 32 [u] What he hath seen and heard, of that he beareth witness; [v] and no man receiveth his witness. 33 He that hath received his witness [w] hath set his seal to this, [x] that God is true. 34 For he whom [y] God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for he giveth not the Spirit [z] by measure. 35 [a] The Father loveth the Son, and [b] hath given all things into his hand. 36 [c] He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but [d] he that [2] [e] obeyeth not the Son shall not [f] see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

4 1 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and [g] baptizing more disciples than John 2 (although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), 3 he left Judæa, and departed [h] again into Galilee. 4 And [i] he must needs pass through Samaria. 5 So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground [j] that Jacob gave to his son Joseph: 6 and Jacob's [3] well was there. Jesus therefore, [k] being wearied with his journey, sat [4] [l] thus by the [3] well. It was about the sixth hour. 7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, [k] Give me to drink. 8 For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. 9 The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? ([5] [m] For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) 10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee [n] living water. 11 The woman saith unto him, [6] Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water? 12 [o] Art thou greater than our father Jacob, [p] which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his sons, and his cattle? 13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again: 14 but [q] whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him [r] shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become [s] in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life. 15 The woman saith unto him, [6] Sir, [t] give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. 16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, [u] call thy husband, and come hither. 17 The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband: 18 for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this hast thou said truly. 19 The woman saith unto him, [6] Sir, I perceive that [v] thou art [w] a prophet. 20 [x] Our fathers worshipped in [y] this mountain; and ye say, that [z] in Jerusalem is [a] the place where men ought to worship. 21 Jesus saith unto her, [b] Woman, believe me, [c] the hour cometh, when [d] neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father. 22 [e] Ye worship that which ye know not: [f] we worship that which we know: for [f] salvation is [g] from the Jews. 23 But [h] the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father [i] in spirit and [j] truth: [7] for such doth the Father

[1] Some ancient authorities read he that cometh from heaven beareth witness of what he hath seen and heard. [2] Or, believeth not [3] Gr. spring: and so in ver. 14; but not in ver. 11, 12. [4] Or, as he was [5] Some ancient authorities omit For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans. [6] Or, Lord [7] Or, for such the Father also seeketh

[k] seek to be his worshippers. 24 [1] God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. 25 The woman saith unto him, I know that [l] Messiah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, [m] he will declare unto us all things. 26 Jesus saith unto her, [n] I that speak unto thee am he.

27 And upon this [o] came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? 28 So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, [p] which told me all things that ever I did: can this be the Christ? 30 They went out of the city, and were coming to him. 31 In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, [q] Rabbi, eat. 32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not. 33 The disciples therefore said one to another, [r] Hath any man brought him aught to eat? 34 Jesus saith unto them, [s] My meat is [t] to do the will of him that sent me, and [u] to accomplish his work. 35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, [v] that they are [2] white already unto harvest. 36 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that [w] he that soweth and [x] he that reapeth [y] may rejoice together. 37 For herein is the saying true, [z] One soweth, and another reapeth. 38 I sent you to reap [a] that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, [b] and ye are entered into their labour.

39 And [c] from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him [d] because of the word of the woman, [e] who testified, He told me all things that ever I did. 40 So when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them: and he abode there two days. 41 And many more believed [f] because of his word; 42 and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking: for we have heard for ourselves, [g] and know that this is indeed [h] the Saviour [i] of the world.

43 And after [j] the two days he went forth from thence into Galilee. 44 For Jesus himself testified, [k] that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. 45 So when he came into Galilee, the Galilæans received him, [l] having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for [m] they also went unto the feast.

46 He came therefore again unto [n] Cana of Galilee, [o] where he made the water wine. And there was a certain [3] nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus [p] was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death. 48 Jesus therefore said unto him, [q] Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe. 49 The [3] nobleman saith unto him, [4] Sir, come down [r] ere my child die. 50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went his way. 51 And as he was now going down, his [5] servants met him, saying, that his son lived. 52 So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 53 So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, [s] and his whole house. 54 [t] This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judæa into Galilee.

1 After these things there was [6] a [u] feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by [v] the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew [7] Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, [w] withered [8]. 5 And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity. 6 When Jesus saw him

lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou be made whole? 7 The sick man answered him, [1]Sir, I have no man, [x]when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. 8 Jesus saith unto him, [y]Arise, take up thy bed, and walk. 9 [y]And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

[z]Now it was the sabbath on that day. 10 So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and [a]it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed. 11 But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. 12 They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? 13 But he that was healed wist not who it was: for [b]Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in the place. 14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: [c]sin no more, [d]lest a worse thing befall thee. 15 The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole. 16 And for this cause did the Jews [e]persecute Jesus, [f]because he did these things on the sabbath. 17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. 18 For this cause therefore the Jews [g]sought the more to kill him, [h]because he not only [i]brake the sabbath, but also called God [j]his own Father, [k]making himself equal with God.

19 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them,

Verily, verily, I say unto you, [l]The Son [m]can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son also doeth in like manner. 20 For [n]the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and [o]greater works than these will he shew him, that [p]ye may marvel. 21 For as the Father [q]raiseth the dead and [r]quickeneth them, even so [s]the Son also quickeneth [t]whom he will. 22 For neither [u]doth the Father judge any man, but he [v]hath given all judgement unto the Son; 23 that all may honour the Son, even as they [w]honour the Father. [x]He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [y]He that heareth my word, and [z]believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and [a]cometh not into judgement, but [b]hath passed out of death into life. 25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [c]The hour cometh, and now is, when [d]the dead shall hear [e]the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear [d]shall live. 26 [f]For as the Father hath life in himself, [g]even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself: 27 and he [h]gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is [2][i]the Son of man. 28 Marvel not at this: for [c]the hour cometh, in which [j]all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, 29 and shall come forth; [k]they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have [3]done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

30 [l]I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and [m]my judgement is righteous; because [n]I seek not mine own will, [o]but the will of him that sent me. 31 [p]If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. 32 It is [q]another that beareth witness of me; and [r]I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. 33 [s]Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the truth. 34 But [t]the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye may be saved. 35 [u]He was the lamp that burneth and [v]shineth: and [w]ye were willing to rejoice for a season in his light. 36 But [t]the witness which I have is greater than that of John: for [x]the works which the Father hath given me [y]to accomplish, the very works that I do, [z]bear witness of me, that [a]the Father hath sent me. 37 And the Father which sent me, [b]he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, [c]nor seen his form. 38 And [d]ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he sent, him ye believe not. 39 [1][e]Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and [f]these are they which bear witness of me; 40 and [g]ye will not come to me, that ye may have life. 41 [h]I receive not glory from men. 42 But [i]I know you, that ye have not [j]the love of God in yourselves. 43 I am come [k]in my Father's name, and [l]ye receive me not: [m]if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. 44 How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and [n]the glory that cometh from [2][o]the only God ye seek not? 45 Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, [p]on whom ye have set your hope. 46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me; for [q]he wrote of me. 47 But [r]if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

1 After these things [s]Jesus went away to the other side of [t]the sea of Galilee, which is [u]the sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that were sick. 3 And Jesus went up into [v]the mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 Now [w]the passover, the [x]feast of the Jews, was at hand. 5 Jesus therefore [y]lifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto [z]Philip, Whence are we to buy [3]bread, that these may eat? 6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. 7 [a]Philip answered him, Two hundred [4]pennyworth of [3]bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. 8 One of his disciples, [b]Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five [c]barley loaves, and two fishes: but [c]what are these among so many? 10 Jesus said, Make the people sit down. [d]Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. 11 Jesus therefore took the loaves; and [e]having given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; likewise also of the fishes as much as they would.

12 And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that nothing be lost. 13 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them that had eaten. 14 When therefore the people saw the [5]sign which he did, they said, [f]This is of a truth [g]the prophet [h]that cometh into the world.

15 [i]Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, [j]withdrew again into [k]the mountain himself alone.

16 And when evening came, his disciples went down unto the sea; 17 and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. 18 And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew. 19 When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat: and they were afraid. 20 [l]But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. 21 They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat: and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.

22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other [6][m]boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went away alone 23 (howbeit there came [7]boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord [n]had given thanks): 24 [o]when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the [7]boats, and [p]came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. 25 And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, [q]Rabbi, when camest thou hither? 26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [r]Ye seek me, not because ye saw [s]signs, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled. 27 [t]Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for [u]the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which [v]the Son of man shall give unto you: for [w]him the Father, even God, hath [x]sealed. 28 They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may work [y]the works of God? 29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, [z]that ye believe on him whom [1][a]he hath sent. 30 They said therefore unto him, [b]What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? what workest thou? 31 [c]Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, [d]He gave them bread out of heaven to eat. 32 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread out of heaven. 33 For the bread of God is [e]that which cometh down out of heaven, and giveth life unto the world. 34 They said therefore unto him, [f]Lord, evermore give us this bread. 35 Jesus said unto them, [g]I am the bread of life: [h]he that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. 36 But [i]I said unto you, that ye have seen me, and yet believe not. 37 [j]All that which [k]the Father giveth me shall come unto me; and [l]him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. 38 For [m]I am come down from heaven, not to do [n]mine own will, but [n]the will of him [o]that sent me. 39 And [p]this is the will of him that sent me, that of [q]all which he hath given me [r]I should lose nothing, but [s]should raise it up at the last day. 40 For this is the will of my Father, that every one that [t]beholdeth the Son, and [u]believeth on him, [v]should have eternal life; and [2]I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, [w]I am the bread which came down out of heaven. 42 And they said, [x]Is not this Jesus, [y]the son of Joseph, whose father and mother [z]we know? how doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? 43 Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. 44 No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me [a]draw him: and [b]I will raise him up in the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets, [c]And they shall all be [d]taught of God. [e]Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me. 46 [f]Not that any man hath seen the Father, save [g]he which is from God, he [h]hath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [i]He that believeth hath eternal life. 48 [j]I am the bread of life. 49 [k]Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilderness, and [l]they died. 50 [m]This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, [n]and not die. 51 I am the living bread [o]which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is [p]my flesh, [q]for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore [r]strove one with another, saying, [s]How can this man give us his flesh to eat? 53 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of [t]the Son of man and drink his blood, ye [u]have not life in yourselves. 54 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood [v]hath eternal life; and [w]I will raise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is [3]meat indeed, and my blood is [4]drink indeed. 56 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood [x]abideth in me, and I in him. 57 As [y]the living Father [z]sent me, and [a]I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of me. 58 [b]This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread shall live for ever. 59 These things said he in [5]the synagogue, as he taught [c]in Capernaum.

60 [d]Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is [e]a hard saying; who can hear [6]it? 61 But Jesus [f]knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? 62 What then if ye should behold [g]the Son of man [h]ascending [i]where he was before? 63 [j]It is the spirit that quickeneth; [k]the flesh profiteth nothing: [l]the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. 64 But [m]there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus [f]knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and [n]who it was that should betray him. 65 And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, [o]that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

66 [p]Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. 67 Jesus said therefore unto [q]the twelve, Would ye also go away? 68 Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou [1]hast [r]the words of eternal life. 69 And [s]we have believed and know that [t]thou art [u]the Holy One of God. 70 Jesus answered them, [v]Did not I choose you [q]the twelve, and one of you is [w]a devil? 71 Now he spake of Judas [x]the son of Simon Iscariot, for [y]he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

1 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judæa, because [z]the Jews sought to kill him. 2 Now the [a]feast of the Jews, [b]the feast of tabernacles, was at hand. 3 [c]His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judæa, that [d]thy disciples also may behold thy works which thou doest. 4 For no man doeth anything in secret, [2]and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, [e]manifest thyself to the world. 5 [f]For even [g]his brethren did not believe on him. 6 Jesus therefore saith unto them, [h]My time is not yet come; but your time is alway ready. 7 The world cannot hate you; but [i]me it hateth, because I testify of it, that [j]its works are evil. 8 Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up [3]yet unto this feast; because [k]my time is not yet fulfilled. 9 And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when [l]his brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publicly, but as it were in secret. 11 [m]The Jews therefore [n]sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? 12 And there was much [o]murmuring among the multitudes concerning him: [p]some said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he [q]leadeth the multitude astray. 13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him [r]for fear of the Jews.

14 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up [s]into the temple, and taught. 15 The Jews therefore [t]marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? 16 Jesus therefore answered them, and said, [u]My teaching is not mine, but his [v]that sent me. 17 [w]If any man willeth to do his will, [x]he shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or whether I [y]speak from myself. 18 He that speaketh from himself [z]seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 19 [a]Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law? [b]Why seek ye to kill me? 20 The multitude answered, [c]Thou hast a [4]devil: who seeketh to kill thee? 21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I did [d]one work, and ye all [5]marvel. 22 For this cause hath [e]Moses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but [f]of the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumcise a man. 23 If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; [g]are ye wroth with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? 24 [h]Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement.

25 Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom [i]they seek to kill? 26 And lo, [j]he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that [k]the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? 27 Howbeit [l]we know this man [m]whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, [n]no one knoweth whence he is. 28 Jesus therefore cried [o]in the temple, teaching and saying, [l]Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and [p]I am not come of myself, but [q]he that sent me is true, [r]whom ye know not. 29 [s]I know him; because I am [t]from him, and [u]he sent me. 30 [v]They sought therefore to take him: and [w]no man laid his hand on him, [x]because his hour was not yet come. 31 But [y]of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, [z]When the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? 32 The Pharisees heard the multitude [a]murmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent [b]officers to take him. 33 Jesus therefore said, [c]Yet a little while am I with you, and [d]I go unto him that sent me. 34 [e]Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. 35 The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? [f]will he go unto [g]the Dispersion [1]among [h]the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? 36 What is this word that he said, [i]Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?

37 Now [j]on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, [k]If any man thirst, let him [l]come unto me, and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, [m]as the scripture hath said, [n]out of his belly shall flow rivers of [o]living water. 39 But [p]this spake he of the Spirit, [q]which they that believed on him were to receive: [2][r]for the Spirit was not yet [s]given; [t]because Jesus was not yet [u]glorified. 40 [v]Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth [w]the prophet. 41 Others said, This is [x]the Christ. But some said, What, [y]doth the Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh [z]of the seed of David, and [a]from Bethlehem, the village [b]where David was? 43 So there arose [c]a division in the multitude because of him. 44 [d]And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 [e]The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? 46 The officers answered, [f]Never man so spake. 47 The Pharisees therefore answered them, [g]Are ye also led astray? 48 [h]Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? 49 But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accursed. 50 [i]Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), 51 [j]Doth our law judge a man, except it first [k]hear from himself and know what he doeth? 52 They answered and said unto him, [l]Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and [3]see that [m]out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 [4][And they went every man unto his own house: 8 1 but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. 2 And [n]early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and [o]he sat down, and taught them. 3 And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, 4 they say unto him, [5]Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. 5 Now [p]in the law Moses commanded us [q]to stone such: what then sayest thou of her? 6 And this they said, [6][r]tempting him, [s]that they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 7 But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, [t]He that is without sin among you, let him [u]first cast a stone at her. 8 And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. 9 And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst. 10 And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee? 11 And she said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said, [v]Neither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth [w]sin no more.]

[1] Gr. of. [2] Some ancient authorities read for the Holy Spirit was not yet given. [3] Or, see: for out of Galilee &c. [4] Most of the ancient authorities omit John 7. 53–8. 11. Those which contain it vary much from each other. [5] Or, Teacher [6] Or, trying

12 [x]Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, [y]I am the light of the world: he that [z]followeth me shall not [a]walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life. 13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, [b]Thou bearest witness of thyself; thy witness is not true. 14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, [c]my witness is true; for I know [d]whence I came, and [e]whither I go; but [f]ye know not whence I come, or whither I go. 15 [g]Ye judge after the flesh; [h]I judge no man. 16 Yea and if I judge, [i]my judgement is true; for [j]I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. 17 Yea and [k]in your law it is written, that the witness of two men is true. 18 I am he that beareth witness of myself, and [l]the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. 19 They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, [m]Ye know neither me, nor my Father: [n]if ye knew me, ye would know my Father also. 20 These words spake he in [o]the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and [p]no man took him; because [q]his hour was not yet come.

21 He said therefore again unto them, [r]I go away, and [s]ye shall seek me, and [t]shall die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot come. 22 The Jews therefore said, [u]Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come? 23 And he said unto them, [v]Ye are from beneath; I am from above: [w]ye are of this world; [x]I am not of this world. 24 I said therefore unto you, that ye [y]shall die in your sins: for [z]except ye believe that [1][a]I am he, ye shall die in your sins. 25 They said therefore unto him, [b]Who art thou? Jesus said unto them, [2][c]Even that which I have also spoken unto you from the beginning. 26 I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: howbeit [d]he that sent me is true; and [e]the things which I heard from him, these speak I [3][f]unto the world. 27 They perceived not that [g]he spake to them of the Father. 28 Jesus therefore said, When ye have [h]lifted up the Son of man, [i]then shall ye know that [4][j]I am he, and that [k]I do nothing of myself, but [l]as the Father taught me, I speak these things. 29 And [m]he that sent me is with me; [m]he hath not left me alone; for [n]I do always the things that are pleasing to him. 30 As he spake these things, [o]many believed on him.

31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, [p]If ye abide in my word, then are ye truly my disciples; 32 and ye shall [q]know the truth, and the truth [r]shall make you free. 33 They answered unto him, [s]We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? 34 Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [t]Every one that committeth sin is the bondservant of sin. 35 And [u]the bondservant abideth not in the house for ever: [v]the son abideth for ever. 36 If therefore [w]the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. 37 I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet [x]ye seek to kill me, because my word [5]hath not free course in you. 38 [y]I speak the things which I have seen with [6]my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard [z]from your father. 39 They answered and said unto him, [a]Our father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, [b]If ye [7]were Abraham's children, [8]ye would do the works of Abraham. 40 But now [c]ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, [d]which I heard from God: this did not Abraham. 41 Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, [e]We were not born of fornication; we have [f]one Father, even God. 42 Jesus said unto them, [g]If God were your Father, ye would love me: for [h]I came forth and [i]am come from God; for [j]neither have I come of myself, but [k]he sent me. 43 [l]Why do ye not [9]understand my speech? Even because [m]ye cannot hear my word. 44 [n]Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. [o]He was a murderer from the beginning, and [10][p]stood not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. [1][q]When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof. 45 But because I say the truth, ye believe me not. 46 Which of you convicteth me of sin? If I say truth, why do ye not believe me? 47 [r]He that is of God heareth the words of God: [s]for this cause ye hear them not, because [t]ye are not of God. 48 The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and [u]hast a [2]devil? 49 Jesus answered, I have not a [2]devil; but [v]I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me. 50 But [w]I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. 51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [x]If a man keep my word, he shall never [y]see death. 52 The Jews said unto him, Now we know that thou hast a [2]devil. [z]Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and [a]thou sayest, If a man keep my word, he shall never [b]taste of death. 53 [c]Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? 54 Jesus answered, [d]If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: [e]it is my Father that glorifieth me; [f]of whom ye say, that he is your God; 55 and [g]ye have not known him: [h]but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be [i]like unto you, [j]a liar: but I know him, and keep his word. 56 [k]Your father Abraham [l]rejoiced [3][m]to see my day; and [n]he saw it, and was glad. 57 The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? 58 Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham [4]was, [o]I am. 59 [p]They took up stones therefore to cast at him: but [q]Jesus [5]hid himself, and went out of the temple [6][r].

9 1 And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth. 2 And his disciples asked him, saying, [s]Rabbi, [t]who did sin, [u]this man, or [v]his parents, that he should be born blind? 3 Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but [w]that the works of God should be made manifest in him. 4 We must [x]work the works of him that sent me, [y]while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. 5 When I am in the world, [z]I am the light of the world. 6 When he had thus spoken, [a]he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, [7][b]and anointed his eyes with the clay, 7 and said unto him, Go, wash in [c]the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and [d]came seeing. 8 The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, [e]Is not this he that sat and begged? 9 Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he. 10 They said therefore unto him, How then were thine eyes opened? 11 He answered, [f]The man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight. 12 And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

13 They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. 14 [g]Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. 15 [h]Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. 16 Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not [i]from God, [j]because he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, [k]How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And [l]there was a division among them. 17 They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, [m]He is a prophet. 18 [n]The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, 19 and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? 20 His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: 21 but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. 22 These things said his parents, [o]because they feared the Jews: for [p]the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should [q]confess him to be Christ, [r]he should be put out of the synagogue. 23 Therefore said his parents, [s]He is of age; ask him. 24 So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, [t]Give glory to God: we know that [u]this man is a sinner. 25 He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I [v]was blind, now I see. 26 They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? 27 He answered them, [w]I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his disciples? 28 And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but [x]we are disciples of Moses. 29 We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, [y]we know not whence he is. 30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is [z]the marvel, that [a]ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened mine eyes. 31 We know that [b]God heareth not sinners: but [c]if any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth. 32 Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the eyes of a man born blind. 33 [d]If this man were not from God, he could do nothing. 34 They answered and said unto him, [e]Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they [f]cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on [1][g]the Son of God? 36 He answered and said, [h]And who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? 37 Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and [i]he it is that speaketh with thee. 38 And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. 39 And Jesus said, [j]For judgement came I into this world, [k]that they which see not may see; and [l]that they which see may become blind. 40 Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, [m]Are we also blind? 41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, [n]ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

10 1 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. 2 But he that entereth in by the door is [2]the shepherd of the sheep. 3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. 4 When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. 5 And [o]a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. 6 This [3][p]parable spake Jesus [q]unto them: but they [r]understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [s]I am the door of the sheep. 8 All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. 9 I am the door: by me if any man enter in, [t]he shall be saved, and shall [u]go in and go out, and [v]shall find pasture. 10 The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and [w]kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may [4][x]have it abundantly. 11 [y]I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd [z]layeth down his life for the sheep. 12 He that is [a]a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and [b]leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and [c]scattereth them: 13 he fleeth because [d]he is a hireling, and [e]careth not for the sheep. 14 [f]I am the good shepherd; and [g]I know mine own, and [h]mine own know me, 15 [i]even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and [j]I lay down my life for the sheep. 16 And [k]other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: [l]them also I must [5][m]bring, and [n]they shall hear my voice; and [6]they shall become [o]one flock, [p]one shepherd. 17 [q]Therefore doth the Father love me, [r]because [s]I lay down my life, that I may take it again. 18 [t]No one [1]taketh it away from me, but [s]I lay it down [u]of myself. I have [2]power to lay it down, and [v]I have [2]power to take it again. [w]This commandment received I from my Father.

19 [x]There arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. 20 And many of them said, [y]He hath a [3]devil, and [z]is mad; why hear ye him? 21 Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a [3]devil. [a]Can a [3]devil open the eyes of the blind?

22 [4]And it was the feast of [b]the dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; 23 and Jesus was walking in the temple [c]in Solomon's porch. 24 The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art [d]the Christ, [e]tell us plainly. 25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: [f]the works that I do [g]in my Father's name, these bear witness of me. 26 But [h]ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. 27 [i]My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: 28 and [j]I give unto them eternal life; and [k]they shall never perish, and [l]no one shall snatch them out of my hand. 29 [5][m]My Father, [n]which hath given them unto me, [o]is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch [6]them out of [p]the Father's hand. 30 [q]I and the Father are one. 31 [r]The Jews took up stones again to stone him. 32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? 33 The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but [s]for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, [t]makest thyself God. 34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in [u]your law, [v]I said, Ye are gods? 35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be [w]broken), 36 say ye of him, whom [x]the Father [7][y]sanctified and [z]sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because [a]I said, I am the Son of God? 37 [b]If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. 38 But if I do them, [c]though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that [d]the Father is in me, and I in the Father. 39 [e]They sought again to take him: and [f]he went forth out of their hand.

40 And he went away again beyond Jordan into the place [g]where John was at the first baptizing; and there he abode. 41 And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but [h]all things whatsoever John spake of this man were true. 42 And [i]many believed on him there.

11 1 Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of [j]Mary and her sister Martha. 2 And [k]it was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. 3 The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, [l]he whom thou lovest is sick. 4 But when Jesus heard it, he said, [m]This sickness is not unto death, but for [n]the glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. 5 Now [o]Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. 6 When therefore he heard that he was sick, [p]he abode at that time two days in the place where he was. 7 Then after this he saith to the disciples, [q]Let us go into Judæa again. 8 The disciples say unto him, [r]Rabbi, [s]the Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? 9 Jesus answered, [t]Are there not twelve hours in the day? [u]If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. 10 But [v]if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not [v]in him. 11 These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus [w]is fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. 12 The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will [8][x]recover. 13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. 14 Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. 15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. 16 [y] Thomas therefore, who is called [1] Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, [z] that we may die with him.

17 So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb [a] four days already. 18 Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; 19 and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, [b] to console them concerning their brother. 20 [c] Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in the house. 21 Martha therefore said unto [d] Jesus, Lord, [e] if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 22 And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, [f] God will give thee. 23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. 24 [g] Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in [h] the resurrection at the last day. 25 Jesus said unto her, [i] I am the resurrection, and [j] the life: he that believeth on me, [k] though he die, [l] yet shall he live: 26 and whosoever liveth and believeth on me [m] shall never die. Believest thou this? 27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: [n] I have believed that [o] thou art the Christ, the Son of God, even [p] he that cometh into the world. 28 And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary [2] her sister secretly, saying, [q] The [3] Master is here, and calleth thee. 29 And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. 30 (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) 31 The Jews then [r] which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to [4] weep there. 32 Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, [s] Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. 33 When Jesus therefore saw her [5] weeping, and the Jews also [5] weeping which came with her, he [6][t] groaned in the spirit, and [7] was [u] troubled, 34 and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. 35 [v] Jesus wept. 36 The Jews therefore said, Behold [w] how he loved him! 37 But some of them said, Could not this man, [x] which opened the eyes of him that was blind, [y] have caused that this man also should not die? 38 Jesus therefore again [8][z] groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was [a] a cave, and [b] a stone lay [9] against it. 39 Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for [c] he hath been dead four days. 40 Jesus saith unto her, [d] Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldest see [e] the glory of God? 41 So they took away the stone. And Jesus [f] lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou heardest me. 42 And [g] I knew that thou hearest me always: but [h] because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, [i] that they may believe that thou didst send me. 43 And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. 44 [j] He that was dead came forth, [k] bound hand and foot with [10] grave-clothes; and [l] his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 [m] Many therefore of the Jews, [n] which came to Mary and [o] beheld [11] that which he did, believed on him. 46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees [p] gathered [q] a council, and said, [r] What do we? for this man doeth many signs. 48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and [s] the Romans will come and take away both our [t] place and our nation. 49 But a certain one of them, [u] Caiaphas, [v] being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, 50 nor do ye take account that [w] it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. 51 Now this he said not of himself: but [x]being high priest that year, [y]he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; 52 and [z]not for the nation only, but [a]that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. 53 So from that day forth they [b]took counsel that they might put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore [c]walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called [d]Ephraim; and there he tarried with the disciples. 55 Now [e]the passover of the Jews was at hand: and [f]many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, [g]to purify themselves. 56 [h]They sought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? That he will not come to the feast? 57 Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.

12 1 [i]Jesus therefore six days before [j]the passover came to Bethany, [k]where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. 2 So they made him a supper there: and [l]Martha served; but Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him. 3 [m]Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of [1]spikenard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. 4 But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, which should betray him, saith, 5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred [2]pence, and [n]given to the poor? 6 Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and [n]having the [3]bag [4]took away what was put therein. 7 Jesus therefore said, [5]Suffer her to keep it against the day of my burying. 8 For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

9 The [o]common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, [p]whom he had raised from the dead. 10 [q]But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; 11 because that [r]by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

12 On the morrow [6][s]a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 took the branches of [t]the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, [u]Hosanna: Blessed is [v]he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even [w]the King of Israel. 14 And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, 15 [x]Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. 16 [y]These things understood not his disciples at the first: but [z]when Jesus was glorified, then [a]remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. 17 [b]The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. 18 For this cause also the multitude went and met him, [c]for that they heard that he had done this sign. 19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, [7][d]Behold how ye prevail nothing: lo, [e]the world is gone after him.

20 Now there were certain [f]Greeks [g]among those that went up to worship at the feast: 21 these therefore came to [h]Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. 22 Philip cometh and telleth [i]Andrew: Andrew cometh, and Philip, and they tell Jesus. 23 And Jesus answereth them, saying, [j]The hour is come, [k]that the Son of man should be glorified. 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [l]Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. 25 [m]He that loveth his [8]life loseth it; and [n]he that [o]hateth his [8]life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. 26 If any man serve me, let him [p]follow me; and [q]where I am, there shall also my servant be: [r]if any man serve me, [s]him will the Father honour. 27 [t]Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, [u]save me from [v]this [1]hour. But [w]for this cause came I unto [v]this hour. 28 Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore [x]a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, [y]An angel hath spoken to him. 30 Jesus answered and said, [z]This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. 31 [a]Now is [2]the judgement of this world: now shall [b]the prince of this world [c]be cast out. 32 And I, [d]if I be lifted up [3]from the earth, [e]will draw [f]all men unto myself. 33 But this he said, [g]signifying by what manner of death he should die. 34 The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that [h]the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, [i]The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? 35 Jesus therefore said unto them, [j]Yet a little while is [k]the light [4]among you. [l]Walk while ye have the light, that darkness [m]overtake you not: and [n]he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become [o]sons of light.

These things spake Jesus, and he departed and [5][p]hid himself from them. 37 But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: 38 [q]that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, [r]Lord, who hath believed our report?

And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 For this cause they [s]could not believe, for that Isaiah said again,

40 [t]He hath blinded their eyes, and he [u]hardened their heart;
Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart,
And should turn,
And I should heal them.

41 These things said Isaiah, because [v]he saw his glory; and [w]he spake of him. 42 Nevertheless [x]even of the rulers many believed on him; but [y]because of the Pharisees they did not [z]confess [6][a]it, lest they should be [z]put out of the synagogue: 43 [b]for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

44 And Jesus cried and said, [c]He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but [d]on him that sent me. 45 And [e]he that [f]beholdeth me beholdeth him that sent me. 46 [g]I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me may not abide in the darkness. 47 And if any man [h]hear my sayings, and keep them not, [i]I judge him not: for [j]I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. 48 [k]He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: [l]the word that I spake, the same shall judge him [m]in the last day. 49 For [n]I spake not from myself; but the Father [o]which sent me, he hath given me a [p]commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. 50 And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

1 Now [q]before [r]the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that [s]his hour was come that he [t]should depart out of this world unto the Father, [u]having loved [v]his own which were in the world, he loved them [7]unto the end. 2 And during supper, [w]the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him, 3 Jesus, knowing [x]that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that [y]he came forth from God, and [z]goeth unto God, 4 riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel, and [a]girded himself. 5 Then he [b]poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. 6 So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? 7 [c]Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do [d]thou knowest not now; but thou shalt understand hereafter. 8 [e]Peter saith unto him,

[1] Or, hour? [2] Or, a judgement [3] Or, out of [4] Or, in [5] Or, was hidden from them [6] Or, him
[7] Or, to the uttermost

Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, [f] If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. 9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. 10 Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not [1][g] save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and [h] ye are clean, [i] but not all. 11 [j] For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So when he had washed their feet, and [k] taken his garments, and [2] sat down again, he said unto them, [l] Know ye what I have done to you? 13 [m] Ye call me, [3][n] Master, and, Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. 14 If I then, the Lord and the [3] Master, have washed your feet, [o] ye also ought to wash one another's feet. 15 For I have given you an example, [p] that ye also should do as I have done to you. 16 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [q] A [4] servant is not greater than his lord; neither [5] one that is sent greater than he that sent him. 17 If ye know these things, [r] blessed are ye if ye do them. 18 [s] I speak not of you all: I know [t] whom I [6] have chosen: but [u] that the scripture may be fulfilled, [v] He that eateth [7] my bread lifted up his heel against me. 19 From henceforth [w] I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, [x] ye may believe that [8] I am he. 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [y] He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 When Jesus had thus said, [z] he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and said, [a] Verily, verily, I say unto you, that [b] one of you shall betray me. 22 [c] The disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. 23 There was at the table reclining [d] in Jesus' bosom [e] one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. 24 Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell us who it is of whom he speaketh. 25 [f] He leaning back, [g] as he was, on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it? 26 Jesus therefore answereth, [h] He it is, for whom I shall [i] dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and [j] giveth it to Judas, [k] the son of Simon Iscariot. 27 And after the sop, then [l] entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, [m] That thou doest, do quickly. 28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. 29 For some thought, [n] because Judas had the [9] bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of [o] for the feast; or, that he should [p] give something to the poor. 30 He then having received the sop went out straightway: [q] and it was night.

31 When therefore he was gone out, Jesus saith, [r] Now [10] is the Son of man glorified, and [s] God [10] is glorified in him; 32 and [t] God shall glorify him in himself, and [u] straightway shall he glorify him. 33 Little children, [v] yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and [w] as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say unto you. 34 [x] A new commandment [y] I give unto you, [z] that ye love one another; [11][a] even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. 35 [b] By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? [c] Jesus answered, Whither I go, [d] thou canst not follow me now; [e] but thou shalt follow afterwards. 37 [f] Peter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee even now? I will lay down my life for thee. 38 Jesus answereth, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [g] The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

1 [h] Let not your heart be troubled: [12][i] ye believe in God, believe also in me. 2 In [j] my Father's house are many [13] mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for [k] I go to prepare a place for you. 3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again, and will receive you [l] unto myself; that [m] where I am, there ye may be also. 4 [14] And whither I go, ye know the way. 5 [n] Thomas saith unto him, Lord,

[o] we know not whither thou goest; how know we the way? 6 Jesus saith unto him, I am [p] the way, and [q] the truth, and [r] the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but [1][s] by me. 7 [t] If ye had known me, ye would have [u] known my Father also: from henceforth ye know him, and [v] have seen him. 8 [w] Philip saith unto him, Lord, [x] shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. 9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me, Philip? [y] he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; how sayest thou, Shew us the Father? 10 Believest thou not that [z] I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I say unto you [a] I speak not from myself: but the Father abiding in me doeth his works. 11 Believe me that [z] I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else [b] believe me for the very works' sake. 12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [c] He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I [d] go unto the Father. 13 And [e] whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that [f] the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 [e] If ye shall ask [2] me anything in my name, that will I do. 15 [g] If ye love me, ye will [h] keep my commandments. 16 And I will [3][i] pray the Father, and he shall give you another [4][j] Comforter, that he may be with you for ever, 17 even [k] the Spirit of truth: [l] whom the world cannot receive; for it beholdeth him not, neither knoweth him: ye know him; for he abideth with you, and [m] shall be in you. 18 I will not leave you [5] desolate: [n] I come unto you. 19 [o] Yet a little while, and the world beholdeth me no more; but [p] ye behold me: [q] because I live, [6] ye shall live also. 20 [r] In that day ye shall know that [s] I am in my Father, and [t] ye in me, and [u] I in you. 21 [v] He that hath my commandments, and [w] keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and [x] he that loveth me [y] shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will [z] manifest myself unto him. 22 [a] Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass [b] that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world? 23 Jesus answered and said unto him, [c] If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and [d] we will come unto him, and [e] make our abode with him. 24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and [f] the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, while yet abiding with you. 26 But the [4][g] Comforter, even the Holy Spirit, [h] whom the Father will send in my name, [i] he shall teach you all things, and [j] bring to your remembrance all that I said unto you. 27 [k] Peace I leave with you; [l] my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. [m] Let not your heart be troubled, neither [n] let it be fearful. 28 [o] Ye heard how I said to you, [p] I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I [q] go unto the Father: for [r] the Father is greater than I. 29 And [s] now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe. 30 I will no more speak much with you, for [t] the prince of the world cometh: and [u] he hath nothing in me; 31 but [v] that the world may know that I love the Father, and [w] as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me. 5 I am the vine, [g] ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same [h] beareth much fruit: for apart from me ye can do nothing. 6 If a man abide not in me, [i] he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; [j] and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. 7 If [k] ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, [l] ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you. 8 [m] Herein [1] is my Father glorified, [2] that ye [n] bear much fruit; and so shall ye [k] be my disciples. 9 Even [o] as the Father hath loved me, [p] I also have loved you: abide ye in my love. 10 [q] If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as [r] I have kept [s] my Father's commandments, and abide in his love. 11 These things have I spoken unto you, [t] that my joy may be in you, and that [u] your joy may be fulfilled. 12 [v] This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I have loved you. 13 [w] Greater love hath no man than this, [x] that a man lay down his life for his friends. 14 Ye are [y] my friends, [z] if ye do the things which I command you. 15 [a] No longer do I call you [3] servants; for [b] the [4] servant [c] knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for [d] all things that I heard from my Father [e] I have made known unto you. 16 Ye did not choose me, but [f] I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and [g] bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide: that [h] whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. 17 These things I command you, [i] that ye may love one another. 18 [j] If the world hateth you, [5] ye know that it hath hated me before it hated you. 19 [k] If ye were of the world, the world would love its own: but because [l] ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. 20 Remember the word that I said unto you, [m] A [4] servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, [n] they will also persecute you; [o] if they kept my word, they will keep yours also. 21 But [p] all these things will they do unto you [q] for my name's sake, [r] because they know not him that sent me. 22 If I had not come and spoken unto them, [s] they had not had sin: but now they have no excuse for their sin. 23 [t] He that hateth me hateth my Father also. 24 [u] If I had not done among them the works which none other did, [s] they had not had sin: but now have they both [v] seen and hated both me and my Father. 25 But this cometh to pass, [w] that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, [x] They hated me without a cause. 26 But [y] when the [6] Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which [7] proceedeth from the Father, [z] he shall bear witness of me: 27 [8] and [a] ye also bear witness, [b] because ye have been with me [c] from the beginning.

1 These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be made to stumble. 2 [d] They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, [e] the hour cometh, that [f] whosoever killeth you shall think that he offereth service unto God. 3 And these things will they do, [g] because they have not known the Father, nor me. 4 But [h] these things have I spoken unto you, that when [i] their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you from the beginning, [j] because I was with you. 5 But now [k] I go unto him that sent me; and [l] none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? 6 But because I have spoken these things unto you, [m] sorrow hath filled your heart. 7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for [n] if I go not away, [o] the [6] Comforter will not come unto you; but [p] if [q] I go, [r] I will send him unto you. 8 [s] And he, when he is come, will [t] convict the world in respect of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement: 9 of sin, [u] because they believe not on me; 10 [v] of righteousness, [w] because I go to the Father, and ye behold me no more; 11 [x] of judgement, because the prince of this world [y] hath been judged. 12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. 13 Howbeit when he, [z] the Spirit of truth, is come, [a] he shall [l] We know not what he saith. 19 [m] Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall see me? 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, that [n] ye shall weep and lament, but [o] the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but [p] your sorrow shall be turned into joy. 21 [q] A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born into the world. 22 [r] And ye therefore now have sorrow: but [s] I will see you again, and [t] your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you. 23 And [u] in that day ye shall [1][v] ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, [w] If ye shall ask anything of the Father, [x] he will give it you in my name. 24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: [y] ask, and ye shall receive, [z] that your joy may be fulfilled.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in [2][a] proverbs: [b] the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in [2][a] proverbs, but shall tell you plainly of the Father. 26 In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will [3][c] pray the Father for you; 27 [d] for the Father himself loveth you, because [e] ye have loved me, and [f] have believed that I came forth from the Father. 28 [g] I came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, [h] I leave the world, and go unto the Father. 29 His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no [4][i] proverb. 30 Now know we that [j] thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that [k] thou camest forth from God. 31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? 32 Behold, [l] the hour cometh, yea, is come, that [m] ye shall be scattered, every man to [n] his own, and [o] shall leave me alone: [p] and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. 33 These things have I spoken unto you, that [q] in me ye may have peace. [r] In the world ye have [s] tribulation: but [t] be of good cheer; [u] I have overcome the world.

17 1 These things spake Jesus; and [v] lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, [w] the hour is come; [x] glorify thy Son, that the Son may [y] glorify thee: 2 even as [z] thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that [a] whatsoever thou hast given him, [b] to them he should give eternal life. 3 [c] And this is life eternal, [d] that they should know thee [e] the only [f] true God, and [g] him whom thou didst send, even Jesus Christ. 4 I [h] glorified thee on the earth, [i] having accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do. 5 And now, O Father, [j] glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory [k] which I had with thee [l] before the world was. 6 [m] I manifested thy name unto the men [n] whom thou gavest me out of the world: [o] thine they were, and thou gavest them to me; and they have kept thy word. 7 Now they know that all things [o] whatsoever thou hast given me are from thee: 8 for [p] the words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that [q] I came forth from thee, and [r] they believed that thou didst send me. 9 I [5][s] pray for them: [t] I [5] pray not for the world,

18 1 When Jesus had spoken
these words, [w] he went forth with his disciples over [x] the [6] brook [7] Kidron, where was a garden,
into the which he entered, himself and his disciples. 2 Now Judas
also, which betrayed him, knew [y] the place: for [z] Jesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples.
3 [a] Judas then, having received the [8] band of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. 4 Jesus therefore, [b] knowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith unto them, [c] Whom seek ye? 5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, was standing with them. 6 [d] When therefore he said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.
7 Again therefore he asked them,
[c] Whom seek ye? And they said,
Jesus of Nazareth. 8 Jesus answered, I told you that I am he:
if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way: 9 [e] that the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one. 10 Simon Peter therefore [f] having a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's [9] servant, and cut off his right ear. Now the [9] servant's name was Malchus. 11 Jesus
therefore said unto Peter, Put up the sword into the sheath: [g] the cup which the Father hath given me,
shall I not drink it?

12 So the [8] band and the [10] chief captain, and the officers of the Jews, seized Jesus and bound him, 13 and [h] led him to [i] Annas first; for he was father in law to [j] Caiaphas, which was high priest that year. 14 Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, [k] that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 [l] And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; 16 [m] but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. 17 [n] The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. 18 Now the [1] servants and the officers were standing there, having made [2] a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves: and [o] Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

19 [p] The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching. 20 Jesus answered him, I have spoken [q] openly [r] to the world; I ever taught in [3] synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and [s] in secret spake I nothing. 21 Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard me, what I spake unto them: behold, these know the things which I said. 22 And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus [4] [t] with his hand, [u] saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? 23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me? 24 [v] Annas therefore sent him bound unto [v] Caiaphas the high priest.

25 [w] Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. They said therefore unto him, Art thou also one of his disciples? He denied, and said, I am not. 26 One of the [1] servants of the high priest, being a kinsman of [x] him whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee [y] in the garden with him? 27 Peter therefore denied again: and [z] straightway the cock crew.

28 [a] They lead Jesus therefore [b] from Caiaphas into [c] the [5] palace: and it was early; and they themselves entered not into the [5] palace, [d] that they might not be defiled, [e] but might eat the passover. 29 [f] Pilate therefore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation bring ye against this man? 30 They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered him up unto thee. 31 Pilate therefore said unto them, [g] Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: 32 [h] that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, [i] signifying by what manner of death he should die.

33 [j] Pilate therefore entered again into the [5] palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, [k] Art thou the King of the Jews? 34 Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee concerning me? 35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? 36 Jesus answered, [l] My kingdom [m] is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, [n] then would my [6] servants fight, that [o] I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. 37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, [7] [p] Thou sayest that I am a king. [q] To this end have I been born, and to this end [r] am I come into the world, that [s] I should bear witness unto the truth. [t] Every one that is [u] of the truth [v] heareth my voice. 38 Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?

And when he had said this, [w] he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, [x] I find no crime in him. 39 [y] But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 40 They cried out therefore again, saying, [z] Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

19 1 Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and [a] scourged him. 2 [b] And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple garment; 3 and they came unto him, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they struck him [8] [c] with their hands. 4 And Pilate went out again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him out to you, that ye may know that [d] I find no crime in him. 5 Jesus therefore came out, wearing [e] the crown of thorns and the purple garment. And Pilate saith unto them, [f] Behold, the man! 6 When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, [g] Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for [h] I find no crime in him. 7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and [i] by that law he ought to die, because [j] he made himself the Son of God. 8 When Pilate therefore heard this saying, [k] he was the more afraid; 9 and [l] he entered into the [1] palace again, and saith unto Jesus, [m] Whence art thou? But [n] Jesus gave him no answer. 10 Pilate therefore saith unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have [2] power to release thee, and have [2] power to crucify thee? 11 Jesus answered him, [o] Thou wouldest have no [2] power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore [p] he that delivered me unto thee [q] hath greater sin. 12 Upon this [r] Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend: [s] every one that maketh himself a king [3] speaketh against Cæsar. 13 When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on [t] the judgement-seat at a place called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. 14 Now it was [u] the Preparation of the passover: it was about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, [v] Behold, your King! 15 They therefore cried out, [w] Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar. 16 [x] Then therefore he [y] delivered him unto them to be crucified.

They took Jesus therefore: 17 and [z] he went out, [a] bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew Golgotha: 18 [b] where they crucified him, and with him two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. 19 And Pilate [c] wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS. 20 This title therefore read many of the Jews: [4] for [d] the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek. 21 The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews. 22 Pilate answered, [e] What I have written I have written.

23 [f] The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the [5] coat: now the [5] coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. 24 They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: [g] that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

> [h] They parted my garments among them,
> And upon my vesture did they cast lots.

These things therefore the soldiers did. 25 [i] But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. 26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and [j] the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, [k] Woman, behold, thy son! 27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto [l] his own home.

28 After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now [m] finished, [g] that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, [n] I thirst. 29 There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: [o] so they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it to his mouth. 30 When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, [p] It is finished: and he bowed his head, and [q] gave up his spirit.

31 The Jews therefore, because it was [r] the Preparation, [s] that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was [t] a high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. 32 The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other [u] which was crucified with him: 33 but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: 34 howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there came out [v] blood and water. 35 And [w] he that hath seen hath borne witness, and [x] his witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, [y] that ye also may believe. 36 [z] For these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled, [a] A bone of him [b] shall not be [1] broken. 37 And again another scripture saith, [c] They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 [d] And after these things Joseph of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly [e] for fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. 39 And there came also [f] Nicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, [g] bringing a [2] mixture of [h] myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight. 40 So they took the body of Jesus, and [i] bound it in [j] linen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury. 41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a [k] garden; and [l] in the garden a new tomb [m] wherein was never man yet laid. 42 There then because of the Jews' [n] Preparation ([o] for the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

1 [p] Now on the first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, while it was yet dark, unto the tomb, and seeth [q] the stone taken away from the tomb. 2 She runneth therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, [r] whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the tomb, and [s] we know not where they have laid him. 3 [t] Peter therefore went forth, and the other disciple, and they went toward the tomb. 4 And they ran both together: and the other disciple outran Peter, and came first to the tomb; 5 and stooping and looking in, he seeth [u] the linen cloths lying; yet entered he not in. 6 Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he beholdeth the linen cloths lying, 7 and [v] the napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. 8 Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, [w] which came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed. 9 For as yet [x] they knew not the scripture, [y] that he must rise again from the dead. 10 So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 But Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb; 12 and [z] she beholdeth [a] two angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. 13 And they say unto her, [b] Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, [c] Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. 14 When she had thus said, she turned herself back, and [d] beholdeth Jesus standing, and [e] knew not that it was Jesus. 15 Jesus saith unto her, [f] Woman, why weepest thou? [g] whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be [h] the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. 16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turneth herself, and saith unto him in Hebrew, [i] Rabboni; which is to say, [3] Master. 17 Jesus saith to her, [4] Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto [j] my brethren, and say to them, [k] I ascend unto my Father and your Father, and [l] my God and your God. 18 Mary Magdalene [m] cometh and telleth the disciples, I have seen the Lord; and how that he had said these things unto her.

19 [n] When therefore it was evening, [o] on that day, the first day of the week, and [p] when the doors were shut where the disciples were, [q] for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, [r] Peace be unto you. 20 And when he had said this, [s] he shewed unto them his hands and his side. [t]The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord. 21 Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as [u]the Father hath sent me, [v]even so send I you. 22 And when he had said this, he [w]breathed on them, and saith unto them, [x]Receive ye the [1]Holy Ghost: 23 [y]whose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them; whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 But [z]Thomas, one of the twelve, called [2]Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. 25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, [a]Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, [b]the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, [b]Peace be unto you. 27 Then saith he to Thomas, [c]Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. 28 Thomas answered and said unto him, [d]My Lord and my God. 29 Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, [3]thou hast believed: [e]blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 [f]Many other signs therefore did Jesus [g]in the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book: 31 [h]but these are written, that ye may [i]believe that Jesus is the Christ, [j]the Son of God; and that believing [k]ye may have life [l]in his name.

1 After these things Jesus [m]manifested himself [n]again to the disciples at [o]the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself on this wise. 2 There were together Simon Peter, and [p]Thomas called [2]Didymus, and Nathanael of [q]Cana in Galilee, and [r]the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. 3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and [s]that night they took nothing. 4 But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: howbeit the disciples [t]knew not that it was Jesus. 5 [u]Jesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye aught to eat? They answered him, No. 6 [v]And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. 7 That disciple therefore [w]whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, [x]he girt his coat about him (for he was [y]naked), and [z]cast himself into the sea. 8 But the other disciples came in [a]the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net full of fishes. 9 So when they got out upon the land, they see [4]a fire of coals there, and [5]fish laid thereon, and [6]bread. 10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now taken. 11 Simon Peter therefore went [7]up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, the net was not rent. 12 Jesus saith unto them, [b]Come and [c]break your fast. And [d]none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. 13 Jesus cometh, and [e]taketh the [8]bread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise. 14 [f]This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had [g]broken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, [h]Simon, [i]son of [9]John, [10][j]lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I [11]love thee. He saith unto him, Feed [k]my lambs. 16 He saith to him again a second time, Simon, son of [9]John, [10]lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I [11]love thee. He saith unto him, [l]Tend [k]my sheep. 17 He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of [9]John, [11]lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him [m]the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, [n] thou knowest all things; thou [1] knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed [o] my sheep. 18 [p] Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, [q] thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. 19 Now this he spake, signifying [r] by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, [s] Follow me. 20 Peter, turning about, seeth [t] the disciple whom Jesus loved following; [u] which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth thee? 21 Peter therefore seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, [2] and what shall this man do? 22 Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry [v] till [w] I come, what is that to thee? [x] follow thou me. 23 This saying therefore went forth among [y] the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple [z] which beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and [a] we know [b] that his witness is true.

25 And [c] there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that [d] even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

I 1 THE [3] former treatise I made, O [a] Theophilus, concerning all that Jesus began [b] both to do and to teach, 2 until the day in which [c] he was received up, after that he [d] had given commandment [e] through the [4] Holy Ghost unto the apostles whom he had chosen: 3 [f] to whom he also [5] shewed himself alive after his passion by many proofs, appearing unto them by the space of forty days, and speaking the things concerning the kingdom of God: 4 and, [6] [g] being assembled together with them, [h] he charged them not to depart from Jerusalem, but to wait for the promise of the Father, which, said he, ye heard from me: 5 for [i] John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized [7] [i] with the Holy Ghost [j] not many days hence.

6 They therefore, when they were come together, asked him, saying, Lord, [k] dost thou at this time [l] restore the kingdom to Israel? 7 And he said unto them, [m] It is not for you to know [n] times or seasons, which the Father hath [8] set within his own authority. 8 But ye shall receive [o] power, [p] when the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and [q] ye shall be [r] my witnesses both in Jerusalem, and in all Judæa and [s] Samaria, and [t] unto the uttermost part of the earth. 9 And when he had said these things, as they were looking, [u] he was taken up; and [v] a cloud received him out of their sight. 10 And while they were looking stedfastly into heaven as he went, behold, [w] two [x] men stood by them in [y] white apparel; 11 which also said, [z] Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into heaven? this Jesus, which was received up from you into heaven, [a] shall [b] so come in like manner as ye beheld him going into heaven.

12 Then [c] returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, a sabbath day's journey off. 13 And when they were come in, they went up into [d] the upper chamber, where they were abiding; [e] both Peter and in prayer, [2]with [i]the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with [j]his brethren.

15 And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of [k]the brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of [3][l]persons gathered together, about a hundred and twenty), 16 Brethren, [m]it was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, [n]who was guide to them that took Jesus.
17 For [o]he was numbered among us, and received his [4]portion in [p]this ministry. 18 (Now this man
[q]obtained a field with [r]the reward
of his iniquity; and falling headlong,
he burst asunder in the midst,
and all his bowels gushed out.
19 And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch
that [s]in their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, The field of blood.) 20 For it is written in the book of Psalms,

[t]Let his habitation be made desolate,
And let no man dwell therein:

and,

[u]His [5]office let another take.

21 Of the men therefore which have companied with us [v]all the time that the Lord Jesus [w]went in and went out [6]among us, 22 [x]beginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that [y]he was received up from us, of these must one become [z]a witness with us of his resurrection.
23 And they put forward two, Joseph called [a]Barsabbas, who was surnamed [b]Justus, and [c]Matthias.
24 And [d]they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, [e]which knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these two
the one whom thou hast chosen, 25 to take the place in [f]this ministry and [g]apostleship, from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. 26 And they gave lots [7]for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

2 1 And when [h]the day of Pentecost [8]was now come, they were all together in one place.
2 And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of [i]the rushing of a mighty wind, and [j]it filled all the house where they were sitting.
3 And there appeared unto them tongues [9]parting asunder, [k]like as of fire; and it sat upon each one of them. 4 And they were all [l]filled with the Holy Spirit, and began [m]to speak with other tongues, [n]as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. 6 And [o]when this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. 7 And [p]they were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold,
are not all these which speak [q]Galilæans? 8 And how hear we,
every man in our own language,
wherein we were born? 9 Parthians and [r]Medes and [s]Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judæa and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, 10 in Phrygia and Pamphylia,
in Egypt and the parts of Libya
about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and [t]proselytes, 11 Cretans and Arabians, we do hear them speaking in our tongues
the mighty works of God. 12 And [u]they were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another,
What meaneth this? 13 But others [v]mocking said, They are filled with new wine.

14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, saying, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words. 15 For these are not drunken,
as ye suppose; [w]seeing it is but the third hour of the day;
16 but this is that which hath been spoken [10]by the prophet
Joel;

17 [x]And it shall be in the last days,
saith God,
[y]I will pour forth of my Spirit
[z]upon all flesh:
And your sons and [a]your daughters
shall prophesy,

And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams:
18 Yea and on my [1]servants and on my [2]handmaidens in those days
Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and [b]they shall prophesy.
19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath;
Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
20 [c]The sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before [d]the day of the Lord come,
That great and notable day:
21 And it shall be, that [e]whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, [f]a man approved of God unto you [g]by [3][h]mighty works and wonders and signs, which [i]God did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; 23 him, [j]being delivered up by [k]the determinate counsel and [l]foreknowledge of God, [m]ye by the hand of [4][n]lawless men did crucify and slay: 24 [o]whom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death: because [p]it was not possible that he should be holden of it.
25 For David saith concerning him,
[q]I beheld the Lord always before my face;
For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:
26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced:
Moreover my flesh also shall [5]dwell [r]in hope:
27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in [s]Hades, [t]Neither wilt thou give thy [u]Holy One to [v]see corruption.
28 Thou madest known unto me the ways of life;
Thou shalt make me full of gladness [6]with thy countenance.

29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of [w]the patriarch David, [x]that he both died and [y]was buried, and [z]his tomb is with us unto this day. 30 [a]Being therefore a prophet, and knowing that [b]God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins [7]he would set one upon his throne; 31 he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that [c]neither was he left in Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. 32 This Jesus did [d]God raise up, [8][e]whereof we all are witnesses. 33 [f]Being therefore [9][g]by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of [h]the Father [i]the promise of the Holy Ghost, [j]he hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear. 34 For [k]David ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,
[l]The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.
36 Let [10]all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that [m]God hath made him [n]both Lord and Christ, this Jesus [o]whom ye crucified.

37 Now when [p]they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Brethren, [q]what shall we do? 38 And Peter said unto them, [r]Repent ye, and [s]be baptized every one of you [t]in the name of Jesus Christ [u]unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive [v]the gift of the Holy Ghost. 39 For [w]to you is the promise, and [x]to your children, and to all [y]that are afar off, even [z]as many as the Lord our God shall call unto him. 40 And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, [a]Save yourselves from this [b]crooked generation. 41 They then [11]that received his word were baptized: and [c]there were added unto them in that day about three thousand souls. 42 And [d]they continued stedfastly in the apostles' [e]teaching and [12][f]fellowship, in [g]the breaking of bread and the prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and [h]many wonders and signs were done [13]by the apostles[14]. 44 And all that believed were together, and [i]had all things common; 45 and [i]they sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, according as any man had need. 46 And day by day, [j]continuing stedfastly [k]with one accord in the temple, and [l]breaking bread at home, they did take their food [m]with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 praising God, and [n]having favour with all the people. And the Lord [o]added [1]to them [p]day by day those that [q]were being saved.

3 1 Now Peter and John were [r]going up into the temple at [s]the hour of prayer, [t]being the ninth hour. 2 And a certain man [u]that was lame from his mother's womb was carried, [v]whom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, [w]to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; 3 who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked to receive an alms. 4 And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us. 5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something from them. 6 But Peter said, [x]Silver and gold have I none; but what I have, that give I thee. [y]In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk. 7 And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up: and immediately his feet and his ankle-bones received strength. 8 And [z]leaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. 9 And [a]all the people saw him walking and praising God: 10 and they took knowledge of him, that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And [b]as he held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in [c]the [2]porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. 12 And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this [3]man? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk? 13 [d]The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, [e]the God of our fathers, [f]hath glorified his [4]Servant Jesus; whom [g]ye delivered up, and [h]denied before the face of Pilate, [i]when he had determined to release him. 14 But ye denied [j]the Holy and [k]Righteous One, and [l]asked for a murderer to be granted unto you, 15 and killed [m]the [5]Prince of life; [n]whom God raised from the dead; [6][o]whereof we are witnesses. 16 And [7]by [p]faith in his name hath [q]his name made this man strong, whom ye behold and know: yea, the faith which is [r]through him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. 17 And now, brethren, I wot that [s]in ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers. 18 But the things which God [t]foreshewed [u]by the mouth of all the prophets, that [v]his Christ should [w]suffer, he thus fulfilled. 19 [x]Repent ye therefore, and [y]turn again, that [z]your sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord; 20 and that he may send the Christ [a]who hath been appointed for you, even Jesus: 21 [b]whom the heaven must receive until the times of [c]restoration of all things, whereof [d]God spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began. 22 Moses indeed said, [e]A prophet shall the Lord God raise up unto you from among your brethren, [8]like unto me; [f]to him shall ye hearken in all things whatsoever he shall speak unto you. 23 And it shall be, that every soul, which shall not hearken to that prophet, [g]shall be utterly destroyed from among the people. 24 Yea and [h]all the prophets from Samuel and them that followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. 25 [i]Ye are the sons of the prophets, and of [j]the covenant which God [9]made with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, [k]And in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed. 26 Unto you [l]first God, having [m]raised up his Servant, sent him [n]to bless you, [o]in turning away every one of you from your iniquities.

4 1 And as they spake unto the people, [1]the priests and [p]the captain of the temple and [q]the Sadducees came upon them, 2 being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed [r]in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they laid hands on them, and [s]put them in ward unto the morrow: for it was now eventide. 4 But many of them that heard the word believed; and [t]the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; 6 and [u]Annas the high priest was there, and [v]Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest. 7 And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, [w]By what power, or [x]in what name, have ye done this? 8 Then Peter, [y]filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders, 9 if we this day are examined [z]concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, [2]by what means this man is [3]made whole; 10 be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that [a]in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, [b]whom God raised from the dead, even in [4]him doth this man stand here before you whole. 11 [c]He is the stone which was [d]set at nought of you the builders, which was made the head of the corner. 12 And [e]in none other is there [f]salvation: for [g]neither is there any other [h]name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.

13 [i]Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. 14 And seeing the man which was healed [j]standing with them, [k]they could say nothing against it. 15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16 saying, [l]What shall we do to these men? for that indeed [m]a notable [5]miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. 17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, [n]that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. 18 And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. 19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, [o]Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: 20 for [p]we cannot but speak the things which [q]we saw and heard. 21 And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, [r]because of the people; for all men glorified God [s]for that which was done. 22 For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this [5]miracle of healing was wrought.

23 And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said unto them. 24 And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God [t]with one accord, and said, O [6]Lord, [7][u]thou that didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 25 [8]who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say,

name of thy [k]holy Servant Jesus. 31 And when they had prayed, [l]the place was shaken wherein they were gathered together; and [m]they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and [n]they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed were of [o]one heart and [p]soul: and not one of them said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but [q]they had all things common. 33 And with great [r]power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus[1]: and [s]great grace was upon them all. 34 [t]For neither was there among them any that lacked: for [u]as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold, 35 and [v]laid them at the apostles' feet: and [w]distribution was made unto each, according as any one had need.

5 1 But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession, 2 and [z]kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and [a]laid it at the apostles' feet. 3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath [b]Satan filled thy heart to [3]lie [c]to the Holy Ghost, and [d]to keep back part of the price of the land? 4 Whiles it remained, did it not remain thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thy power? How is it that thou hast conceived this thing in thy heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but [e]unto God. 5 And Ananias hearing these words [f]fell down and gave up the ghost: and [g]great fear came upon all that heard it. 6 And the [4]young men arose and [h]wrapped him round, and they carried him out and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in. 8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much. 9 But Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together [i]to tempt [j]the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and they shall carry thee out. 10 And she fell down immediately at his feet, and gave up the ghost: and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. 11 And [k]great fear came upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.

12 And [l]by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all [m]with one accord in [n]Solomon's porch. 13 But of the rest durst no man join himself to them: howbeit [o]the people magnified them; 14 [5]and believers [p]were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women; 15 [q]insomuch that they even [r]carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that, as Peter came by, [s]at the least his shadow might overshadow some one of them. 16 And there also came together the multitude from the cities round about Jerusalem, [t]bringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 But the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of [u]the Sadducees), and they were filled with [v]jealousy, 18 and laid hands on the apostles, and [w]put them in public ward. 19 But [x]an angel of the Lord by night [y]opened the prison doors, and brought them out, and said, 20 Go ye, and stand and speak in the temple to the people all [z]the words of [a]this [b]Life. 21 And when they heard this, [c]they entered into the temple [d]about daybreak, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all [e]the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison-house to have them brought. 22 But the officers that came found them not in the prison; and they returned, and told, 23 saying, The prison-house we found shut in all safety, and the keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within. 24 Now when [f]the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this would grow. 25 And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison [g]are in the temple standing and teaching the people. 26 Then went [h]the captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for [i]they feared the people, lest they should be stoned. 27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, 28 saying, [j]We straitly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and [k]intend to bring this man's blood upon us. 29 But Peter and the apostles answered and said, [l]We must obey God rather than men. 30 [m]The God of our fathers [n]raised up Jesus, [o]whom ye slew, hanging him on [p]a tree. 31 [q]Him did God exalt [1]with his right hand to be [r]a Prince and [s]a Saviour, [t]for to [u]give repentance to Israel, and [t]remission of sins. 32 And [v]we are witnesses[2] of these [3]things; [4]and [w]so is the Holy Ghost, [x]whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 But they, when they heard this, [y]were cut to the heart, and were minded to slay them. 34 But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named [z]Gamaliel, [a]a doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. 35 And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do. 36 For [b]before these days rose up Theudas, [c]giving himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought. 37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of [d]the enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. 38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for [e]if this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown: 39 but [f]if it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; [g]lest haply ye be found even to be fighting against God. 40 And to him they agreed: and [h]when they had called the apostles unto them, [i]they beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. 41 They therefore departed from the presence of the council, [j]rejoicing that they were counted worthy [k]to suffer dishonour for [l]the Name. 42 And every day, [m]in the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to [n]preach [o]Jesus as the Christ.

1 Now in these days, [p]when the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a murmuring of [q]the [5]Grecian Jews against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in [r]the daily ministration. 2 And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not [6]fit that we should forsake the word of God, and [7]serve tables. 3 [8][s]Look ye out therefore, brethren, from among you seven men [t]of good report, [u]full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. 4 But [v]we will continue stedfastly in prayer, and in the ministry of the word. 5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, [w]a man full of faith and [x]of the Holy Spirit, and [y]Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas [z]a proselyte of Antioch: 6 whom they set before the apostles: and [a]when they had prayed, [b]they laid their hands on them.

7 And [c]the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem exceedingly; and a great company of the priests [d]were obedient to [e]the faith.

8 And Stephen, full of grace and [f]power, wrought great wonders and signs among the people. 9 But there arose certain of them that were of the synagogue called the synagogue of the Libertines, and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen. 10 And [g]they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spake. 11 Then [h] they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. 12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into the council, 13 and [i] set up [j] false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against [k] this holy place, and the law: 14 for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth [l] shall destroy this place, and shall [m] change [n] the customs which Moses delivered unto us. 15 And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face [o] as it had been the face of an angel.

7 1 And the high priest said, Are these things so? 2 And he said,

[p] Brethren and fathers, hearken. [q] The God [r] of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, [s] before he dwelt in Haran, 3 and said unto him, [t] Get thee out of thy land, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. 4 [s] Then came he out of the land of the Chaldæans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, [u] when his father was dead, [v] God removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell: 5 and he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: and he promised [w] that he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him, [x] when as yet he had no child. 6 And God spake on this wise, that [y] his seed should [z] sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil, [a] four hundred years. 7 And the nation to which they shall be in bondage [b] will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, [c] and serve me in this place. 8 And [d] he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and [e] so Abraham begat Isaac, and [f] circumcised him the eighth day; and [g] Isaac begat Jacob, and [h] Jacob the twelve patriarchs. 9 And the patriarchs, [i] moved with jealousy against Joseph, [j] sold him into Egypt: and [k] God was with him, 10 and delivered him out of all his afflictions, and [l] gave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and [m] he made him governor over Egypt and all his house. 11 Now [n] there came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. 12 [o] But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time. 13 And [p] at the second time [q] Joseph was made known to his brethren; and [r] Joseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. 14 And [s] Joseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, [t] threescore and fifteen souls. 15 And [u] Jacob went down into Egypt; and [v] he died, himself, [w] and our fathers; 16 and [x] they were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that [y] Abraham bought for a price in silver of the sons of [1] Hamor in Shechem. 17 But [z] as the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto Abraham, [a] the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, 18 till there arose another king over Egypt, [b] which knew not Joseph. 19 [c] The same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, [d] that [2] they should cast out their babes to the end they might not [3] live. 20 [e] At which season Moses was born, and was [4] [f] exceeding fair; and he was nourished three months in his father's house: 21 and [g] when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. 22 And Moses [h] was instructed in [i] all the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was [j] mighty in his words and works. 23 But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart [k] to visit his brethren the children of Israel. 24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian: 25 and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them [5] deliverance; but they understood not. 26 [l] And the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? 27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying,

[m] Who made thee a ruler and a judge
over us? 28 Wouldest thou kill me,
as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday?
29 [n] And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, [o] where he begat
two sons. 30 And when forty years were fulfilled, [p] an angel appeared to him [q] in the wilderness of mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. 31 And when Moses saw it,
he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold, there came a voice of the Lord, 32 [r] I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob.
And Moses trembled, and durst not behold. 33 And the Lord said unto him, [s] Loose the shoes
from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. 34 [t] I have surely seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and [u] have heard their groaning, and [v] I am come down to deliver them:
[w] and now come, I will send thee into Egypt. 35 This Moses whom they refused, [x] saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him hath God sent to be both a ruler and a [1] deliverer [y] with the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. 36 [z] This man led them forth,
having wrought [a] wonders and signs
[b] in Egypt, and [c] in the Red sea,
and [d] in the wilderness [e] forty years.
37 This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, [f] A prophet shall God raise up unto you from among your brethren, [2] like unto me. 38 This is he [g] that was in the [3] [h] church in the wilderness
with [i] the angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers: [j] who received [k] living [l] oracles to give unto us: 39 to whom our fathers would not be obedient,
but thrust him from them, and [m] turned back in their hearts unto Egypt, 40 saying unto Aaron, [n] Make us gods which shall go before us:
for as for this Moses, which led us forth out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.
41 And [o] they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice unto the idol, and [p] rejoiced in [q] the works of their hands. 42 But [r] God turned,
and [s] gave them up to serve [t] the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets,

[u] Did ye offer unto me slain
  beasts and sacrifices
[v] Forty years in the wilderness,
  O house of Israel?
43 And ye took up the tabernacle
  of [w] Moloch,
And the star of the god Rephan,
The figures which ye made to worship them:
And I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had [x] the tabernacle
of the testimony in the wilderness,
even as he appointed who spake unto Moses, [y] that he should make it according to the figure that he had seen. 45 Which also our fathers, in their turn, [z] brought in with [4] [a] Joshua when they entered on [b] the possession of the nations, [c] which God thrust out before the face of our fathers, [d] unto the days of David; 46 [e] who found favour in the sight of God, and [f] asked to find a habitation for [g] the God of Jacob.
47 But [h] Solomon built him a house.
48 [i] Howbeit the Most High dwelleth not [j] in houses made with hands;
as saith the prophet,

49 [k] The heaven is my throne,
And the earth the footstool of
  my feet:
What manner of house will ye
  build me? saith the Lord:
Or what is the place of my rest?
50 Did not my hand make all these things?

51 [l] Ye stiffnecked and [m] uncircumcised
in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: [n] as your fathers did, so do ye. 52 [o] Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them
which shewed before of the coming of [p] the Righteous One; [q] of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers; 53 ye who received the law [5] [r] as it was ordained by angels, and [s] kept it not.

54 Now when they heard these things, [t] they were cut to the heart, and they [u] gnashed on him with their teeth. 55 But he, [v] being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw [w] the glory of God, and Jesus standing [x] on the right hand of God, 56 and

[e]calling upon the Lord, and saying,
Lord Jesus, [f]receive my spirit.
60 And he [g]kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, [h]Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, [i]he fell 8 asleep. 1 And [j]Saul was [k]consenting unto his death.

And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and [l]they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apostles. 2 And devout men buried Stephen, and [m]made great lamentation over him.
3 But [n]Saul laid waste the church,
entering into every house, and [o]haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 [p]They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching
the word. 5 And [q]Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed unto them the Christ.
6 [r]And the multitudes gave heed
with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard, [s]and saw the signs which he did. 7 [1]For from many of those which had [t]unclean spirits,
they came out, crying with a loud
voice: and many that were palsied,
and that were lame, were healed.
8 And [u]there was much joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man,
Simon by name, which beforetime
in the city [v]used sorcery, and amazed the [2]people of Samaria, [w]giving out that himself was some great one: 10 to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, [x]This man is that power of God which is called [y]Great. 11 And they gave heed
to him, because that of long time
he had [z]amazed them with his sorceries.
12 But when [a]they believed Philip preaching good tidings [b]concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, [a]they were baptized, both men and women.
13 And Simon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and [c]beholding signs and [d]great [3]miracles wrought, [e]he was amazed.

14 Now when [f]the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that [g]Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: 15 who, when they were come down, prayed for them, [h]that they might receive the Holy Ghost:
16 for [i]as yet he was [j]fallen upon none of them: only [k]they had been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 17 Then [l]laid they their hands on them, and [m]they received the Holy Ghost. 18 Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the [4]Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. 20 But Peter said unto him, [n]Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God [o]with money.
21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this [5]matter: for [p]thy heart is not right before God. 22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, [q]if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee. 23 For I see that thou [6][r]art in [s]the gall of bitterness and in [t]the bond of iniquity. 24 And Simon answered and said, [u]Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken
come upon me.

25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and [v]preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But [w]an angel of the Lord
spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go [7]toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem
unto Gaza: the same is desert.
27 And he arose and went: and behold,
[x]a man of [y]Ethiopia, a eunuch
of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, [z]who was over all her treasure, [a]who had come to Jerusalem for to worship; 28 and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah. 29 And [b] the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. 30 And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? 31 And he said, [c] How can I, except some one shall [d] guide me? And [e] he besought Philip to come up and sit with him. 32 Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

[f] He was led as a sheep to the slaughter;
And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,
So he openeth not his mouth:
33 In his [g] humiliation his judgement was taken away:
His generation who shall declare?
For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other? 35 And Philip opened his mouth, and [h] beginning from this scripture, [i] preached unto him Jesus. 36 And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; [j] what doth hinder me to be baptized?[1] 38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. 39 And when they came up out of the water, [k] the Spirit of the Lord [l] caught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way rejoicing. 40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Cæsarea.

9 1 But Saul, [m] yet [n] breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto [o] the high priest, 2 and asked of him letters to Damascus [p] unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of [q] the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. 3 [r] And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven: 4 and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou [s] me? 5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus [s] whom thou persecutest: 6 but [t] rise, and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee [u] what thou must do. 7 And [v] the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, [w] hearing the [2] voice, but beholding no man. 8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, [x] he saw nothing; and they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. 9 And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.

10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named [y] Ananias; and the Lord said unto him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, [z] Behold, I am here, Lord. 11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man [a] of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth; 12 and he hath seen a man named Ananias coming in, and [b] laying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight. 13 But Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, [c] how much evil he did to [d] thy [e] saints at Jerusalem: 14 and here he hath authority from [f] the chief priests to bind all that [g] call upon thy name. 15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for [h] he is [i] a [3] chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name [j] before the Gentiles and [k] kings, and the children of Israel: 16 for [l] I will shew him how many things [m] he must suffer [n] for my name's sake. 17 And [o] Ananias departed, and entered into the house; and [p] laying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, and [q] be filled with the Holy Ghost. 18 And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and [r] he received his sight; and [s] he arose and was baptized; 19 and [t] he took food and was strengthened.

the disciples which were at Damascus. 20 And straightway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, [v]that he is the Son of God. 21 And all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he [w]that in Jerusalem [x]made havock of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief priests. 22 But Saul [y]increased the more in strength, and [z]confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving [a]that this is the Christ.

23 And [b]when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill him: 24 but their [c]plot became known to Saul. And [d]they watched the gates also day and night that they might kill him: 25 but his disciples took him by night, and [e]let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.

26 And [f]when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. 27 But [g]Barnabas took him, and [h]brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them [i]how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and [j]how at Damascus he had [k]preached boldly in the name of Jesus. 28 And he was with them [l]going in and going out at Jerusalem, 29 preaching boldly in the name of the Lord: and he spake and disputed against [m]the [1]Grecian Jews; but [n]they went about to kill him. 30 And when [o]the brethren knew it, they brought him down to Cæsarea, and sent him forth [p]to Tarsus.

31 So [q]the church throughout all Judæa and Galilee and Samaria had peace, being [2]edified; and, [r]walking [3]in the fear of the Lord and [3]in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, [s]was multiplied.

32 And it came to pass, [t]as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at [u]Lydda. 33 And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied. 34 And Peter said unto him, Æneas, [v]Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And straightway he arose. 35 [w]And all that dwelt at Lydda and in [x]Sharon saw him, and [y]they turned to the Lord.

36 Now there was at [z]Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called [4]Dorcas: this woman was full of [a]good works and almsdeeds which she did. 37 And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in [b]an upper chamber. 38 And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, [c]Delay not to come on unto us. 39 And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into [d]the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. 40 But Peter [e]put them all forth, and [f]kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, [g]he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up. 41 And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. 42 And it became known throughout all Joppa: and [h]many believed on the Lord. 43 And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa [i]with one Simon a tanner.

10 1 Now there was a certain man in Cæsarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of [j]the band called the Italian [5]band, 2 a devout man, and [k]one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway. 3 [l]He saw in a vision openly, as it were [m]about the ninth hour of the day, [n]an angel of God coming in unto him, and saying to him, Cornelius. 4 And he, fastening his eyes upon him, and being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? vants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; 8 and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, [s]Peter went up [t]upon the housetop to pray, about [u]the sixth hour: 10 and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he fell into [v]a trance; 11 and he beholdeth [w]the heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by four corners upon the earth: 12 wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of the heaven. 13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; [x]for I have never eaten anything that is [y]common and [z]unclean. 15 And a voice came unto him again the second time, [a]What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 16 And this was done thrice: and straightway the vessel was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what [b]the vision which he had seen might mean, behold, [c]the men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before the gate, 18 and called and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodging there. 19 And while Peter thought on [b]the vision, [d]the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 20 But arise, and get thee down, and [e]go with them, nothing doubting: for I have sent them. 21 And Peter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? 22 And they said, Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and [f]one that feareth God, and well reported of by all the nation of the Jews, was warned of God by [g]a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and [h]to hear words from thee. 23 So he called them in and lodged them.

And on the morrow he arose and went forth with them, and [i]certain of [j]the brethren from Joppa accompanied him. 24 And on the morrow [1]they entered into Cæsarea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinsmen and his near friends. 25 And when it came to pass that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, and [k]fell down at his feet, and [l]worshipped him. 26 But Peter raised him up, saying, [m]Stand up; I myself also am a man. 27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and findeth many come together: 28 and he said unto them, Ye yourselves know [2]how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew [n]to join himself or come unto one of another nation; and [o]yet unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any man common or unclean: 29 wherefore also I came without gainsaying, when I was sent for. I ask therefore with what intent ye sent for me. 30 And Cornelius said, [p]Four days ago, until this hour, I was keeping [q]the ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, [r]a man stood before me in bright apparel, 31 and saith, Cornelius, [s]thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. 32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, by the sea side. 33 Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord. 34 And Peter opened his mouth, and said,

Of a truth I perceive that [t]God is no [u]respecter of persons: 35 but [t]in every nation he that feareth him, and [v]worketh righteousness, is acceptable to him. 36 [w][3]The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, [x]preaching [4]good tidings of [y]peace by Jesus Christ ([z]he is Lord of all)— 37 that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judæa, [a]beginning [b]from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; 38 even Jesus of Nazareth, how that [c]God anointed him [d]with the Holy Ghost and with [e]power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; [g]for God was with him. 39 And [h]we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; [i]whom also they slew, hanging him on a tree. 40 [j]Him God raised up [k]the third day, and gave him to be [l]made manifest, 41 [m]not to all the people, but unto [n]witnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, [o]who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. 42 And [p]he charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify [q]that this is he which is ordained of God to be the Judge [r]of quick and dead. 43 [s]To him bear [t]all the prophets witness, that [u]through his name [v]every one that believeth on him shall receive [w]remission of sins.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, [x]the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. 45 And [y]they of the circumcision which believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also [z]was poured out [a]the gift of the Holy Ghost. 46 For they heard them [b]speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47 [c]Can any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost [d]as well as we? 48 And he [e]commanded them [f]to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

11 1 Now the apostles and [g]the brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. 2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they [h]that were of the circumcision contended with him, 3 saying, [i]Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst [j]eat with them. 4 But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in order, saying, 5 [k]I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even unto me: 6 upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the heaven. 7 And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth. 9 But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 10 And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Cæsarea unto me. 12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, [l]making no distinction. And [m]these six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house: 13 and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; 14 [n]who shall speak unto thee words, whereby [o]thou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house. 15 And as I began to speak, [p]the Holy Ghost fell on them, [q]even as on us at the beginning. 16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said, [r]John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized [1]with the Holy Ghost. 17 If then [s]God gave unto them [t]the like gift as he did also unto us, [u]when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, [v]who was I, [w]that I could withstand God? 18 And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and [x]glorified God, saying, [y]Then to the Gentiles also hath God [z]granted [a]repentance unto life.

19 [b]They therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews. 20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the [2][c]Greeks also, [d]preaching the Lord Jesus. 21 And [e]the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number that believed [f]turned unto the Lord. 22 And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas as far as Antioch: 23 who, when he was come, and had seen [g]the grace of God, was glad; and he exhorted them all, [1]that [h]with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord: 24 for he was a good man, and [i]full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people [j]was added unto the Lord. 25 And he went forth to [k]Tarsus to seek for Saul: 26 and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together [2]with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called [l]Christians first in Antioch.

27 Now in these days there came down [m]prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch. 28 And there stood up one of them named [n]Agabus, and signified [o]by the Spirit that there should be a great [p]famine over all [3]the world: which came to pass in the days of [q]Claudius. 29 And the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined [r]to send [4]relief unto [s]the brethren that dwelt in Judæa: 30 [t]which also they did, sending it to [u]the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

12 1 Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict certain of the church. 2 And he killed [v]James the brother of John [w]with the sword. 3 And when he saw [x]that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were [y]the days of unleavened bread. 4 And when he had taken him, he put him [z]in prison, and delivered him to four [a]quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover to bring him forth to the people. 5 Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly [b]of the church unto God for him. 6 And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, [c]bound with two chains: and guards before the door kept the prison. 7 And behold, [d]an angel of the Lord [e]stood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and [f]he smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And [g]his chains fell off from his hands. 8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and [h]bind on thy sandals.

And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. 9 And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done [5]by the angel, but [i]thought he saw a vision. 10 And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; [j]which opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. 11 And when Peter [k]was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that [l]the Lord hath sent forth his angel and [m]delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. 12 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of [n]John whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and [o]were praying. 13 And when he knocked at the door of the gate, [p]a maid came to answer, named Rhoda. 14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate [q]for joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. 15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. asked for peace, because [x] their country was fed from the king's country. 21 And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the [1][y] throne, and made an oration unto them. 22 And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. 23 And immediately [z] an angel of the Lord smote him, because [a] he gave not God the glory: and [b] he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But [c] the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 [d] And Barnabas and Saul returned [2] from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministration, taking with them [e] John whose surname was Mark.

13 1 Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, [f] prophets and [f] teachers, [g] Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and [h] Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of [i] Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. 2 And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, [j] the Holy Ghost said, [k] Separate me Barnabas and Saul [l] for the work whereunto I have called them. 3 Then, when they had fasted and [m] prayed and laid their hands on them, [n] they sent them away.

4 So they, being sent forth [o] by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. 5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God [p] in the synagogues Jews: and they had also

And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking [e] some to lead him by the hand. 12 Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at [f] the teaching of the Lord.

13 Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia: and [g] John departed from them and returned [h] to Jerusalem. 14 But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and [i] they went into the synagogue [j] on the sabbath day, and sat down. 15 And after [k] the reading of [l] the law and the prophets [m] the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Brethren, if ye have any [n] word of exhortation for the people, say on. 16 And Paul stood up, and [o] beckoning with the hand said,

Men of Israel, and [p] ye that fear God, hearken. 17 [q] The God of this people Israel [r] chose our fathers, and [s] exalted the people [t] when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and [u] with a high arm led he them forth out of it. 18 And for about the time of [v] forty years [5] [w] suffered he their manners in the wilderness. 19 And [x] when he had destroyed [y] seven nations in the land of Canaan, [z] he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years: 20 and after these things [a] he gave them judges until [b] Samuel the prophet. 21 And afterward [c] they asked for a king: and [d] God gave unto them Saul [e] the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. 22 And [f] when he had removed him, [g] he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness, and said, [h] I have found David the son of Jesse, [i] a man after my heart, [j] who shall do all my [6] will. 23 [k] Of this man's seed hath God [l] according to promise brought unto Israel [m] a Saviour, Jesus; 24 [n] when John had first preached [7] before his [o] coming

dgement-seat [2] Many ancient authorities read to Jerusalem. [3] Gr. Magus: as in Matt. 2. 1, [4] Or, until [5] Many ancient authorities read bare he them as a nursing-father in the wilderness.
1. 31. [6] Gr. wills. [7] Gr. before the face of his entering in.

[p] the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel. 25 And as John was fulfilling his course, [q] he said, What suppose ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, the shoes of whose feet I am not worthy to unloose. 26 Brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and those among you [r] that fear God, to us is [s] the word of [t] this salvation sent forth. 27 For they that dwell in Jerusalem, and their rulers, because [u] they knew him not, nor [v] the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath, [w] fulfilled them by condemning him. 28 And [x] though they found no cause of death in him, [y] yet asked they of Pilate that he should be slain. 29 And when [z] they had fulfilled all things that were written of him, [a] they took him down from [b] the tree, and laid him in a tomb. 30 But [c] God raised him from the dead: 31 and [d] he was seen for many days of them [e] that came up with him [f] from Galilee to Jerusalem, [g] who are now [h] his witnesses unto the people. 32 And we bring you good tidings of [i] the promise made unto the fathers, 33 [j] how that God hath fulfilled the same unto our children, in that he raised up Jesus; as also it is written in the second psalm, [k] Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee. 34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, [l] now [m] no more to return to corruption, he hath spoken on this wise, I will give you [n] the holy and sure blessings of David. 35 Because he saith also in another psalm, [o] Thou wilt not give thy Holy One to see corruption. 36 For David, after he had [1] in his own generation [p] served the counsel of God, [q] fell on sleep, and [r] was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption: 37 but he whom [s] God raised up saw no corruption. 38 Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, [t] that through this man is proclaimed unto you [u] remission of sins: 39 and by him [v] every one that believeth is justified from all things, [w] from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses. 40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken in the prophets;

41 [x] Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and [2] [y] perish;
For I work a work in your days,
A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to them the next sabbath. 43 Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the [z] devout [a] proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, urged them [b] to continue in [c] the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of [3] God. 45 [d] But [e] when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with [f] jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and [4] [g] blasphemed. 46 And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should [h] first be spoken to you. [i] Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves [j] unworthy of eternal life, lo, we [k] turn to the Gentiles. 47 [l] For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying,

[m] I have set thee [n] for a light of the Gentiles,
That thou shouldest be for [o] salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and [p] glorified the word of [3] God: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed. 49 And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. 50 [q] But the Jews urged on the devout [r] women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and [s] stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and [t] cast them out of their borders. 51 But they [u] shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. 52 And the disciples were filled [v] with joy and [w] with the Holy Ghost.

of Greeks believed. 2 [y]But the Jews that were [z]disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against [a]the brethren. 3 Long time therefore they tarried there speaking boldly in [b]the Lord, which bare witness unto [c]the word of his grace, [d]granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. 4 But the multitude of the city [e]was divided: and [f]part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles. 5 And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, [g]to entreat them shamefully, and [h]to stone them, 6 they became aware of it, and [i]fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, [j]Lystra and Derbe, and the region round about: 7 and there they preached the gospel.

8 And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, [k]a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked. 9 The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and [l]seeing that he had faith to be [1][m]made whole, 10 said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he [n]leaped up and walked. 11 And when the multitudes saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, [o]The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. 12 And they called Barnabas, [2][p]Jupiter; and Paul, [3]Mercury, because he was the chief speaker. 13 And the priest of [2][p]Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and [q]would have done sacrifice with the multitudes. 14 But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they [r]rent their garments, and sprang forth among the multitude, crying out 15 and saying, Sirs, [s]why do ye these things? We also are men [t]of like [4]passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that [u]ye should turn from these [v]vain things unto [w]the living God, [x]who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 16 who in the generations gone by [y]suffered all the nations [z]to walk in their own ways. 17 And yet [a]he left not himself without witness, in that he [b]did good, and [c]gave you from heaven rains and [d]fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with [e]food and [f]gladness. 18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

19 [g]But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, [h]they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. 20 But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe. 21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had [i]made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch, 22 [j]confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them [k]to continue in [l]the faith, and that [m]through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God. 23 And when they had [n]appointed for them [o]elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, [p]they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed. 24 And they passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia. 25 And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia; 26 and thence they sailed to Antioch, [q]from whence they had been [r]committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. 27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, [s]they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and [t]how that he had [u]opened [v]a door of faith unto the Gentiles. 28 And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

15 1 [w]And certain men came down from Judæa and taught [x]the brethren, saying, Except ye be [y]circumcised [z]after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved. 2 And when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and [a]questioning with them, [b]the brethren appointed that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto [c]the apostles and elders about this question. 3 They therefore, [d]being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phœnicia and Samaria, [e]declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and [f]they caused great joy unto all [g]the brethren. 4 And [h]when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church and [i]the apostles and the elders, and [e]they rehearsed all things that God had done with them. 5 But there rose up certain of [j]the sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying, [k]It is needful [l]to circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses.

6 [m]And [i]the apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this matter. 7 And when there had been much [n]questioning, Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that [1]a good while ago God made choice among you, [o]that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear [p]the word of [q]the gospel, and believe. 8 And God, [r]which knoweth the heart, [s]bare them witness, [t]giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; 9 and [u]he made no distinction between us and them, [v]cleansing their hearts [w]by faith. 10 Now therefore why [x]tempt ye God, [y]that ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, [z]which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? 11 But we [a]believe that we shall be [b]saved through [c]the grace of the Lord Jesus, [u]in like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Barnabas and Paul [d]rehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them. 13 And after they had held their peace, [e]James answered, saying,

Brethren, hearken unto me: 14 [f]Symeon hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them [g]a people for his name. 15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 [h]After these things I will return,
And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen;
And I will build again the ruins thereof,
And I will set it up:
17 That the residue of men [i]may seek after the Lord,
And all the Gentiles, [j]upon whom my name is called,
18 Saith the Lord, [2]who maketh these things [k]known from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore [l]my judgement is, that we trouble not them which from among the Gentiles [m]turn to God; 20 but that we [3]write unto them, [n]that they abstain from [o]the pollutions of idols, and from [p]fornication, and from [q]what is strangled, and from [q]blood. 21 For Moses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, [r]being read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to [s]the apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas called [t]Barsabbas, and [u]Silas, chief men among [v]the brethren: 23 and they wrote thus by them, [s]The apostles and the elder brethren unto [v]the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, [w]greeting: 24 Forasmuch as we have heard that [x]certain [4]which went out from us have [y]troubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no commandment; 25 it seemed good unto us, having come [z]to one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our [a]beloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 [b]men that have [c]hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. 27 We have sent therefore [d]Judas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For it seemed good [e]to the Holy Ghost, and [f]to us, [g]to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; 29 [h]that ye abstain from [i]things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you. [j]Fare ye well.

30 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle. 31 And when they had read it, they rejoiced for the [5]consolation. 32 And Judas and Silas, being themselves also [k]prophets, [6]exhorted [l]the brethren with many words, and

[1] Gr. from early days. [2] Or, who doeth these things which were known [3] Or, enjoin them [4] Some ancient authorities omit which went out. [5] Or, exhortation [6] Or, comforted

[m] confirmed them. 33 And after they had spent some time there, they were dismissed [n] in peace from [l] the brethren unto those that had sent them forth. [1] 35 But [o] Paul and Barnabas tarried in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us return now and visit [l] the brethren [p] in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of the Lord, and see how they fare. 37 And Barnabas was minded to take with them [q] John also, who was called Mark. 38 But Paul thought not good to take with them him [r] who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work. 39 And there arose [s] a sharp contention, so that they parted asunder one from the other, and [t] Barnabas took Mark with him, and sailed away unto Cyprus; 40 but Paul chose Silas, and went forth, [u] being commended by [v] the brethren to [w] the grace of the Lord. 41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, [x] confirming the churches.

16 1 And he came also to Derbe and to Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named [y] Timothy, [z] the son of a Jewess which believed; but his father was a Greek. 2 The same was well reported of by [a] the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium. 3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he [b] took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was a Greek. 4 And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them [c] the decrees for to keep, [d] which had been ordained of [e] the apostles and elders that were at Jerusalem. 5 [f] So the churches were strengthened in [g] the faith, and increased in number [h] daily.

6 And [i] they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak the word in Asia; 7 and when they were come over against Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and [j] the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not; 8 and passing by Mysia, they came down [k] to Troas. 9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. 10 And when he had seen the vision, straightway [l] we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we [m] made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; 12 and from thence to [n] Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, [o] a Roman colony: and we were in this city tarrying certain days. 13 And [p] on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate [q] by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we [r] sat down, and spake unto the women which were come together. 14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, [s] one that worshipped God, heard us: [t] whose [u] heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul. 15 And when she was baptized, [v] and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she [w] constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we were going to [x] the place of prayer, that a certain maid having [2] [y] a spirit of [z] divination met us, [a] which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying. 17 The same following after Paul and us [b] cried out, saying, These men are [3] [c] servants of [d] the Most High God, which proclaim unto you [4] [e] the way of salvation. 18 And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, [f] I charge thee [g] in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And [h] it came out that very hour.

19 But [i] when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was [5] gone, they laid hold on Paul and Silas, and [j] dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers, 20 and when they had brought them unto the [6] magistrates, they said, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, 21 and [k] set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, [l] being Romans. 22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the [1] magistrates rent their garments off them, and commanded [m] to beat them with rods. 23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely: 24 who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner [n] prison, and made their feet fast in [o] the stocks. 25 But [p] about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns unto God, and the prisoners were listening to them; 26 and suddenly [q] there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house were shaken: and immediately [r] all the doors were opened; and [s] every one's bands were loosed. 27 And the jailor being roused out of sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword, and [t] was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. 28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. 29 And he called for lights, and sprang in, and, trembling for fear, [u] fell down before Paul and Silas, 30 and brought them out, and said, Sirs, [v] what must I do to be [w] saved? 31 And they said, [x] Believe on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou [y] and thy house. 32 And they spake the word of [2] the Lord unto him, with all that were in his house. 33 And he took them [z] the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and [a] was baptized, he and all his, immediately. 34 And he brought them up into his house, and set [3] [b] meat before them, and [c] rejoiced greatly, with all his house, [4] having believed in God.

35 But when it was day, the [1] magistrates sent the [5] serjeants, saying, Let those men go. 36 And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The [1] magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace. 37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, [d] uncondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison; and do they now cast us out privily? nay verily; but let them come themselves and bring us out. 38 And the [5] serjeants reported these words unto the [1] magistrates: and [d] they feared, when they heard that they were Romans; 39 and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, [e] they asked them to go away from the city. 40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of [f] Lydia: and when they had seen [g] the brethren, they [6] comforted them, and departed.

17 1 Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to [h] Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: 2 and Paul, [i] as his custom was, went in unto them, and for three [7] sabbath days reasoned with them [j] from the scriptures, 3 [k] opening and alleging, that it behoved [l] the Christ to suffer, and [m] to rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom, said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. 4 And [n] some of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout [o] Greeks [p] a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. 5 [q] But the Jews, being moved with [r] jealousy, took unto them [s] certain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of [t] Jason, they sought to bring them forth to the people. 6 And when they found them not, [u] they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned [8] the world upside down are come hither also; 7 whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to [v] the decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is [w] another king, one Jesus. 8 And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. 9 And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 And [x] the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berœa: who when they were come thither [y] went into the synagogue of the Jews. 11 Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, [z]examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so. 12 [a]Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek [b]women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few. 13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berœa also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and [c]troubling the multitudes. 14 And then [d]immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and [e]Timothy abode there still. 15 But [f]they that conducted Paul brought him as far as [g]Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timothy [h]that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was [i]provoked within him, as he beheld the city [j]full of idols. 17 So [k]he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with them that met with him. 18 And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, [l]What would this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange [1]gods: because [m]he preached [n]Jesus and the resurrection. 19 And they took hold of him, and brought him [2]unto [3]the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this [p]new teaching is, which is spoken by thee? 20 For thou bringest certain [q]strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean. 21 (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there [4]spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.) 22 And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat [5][r]superstitious. 23 For as I passed along, and observed the [s]objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, [6][t]TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. [t]What therefore ye worship [u]in ignorance, this set I forth unto you. 24 [v]The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being [w]Lord of heaven and earth, [x]dwelleth not in [7]temples made with hands; 25 neither is he served by men's hands, [y]as though he needed anything, seeing he himself [z]giveth to all [a]life, and breath, and all things; 26 and [b]he made of one every nation of men for to dwell [c]on all the face of the earth, [d]having determined their appointed seasons, and [e]the bounds of their habitation; 27 [f]that they should seek God, if haply [g]they might feel after him, and find him, [h]though he is not far from each one of us: 28 for [i]in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of [j]your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. 29 [k]Being then the offspring of God, [l]we ought not to think that [8]the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. 30 [m]The times of ignorance therefore [n]God overlooked; but [o]now he [9][p]commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent: 31 inasmuch as he hath appointed [q]a day, in the which [r]he will judge [10]the world [s]in righteousness [11]by [12]the man whom he hath ordained; [t]whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, [u]in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 Now when they heard of [v]the resurrection of the dead, [w]some mocked; but others said, [x]We will hear thee concerning this yet again. 33 Thus Paul went out from among them. 34 But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius [y]the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

1 After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. 2 And he found a certain Jew named [z]Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife [z]Priscilla, because [a]Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he came unto them; 3 and [b]because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers. 4 And [c]he reasoned in the synagogue

[c] every sabbath, and [1] persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5 But [d] when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul [e] was constrained by the word, [f] testifying to the Jews that [g] Jesus was the Christ. 6 And when they opposed themselves, and [2] [h] blasphemed, [i] he shook out his raiment, and said unto them, [j] Your blood be upon your own heads; [k] I am clean: [l] from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles. 7 And he departed thence, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus [m] Justus, [n] one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue. 8 And [o] Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, [3] believed in the Lord [p] with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized. 9 And the Lord said unto Paul [q] in the night by [r] a vision, [s] Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: 10 [s] for I am with thee, and [t] no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for [u] I have much people in this city. 11 And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 But when Gallio was [v] proconsul of Achaia, [w] the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and [x] brought him before the judgement-seat, 13 saying, This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary to [y] the law. 14 But when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If indeed it were a matter of wrong or of wicked [z] villany, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you: 15 but [a] if they are questions about words and names and [b] your own law, look to it yourselves; I am not minded to be a judge of these matters. 16 And he drave them from the judgement-seat. 17 And they all laid hold on Sosthenes, the ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgement-seat. And Gallio cared for none of these things.

18 And Paul, having tarried after this yet many days, took his leave of [c] the brethren, and sailed thence for Syria, and with him [d] Priscilla and Aquila; [e] having shorn his head in [f] Cenchreæ: [e] for he had a vow. 19 And they came to [g] Ephesus, and he left them there: but [h] he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews. 20 And when they asked him to abide a longer time, he consented not; 21 but taking his leave of them, and saying, I will return again unto you, [i] if God will, he set sail from Ephesus. 22 And when he had landed at Cæsarea, he [j] went up and saluted the church, and went down to Antioch. 23 And having spent some time there, he departed, and [k] went through the region of Galatia and Phrygia in order, [l] stablishing all the disciples.

24 Now a certain Jew named [m] Apollos, an Alexandrian by race, [4] a learned man, came to Ephesus; and he was [n] mighty in the scriptures. 25 This man had been [5] [o] instructed in [p] the way of the Lord; and [q] being fervent in spirit, he spake and taught carefully the things concerning Jesus, knowing only [r] the baptism of John: 26 and he began to speak boldly in the synagogue. But when [d] Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him [s] the way of God more carefully. 27 And when he was minded to pass over into [t] Achaia, [u] the brethren encouraged him, and [v] wrote to the disciples to receive him: and when he was come, [w] he [6] helped them much which had [x] believed through grace: 28 for he powerfully confuted the Jews, [7] and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures [y] that Jesus was the Christ.

19 1 And it came to pass, that, while [z] Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed [a] through the upper country came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples: 2 and he said unto them, [b] Did ye receive the Holy Ghost when ye believed? And they said unto him, Nay, [c] we did not so much as hear whether [8] the Holy Ghost was given. 3 And he said, [d] Into what then were ye baptized? And they said, Into [e] John's baptism. 4 And Paul said, [e] John baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, [f] that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Jesus. 5 And when they heard this, [g] they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 6 And [h] when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and [i] they spake with tongues, and [j] prophesied.

7 And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And [k] he entered into the synagogue,
and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading as to the things
[l] concerning the kingdom of God.
9 [m] But when some were hardened and [n] disobedient, speaking evil of [o] the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated
the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. 10 And this continued for the space of [p] two years; so that [q] all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks. 11 And [r] God wrought special [1] miracles by the hands of Paul: 12 [r] insomuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and [s] the evil spirits went out. 13 But certain also of the strolling Jews, [t] exorcists, [u] took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, [v] I adjure you
by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.
14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, which did this. 15 And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, [w] Jesus
I [2] know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? 16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them,
and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house [x] naked and wounded. 17 And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and [y] the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. 18 Many also of them that had believed came, [z] confessing, and declaring their deeds. 19 And not a few of them that practised [3] curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand [a] pieces of silver.
20 So [b] mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit,

there, [f] I must also see Rome.
22 And having sent into Macedonia
two of them that [g] ministered unto him, [h] Timothy and [i] Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia [j] for a while.

23 And about that time [k] there arose no small stir concerning [l] the Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of [4] Diana, [m] brought no little business unto the craftsmen; 25 [m] whom he gathered together, with the workmen
of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this business we have our wealth. 26 And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, [n] saying that [o] they be no gods, which are made with hands: 27 and not only is there danger that this our trade
come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the [p] great goddess [4] Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all Asia and [5] the world worshippeth.
28 And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, [p] Great is [4] Diana of the Ephesians. 29 And the city was filled with the confusion: and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized [q] Gaius and [r] Aristarchus, men of Macedonia,
Paul's [s] companions in travel.
30 And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. 31 And certain also of the [6] chief officers of Asia, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to adventure himself into the theatre.
32 [t] Some therefore cried one thing,
and some another: for the assembly
was in confusion; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. 33 [7] And they brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander [u] beckoned with the hand,
and would have made a defence unto the people. 34 But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all

two hours cried out, [v] Great is [1] Diana of the Ephesians. 35 And when the townclerk had quieted the multitude, he saith, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there who knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is temple-keeper of the great [1] Diana, and of the image which fell down from [2] [w] Jupiter? 36 Seeing then that these things cannot be gainsaid, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rash. 37 For ye have brought hither [x] these men, which are neither [y] robbers of temples nor blasphemers of our goddess. 38 If therefore Demetrius, and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, [3] the courts are open, and there are [z] proconsuls: let them accuse one another. 39 But if ye seek anything about other matters, it shall be settled in the regular assembly. 40 For indeed we are in danger to be [4] accused concerning this day's riot, there being no cause for it: and as touching it we shall not be able to give account of this concourse. 41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

20 1 And after the uproar was ceased, Paul having sent for the disciples and exhorted them, took leave of them, and [a] departed for to go into Macedonia. 2 And when he had gone through those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece. 3 And when he had spent three months there, and [b] a plot was laid against him by the Jews, as he was about to set sail for Syria, he determined to return through Macedonia. 4 And there accompanied him [5] as far as Asia [c] Sopater of Berœa, the son of Pyrrhus; and of the Thessalonians, [d] Aristarchus and Secundus; and [d] Gaius of Derbe, and [e] Timothy; and of Asia, [f] Tychicus and [g] Trophimus. 5 But these [6] had gone before, and were waiting for [h] us at [i] Troas. 6 And we sailed away from Philippi after [j] the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days; where we tarried seven days.

7 And [k] upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together [l] to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to depart on the morrow; and prolonged his speech until midnight. 8 And there were many lights in [m] the upper chamber, where we were gathered together. 9 And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, borne down with deep sleep; and as Paul discoursed yet longer, being borne down by his sleep he [n] fell down from the third story, and was taken up dead. 10 And Paul went down, and [o] fell on him, and embracing him said, [p] Make ye no ado; for his life is in him. 11 And when he was gone up, and [q] had broken the bread, and eaten, and had talked with them a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. 12 And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 But we, going before to the ship, set sail for Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, intending himself to go [7] by land. 14 And when he met us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene. 15 And sailing from thence, we came the following day over against Chios; and the next day we touched at Samos; and [8] the day after we came to Miletus. 16 For Paul had determined to sail past Ephesus, that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening, if it were possible for him, [r] to be at Jerusalem [s] the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called to him [t] the [9] elders of the church. 18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them,

[u] Ye yourselves know, [v] from the first day that I set foot in Asia, [u] after what manner I was with you all the time, 19 [w] serving the Lord [x] with all lowliness of mind, and with [y] tears, and with trials which befell me by [z] the plots of the Jews: 20 how that I [a] shrank not from declaring unto you anything that was profitable, and [b] teaching you publicly, and from house to house, 21 [c] testifying both to Jews and to Greeks [d] repentance toward God, and [e] faith toward our Lord Jesus [10] Christ. 22 And now, behold, I go bound[f] in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there: 23 save that [g] the Holy Ghost testifieth unto me in every city, saying that [h] bonds and [i] afflictions abide me. 24 But [j] I hold not my life of any account, as dear unto myself, [1] so that [k] I may accomplish my course, and [l] the ministry [m] which I received from the Lord Jesus, [n] to testify [o] the gospel of [p] the grace of God. 25 And now, behold, [q] I know that ye all, among whom I went about [r] preaching the kingdom, shall see my face no more. 26 Wherefore [s] I testify unto you this day, that [t] I am pure from the blood of all men. 27 For [u] I shrank not from declaring unto you [v] the whole counsel of God. 28 [w] Take heed unto yourselves, and to all [x] the flock, in the which [y] the Holy Ghost hath made you [2][z] bishops, [a] to feed [b] the church of [3][c] God, which he [4][d] purchased [e] with his own blood. 29 [d] I know that after my departing [f] grievous wolves shall enter in among you, [g] not sparing the flock; 30 and [h] from among your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them. 31 Wherefore [i] watch ye, remembering that [j] by the space of three years I ceased not [k] to admonish every one night and day [l] with tears. 32 And now [m] I commend you to [5] God, and to [n] the word of his grace, which is able to [o] build you up, and to give you [p] the inheritance among all them that are sanctified. 33 [q] I coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel. 34 [r] Ye yourselves know that [s] these hands ministered unto my necessities, and [t] to them that were with me. 35 In all things [u] I gave you an example, how that [v] so labouring ye ought [w] to help the weak, and [x] to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he himself said, It is more blessed [y] to give than to receive.

36 And when he had thus spoken, [z] he kneeled down, and prayed with them all. 37 And [a] they all wept sore, and [b] fell on Paul's neck, and [b] kissed him, 38 sorrowing most of all for [c] the word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And [d] they brought him on his way unto the ship.

1 And when it came to pass that [e] we were parted from them, and had set sail, we [f] came with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara: 2 and having found a ship crossing over unto Phœnicia, we went aboard, and set sail. 3 And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden. 4 And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul [g] through the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. 5 And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, [h] brought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and [i] kneeling down on the beach, we prayed, 6 and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais; and we saluted [j] the brethren, and abode with them one day. 8 And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cæsarea: and entering into the house of [k] Philip [l] the evangelist, who was one of the seven, we abode with him. 9 Now this man had four daughters, virgins, [m] which did prophesy. 10 And as we tarried there [6] many days, there came down from Judæa a certain prophet, named [n] Agabus. 11 And coming to us, and [o] taking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, [p] Thus saith the Holy Ghost, [q] So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and [r] shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. 12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place [s] besought him not to go up to Jerusalem. 13 Then Paul answered, [s]What do ye, weeping and breaking my heart? for [t]I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem [u]for the name of the Lord Jesus. 14 And when he would not be persuaded, [v]we ceased, saying, [w]The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after these days we [1]took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem. 16 And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Cæsarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, [x]the brethren received us gladly. 18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto [y]James; and all [z]the elders were present. 19 And when he had saluted them, [a]he rehearsed one by one [b]the things which God had wrought among the Gentiles by his [c]ministry. 20 And they, when they heard it, [d]glorified God; and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many [2][e]thousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and they are all [f]zealous for the law: 21 and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all [g]the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, [h]telling them [i]not to circumcise their children, neither [j]to walk after [k]the customs. 22 What is it therefore? they will certainly hear that thou art come. 23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men [l]which have a vow on them; 24 these take, and [m]purify thyself with them, and be at charges for them, [l]that they may shave their heads: and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law. 25 But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, [n]we [3]wrote, giving judgement that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, and from fornication. 26 Then Paul [4]took the men, and the next day [m]purifying himself with them [o]went into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification, until [p]the offering was offered for every one of them.

27 And when [p]the seven days were almost completed, [q]the Jews from Asia, [r]when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that [s]teacheth all men everywhere against the people, and [t]the law, and [t]this place: and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and [u]hath defiled [t]this holy place. 29 For they had before seen with him in the city [v]Trophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. 30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and [w]dragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors were shut. 31 [w]And as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the [5]chief captain of [x]the [6]band, that all Jerusalem was in confusion. 32 And forthwith [y]he took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33 Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him [z]to be bound [a]with two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done. 34 And [b]some shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into [c]the castle. 35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the crowd; 36 for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, [d]Away with him.

37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? 38 Art thou not then [e]the Egyptian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out [f]into the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? 39 But Paul said, [g]I am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people. 40 And when he had given him leave, Paul, standing on the stairs, [h] beckoned with the hand unto the people; and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in [i] the Hebrew language, saying,

22 1 [j] Brethren and fathers, hear ye the defence which I now make unto you.

2 And when they heard that he spake unto them in [k] the Hebrew language, they were the more quiet: and he saith,

3 [l] I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city, [m] at the feet of [n] Gamaliel, instructed [o] according to the strict manner of [p] the law of our fathers, [q] being zealous for God, [r] even as ye all are this day: 4 and [s] I persecuted [t] this Way [u] unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women. 5 As also [v] the high priest doth bear me witness, and all [w] the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto [x] the brethren, and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them also which were there unto Jerusalem in bonds, for to be punished. 6 [y] And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and drew nigh unto Damascus, about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me. 7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? 8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am [z] Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest. 9 [a] And they that were with me beheld indeed the light, but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me. 10 And I said, [b] What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do. 11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus. 12 And [c] one Ananias, a devout man [d] according to the law, [e] well reported of by all the Jews that dwelt there, 13 [f] came unto me, and standing by me said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And [g] in that very hour I [1] looked up on him. 14 And he said, [h] The God of our fathers [i] hath appointed thee [j] to know his will, and [k] to see [l] the Righteous One, and [m] to hear a voice from his mouth. 15 For [n] thou shalt be a witness for him unto all men of what [o] thou hast seen and heard. 16 And now why tarriest thou? [p] arise, and be baptized, and [q] wash away thy sins, [r] calling on his name. 17 And it came to pass, that, [s] when I had returned to Jerusalem, and while [t] I prayed in the temple, I fell into [u] a trance, 18 and saw him saying unto me, [v] Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: because they will not receive of thee testimony concerning me. 19 And I said, Lord, they themselves know that [w] I imprisoned and [x] beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee: 20 and when the blood of Stephen [y] thy witness was shed, [z] I also was standing by, and [a] consenting, and [z] keeping the garments of them that slew him. 21 And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee forth [b] far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word; and they lifted up their voice, and said, [c] Away with such a fellow from the earth: for [d] it is not fit that he should live. 23 And as they cried out, and threw off their garments, and cast dust into the air, 24 the chief captain commanded him to be brought into [e] the castle, bidding that he should be [f] examined by scourging, that he might know for what cause they so shouted against him. 25 And when they had tied him up [2] with the thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge [g] a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? 26 And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain, and told him, saying, What art thou about to do? for this man is a Roman. 27 And the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And he said, Yea. 28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizenship. And Paul said, But I am a Roman born. 29 They then which were about [h] to examine him straightway departed from him: and the chief captain also [i] was afraid, [j] when he knew that he was a Roman, and because [k] he had bound him. 30 But on the morrow, [l] desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

1 And Paul, looking stedfastly on the council, said, Brethren, [m] I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day. 2 And the high priest [n] Ananias commanded them that stood by him [o] to smite him on the mouth. 3 Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou [p] whited [q] wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and [r] commandest me to be smitten [r] contrary to the law? 4 And they that stood by said, Revilest thou [s] God's high priest? 5 And Paul said, [t] I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, [u] Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of thy people. 6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were [v] Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, [w] I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: [x] touching the [y] hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. 7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees: and the assembly was divided. 8 For the Sadducees [z] say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both. 9 And there arose a great clamour: and some of [a] the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, [b] We find no evil in this man: and what [c] if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel? 10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into [d] the castle.

11 And [e] the night following [f] the Lord stood by him, and said, [g] Be of good cheer: for [h] as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou [i] bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, [j] the Jews banded together, and [k] bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. 13 And they were more than forty which made this conspiracy. 14 And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. 15 Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to slay him. 16 But [l] Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, [1] and he came and entered into [m] the castle, and told Paul. 17 And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath something to tell him. 18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul [n] the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say to thee. 19 And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me? 20 And he said, [o] The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more exactly concerning him. 21 Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which [p] have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the promise from thee. 22 So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signified these things to me. 23 And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night: 24 and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto [q] Felix [r] the governor. 25 And he wrote a letter after this form:

[1] Or, having come in upon them, and he entered &c.

excellent governor Felix, [t]greeting. 27 [u]This man was seized by the Jews, and [v]was about to be slain of them, [v]when I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, [w]having learned that he was a Roman. 28 And [x]desiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, [1]I brought him down unto their council: 29 whom I found to be accused [y]about questions of their law, but [z]to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. 30 And [a]when it was shewn to me [b]that there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, [c]charging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.[2]

31 So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris. 32 But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to [d]the castle: 33 and they, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him. 34 And when he had read it, he asked of what [e]province he was; and when he understood [f]that he was of Cilicia, 35 I will hear thy cause, said he, [g]when thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's [3][h]palace.

24 1 And [i]after five days the high priest [j]Ananias came down with certain elders, and with an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed [k]the governor against Paul. 2 And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much [l]peace, and that by thy [l]providence evils are corrected for this nation, 3 we accept it in all ways and in all places, [m]most excellent Felix, with all thankfulness. 4 But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee to hear us of thy clemency a few words. 5 For we have found this man [n]a pestilent fellow, and [o]a mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout [4]the world, and a ringleader of [p]the sect of the Nazarenes: 6 [q]who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on whom also we laid hold:[5] 8 from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him. 9 And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

10 And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: 11 seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that [r]it is not more than twelve days since I [s]went up [t]to worship at Jerusalem: 12 and [u]neither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city. 13 [v]Neither can they prove to thee the things whereof they now accuse me. 14 But this I confess unto thee, that after [w]the Way which they call [6][x]a sect, [y]so serve I [z]the God of our fathers, believing all things which are [a]according to the law, and which are written in the prophets: 15 [b]having [c]hope toward God, which these also themselves [7]look for, that there shall be [d]a resurrection [e]both of the just and unjust. 16 Herein do I also [f]exercise myself to have a conscience [g]void of offence toward God and men alway. 17 Now [h]after [8]many years [i]I came to bring alms to [j]my nation, and [k]offerings: 18 [9]amidst which they found me [l]purified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but [m]there were certain Jews from Asia — 19 [n]who ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, if they had aught against me. 20 Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when I stood before the council, 21 except it be for this one voice, [o]that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day.

22 But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning [p]the Way,

25 1 Festus therefore, [3]having three days went up to Jerusalem from Cæsarea. 2 And the chief priests and the principal men

Paul; 3 and they besought him, asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem;
c See ch. 9. 24. [c]laying wait to kill him on the way.
4 Howbeit Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæsarea, and that he himself was about to depart thither shortly. 5 Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss
in the man, let them accuse him.

6 And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea;
d ver. 10, 17. See Matt. 27. 19. and on the morrow he sat on [d]the

Paul said, I am standing before ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest. 11 If then I am

13 Now when certain days were

1 And [e] Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence:
2 I think myself happy, king
Agrippa, that I am to make my defence
before thee this day [f] touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews: 3 [2] especially because thou art expert in all [g] customs and [h] questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. 4 [i] My manner
of life then from my youth up,
which was from the beginning among [j] mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews;
5 having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify,
how that [k] after the straitest [l] sect
of our [m] religion I lived [n] a Pharisee.
6 And now I stand here to be judged for the hope of [o] the promise made of God unto our fathers; 7 [p] unto which promise [q] our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to [r] attain. And concerning this hope [s] I am accused by the Jews, O king! 8 Why is it judged [t] incredible with you, if God doth raise the dead? 9 [u] I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of [v] Jesus of Nazareth. 10 And [w] this I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints
in prisons, having received authority [x] from the chief priests, and [y] when they were put to death, I gave my vote against them. 11 And [z] punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them [a] blaspheme; and [b] being exceedingly mad against them, I [c] persecuted
them even unto foreign cities.
12 [3] Whereupon [d] as I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests, 13 at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that journeyed with me. 14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me [e] in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against [4] the goad. 15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. 16 But arise, and [f] stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, [g] to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things [5] wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things
wherein I will appear unto thee;
17 [h] delivering thee from the people,
and from the Gentiles, [i] unto whom
I [j] send thee, 18 [k] to open their eyes,
[6] [l] that they may turn [m] from darkness
to light, and from [n] the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive [o] remission of sins and [p] an inheritance among them that are sanctified [q] by faith in me. 19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto [r] the heavenly vision:
20 but [s] declared both [t] to them
of Damascus first, and [u] at Jerusalem,
and throughout all the country
of Judæa, and also [v] to the Gentiles,
that they should [w] repent and [x] turn to God, doing works [y] worthy of [7] repentance. 21 For this cause [z] the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me. 22 [a] Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, [b]I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what [c]the prophets and Moses did say should come; 23 [1][d]how that the Christ [2][e]must suffer, and [1]how that [f]he first [g]by the resurrection of the dead [h]should proclaim [i]light both to the people and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, [j]thou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness. 25 But Paul saith, I am not mad, [k]most excellent Festus; but speak forth [l]words of truth and [m]soberness. 26 For [n]the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner. 27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. 28 And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me [o]a Christian. 29 And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, [p]might become such as I am, except [q]these bonds.

30 And the king rose up, and [r]the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: 31 and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, [s]This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. 32 And Agrippa said unto Festus, [t]This man might have been set at [u]liberty, if he had not appealed [v]unto Cæsar.

27 1 And when it was determined [w]that [x]we should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the [y]Augustan [3][z]band. 2 And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, [a]Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. 3 And the next day we touched at Sidon: and [b]Julius [c]treated Paul kindly, and [d]gave him leave to go unto his friends and [4]refresh himself. 4 And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. 5 And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia. 6 And there the centurion found [e]a ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us therein. 7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not [5]further suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete, over against Salmone; 8 and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because [f]the Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, 10 and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with [g]injury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. 11 But the centurion gave more heed to [h]the master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. 12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phœnix, and winter there; which is a haven of Crete, looking [6]north-east and south-east. 13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in shore. 14 But after no long time there [i]beat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquilo: 15 and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven. 16 And running under the lee of a small island called [7]Cauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: 17 and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, under-girding the ship; and, fearing lest they should [j]be cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were driven. 18 And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began [k]to throw the freight overboard; 19 and the third day they cast out with their own hands the [8]tackling of the ship. 20 And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away. 21 And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, [l] ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this [l] injury and loss. 22 And now I exhort you to be of [m] good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. 23 For [n] there [o] stood by me this night [p] an angel of the God [q] whose I am, [r] whom also I serve, 24 saying, Fear not, Paul; [s] thou must stand before Cæsar: and lo, [t] God hath granted thee all them that sail with thee. 25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for [u] I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me. 26 Howbeit [v] we must be [w] cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country; 28 and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. 29 And fearing lest haply we should be [x] cast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and [1] wished for the day. 30 And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered [y] the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay out anchors from the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. 32 Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. 33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. 34 Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for [z] there shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you. 35 And when he had said this, and had taken bread, [a] he gave thanks to God in the presence of all: and he brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then were they all of [b] good cheer, and themselves also took food. 37 And we were in all in the ship [2] two hundred threescore and sixteen [c] souls. 38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, [d] throwing out the wheat into the sea. 39 And when it was day, [e] they knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they could [3] drive the ship upon it. 40 And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. 41 But lighting upon a place where two seas met, [f] they ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves. 42 And [g] the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. 43 But the centurion, [h] desiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to the land: 44 and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that [i] they all escaped safe to the land.

28 1 And when we were escaped, [j] then we knew that [k] the island was called [4] Melita. 2 And [l] the barbarians shewed us no common [m] kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. 3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out [5] by reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. 4 And when [n] the barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, [o] No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, [p] yet [q] Justice hath not suffered to live. 5 Howbeit he [r] shook off the beast into the fire, and took no harm. 6 But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, [s]they changed their minds, and [t]said that he was a god.

7 Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three days courteously. 8 And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and [u]prayed, and [v]laying his hands on him healed him. 9 And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured: 10 who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

11 And after three months we set sail in [w]a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was [1] [x]The Twin Brothers. 12 And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. 13 And from thence we [2]made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli: 14 where we found [y]brethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. 15 And from thence [y]the brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, [z]he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we entered into Rome, [3] [a]Paul was suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days he called together [4]those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, [b]though I had done nothing against the people, or [c]the customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans: 18 who, when they had examined me, [d]desired to set me at liberty, [e]because there was no cause of death in me. 19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained [f]to appeal unto Cæsar; not that I had aught to accuse [g]my nation of. 20 For this cause therefore did I [5]intreat you to see and to speak with me: for [h]because of [i]the hope of Israel I am bound with [j]this [k]chain. 21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judæa concerning thee, nor did any of [l]the brethren come hither and report or speak any harm of thee. 22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this [m]sect, it is known to us that everywhere [n]it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; [o]to whom he expounded the matter, testifying [p]the kingdom of God, and [q]persuading them concerning Jesus, [r]both from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning till evening. 24 And [s]some believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. 25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, [t]Well spake the Holy Ghost [6]by Isaiah the prophet unto your fathers, 26 saying,

[u]Go thou unto this people, and say,
[v]By hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand;
And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:
27 [w]For this people's heart is waxed gross,
And their ears are dull of hearing,
And their eyes they have closed;
Lest haply they should perceive with their eyes,
And hear with their ears,
And understand with their heart,
And [x]should turn again,
And I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that [y]this [z]salvation of God [a]is sent unto the Gentiles: [b]they will also hear.[7]

30 And he abode two whole years in his own hired dwelling, and [c]received all that went in unto him, 31 [d]preaching [e]the kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ [f]with all boldness, [g]none forbidding him.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS.

I 1 PAUL, [a] a [1] servant of Jesus Christ, [b] called to be an apostle, [c] separated unto the gospel of God, 2 which [d] he promised afore
[2] [e] by his prophets in the holy scriptures,
3 concerning his Son, [f] who was born of the seed of David [g] according to the flesh, 4 who was
[3] [h] declared to be the Son of God
[4] [i] with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead; even Jesus Christ
our Lord, 5 through whom [j] we received grace and [k] apostleship, [l] unto obedience [5] of faith [m] among all the nations, for his name's sake: 6 among whom are ye also, [n] called to be Jesus Christ's: 7 to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: [o] Grace to you and peace
from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, [p] I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, [6] [q] that your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world. 9 [r] For God is my witness, [s] whom I serve in my spirit
in the gospel of his Son, [t] how unceasingly
I make mention of you,
10 always in my prayers making request,
if by any means now at length
I may be prospered [7] [u] by the will of God to come unto you. 11 For [v] I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established; 12 that is, that I with you may be comforted in you, [w] each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine. 13 And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that [v] oftentimes I purposed
to come unto you (and [x] was hindered hitherto), that I might have some [y] fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles. 14 [z] I am debtor
both to Greeks and to [a] Barbarians,
both to the wise and to the foolish.
15 So, [b] as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are in Rome. 16 For [c] I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is [d] the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew [e] first, and also to [f] the Greek.
17 For therein is revealed [g] a righteousness of God [8] [h] by faith unto faith: [i] as it is written, But the righteous shall live [8] by faith.

18 For [9] [j] the wrath of God [k] is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who [10] hold down the truth in unrighteousness; 19 [l] because [m] that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God manifested
it unto them. 20 For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, [n] being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity; [11] that they may be without excuse: 21 because that, knowing God, they glorified
him not as God, neither gave thanks;
but [o] became vain in their reasonings,
and their senseless heart was darkened. 22 [p] Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, 23 and [q] changed the glory of [r] the incorruptible
God for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 Wherefore [s] God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness,
that their bodies should be [t] dishonoured among themselves:
25 for that they exchanged the truth of God for [u] a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, [v] who is blessed [12] for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause [w] God gave them up unto [13] [x] vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature: 27 and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned
in their lust one toward another, [y] men with men working unseemliness,
and receiving in themselves
that recompense of their error which was due.

28 And even as they [14] refused to have God in their knowledge, [z]God gave them up unto [a]a reprobate mind, to do those things [b]which are not fitting; 29 being filled with all unrighteousness, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity; whisperers, 30 backbiters, [1]hateful to God, insolent, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents, 31 without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, unmerciful: 32 who, knowing [c]the ordinance of God, that they which practise such things [d]are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also [e]consent with them that practise them.

2 1 Wherefore thou art [f]without excuse, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for [g]wherein thou judgest [2]another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest dost practise the same things. 2 [3]And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them that practise such things. 3 And reckonest thou this, O man, who judgest them that practise such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God? 4 Or despisest thou [h]the riches of his goodness and [i]forbearance and [j]longsuffering, [k]not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? 5 but after thy hardness and impenitent heart [l]treasurest up for thyself [m]wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God; 6 [n]who will render to every man according to his works: 7 to them that [o]by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: 8 but unto them that are factious, and [p]obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, 9 tribulation and anguish, [q]upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew [r]first, and also of the Greek; 10 but glory and honour and [s]peace to every man that worketh good, [t]to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: 11 for [u]there is no respect of persons with God. 12 For as many as have sinned [v]without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law; 13 for [w]not the hearers of a law are [4]just before God, but the doers of a law shall be [5]justified: 14 for when Gentiles which have no law do [x]by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; 15 in that they shew the work of the law [y]written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their [6]thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; 16 [z]in the day when God [7]shall judge [a]the secrets of men, [b]according to my gospel, [z]by Jesus Christ.

17 But if thou bearest the name of a Jew, and [c]restest upon [8]the law, and gloriest in God, 18 and knowest [9][d]his will, and [10][e]approvest the things that are excellent, being instructed out of the law, 19 and art confident that thou thyself art [f]a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness, 20 [11]a corrector of the foolish, a teacher of babes, having in the law [g]the form of [h]knowledge and of the truth; 21 [i]thou therefore that teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal? 22 thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou [12][j]rob temples? 23 thou who [k]gloriest in [8]the law, through thy transgression of the law [l]dishonourest thou God? 24 For [m]the name of God is blasphemed [n]among the Gentiles because of you, even [m]as it is written. 25 For circumcision indeed profiteth, [o]if thou be a doer of the law: but if thou be a transgressor of the law, thy circumcision is become uncircumcision. 26 If therefore [p]the uncircumcision keep [q]the ordinances of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be reckoned for circumcision? 27 and shall not the uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, [r]judge thee, who with [s]the letter and circumcision art a transgressor of the law? 28 For [t]he is not a Jew, [u]which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh: 29 but he is a Jew, which is one [v]inwardly; and [w]circumcision is that of the

[1] Or, haters of God [2] Gr. the other. [3] Many ancient authorities read For. [4] Or, righteous [5] Or, accounted righteous [6] Or, reasonings [7] Or, judgeth [8] Or, a law [9] Or, the Will [10] Or, provest the things that differ [11] Or, an instructor [12] Or, commit sacrilege heart, in [s]the spirit, not in the letter; [x]whose praise is not of men,

but of God.

3 1 What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision? 2 Much every way: first of all, that [y]they were intrusted with [z]the oracles of God.
3 For [a]what if some were without faith? [b]shall their want of faith
make of none effect the faithfulness of God? 4 [1]God forbid: yea, [c]let God be found true, but [d]every man a liar; as it is written,

[e]That thou mightest be justified in thy words,
And mightest prevail when thou [f]comest into judgement.

5 But if our unrighteousness commendeth
the righteousness of God,
what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth [g]with wrath?
([h]I speak after the manner of men.)
6 God forbid: for then how shall [i]God judge the world? 7 [2]But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, [j]why am I also still judged as a sinner? 8 and why not (as we be slanderously reported,
and as some affirm that we say), [k]Let us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.

9 What then? [3]are we in worse
case than they? No, in no wise:
for we before laid to the charge
both [l]of Jews and [m]Greeks, that they are all [n]under sin; 10 as it is written,

[o]There is none righteous, no, not one;
11 There is none that understandeth,
There is none that seeketh after God;
12 They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable;
There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:
13 [p]Their throat is [q]an open sepulchre;
With their tongues they have used deceit:
[r]The poison of asps is under their lips:
14 [s]Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 [t]Their feet are swift to shed blood;
16 Destruction and misery are in their ways;
17 And [u]the way of peace have they not known:
18 [v]There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things
soever [w]the law saith, it speaketh
to them that are under the law;
[x]that every mouth may be stopped,
and [y]all the world may be brought under the judgement of God: 20 because [4][z]by [5]the works of the law shall no flesh be [6]justified in his sight: for [7][a]through the law cometh
the knowledge of sin. 21 But now apart from the law [b]a righteousness
of God [c]hath been manifested, [d]being witnessed by the law
and the prophets; 22 even the righteousness of God [e]through faith [8]in Jesus Christ unto all [9]them that believe; [f]for there is no distinction;
23 for [g]all have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God; 24 [h]being justified freely [i]by his grace [j]through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: 25 whom God [10][k]set forth [11]to be [l]a propitiation, through [12]faith, [m]by his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of [n]the sins done aforetime, in [o]the forbearance of God; 26 for the shewing, I say, of his righteousness
at this present season: that he might himself be [p]just, and the [p]justifier of him that [13]hath faith
[8]in Jesus. 27 [q]Where then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay:
but by a law of faith. 28 [14]We reckon therefore that a man is justified
by faith [r]apart from [5]the works of the law. 29 Or [s]is God
the God of Jews only? is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles also: 30 if so be that [t]God is one, and he shall justify the circumcision
[4]by faith, and [u]the uncircumcision
[15]through faith. 31 Do we then make [16]the law of none effect [15]through faith? God forbid:
nay, we establish [16]the law.

[17]that Abraham, [v]our forefather
according to the flesh, hath found? 2 For if Abraham was justified [1]by works, he hath whereof to glory; but [w]not toward God. 3 For what saith the scripture? [x]And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 4 Now [y]to him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt. 5 But to him that worketh not, but [z]believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness. 6 Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness apart from works, 7 saying,

[a]Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,
And whose sins are covered.
8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not [b]reckon sin.

9 Is this blessing then pronounced upon [c]the circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for [d]we say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned for righteousness. 10 How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision: 11 and [e]he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision: that [f]he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto them; 12 and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which he had in uncircumcision. 13 For not [2]through the law was [g]the promise to Abraham or to his seed, [h]that he should be heir of the world, but through the righteousness of faith. 14 For [i]if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect: 15 for [j]the law worketh wrath; but [k]where there is no law, [l]neither is there transgression. 16 For this cause it is of faith, [m]that it may be according to grace; [n]to the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, [o]who is the father of us all 17 (as it is written, [p]A father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, [q]who quickeneth the dead, and calleth [r]the things that are not, as though they were. 18 Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, [s]So shall thy seed be. 19 And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body [3]now [t]as good as dead ([u]he being about a hundred years old), and [v]the deadness of Sarah's womb: 20 yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, giving glory to God, 21 and being fully assured that, what he had promised, [w]he was able also to perform. 22 Wherefore also it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 23 Now [x]it was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto him; 24 but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, [y]who believe on [z]him that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead, 25 [a]who was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised [b]for our justification.

5 1 [c]Being therefore justified [1]by faith, [4][d]let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; 2 through whom also we have [e]had our access [5]by faith into this grace [f]wherein we stand; and [6][g]let us [7]rejoice in hope of the glory of God. 3 And not only so, but [8]let us also [7][h]rejoice in our tribulations: knowing that tribulation [i]worketh patience; 4 and patience, probation; and probation, hope: 5 and [j]hope putteth not to shame; because the love of God [k]hath been shed abroad in our hearts through the [9]Holy Ghost which was given unto us. 6 For [l]while we were yet weak, in due season [m]Christ died for the ungodly. 7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for [10]the good man some one would even dare to die. 8 But [n]God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, [o]while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. 9 Much more then, being now justified [11][p]by his blood, shall we be saved from [q]the wrath of God through him. 10 For if, [r]while we were enemies, [s]we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved [1]by [t]his life; 11 and not only so, [2]but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received [u]the reconciliation.

12 Therefore, as [v]through one man sin entered into the world, and [w]death through sin; and [x]so death passed unto all men, for that [y]all sinned:—13 for until the law sin was in the world: but [z]sin is not imputed when there is no law. 14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned [a]after the likeness of Adam's transgression, [b]who is a figure of [c]him that was to come. 15 But not as the trespass, so also is the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto [d]the many. 16 And not as through one that sinned, so is the gift: for [e]the judgement came of one unto condemnation, but the free gift came of many trespasses unto [3][f]justification. 17 For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and [4]of the gift of righteousness [g]reign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ. 18 So then as [h]through one trespass the judgement came unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness the free gift came unto [i]all men to [j]justification of life. 19 For as through the one man's [k]disobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the [l]obedience of the one shall the many be made righteous. 20 And [5][m]the law came in beside, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, [n]grace did abound more exceedingly: 21 that, [o]as sin reigned in death, even so might [p]grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 1 What shall we say then? [q]Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? 2 God forbid. We who [r]died to sin, how shall we any longer live therein? 3 Or are ye ignorant that all we [s]who were baptized [t]into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? 4 We were [u]buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as [v]Christ was raised from the dead through [w]the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in [x]newness of life. 5 For [y]if we have become [6]united with him by [z]the likeness of his death, we shall be also by the likeness of his resurrection; 6 knowing this, that [a]our old man [b]was crucified with him, that [c]the body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to sin; 7 for [d]he that hath died [e]is justified from sin. 8 But [f]if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him; 9 knowing that [g]Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; [h]death no more hath dominion over him. 10 For [7]the death that he died, he died unto sin [8][i]once: but [7]the life that he liveth, he liveth unto God. 11 Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be [j]dead unto sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus.

12 Let not [k]sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof: 13 [l]neither present your members unto sin as [9][m]instruments of unrighteousness; but [n]present yourselves unto God, as alive from the dead, and your members as [9]instruments of righteousness unto God. 14 For [o]sin shall not [p]have dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace.

15 What then? [q]shall we sin, [r]because we are not under law, but under grace? God forbid. 16 Know ye not, that [s]to whom ye present yourselves as [10]servants unto obedience, his [10]servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? 17 But [t]thanks be to God, [11]that, whereas ye were [10]servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that [12][u]form of teaching whereunto ye were delivered; 18 and [v]being made free from sin, [w]ye became [10]servants of righteousness. 19 [x]I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for [y]as ye presented your members as servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members [z]as servants to righteousness unto sanctification. 20 For [a]when ye were [1]servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. 21 [b]What fruit then had ye at that time in the things [c]whereof ye are now ashamed? [d]for the end of those things is death. 22 But now [e]being made free from sin, and [f]become servants to God, [g]ye have your fruit unto sanctification, and [h]the end eternal life. 23 [i]For the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

[1] Gr. in. [2] Gr. but also glorying. [3] Gr. an act of righteousness. [4] Some ancient authorities omit of the gift [5] Or, law [6] Or, united with the likeness . . . with the likeness [7] Or, in that [8] Gr. once for all. [9] Or, weapons [10] Gr. bondservants. [11] Or, that ye were . . . but ye became [12] Or, pattern

7 1 Or are ye ignorant, brethren (for I speak to men that know [2]the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? 2 For [j]the woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. 3 So then if, while the husband liveth, [k]she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. 4 Wherefore, my brethren, [l]ye also were made dead [m]to the law [n]through the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, [o]that we might bring forth fruit unto God. 5 For when we were in the flesh, the [3]sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought [p]in our members [q]to bring forth fruit unto death. 6 But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve [r]in newness of [s]the spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, [t]I had not known sin, except through [2]the law: for I had not known [4]coveting, except [u]the law had said, Thou shalt not [4]covet: 8 but sin, [v]finding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of [4]coveting: [w]for apart from [2]the law sin is dead. 9 And I was alive apart from [2]the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; 10 and the commandment, [x]which was unto life, this I found to be unto death: 11 for sin, [y]finding occasion, through the commandment [z]beguiled me, and through it slew me. 12 So that [a]the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. 13 Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good;—that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. 14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, [b]sold under sin. 15 For that which I [5]do I know not: for [c]not what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do. 16 But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto [d]the law that it is good. 17 So now [e]it is no more I that [5]do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 18 For I know that [f]in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to [5]do that which is good is not. 19 [g]For the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I practise. 20 But if what I would not, that I do, [h]it is no more I that [5]do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 21 I find then [6]the law, that, to me who would do good, evil is present. 22 For [i]I delight [7]in the law of God after [j]the inward man: 23 but I see [k]a different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity [8]under the law of sin which is in my members. 24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me out of [9][l]the body of this death? 25 [10][m]I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 1 There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. 2 For the law of [n]the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus [o]made me free from the law of sin and of death. 3 For [p]what the law could not do, [11][q]in that it was weak

[1] Gr. bondservants. [2] Or, law [3] Gr. passions of sins. [4] Or, lust [5] Gr. work. [6] Or, in regard of the law [7] Gr. with. [8] Gr. in. Many ancient authorities read to. [9] Or, this body of death [10] Many ancient authorities read But thanks be to God. [11] Or, wherein through the flesh, [r] God, sending his own Son [s] in the likeness of [1] sinful flesh [2] and [t] as an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: 4 that [u] the [3] ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, [v] who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. 5 For [w] they that are after the flesh do mind [x] the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit [y] the things of the spirit. 6 For [z] the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the spirit is life and peace: 7 because the mind of the flesh is [a] enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, [b] neither indeed can it be: 8 and they that are in the flesh cannot please God. 9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that [c] the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But [d] if any man hath not [e] the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. 10 And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life because of righteousness. 11 But if the Spirit of [f] him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies [4] [g] through his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 So then, brethren, we are debtors, [h] not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: 13 for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye [5] [i] mortify the [6] deeds of the body, ye shall live. 14 For as many as are [j] led by the Spirit of God, these are [k] sons of God. 15 For [l] ye received not [m] the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of [n] adoption, whereby we cry, [o] Abba, Father. 16 [p] The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God: 17 and if children, then [q] heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; [r] if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

18 For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time [s] are not worthy to be compared with [t] the glory which shall be revealed to us-ward. 19 For the earnest expectation of the creation waiteth for [t] the revealing of the sons of God. 20 For the creation [u] was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but [v] by reason of him who subjected it, 21 [7] in hope that [w] the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. 22 For we know that [x] the whole creation [y] groaneth and travaileth in pain [8] together until now. 23 And not only so, but ourselves also, which have [z] the firstfruits of the Spirit, [a] even we ourselves groan within ourselves, [b] waiting for our adoption, to wit, [c] the redemption of our body. 24 For [d] by hope were we saved: but [e] hope that is seen is not hope: [9] for who [10] hopeth for that which he seeth? 25 But if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with [d] patience wait for it.

26 And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for [f] we know not how to pray as we ought; but [g] the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; 27 and [h] he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is [i] the mind of the Spirit, [11] because he [j] maketh intercession for the saints [k] according to the will of God. 28 And we know that to them that love God [12] all things work together [l] for good, even to [m] them that are called according to his purpose. 29 For whom he [n] foreknew, he also [o] foreordained [p] to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be [q] the firstborn among many brethren: 30 and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also [r] justified: and whom he justified, them he also [s] glorified.

31 What then shall we say to these things? [t] If God is for us, who is against us? 32 [u] He that spared not his own Son, but [v] delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him freely give us all things? 33 Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? [13] [w] It is God that justifieth; 34 [x] who is he that shall condemn? [14] It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, [y] who is at the right hand of God, [z] who also maketh intercession for us. 35 Who shall separate us from the love [1] of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? 36 Even as it is written,

[1] Gr. flesh of sin. [2] Or, and for sin [3] Or, requirement [4] Many ancient authorities read because of. [5] Gr. make to die. [6] Gr. doings. [7] Or, in hope; because the creation &c. [8] Or, with us [9] Many ancient authorities read for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? [10] Some ancient authorities read awaiteth. [11] Or, that [12] Some ancient authorities read God worketh all things with them for good. [13] Or, Shall God that justifieth? [14] Or, Shall Christ Jesus that died, . . . us?

[a] For thy sake [b] we are killed all the day long;
We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, in all these things we are more than [c] conquerors through [d] him that loved us. 38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, 39 nor height, nor depth, nor any other [2] creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

1 [e] I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Ghost, 2 that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. 3 For [f] I could [3] wish that I myself were [g] anathema from Christ for my brethren's sake, my kinsmen [h] according to the flesh: 4 who are [i] Israelites; whose is [j] the adoption, and [k] the glory, and [l] the covenants, and [m] the giving of the law, and [n] the service of God, and [o] the promises; 5 whose are [p] the fathers, and of whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, [4] [q] who is over all, [r] God blessed [5] for ever. Amen. 6 But it is not as though the word of God hath come to nought. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel: 7 neither, [s] because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children: but, [t] In Isaac shall thy seed be called. 8 That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God; but [u] the children of the promise are reckoned for a seed. 9 For this is a word of promise, [v] According to this season will I come, and Sarah shall have a son. 10 And not only so; but [w] Rebecca also having conceived by one, even by our father Isaac — 11 for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of [x] him that calleth, 12 it was said unto her, [y] The elder shall serve the younger. 13 Even as it is written, [z] Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.

14 What shall we say then? [a] Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. 15 For he saith to Moses, [b] I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. 16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that hath mercy. 17 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, [c] For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth. 18 So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will [d] he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For [e] who withstandeth his will? 20 Nay but, O man, who art thou [f] that repliest against God? [g] Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why didst thou make me thus? 21 Or [h] hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make [i] one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? 22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering [j] vessels of wrath [k] fitted unto destruction: 23 [6] and that he might make known [l] the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he [m] afore prepared unto glory, 24 even us, whom he also [n] called, [o] not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? 25 As he saith also in Hosea,

[p] I will call that my people, which was not my people;
And her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 [q] And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them,
Ye are not my people,
There shall they be called sons of [r] the living God.

27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, [s] If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, [t] it is the remnant that shall be saved: 28 for the Lord will execute

[1] Some ancient authorities read of God. [2] Or, creation [3] Or, pray [4] Some modern interpreters place a full stop after flesh, and translate, He who is God over all be (is) blessed for ever: or, He who is over all is God, blessed for ever. Others punctuate, flesh, who is over all. God be (is) blessed for ever. [5] Gr. unto the ages. [6] Some ancient authorities omit and.

his word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. 29 And, as Isaiah hath said before,

[u] Except [v] the Lord of Sabaoth
had left us a seed, [w] We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? [x] That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even [y] the righteousness which is of faith: 31 but Israel, [z] following after a law of righteousness, [a] did not arrive at that law. 32 Wherefore? [1] Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at [b] the stone of stumbling; 33 even as it is written,

[c] Behold, I lay in Zion [d] a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:
[e] And he that believeth on [2] him shall not be [f] put to shame.

10 1 Brethren, my heart's [3] desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. 2 For I bear them witness that [g] they have a zeal for God, [h] but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of [i] God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For [j] Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth. 5 For [k] Moses writeth that [l] the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. 6 But [m] the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, [n] Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down:) 7 or, Who shall descend into the [o] abyss? (that is, [p] to bring Christ up from the dead.) 8 But what saith it? [q] The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: 9 [4] because if [r] thou shalt [5] confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt [s] believe in thy heart [t] that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: 10 for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the scripture saith, [u] Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 12 [v] For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for [w] the same Lord is Lord of all, and is [x] rich unto all that call upon him: 13 for, [y] Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him [z] whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear [a] without a preacher? 15 and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, [b] How beautiful are the feet of them that bring [6] glad tidings of good things!

16 But [c] they did not all hearken to the [7] glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, [d] Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So [e] belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. 18 But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

[f] Their sound went out [g] into all the earth,
And their words unto the ends
of [8] the world.

19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,

[h] I will [i] provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,
With a nation [j] void of understanding will I anger you.

20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,

[k] I was found of them that sought me not;
I became manifest unto them
that asked not of me.

21 But as to Israel he saith, [l] All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

11 1 I say then, [m] Did God cast off his people? God forbid. For [n] I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 [o] God did not cast off his people which he [p] foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith [9] of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God against Israel, 3 [q] Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seek my life. 4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? [r] I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

[1] Or, Because, doing it not by faith, but as it were by works, they stumbled
[2] Or, it
[3] Or, good pleasure.
[4] Or, that
[5] Some ancient authorities read confess the word with thy mouth, that Jesus is Lord.
[6] Or, a gospel
[7] Or, gospel
[8] Or, the inhabited earth.
[9] Or, in

5 Even so then at this present time also there is [s]a remnant according to the election of grace. 6 [t]But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. 7 What then? [u]That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it, and the rest [v]were hardened: 8 according as it is written, [w]God gave them a spirit of stupor, [x]eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this very day. 9 And David saith,

[y]Let their table be made a snare, and a trap,
And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:
10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,
And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their [1][z]fall [a]salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. 12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as [b]I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and [c]may save some of them. 15 For if the casting away of them is [d]the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? 16 And [e]if the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if [f]some of the branches were broken off, and thou, [g]being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them [2]of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; 18 glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. 19 Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. 20 Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou [h]standest by thy faith. [i]Be not highminded, but [j]fear: 21 for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he spare thee. 22 Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, [k]if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [l]thou also shalt be cut off. 23 And [m]they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again. 24 For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, [n]lest ye be wise in your own conceits, that [o]a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, [p]until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; 26 and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

[q]There shall come out [r]of Zion the Deliverer;
He shall turn away [3]ungodliness from Jacob:
27 And this is [4]my [s]covenant unto them,
[t]When I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are [u]beloved for the fathers' sake. 29 For the gifts and [v]the calling of God are [5][w]without repentance. 30 For as ye [x]in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, 31 even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also may now obtain mercy. 32 For God [y]hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth [6]of the riches [7]both of [z]the wisdom and the knowledge of God! [a]how unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past tracing out! 34 For [b]who hath known the mind of the Lord? or [c]who hath been his counsellor? 35 or [d]who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? 36 For [e]of him, and through him, and unto him, are all things. [f]To him be the glory [8]for ever. Amen.

[1] Or, trespass
[2] Many ancient authorities read of the root and of the fatness.
[3] Gr. ungodlinesses.
[4] Gr. the covenant from me.
[5] Gr. not repented of.
[6] Or, of the riches and the wisdom &c.
[7] Or, both of wisdom &c.
[8] Gr. unto the ages.

12 1 [g]I beseech you therefore,
brethren, by the mercies of God, [h]to present your bodies
[i]a living sacrifice, holy, [1]acceptable to God, which is your [2]reasonable [3]service. 2 And [j]be not fashioned according to this [4]world: but be ye transformed by [k]the renewing of your mind, that ye may [l]prove what is [5]the good and [1]acceptable
and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, [m]through the grace that was given me, to every man that is among you, [n]not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but so to think as to think soberly, [o]according as God hath dealt
to each man [p]a measure of faith.
4 For [q]even as we have many members
in one body, and all the members have not the same office: 5 so we, [r]who are many, [s]are one body
in Christ, and severally [t]members
one of another. 6 And [u]having gifts differing according to the grace
that was given to us, whether [v]prophecy,
let us prophesy [w]according to the proportion of [6]our faith; 7 or [x]ministry, let us give ourselves to our ministry; or he that teacheth, to his teaching; 8 or he that exhorteth,
to his exhorting: he that giveth, let him do it with [7][y]liberality; [z]he that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with [a]cheerfulness.
9 [b]Let love be without hypocrisy.
[c]Abhor that which is evil; cleave
to that which is good. 10 In [d]love of the brethren be tenderly affectioned
one to another; [e]in honour preferring one another; 11 in diligence not slothful; [f]fervent in spirit; [g]serving [8]the Lord; 12 [h]rejoicing
in hope; [i]patient in tribulation; [j]continuing stedfastly in prayer; 13 [k]communicating to the necessities of the saints; [9][l]given to hospitality. 14 [m]Bless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not.
15 [n]Rejoice with them that rejoice;
weep with them that weep. 16 [o]Be of the same mind one toward another.
[p]Set not your mind on high things, but [10]condescend to [11]things that are lowly. [q]Be not wise in your own conceits. 17 [r]Render to no man evil for evil. [s]Take thought for things honourable in the sight of all men. 18 If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, [t]be at peace with all men. 19 [r]Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto [12]wrath: for it is written, [u]Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. 20 But [v]if thine enemy hunger, feed him;
if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. 21 Be not overcome
of evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 1 Let every soul [w]be in subjection
to the higher powers:
for [x]there is no power but of God; and the powers that be are ordained of God. 2 Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth
the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgement. 3 For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have [y]praise from the same: 4 for [13][z]he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for [13]he beareth not the sword in vain: for [13]he is a minister of God, [a]an avenger
for wrath to him that doeth evil.
5 Wherefore ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also [b]for conscience sake.
6 For for this cause ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very thing. 7 [c]Render to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute
is due; custom to whom custom;
fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 [d]Owe no man anything, save to love one another: for [e]he that loveth [14]his neighbour hath fulfilled
[15]the law. 9 For this, [f]Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, [g]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.
10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: [h]love therefore is the fulfilment of [1]the law.

11 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you [i]to awake out of sleep: [j]for now is [2]salvation nearer to us than when we first believed. 12 [k]The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore [l]cast off [m]the works of darkness, and [n]let us put on the armour of light. 13 [o]Let us walk honestly, as in the day; [p]not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, [q]not in strife and jealousy. 14 But [r]put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, [s]to fulfil the lusts thereof.

14 1 But [t]him that is weak in faith receive ye, yet not [3]to doubtful disputations. 2 [u]One man hath faith to eat all things: but he that is weak eateth herbs. 3 Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and [v]let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him. 4 [w]Who art thou that judgest the [4]servant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to make him stand. 5 [x]One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. [y]Let each man be fully assured in his own mind. 6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for [z]he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks. 7 For [a]none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself. 8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: [b]whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. 9 For to this end Christ [c]died, and lived again, that he might be Lord [d]of both the dead and the living. 10 But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for [d]we shall all stand before [e]the judgement-seat of God. 11 For it is written,

[f]As I live, saith the Lord, to me every knee shall bow,
And every tongue shall [5]confess to God.

12 So then [g]each one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 [h]Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, [i]that no man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. 14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, [j]that nothing is unclean of itself: [k]save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 15 For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, [l]thou walkest no longer in love. [m]Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died. 16 [n]Let not then your good be evil spoken of: 17 [o]for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but [p]righteousness and [q]peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. 18 For he that herein serveth Christ is [r]well-pleasing to God, and approved of men. 19 So then [6]let us [s]follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may [t]edify one another. 20 [u]Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. [v]All things indeed are clean; howbeit [w]it is evil for that man who eateth with offence. 21 [x]It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth[7]. 22 The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. [y]Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he [8]approveth. 23 But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.[9]

15 1 Now [z]we that are strong [a]ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. 2 [b]Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is good, unto edifying. 3 For [c]Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, [d]The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me. 4 For [e]whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our [f]learning, that through patience and through [g]comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. 5 Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you [h]to be of the same mind

one with another according to Christ Jesus: 6 that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify [i] the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. 7 Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received [1] you, to the glory of God. 8 For I say that Christ [j] hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that [k] he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, 9 and [l] that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

[m] Therefore will I [2] give praise unto thee among the Gentiles,
And sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith,

[n] Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again,

[o] Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles;
And let all the peoples praise
him.

12 And again, Isaiah saith,

[p] There shall be [q] the root of Jesse,
And he that ariseth to rule over
the Gentiles;
[r] On him shall the Gentiles hope.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all [s] joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And [t] I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with [u] all knowledge, able also to admonish one another. 15 But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, [v] because of the grace that was given me of God, 16 that I should be [w] a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, [3] [x] ministering the gospel of God, that [y] the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. 17 I have therefore [z] my glorying in Christ Jesus [a] in things pertaining to God. 18 For I will not dare to speak of any [4] things save those [b] which Christ wrought through me, [c] for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, 19 [d] in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of [5] the Holy Ghost; so that [e] from Jerusalem, and round about [f] even unto Illyricum, I have [6] fully preached the gospel of Christ; 20 yea, [7] making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, [g] that I might not build upon another man's foundation; 21 but, as it is written,

[h] They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came,
And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also [i] I was hindered these many times from coming to you: 23 but now, having no more any place in these regions, and [j] having these many years a longing to come unto you, 24 whensoever I go [k] unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and [l] to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company) — 25 but now, I say, [m] I go unto Jerusalem, ministering unto the saints. 26 For [n] it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. 27 Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, [o] they owe it to them also to minister unto them in carnal things. 28 When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you [p] unto Spain. 29 And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by [q] the love of the Spirit, that ye [r] strive together with me in your prayers to God for me; 31 [s] that I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Judæa, and that [t] my ministration which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints; 32 that I may come unto you in joy through the will of God, and together with you [u] find rest. 33 Now [v] the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

CORINTHIANS.

1 PAUL, [a] called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ [b] through the will of God, and [c] Sosthenes [1] our brother, 2 unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are [d] sanctified in Christ Jesus, [e] called to be saints, with all that [f] call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours: 3 [g] Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I [g] thank [2] my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; 5 that in everything [h] ye were enriched in him, in all [3] [i] utterance and all knowledge; 6 even as [j] the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: 7 so that ye come behind in no gift; [k] waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; 8 [l] who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be [m] unreproveable [n] in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 [o] God is faithful, through whom ye were called into [p] the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no [q] divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together [r] in the same mind and in the same judgement. 11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there are [s] contentions among you. 12 Now this I mean, that [t] each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of [u] Apollos; and I of [v] Cephas; and I of Christ. 13 [4] [w] Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye [x] baptized into the name of Paul? 14 [5] I thank God that I baptized none of you, save [y] Crispus and [z] Gaius; 15 lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name. 16 And I baptized also [a] the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. 17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: [b] not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18 For the word of the cross is to [c] them that are perishing [d] foolishness; but unto us [e] which are being saved it is [f] the power of God. 19 For it is written,

[g] I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

20 [h] Where is the wise? [i] where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this [6] world? [j] hath not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? 21 For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the [7] preaching to save them that believe. 22 Seeing that [k] Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom: 23 but we preach [8] Christ [l] crucified, unto Jews a stumblingblock, and unto Gentiles foolishness; 24 but unto [9] them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ [m] the power of God, and [n] the wisdom of God. 25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For [10] behold your calling, brethren, how that [o] not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, [11] are called: 27 but [p] God chose the foolish things of the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and [q] God chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong; 28 and the base things of the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, yea [12] and the [r] things that are not, that he might [s] bring to nought the things that are: 29 [t] that no flesh

[1] Gr. the brother. [2] Some ancient authorities omit my. [3] Gr. word. [4] Or, Christ is divided. Was Paul crucified for you? [5] Some ancient authorities read I give thanks that. [6] Or, age [7] Gr. thing preached. [8] Or, a Messiah [9] Gr. the called themselves. [10] Or, ye behold [11] Or, have part therein [12] Many ancient authorities omit and.

should glory before God. 30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us [u]wisdom from God, [1]and [v]righteousness and [w]sanctification, and [x]redemption: 31 that, according as it is written, [y]He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

1 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, [z]came not with excellency of [2]speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you [a]the [3]mystery of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything among you, save [b]Jesus Christ, and him crucified. 3 And [c]I was with you [d]in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. 4 And my [2]speech and my [4][e]preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of [f]the Spirit and of power: 5 that your faith should not [5]stand in the wisdom of men, but [g]in the power of God.

6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among [h]the [6]perfect: yet [i]a wisdom not of this [7]world, nor of the rulers of this [7]world, [j]which are coming to nought: 7 but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, [k]which God foreordained before the worlds unto our glory: 8 which none of [l]the rulers of this world knoweth: for [m]had they known it, they would not have crucified [n]the Lord of glory: 9 but as it is written,

[o]Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,
And which entered not into the heart of man,
Whatsoever things God [p]prepared [q]for them that love him.

10 [8]But unto us [r]God revealed [9]them through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, [s]the deep things of God. 11 [t]For who among men knoweth the things of a man, [u]save the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God. 12 But [v]we received, not [w]the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us by God. 13 Which things also we speak, not [x]in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; [10][11][y]comparing spiritual things with spiritual. 14 Now the [z]natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are [a]foolishness unto him; and [b]he cannot know them, because they are spiritually [12]judged. 15 But he that is [c]spiritual [13]judgeth all things, and he himself is [12]judged of no man. 16 [d]For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But [e]we have the mind of Christ.

1 And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto [f]spiritual, but as unto [g]carnal, as unto [h]babes in Christ. 2 [i]I fed you with milk, not with meat; for [j]ye were not yet able to bear it: nay, not even now are ye able; 3 for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you [k]jealousy and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? 4 For [l]when one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; [m]are ye not men? 5 What then is Apollos? and what is Paul? [n]Ministers through whom ye believed; and [o]each as the Lord gave to him. 6 [p]I planted, [q]Apollos watered; [r]but God gave the increase. 7 So then [s]neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. 8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: but each [t]shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. 9 For we are [u]God's fellow-workers: ye are God's [14]husbandry, [v]God's building.

10 [w]According to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder I laid a [x]foundation; and [y]another buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. 11 For [z]other foundation can no man lay [a]than that which is laid, [b]which is Jesus Christ. 12 But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble; 13 [c]each man's work shall be made manifest: for [d]the day shall declare it, because it is revealed [e]in fire; [15]and [f]the fire itself shall prove each man's work of what sort it is. 14 If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, [g] he shall receive a reward. 15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; [h] yet so as through fire.

[1] Or, both righteousness and sanctification and redemption [2] Or, word [3] Many ancient authorities read testimony. [4] Gr. thing preached. [5] Gr. be. [6] Or, full-grown [7] Or, age: and so in ver. 7, 8; but not in ver. 12. [8] Some ancient authorities read For. [9] Or, it [10] Or, combining [11] Or, interpreting spiritual things to spiritual men [12] Or, examined [13] Or, examineth [14] Gr. tilled land. [15] Or, and each man's work, of what sort it is, the fire shall prove it.

16 [i] Know ye not that ye are a [1] temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? 17 If any man destroyeth the [1] temple of God, him shall God destroy; for [j] the [1] temple of God is holy, [2] which temple ye are.

18 [k] Let no man deceive himself. [l] If any man thinketh that he is wise among you in this [3] world, let him become a fool, that he may become wise. 19 For [m] the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, [n] He that taketh the wise in their craftiness: 20 and again, [o] The Lord knoweth the reasonings of the wise, that they are vain. 21 Wherefore [p] let no one glory in men. For [q] all things are yours; 22 whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours; 23 and [r] ye are Christ's; and [s] Christ is God's.

1 Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, and [t] stewards of the mysteries of God. 2 Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. 3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be [4] judged of you, or of man's [5] judgement: yea, I [6] judge not mine own self. 4 For [u] I know nothing against myself; [v] yet am I not hereby justified: but he that [7] judgeth me is the Lord. 5 Wherefore [w] judge nothing before the time, [x] until the Lord come, [y] who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and [z] then shall each man have his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you [a] be puffed up for the one against the other. 7 For who maketh thee to differ? and [b] what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? 8 Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. 9 For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, [c] as men doomed to death: for we [d] are made a spectacle unto the world, [8] and to angels, and to men. 10 [e] We are fools for Christ's sake, but [f] ye are wise in Christ; [g] we are weak, but ye are strong; ye have glory, but we have dishonour. 11 Even unto this present hour [h] we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and [i] are buffeted, and [j] have no certain dwellingplace; 12 and we [k] toil, working with our own hands: [l] being reviled, we bless; [m] being persecuted, we endure; 13 being defamed, we intreat: [n] we are made as the [9] filth of the world, [o] the offscouring of all things, even until now.

14 I write not these things [p] to shame you, but to admonish you [q] as my beloved children. 15 For [r] though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus [s] I begat you through the gospel. 16 I beseech you therefore, [t] be ye imitators of me. 17 For this cause [u] have I sent unto you Timothy, [v] who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, [w] even as I teach everywhere in every church. 18 Now some are [x] puffed up, [y] as though I were not coming to you. 19 But [z] I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are puffed up, but the power. 20 For [a] the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power. 21 What will ye? [b] shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from among you. 3 For I verily, [g] being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so wrought this thing, 4 [h] in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, 5 [i] to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, [j] that the spirit may be saved [k] in the day of the Lord [1] Jesus. 6 [l] Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that [m] a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? 7 Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: 8 wherefore let us [2] keep the feast, [n] not with old leaven, neither with [o] the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in my epistle [p] to have no company with fornicators; 10 [3] [q] not altogether with [r] the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; [s] for then must ye needs go out of the world: 11 but [4] now I write unto you not to keep company, if any man [t] that is named a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to eat. 12 For what have I to do with judging [u] them that are without? [v] Do not ye judge them that are within, 13 whereas them that are without God judgeth? [w] Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

6 1 Dare any of you, having a matter against [5] his neighbour, go to law before the unrighteous, [x] and not before the saints? 2 Or know ye not that [y] the saints shall judge the world? and if the world is judged by you, are ye unworthy [6] to judge the smallest matters? 3 Know ye not that we shall judge [z] angels? how much more, things that pertain to this life? 4 If then ye have [7] to judge things pertaining to this life, [8] do ye [a] set them to judge who are of no account in the church? 5 [b] I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, 6 but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? 7 Nay, already it is altogether [9] a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. [c] Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? 8 Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that [d] your brethren. 9 Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: [e] neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, 10 nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. 11 And [f] such were some of you: but [g] ye [10] were washed, but [h] ye were sanctified, but [i] ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

12 [j] All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. 13 [k] Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall bring to nought both it [l] and them. But the body is not for fornication, but [m] for the Lord; and [n] the Lord for the body: 14 and [o] God both raised the Lord, and [p] will raise up us [q] through his power. 15 Know ye not that [r] your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them members of a harlot? God forbid. 16 Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? for, [s] The twain, saith he, shall become one flesh. 17 But he that is joined unto the Lord [t] is one spirit. 18 [u] Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication [v] sinneth against his own body. 19 Or [w] know ye not that your body is a [11] temple of the [12] Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and [x] ye are not your own; 20 [y] for ye were bought with a price: [z] glorify God therefore in your body.

7 1 Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: [a] It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 2 But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. 3 [b] Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. 4 The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, but the wife. 5 [c] Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, [d] that Satan tempt you not because of your incontinency. 6 But this I say by way of permission, [e] not of commandment. 7 [1] Yet [f] I would that all men were [g] even as I myself. Howbeit [h] each man hath his own gift from God, [i] one after this manner, and another after that.

8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, [j] It is good for them if they abide [k] even as I. 9 But if they have not continency, [l] let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. 10 But unto the married [m] I give charge, yea not I, but the Lord, [n] That the wife depart not from her husband 11 (but and if she depart, [o] let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and [n] that the husband leave not his wife. 12 But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. 13 And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. 14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: [p] else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. 15 Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called [2] us [q] in peace. 16 For how knowest thou, O wife, [r] whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife? 17 Only, [s] as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. [t] And so ordain I in [u] all the churches. 18 Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision? [v] let him not be circumcised. 19 [w] Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but [x] the keeping of the commandments of God. 20 [y] Let each man abide in that calling wherein he was called. 21 Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: [3] but if thou canst become free, use it rather. 22 For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is [z] the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called, being free, is [a] Christ's bondservant. 23 [b] Ye were bought with a price; [c] become not bondservants of men. 24 Brethren, [d] let each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins [e] I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgement, as [f] one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be [g] faithful. 26 I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, namely, that [h] it is good for a man [4] to be as he is. 27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife. 28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Yet such shall have tribulation in the flesh: and I would spare you. 29 But this I say, brethren, [i] the time [5] is shortened, that henceforth [j] both those that have wives may be as though they had none; 30 and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, [k] as though they possessed not; 31 and those that use the world, as not [6] [l] abusing it: for [m] the fashion of this world passeth away. 32 But I would have you to be [n] free from cares. [o] He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord: 33 but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may please his [1] wife. 34 And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I say for your own profit; not that I may [p] cast a [2] snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction. 36 But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his [3] virgin daughter, if she be [q] past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them marry. 37 But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own [3] virgin daughter, shall do well. 38 So then both he that giveth his own [3] virgin daughter in marriage [r] doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do better. 39 [s] A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be [4] [t] dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only [u] in the Lord. 40 But she is happier if she abide as she is, [v] after my judgement: and I think [w] that I also have the Spirit of God.

8 1 Now concerning [x] things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have [y] knowledge. Knowledge [z] puffeth up, [a] but love [5] edifieth. 2 [b] If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, [c] he knoweth not yet as he ought to know; 3 but if any man loveth God, [d] the same is known of him. 4 Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that [e] no idol is anything in the world, and that [f] there is no God but one. 5 For though there be [g] that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there are gods many, and lords many; 6 yet [h] to us there is one God, the Father, [i] of whom are all things, and we unto him; and [j] one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we [k] through him. 7 Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, [l] being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and [m] their conscience being weak is defiled. 8 But [n] meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, [6] are we the worse; nor, if we eat, [7] are we the better. 9 But take heed [o] lest by any means this [8] liberty of yours become a stumblingblock [p] to the weak. 10 For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in [q] an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, [9] be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols? 11 For [10] through thy knowledge he that is weak [r] perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died. 12 And thus, sinning against the brethren, and [s] wounding their conscience when it is weak, [t] ye sin against Christ. 13 Wherefore, [u] if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother to stumble.

9 1 [v] Am I not free? [w] am I not an apostle? [x] have I not seen Jesus our Lord? [y] are not ye my work in the Lord? 2 If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for [z] the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord. 3 My defence to them that examine me is this. 4 [a] Have we no right to eat and to drink? 5 [b] Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a [11] believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and [c] the brethren of the Lord, and [d] Cephas? 6 Or I only and Barnabas, have we not a right to forbear working? 7 [e] What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? [f] who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? 8 Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or saith not the law also the same? 9 For it is written in the law of Moses, [g] Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it for the oxen that God careth, 10 or [12] saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, [h] for our sake it was written: because [i] he that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. 11 [j]If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your carnal things? 12 If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless [k]we did not use this right; but we bear all things, [l]that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. 13 Know ye not that [m]they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their portion with the altar? 14 Even so did the Lord ordain that [n]they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. 15 But [o]I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make [p]my glorying void. 16 For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for [q]necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. 17 For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have [r]a stewardship intrusted to me. 18 What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, [s]I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to [t]use to the full my right in the gospel. 19 For [u]though I was free from all men, [v]I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might [w]gain the more. 20 And [x]to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; 21 to [y]them that are without law, [z]as without law, not being without law to God, but [a]under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law. 22 [b]To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: [c]I am become all things to all men, that [d]I may by all means save some. 23 And I do all things for the gospel's sake, [e]that I may be a joint partaker thereof. 24 Know ye not that they which run in a [1]race run all, but one receiveth [f]the prize? Even so [g]run, that ye may attain. 25 And every man that [h]striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we [i]an incorruptible. 26 I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so [2][j]fight I, as not [k]beating the air: 27 but I [3][l]buffet my body, and [m]bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, [n]I myself should be [o]rejected.

10 1 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under [p]the cloud, and all [q]passed through the sea; 2 and were all baptized [4]unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; 3 and [r]did all eat the same [s]spiritual meat; 4 and [t]did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was Christ. 5 Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for [u]they were overthrown in the wilderness. 6 Now [5]these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as [v]they also lusted. 7 [w]Neither be ye idolaters, [x]as were some of them; as it is written, [y]The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. 8 [z]Neither let us commit fornication, [a]as some of them committed, and [b]fell in one day three and twenty thousand. 9 Neither let us tempt the [6]Lord, [c]as some of them tempted, and [d]perished by the serpents. 10 Neither murmur ye, [e]as some of them murmured, and [f]perished by [g]the destroyer. 11 Now these things happened unto them [7]by way of example; and [h]they were written for our admonition, [i]upon whom the ends of the ages are come. 12 Wherefore [j]let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. 13 There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but [k]God is faithful, [l]who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it.

14 Wherefore, my beloved, [m]flee from idolatry. 15 I speak [n]as to wise men; judge ye what I say. 16 [o]The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a [8]communion of the blood of Christ? [p]The [9]bread which we break, is it not a [8]communion of the body of Christ? 17 [1]seeing that we, who are many, are one [2]bread, [q]one body: for we all partake [3]of the one [2]bread. 18 Behold Israel [r]after the flesh: [s]have not they which eat the sacrifices communion with the altar? 19 What say I then? that a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that [t]an idol is anything? 20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, [u]they sacrifice to [4][v]devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have communion with [4]devils. 21 [w]Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and [x]the cup of [4]devils: ye cannot partake of the table of the Lord, and of [y]the table of [4]devils. 22 Or [z]do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? [a]are we stronger than he?

23 [b]All things are lawful; but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful; but all things [5]edify not. 24 [c]Let no man seek his own, but each his neighbour's good. 25 [d]Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, eat, asking no question for conscience sake; 26 for [e]the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof. 27 If one of them that believe not biddeth you to a feast, and ye are disposed to go; [f]whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake. 28 But if any man say unto you, This hath been offered in sacrifice, eat not, for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake: 29 conscience, I say, [g]not thine own, but the other's; for [h]why is my liberty judged by another conscience? 30 [6]If I by grace partake, why am I evil spoken of for that [i]for which I give thanks? 31 Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or [j]whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. 32 [k]Give no occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to [l]the church of God: 33 even as [m]I also please all men in all things, [n]not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved.

11 1 [o]Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you [p]that ye remember me in all things, and [q]hold fast the traditions, [r]even as I delivered them to you. 3 But I would have you know, that [s]the head of every man is Christ; and [t]the head of the woman is the man; and [u]the head of Christ is God. 4 Every man praying or [v]prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. 5 But every woman praying or [w]prophesying [x]with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head: for it is one and the same thing [y]as if she were shaven. 6 For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn: but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. 7 For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as [z]he is the image and glory of God: but [a]the woman is the glory of the man. 8 For [b]the man is not of the woman; but the woman of the man: 9 for neither was the man created for the woman; but [c]the woman for the man: 10 for this cause ought the woman to [7]have a sign of authority on her head, [d]because of the angels. 11 Howbeit [e]neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, in the Lord. 12 For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; but [f]all things are of God. 13 Judge ye [8]in yourselves: is it seemly that a woman pray unto God unveiled? 14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a dishonour to him? 15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a covering. 16 But [g]if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither [h]the churches of God.

17 But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. 18 For first of all, when ye come together [9]in the church, [i]I hear that [10]divisions exist among you; and I partly believe it. 19 For [j]there must be also [11]heresies among you, [k]that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. 20 When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's supper: 21 for in your eating each one taketh before other his own supper; and one is hungry, and [l]another is drunken. 22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye [m]the [1]church of God, and [n]put them to shame that [2]have not? What shall I say to you? [3]shall I praise you in this? I praise you not. 23 For [o]I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that [p]the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was betrayed took bread; 24 and when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, This is my body, which [4]is for you: this do in remembrance of me. 25 In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new [5]covenant in my blood: this do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me. 26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death [q]till he come. 27 Wherefore [r]whosoever shall eat the bread or drink the cup of the Lord [s]unworthily, shall be guilty of [t]the body and the blood of the Lord. 28 But [u]let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. 29 For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgement unto himself, if he [6]discern not the body. 30 For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few [v]sleep. 31 But [w]if we [7]discerned ourselves, we should not be judged. 32 But [8]when we are judged, [x]we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be [y]condemned with the world. 33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another. 34 [z]If any man is hungry, [a]let him eat at home; that your coming together be not unto judgement. And the rest [b]will I set in order [c]whensoever I come.

12 1 Now [d]concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. 2 Ye know that [e]when ye were Gentiles [f]ye were led away unto [g]those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led. 3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that [h]no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is [i]anathema; and [j]no man can say, Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit.

4 Now [k]there are diversities of gifts, but [l]the same Spirit. 5 And [m]there are diversities of ministrations, and [l]the same Lord. 6 And there are diversities of workings, but [l]the same God, who worketh all things in all. 7 But [n]to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit to profit withal. 8 For to one is given through the Spirit the word of [o]wisdom; and to another the word of [p]knowledge, according to the same Spirit: 9 to another [q]faith, in the same Spirit; and to another [r]gifts of healings, in the one Spirit; 10 and to another [s]workings of [9]miracles; and to another [t]prophecy; and to another [u]discernings of spirits: to another [v]divers kinds of tongues; and to another [w]the interpretation of tongues: 11 but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, [x]dividing to each one severally [y]even as he will.

12 For as [z]the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many, are one body; [a]so also is Christ. 13 For [b]in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether [c]Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and [d]were all made to drink of one Spirit. 14 For the body is not one member, but many. 15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling? 18 But now [e]hath God set the members each one of them in the body, [f]even as it pleased him. 19 And if they were all one member, where were the body? 20 But now they are many members, but one body. 21 And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. 22 Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary: 23 and those parts of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we [10]bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness; 24 whereas our comely parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part

[1] Or, congregation [2] Or, have nothing [3] Or, shall I praise you? In this I praise you not. [4] Many ancient authorities read is broken for you. [5] Or, testament [6] Gr. discriminate. [7] Gr. discriminated. [8] Or, when we are judged of the Lord, we are chastened [9] Gr. powers. [10] Or, put on which lacked; 25 that there should be no [g]schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. 26 And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or one member is [1]honoured, [h]all the members rejoice with it. 27 Now [i]ye are the body of Christ, and [2]severally [j]members thereof. 28 And [k]God hath set some in the church, first [l]apostles, secondly [m]prophets, thirdly [n]teachers, then [3][o]miracles, then [p]gifts of healings, [q]helps, [4][r]governments, [o]divers kinds of tongues. 29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of [3]miracles? 30 have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret? 31 But [s]desire earnestly the greater gifts. And a still more excellent way shew I unto you.

13 1 If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. 2 And if I have the gift of [t]prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, [u]so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. 3 And [v]if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and [w]if I give my body [5]to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. 4 [x]Love suffereth long, and [y]is kind; love [z]envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, [a]is not puffed up, 5 doth not behave itself unseemly, [b]seeketh not its own, is not provoked, [c]taketh not account of evil; 6 [d]rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but [e]rejoiceth with the truth; 7 [6][f]beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, [x]endureth all things. 8 Love never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away. 9 For [g]we know in part, and we prophesy in part: 10 but [h]when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. 11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things. 12 For [i]now we see in a mirror, [7]darkly; but [j]then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I [8]know even as also [k]I have been [9]known. 13 But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; [10]and the [11]greatest of these is love.

14 1 [l]Follow after love; yet [m]desire earnestly [n]spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may [o]prophesy. 2 For [p]he that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man [12]understandeth; but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. 3 But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation. 4 He that speaketh in a tongue [13]edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth [13]edifieth the church. 5 Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but [q]rather that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. 6 But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of [r]revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of [s]teaching? 7 Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? 8 For [t]if the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? 9 So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be [u]speaking into the air. 10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and [14]no kind is without signification. 11 If then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh [v]a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian [15]unto me. 12 So also ye, since ye are zealous of [16]spiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the church. 13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. 14 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. 15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: [w]I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing [x]with the understanding also. 16 Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of [1]the unlearned say [y]the Amen at [z]thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? 17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not [2]edified. 18 I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: 19 howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20 Brethren, [a]be not children in mind: howbeit in malice [b]be ye babes, but in mind be [3][c]men. 21 [d]In the law it is written, [e]By men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. 22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe. 23 If therefore the whole church be assembled together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, [f]will they not say that ye are mad? 24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is [4]reproved by all, he is judged by all; 25 [g]the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so [h]he will fall down on his face and worship God, [i]declaring that God is [5]among you indeed.

26 What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath [j]a psalm, hath [k]a teaching, hath [k]a revelation, hath [l]a tongue, hath [m]an interpretation. [n]Let all things be done unto edifying. 27 If any man speaketh in [l]a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that in turn; and let one interpret: 28 but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. 29 And let the prophets speak by two or three, and let the others [6][o]discern. 30 But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, [p]let the first keep silence. 31 For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be [7]comforted; 32 and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; 33 for God is not a God of [q]confusion, but of peace; as in [r]all the churches of the saints.

34 [s]Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but [t]let them be in subjection, as also saith [u]the law. 35 And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. 36 What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?

37 [v]If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. 38 [8]But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, my brethren, [w]desire earnestly to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues. 40 But [x]let all things be done decently and [y]in order.

15 1 Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel [z]which I preached unto you, which also ye received, [a]wherein also ye stand, 2 by which also [b]ye are [9]saved; I make known, I say, [10]in what words I preached it unto you, if ye [c]hold it fast, [d]except ye believed [11]in vain. 3 For [e]I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, how that Christ died [f]for our sins [g]according to the scriptures; 4 and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised [h]on the third day [i]according to the scriptures; 5 and that [j]he appeared to Cephas; then [k]to the twelve; 6 then he appeared [l]to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; 7 then he appeared to [m]James; then [n]to all the apostles; 8 and last of all, as unto one born out of due time, [o]he appeared to me also. 9 For [p]I am the least of the apostles, that I am not meet to be called an apostle,

[1] Or, him that is without gifts: and so in ver. 23, 24. [2] Gr. builded up. [3] Gr. of full age. [4] Or, convicted [5] Or, in [6] Gr. discriminate. [7] Or, exhorted [8] Many ancient authorities read But if any man knoweth not, he is not known. [9] Or, saved, if ye hold fast what I preached unto you, except &c. [10] Gr. with what word. [11] Or, without cause

because [q]I persecuted the church of God. 10 But by the grace of God
I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found [1]vain; but [r]I laboured
more abundantly than they all:
[s]yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. 11 Whether then it be I or they, so we preach,
and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, [t]how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 But if there is no resurrection of the dead, [u]neither hath Christ been raised: 14 and if Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching
[1]vain, [2]your faith also is [1]vain.
15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses
of God; because we witnessed of God that [v]he raised up [3]Christ: whom he raised not up,
if so be that the dead are not raised.
16 For if the dead are not raised,
neither hath Christ been raised:
17 and if Christ hath not been raised,
your faith is vain; [w]ye are yet in your sins. 18 Then they also which [x]are fallen asleep in Christ have perished. 19 [4]If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, [y]we are of all men most pitiable.

20 But now [z]hath Christ been raised from the dead, [a]the firstfruits of them that are asleep. 21 For since [b]by man came death, [c]by man came also the resurrection of the dead. 22 For [d]as in Adam all die,
so also in [3]Christ shall all be made alive. 23 But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; [e]then they
that are Christ's, [f]at his [5]coming.
24 Then cometh the end, when he shall deliver up [g]the kingdom to [6]God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished [h]all rule and all authority and power. 25 For he must reign, [i]till he hath put all his enemies under his feet. 26 The last enemy that shall be [j]abolished is death. 27 For, [k]He put all things in subjection under his feet. [7]But when he saith, All things are put in subjection, it is evident that he is excepted who did subject all things unto him. 28 And when [l]all things have been subjected unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject
all things unto him, that [m]God
may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? 30 why do [n]we also stand in jeopardy every hour? 31 I protest by [8][o]that glorying
in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, [p]I die daily. 32 If after the manner of men [q]I fought with beasts at Ephesus, [9]what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, [r]let us eat
and drink, [s]for to-morrow we die.
33 [t]Be not deceived: [u]Evil company
doth corrupt good manners.
34 [10][v]Awake up righteously, and sin not; for [w]some have no knowledge of God: [x]I speak this to move you to shame.

35 But some one will say, [y]How are the dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come?
36 Thou foolish one, [z]that which thou thyself sowest is not quickened, except it die: 37 and that which thou sowest, thou sowest
not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat,
or of some other kind; 38 but God giveth it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its own. 39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men,
and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fishes. 40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one,
and the glory of the terrestrial is another. 41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory. 42 [a]So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: 43 it is sown in dishonour; [b]it is raised in glory:
it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: 44 it is sown a [c]natural body; it is raised a spiritual body.
If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. 45 So also it is written, [d]The first man Adam became a living soul. [e]The last Adam became a [f]life-giving spirit.

46 Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural;
then that which is spiritual.
47 [g]The first man is of the earth, [h]earthy: [i]the second man is of heaven. 48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, [j]such are they also that are heavenly. 49 And [k]as we have borne the image of the earthy, [1][l]we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that [m]flesh and blood [n]cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I tell you a mystery:
[o]We shall not all sleep, [p]but we shall all be changed, 52 in a moment,
in the twinkling of an eye,
at the last trump: for [q]the trumpet shall sound, and [r]the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. 53 For this corruptible
must put on incorruption,
and [s]this mortal must put on immortality.
54 But when [2]this corruptible
shall have put on incorruption,
and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written,
[t]Death is swallowed up [3]in victory.
55 [u]O death, where is thy victory?
O death, where is thy sting? 56 The sting of death is sin; and [v]the power of sin is the law: 57 but thanks be to God, [w]which giveth
us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. 58 [x]Wherefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in [y]the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that [z]your labour is not [4]vain in the Lord.

1 Now concerning [a]the collection for the saints, as I gave order to the churches of Galatia, so also do ye. 2 Upon [b]the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, [c]as he may prosper, [d]that no collections be made when I come. 3 And when I arrive, [5][e]whomsoever ye shall approve by letters, them will I send to carry your bounty unto Jerusalem:
4 and if it be meet for me to go also, they shall go with me.

I do not wish to see you now [j]by

while with you, [k]if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until [l]Pentecost; 9 for [m]a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and [n]there are many adversaries.

10 Now [o]if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear;

13 [w]Watch ye, [x]stand fast in the faith, [y]quit you like men, [z]be

15 Now I beseech you, brethren and that they have set themselves

[d]to minister unto the saints), 16 [e]that ye also be in subjection unto

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
CORINTHIANS.

1 1 PAUL, [a]an apostle of Christ Jesus [b]through the will of God, and [c]Timothy [1]our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, [d]with all the saints which are in the whole of Achaia: 2 [e]Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [f]Blessed be the [g]God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and [h]God of all comfort; 4 [i]who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. 5 For [j]as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. 6 But [k]whether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: 7 and our hope for you is stedfast; knowing that, [l]as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort. 8 For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning [m]our affliction which befell us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, insomuch that we despaired even of life: 9 [2]yea, we ourselves have had the [3]answer of death within ourselves, that we [n]should not trust in ourselves, [o]but in God [p]which raiseth the dead: 10 [q]who delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: [r]on whom we have [4]set our hope that he will also still deliver us; 11 [s]ye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, [t]for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

12 For our glorying is this, [u]the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and [v]sincerity of God, [w]not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. 13 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge unto the end: 14 as also ye did acknowledge us [x]in part, that [y]we are your glorying, even as [z]ye also are ours, [a]in the day of our Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence [b]I was minded to come before unto you, that ye might have [c]a second [5][d]benefit; 16 and by you [e]to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto Judæa. 17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose [f]according to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay? 18 But as [g]God is faithful, [h]our word toward you is not yea and nay. 19 For [i]the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you [6]by us, even [6]by me and [j]Silvanus and Timothy, was not yea and nay, but [k]in him is yea. 20 For [l]how many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is [m]the Amen, unto the glory of God through us. 21 Now he that stablisheth us with you [7]in Christ, and [n]anointed us, is God; 22 [8]who also [o]sealed us, and [p]gave us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But [q]I call God for a witness upon my soul, that [r]to spare you I forbare to come unto Corinth. 24 Not that we [s]have lordship over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for [t]by [9]faith ye stand.

2 1 [10]But I determined this for myself, [u]that I would not come again to you with sorrow. 2 For [v]if I make you sorry, who then is he that maketh me glad,

but he that is made sorry by me?
3 And I wrote this very thing, lest,
when I came, I should have sorrow
from them of whom I ought to rejoice;
[w] having confidence in you
all, that my joy is the joy of you
all. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart [x] I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But [y] if any hath caused sorrow,
[z] he hath caused sorrow, not to me,
but [a] in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all. 6 Sufficient to such a one is [b] this punishment which was inflicted by [1] the many;
7 so that contrariwise [c] ye should [2] rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. 8 Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love toward him. 9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know [d] the proof of you, [3] [e] whether ye are obedient in all things. 10 But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive
also: for what I also have forgiven,
if I have forgiven anything,
for your sakes have I forgiven it in the [4] person of Christ; 11 that no advantage may be gained over us
by Satan: for [f] we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Now when [g] I came to Troas
for the gospel of Christ, and when [h] a door was opened unto me in the Lord, 13 [i] I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus
my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia.
14 But [j] thanks be unto God,
which always [k] leadeth us in triumph
in Christ, and maketh manifest through us [l] the savour of his knowledge in every place. 15 For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in [m] them that are being saved, and in [n] them that are perishing; 16 [o] to the one a savour from death unto death; [o] to the other a savour from life unto life. And [p] who is sufficient for these things?
17 For we are not as the many,
[q] [5] corrupting the word of God:
but as of sincerity, but as of God,
in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

1 [r] Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we,
[s] as do some, [t] epistles of commendation
to you or from you?
2 [u] Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men;
3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of [v] the living God; not in [w] tables of stone, but in [x] tables that are [y] hearts of flesh. 4 And [z] such confidence have we through Christ to God-ward: 5 [a] not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account
anything as from ourselves;
but [b] our sufficiency is from God;
6 who also made us sufficient as [c] ministers of [d] a new [6] covenant;
not of [e] the letter, but of the spirit:
for the letter killeth, but [f] the spirit
giveth life. 7 But if [g] the ministration
of death, [7] written, and engraven
on stones, came [8] with glory, [h] so that the children of Israel could not look stedfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face;
which glory [9] [i] was passing away:
8 how shall not rather the ministration
of the spirit be with glory?
9 [10] For if [j] the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth [k] the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. 11 For if that which [11] passeth away was [12] with glory, much more that which remaineth is
in glory.

12 Having therefore such a hope,
[l] we use great boldness of speech, 13 and are not as Moses, [m] who put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly [13] on the end of that which [9] was passing away: 14 but [n] their [14] minds were [o] hardened: for until this very day [p] at the reading of [q] the old [6] covenant the same veil [15] remaineth
unlifted; which veil is done away in Christ. 15 But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. 16 But whensoever [16] [r] it shall turn to the Lord, [s]the veil is taken away. 17 Now the Lord is the Spirit: and where [t]the Spirit of the Lord is, there is [u]liberty. 18 But we all, with unveiled face [1] [v]reflecting as a mirror [w]the glory of the Lord, [x]are transformed into the same image [y]from glory to glory, even as from [2]the Lord the Spirit.

4 1 Therefore seeing we have [z]this ministry, even as [a]we obtained mercy, we faint not: 2 but we have renounced [b]the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor [c]handling the word of God deceitfully; but [d]by the manifestation of the truth [e]commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. 3 But and [f]if our gospel is veiled, [g]it is veiled in [h]them that are perishing: 4 in whom [i]the god of this [3]world [f]hath blinded the [4]minds of the unbelieving, [5]that [j]the [6]light of [k]the gospel of the glory of Christ, [l]who is the image of God, should not dawn upon them. 5 For [m]we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and [n]ourselves as your [7]servants [8]for Jesus' sake. 6 Seeing it is God, that said, [o]Light shall shine out of darkness, [p]who shined in our hearts, to give [q]the [6]light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in [r]earthen vessels, [s]that the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves; 8 we are [t]pressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not unto despair; 9 pursued, yet [u]not [9]forsaken; [v]smitten down, yet not destroyed; 10 [w]always bearing about in the body the [10]dying of Jesus, [x]that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. 11 For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. 12 So then [y]death worketh in us, but life in you. 13 But having [z]the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, [a]I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and therefore also we speak; 14 knowing that [b]he which raised up [11]the Lord Jesus [c]shall raise up us also with Jesus, and shall [d]present us with you. 15 For [e]all things are for your sakes, that [f]the grace, being multiplied through [12]the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound [g]unto the glory of God.

16 Wherefore we faint not; but [h]though our outward man is decaying, yet [i]our inward man [j]is renewed day by day. 17 For [k]our light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; 18 [l]while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

5 1 For we know that if [m]the earthly house of our [13] [n]tabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, [o]a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. 2 For verily in this [p]we groan, longing to be [q]clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: 3 if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 4 For indeed we that are in this [13]tabernacle do groan, [14]being burdened; not for that [r]we would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal [s]may be swallowed up of life. 5 Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, [t]who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. 6 Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, [u]whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord 7 (for [v]we walk by faith, not [w]by [15]sight); 8 we are of good courage, I say, and [x]are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Lord. 9 Wherefore also we [16]make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be [y]well-pleasing unto him. 10 For [z]we must all be made manifest before the judgement-seat of Christ; [a]that each one may receive the things done [17]in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore [b]the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but [c]we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in your consciences. 12 [d]We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but [e]speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appearance, and not in heart. 13 For whether we [1][f]are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober mind, it is unto you. 14 For the love of Christ [g]constraineth us; because we thus judge, that [h]one died for all, therefore all died; 15 and he died for all, [i]that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but [j]unto him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Wherefore we henceforth [k]know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know him so no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is [l]in Christ, [2]he is [m]a new creature: [n]the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. 18 But all things are of God, [o]who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us [p]the ministry of reconciliation; 19 to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, [q]not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having [3]committed unto us [p]the word of reconciliation.

20 [r]We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, [s]as though God were intreating by us: we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. 21 [t]Him who knew no sin [u]he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become [v]the righteousness of God in him.

[z]At an acceptable time I hearkened unto thee,
And in a day of salvation did I succour thee:

behold, [a]now is the [b]acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation): 3 [c]giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not blamed; 4 but in everything commending ourselves, [d]as ministers of God, [e]in much patience, [f]in afflictions, [g]in necessities, in distresses, 5 [h]in stripes, in imprisonments, [i]in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings; 6 [j]in pureness, [k]in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, [l]in the [4]Holy Ghost, in [m]love unfeigned, 7 in [n]the word of truth, [o]in the power of God; [5]by [p]the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, 8 by glory and dishonour, [q]by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; 9 as unknown, and [r]yet well known; [s]as dying, and behold, we live; [t]as chastened, and not killed; 10 [u]as sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing; [v]as poor, yet making many rich; [w]as having nothing, and [x]yet possessing all things.

11 Our mouth is open unto you, O Corinthians, [y]our heart is enlarged. 12 Ye are not straitened in us, but [z]ye are straitened in your own affections. 13 Now [a]for a recompense in like kind (I speak [b]as unto my children), be ye also enlarged.

14 [c]Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for [d]what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or [e]what communion hath light with darkness? 15 And [f]what concord hath Christ with [6]Belial? or what portion hath a believer with an unbeliever? 16 And what agreement hath a [7]temple of God with idols? for [g]we are a [7]temple of the living God; even as God said, [h]I will dwell in them, and [i]walk in them; and [j]I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 17 Wherefore

[k]Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate,
saith the Lord,
And touch no unclean thing;
And I will receive you,
18 [l]And will be to you a Father,
And ye shall be to me sons and daughters,
saith the Lord Almighty.

7 1 Having therefore these promises, beloved, [m]let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

[1] Or, were
[2] Or, there is a new creation
[3] Or, placed in us
[4] Or, Holy Spirit: and so throughout this book.

[6] Gr. Beliar.
[7] Or, sanctuary

2 [1] [n] Open your hearts to us: [o] we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man. 3 I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that [p] ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. 4 [q] Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is [r] my glorying on your behalf: [s] I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even [t] when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; [u] without were fightings, within were fears. 6 Nevertheless [v] he that comforteth the lowly, even God, [w] comforted us by the [2] coming of Titus; 7 and not by his [2] coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced yet more. 8 For [x] though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it, though [y] I did regret; [3] for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though but for a season. 9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but [z] that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing. 10 For [a] godly sorrow worketh repentance [4] unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but [b] the sorrow of the world worketh death. 11 For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, [c] what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. 12 So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause [d] that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of God. 13 Therefore [e] we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit [f] hath been refreshed by you all. 14 For [g] if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you [h] in truth, so our glorying also, which I made before Titus, was found to be truth. 15 And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth [i] the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. 16 I rejoice that in everything [j] I am of good courage concerning you.

8 1 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been [k] given in the churches of Macedonia; 2 how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and [l] their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their [5] liberality. 3 For [m] according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, 4 beseeching us with much intreaty [n] in regard of this grace and the fellowship in [o] the ministering to the saints: 5 and this, not as we had hoped, but first they [p] gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us by the will of God. 6 Insomuch that [q] we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you [r] this grace also. 7 But as [s] ye abound in everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in [6] your love to us, [t] see that ye abound in this grace also. 8 [u] I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. 9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, [v] though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. 10 And herein [w] I give my judgement: for [x] this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning [y] a year ago, not only to do, but also to will. 11 But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. 12 For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable [z] according as a man hath, not according as he hath not. 13 For I say not this, that others may be eased, and ye distressed: 14 but by equality; your abundance being a supply at this present time for [a] their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for [a] your want; that there may be equality: 15 as it is written, [b] He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.

16 But [c] thanks be to God, [d] which putteth the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. 17 For indeed [e] he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord. 18 And we have sent together with him [f] the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through [g] all the churches; 19 and not only so, but who was also [h] appointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of [i] this grace, which is ministered by us [j] to the glory of the Lord, and to shew our readiness: 20 avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this bounty which is ministered by us: 21 for [k] we take thought for things honourable, [l] not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. 22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he hath in you. 23 Whether any inquire about Titus, he is [m] my partner and my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our brethren, they are [n] the [1] messengers of the churches, they are the glory of Christ. 24 [2] Shew ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of [o] our glorying on your behalf.

9 1 For as touching [p] the ministering to the saints, [q] it is superfluous for me to write to you: 2 for I know your readiness, [r] of which I glory on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaia hath been prepared [s] for a year past; and [3] your zeal hath stirred up [4] very many of them. 3 But [t] I have sent the brethren, that our glorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect; that, [u] even as I said, ye may be prepared: 4 lest by any means, if [v] there come with me any of Macedonia, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be put to shame in this confidence. 5 I thought it necessary therefore to intreat the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your aforepromised [5] [w] bounty, that the same might be ready, [x] as a matter of bounty, and [y] not of [6] extortion.

6 But this I say, [z] He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth [7] bountifully shall reap also [7] bountifully. 7 Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart; [a] not [8] grudgingly, or of necessity: for [b] God loveth a cheerful giver. 8 And [c] God is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto every good work: 9 as it is written,

> [d] He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poor;
> His righteousness abideth for ever.

10 And he that supplieth [e] seed to the sower and bread for food, shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and [f] increase the fruits of your righteousness: 11 [g] ye being enriched in everything unto all [9] liberality, which worketh [h] through us thanksgiving to God. 12 For the ministration of this service not only filleth up the measure of [i] the wants of the saints, but aboundeth also through many thanksgivings unto God; 13 seeing that through the proving of you by this ministration [j] they glorify God for the obedience of your [k] confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the [9] liberality of your contribution unto them and unto all; 14 while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you. 15 [l] Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

10 1 Now [m] I Paul myself intreat you by the [n] meekness and [o] gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you: 2 yea, I beseech you, [p] that I may not when present shew courage with the confidence wherewith I count to be bold against [q] some, which count of us as if we walked according to the flesh. 3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh 4 (for [r] the weapons of [s] our warfare are not of the flesh, but [t] mighty [u] before God [v] to the casting down of strong holds); 5 casting down [1] imaginations, and [w] every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to [x] the obedience of Christ; 6 and [y] being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, [z] when your obedience shall be fulfilled. 7 [2] [a] Ye look at the things that are before your face. [b] If any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as [c] he is Christ's, [d] so also are we. 8 For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning [e] our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: 9 that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. 10 For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but [f] his bodily presence is weak, and [g] his speech of no account. 11 Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. 12 For we are not bold [3] to number or [h] compare ourselves with certain of them that [i] commend themselves: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are [j] without understanding. 13 But we will not glory [k] beyond our measure, but [l] according to the measure of the [4] province which God apportioned to us as a measure, [m] to reach even unto you. 14 For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for [n] we [5] came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: 15 not glorying beyond our measure, that is, in other men's labours; but having hope that, [o] as your faith groweth, we shall be [p] magnified in you according to our [4] province unto further abundance, 16 so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's [4] province in regard of things ready to our hand. 17 But [q] he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. 18 For [r] not he that commendeth himself is approved, but [s] whom the Lord commendeth.

11 1 Would that ye could bear with me in a little foolishness: [6] nay indeed bear with me. 2 For I am jealous over you with [7] a godly jealousy: for [t] I espoused you to one husband, [u] that I might present you [v] as a pure virgin to Christ. 3 But I fear, lest by any means, [w] as the serpent beguiled Eve in his craftiness, your [8] minds [x] should be corrupted from the [y] simplicity and the [z] purity that is toward Christ. 4 For if he that cometh [a] preacheth another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or if ye receive a different spirit, which ye did not receive, or [b] a different gospel, which ye did not accept, ye do well to bear with him. 5 For I reckon that [c] I am not a whit behind [9] the very chiefest apostles. 6 But [d] though I be rude in speech, [e] yet am I not in knowledge; nay, in everything [f] we have made it manifest among all men to you-ward. 7 Or [g] did I commit a sin in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because [h] I preached to you the gospel of God for nought? 8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them that I might minister unto you; 9 and when I was present with you and was [i] in want, [j] I was not a burden on any man; for the brethren, when they came from Macedonia, [k] supplied the measure of my want; and in everything I kept myself [l] from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. 10 [m] As the truth of Christ is in me, [n] no man shall stop me of this glorying in the regions of Achaia. 11 Wherefore? [o] because I love you not? [p] God knoweth. 12 But what I do, that I will do, [q] that I may cut off [10] occasion from them which desire an occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we. 13 For such men are [r] false apostles, [s] deceitful workers, [t] fashioning themselves into apostles of Christ. 14 And no marvel; for even Satan fashioneth himself into [u] an angel of light. 15 It is no great thing

[1] Or, reasonings [2] Or, Do ye look . . . face? [3] Gr. to judge ourselves among, or to judge ourselves with. [4] Or, limit Gr. measuring-rod. [5] Or, were the first to come [6] Or, but indeed ye do bear with me. [7] Gr. a jealousy of God. [8] Gr. thoughts. [9] Or, those preeminent apostles [10] Gr. the occasion of them.

therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as [v] ministers of righteousness; [w] whose end shall be according to their works.

16 I say again, [x] Let no man think me foolish; but if ye do, yet as foolish receive me, that I also may glory a little. 17 That which I speak, [y] I speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, [z] in this confidence of glorying. 18 Seeing that [a] many glory after the flesh, I will glory also. 19 For ye bear with the foolish gladly, [b] being wise yourselves. 20 For ye bear with a man, if he [c] bringeth you into bondage, [d] if he devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, [e] if he smiteth you on the face. 21 I speak by way of disparagement, [f] as though we had been weak. Yet whereinsoever any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. 22 Are they Hebrews? [g] so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. 23 Are they [h] ministers of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) [i] I more; in labours more abundantly, [j] in prisons more abundantly, [k] in stripes above measure, [l] in deaths oft. 24 Of the Jews five times received I [m] forty stripes save one. 25 Thrice was I [n] beaten with rods, [o] once was I stoned, thrice I [p] suffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been in the deep; 26 in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, [q] in perils from my [1] countrymen, [r] in perils from the Gentiles, [s] in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; 27 [t] in labour and travail, in watchings often, [u] in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness. 28 [2] Beside those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for [v] all the churches. 29 [w] Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is made to stumble, and I burn not? 30 [x] If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things that concern my weakness. 31 [y] The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, [z] he who is blessed [3] for evermore, [a] knoweth that I lie not. 32 In Damascus the governor under [b] Aretas the king [c] guarded the city of the Damascenes, in order to take me: 33 [d] and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

1 [4] I must needs glory, though it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and [e] revelations of the Lord. 2 I know a man [f] in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; [g] God knoweth), such a one [h] caught up even to [i] the third heaven. 3 And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; [g] God knoweth), 4 how that he was caught up into [j] Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. 5 On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, [k] save in my weaknesses. 6 For if I should desire to glory, [l] I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me to be, or heareth from me. 7 And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, [m] that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me [n] a [5] thorn in the flesh, [o] a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. 8 Concerning this thing I besought the Lord [p] thrice, that it might depart from me. 9 And he hath said unto me, [q] My grace is sufficient for thee: for [r] my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that [s] the strength of Christ may [6] rest upon me. 10 Wherefore [t] I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, [u] for Christ's sake: for [v] when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 [w] I am become foolish: ye compelled me; for I ought to have been commended of you: for [x] in nothing was I behind [7] the very chiefest apostles, [y] though I am nothing. 12 Truly [z] the signs of an apostle were wrought among you [a] in all patience, by signs and wonders and [8] mighty works. 13 For what is there wherein ye were made inferior to the rest of the churches,

[1] Gr. race. [2] Or, Beside the things which I omit Or, Beside the things that come out of course [3] Gr. unto the ages. [4] Some ancient authorities read Now to glory is not expedient, but I will come &c. [5] Or, stake [6] Or, cover me Gr. spread a tabernacle over me. [7] Or, those preëminent apostles [8] Gr. powers.

except it be that [b] I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, [c] this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for [d] I seek not yours, but you: for [e] the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but [f] the parents for the children. 15 And [g] I will most gladly spend and be [1] spent for your souls. If [h] I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? 16 But be it so, [i] I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. 17 Did I take advantage of you [j] by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? 18 [k] I exhorted Titus, and I sent [l] the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 [2] Ye think all this time that we are excusing ourselves unto you. [m] In the sight of God speak we in Christ. But [n] all things, beloved, are for your edifying. 20 For I fear, lest by any means, [o] when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wraths, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, [3] tumults; 21 lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them [p] that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanness and [q] fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

13 1 [r] This is the third time I am coming to you. [s] At the mouth of two witnesses or three shall every word be established. 2 [t] I have said [4] [u] beforehand, and I do say [4] beforehand, [5] as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to [v] them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, [w] if I come again, I will not spare; 3 seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ [x] that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but [y] is powerful in you: 4 for [z] he was crucified through weakness, yet he [a] liveth through the power of God. For [b] we also are weak [6] in him, but [c] we shall live with him through the power of God toward you. 5 Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; [d] prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that [e] Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. 6 But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate. 7 Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable, [7] though we be as reprobate. 8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. 9 For we rejoice, when [f] we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even [g] your perfecting. 10 For this cause I write these things while absent, [h] that I may not when present deal [i] sharply, according to [j] the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

11 [k] Finally, brethren, [8] farewell. [l] Be perfected; be comforted; [m] be of the same mind; [n] live in peace: and the God of love and [o] peace shall be with you. 12 [p] Salute one another with a holy kiss.

13 [q] All the saints salute you.

14 [r] The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and [s] the love of God, and [t] the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE

GALATIANS.

1 1 PAUL,[a] an apostle ([b]not from men, neither through [1]man, but [c]through Jesus Christ, and God the Father, [d]who raised him from the dead), 2 and all [e]the brethren which are with me, unto [f]the churches of Galatia: 3 [g]Grace to you and peace [2][h]from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, 4 [i]who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present [j]evil [3]world, according to the will of [k]our God and Father: 5 to whom be the glory [4]for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that ye are [l]so quickly removing from [m]him that called you in the grace of Christ unto [n]a different gospel; 7 [o]which is not another gospel: only [p]there are some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. 8 But though we, or [q]an angel from heaven, should preach [5]unto you any gospel [6]other than that which we preached unto you, [r]let him be anathema. 9 As we have said before, so say I now again, If any man preacheth unto you any gospel other than that which ye received, [r]let him be anathema. 10 For am I now persuading men, or God? or am I seeking [s]to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a [7][t]servant of Christ.

11 For [u]I make known to you, brethren, as touching [v]the gospel which was preached by me, that it is not after man. 12 [w]For neither did I receive it from [1]man, nor was I taught it, but it came to me [x]through revelation of Jesus Christ. 13 For ye have heard of [y]my manner of life in time past [z]in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure [a]I persecuted the church of God, and made havock of it: 14 and I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of mine own age [8]among my countrymen, being more exceedingly [b]zealous for [c]the traditions of my fathers. 15 But when it was the good pleasure of God, [d]who separated me, even [e]from my mother's womb, and [f]called me through his grace, 16 to reveal his Son in me, [g]that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: 17 neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

18 Then [h]after three years [i]I went up to Jerusalem to [9]visit Cephas, and tarried with him fifteen days. 19 But other of the apostles saw I none, [10]save James [j]the Lord's brother. 20 Now touching the things which I write unto you, behold, [k]before God, I lie not. 21 [l]Then I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia. 22 And I was still unknown by face unto [m]the churches of Judæa which were in Christ: 23 but they only heard say, He that once persecuted us now preacheth the faith of which he once made havock; 24 and they glorified God in me.

2 1 Then [11]after the space of fourteen years [n]I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with me. 2 And I went up by revelation; and I laid before them the gospel which [o]I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before them [p]who [12]were of repute, [q]lest by any means I should be running, or [r]had run, in vain. 3 But not even Titus who was with me, being a Greek, [s]was compelled to be circumcised: 4 [13][t]and that because of the false brethren privily brought in, who [u]came in privily to spy out [v]our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, [w]that they might bring us into bondage: 5 to whom we gave place in the way of subjection, no, not for an hour; that [x]the truth of the gospel might continue with you. 6 But from those [y]who [12]were reputed to be somewhat ([14]whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: [z]God accepteth not man's person)—they, I say, who were of repute [a]imparted nothing to me: 7 but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been [b]intrusted with [c]the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with the gospel of the circumcision 8 (for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me also unto the Gentiles); 9 and when they perceived [d]the grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, they [y]who [1]were reputed to be [e]pillars, [f]gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto the circumcision; 10 only they would that we should remember the poor; [g]which very thing I was also zealous to do.

11 But [h]when Cephas came to Antioch, I resisted him [i]to the face, because he stood condemned. 12 For before that certain came from James, [j]he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing [k]them that were of the circumcision. 13 And the rest of the Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that even Barnabas was carried away with their dissimulation. 14 But when I saw that they [l]walked not uprightly according to [m]the truth of the gospel, I said unto Cephas [n]before them all, If thou, being a Jew, [o]livest as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, how compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews? 15 We being Jews by nature, and not [p]sinners of the Gentiles, 16 yet knowing that [q]a man is not justified by [2]the works of the law, [3][r]save through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: [s]because by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. 17 But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found [t]sinners, is Christ a minister of sin? God forbid. 18 For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a transgressor. 19 For I through [4]the law [u]died unto [4]the law, that I might [v]live unto God. 20 I have been [w]crucified with Christ; [5]yet I live; and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth [x]in me: and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, [y]who loved me, and [z]gave himself up for me. 21 I do not make void the grace of God: for [a]if righteousness is through [4]the law, [b]then Christ died for nought.

3 1 O foolish Galatians, who did [c]bewitch you, [d]before whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly [e]set forth crucified? 2 This only would I learn from you, [f]Received ye the Spirit by [2]the works of the law, or by [g]the [6]hearing of faith? 3 Are ye so foolish? [h]having begun in the Spirit, [7]are ye now perfected in the flesh? 4 [i]Did ye suffer so many things in vain? if it be indeed in vain. 5 He therefore that supplieth to you the Spirit, and [j]worketh [8]miracles [9]among you, doeth he it [k]by [2]the works of the law, or by the [6]hearing of faith? 6 Even as [l]Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. 7 [10]Know therefore that [m]they which be of faith, the same are [n]sons of Abraham. 8 And the scripture, foreseeing that [o]God [11]would justify the [12]Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, saying, [p]In thee shall all the nations be blessed. 9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham. 10 For as many as are of [2]the works of the law are [q]under a curse: for it is written, [r]Cursed is every one which continueth not in [s]all things that are written in the book of the law, to do them. 11 Now that [t]no man is justified [13]by the law in the sight of God, is evident: for, [u]The righteous shall live by faith; 12 and the law is not of faith; but, [v]He that doeth them shall live in them. 13 Christ [w]redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us: for it is written, [x]Cursed is every one that hangeth [y]on a tree: 14 that [z]upon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that [a]we might receive [b]the promise of the Spirit through faith.

manner of men: [d]Though it be but a man's [1]covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. 16 Now [e]to Abraham were [f]the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, [g]And to thy seed, which is Christ. 17 Now this I say; A [1]covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came [h]four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as [i]to make the promise of none effect. 18 For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise: but [j]God hath granted it to Abraham by promise. 19 What then is the law? [k]It was added because of transgressions, [l]till the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made; and it was [m]ordained through angels [n]by the hand of a mediator. 20 Now [o]a mediator is not a mediator of one; but [p]God is one. 21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for [q]if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. 22 Howbeit the scripture [r]hath shut up all things under sin, that [s]the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given [t]to them that believe.

23 But before [2]faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, [u]shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. 24 So that [v]the law hath been our [w]tutor to bring us unto Christ, [x]that we might be justified by faith. 25 But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a tutor. 26 For [y]ye are all sons of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus. 27 For as many of you as [z]were baptized [a]into Christ did [b]put on Christ. 28 [c]There can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, [d]there can be no male and female: for [e]ye all are one man in Christ Jesus. 29 And [f]if ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, [g]heirs according to promise.

4 1 But I say that so long as the heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant, though he is lord of all; 2 but is under guardians and stewards until the term appointed of the father. 3 So we also, when we were children, [h]were held in bondage under [i]the [3]rudiments of the world: 4 but [j]when the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son, [k]born [l]of a woman, born [m]under the law, 5 that he might [n]redeem them which were under the law, that we might receive [o]the adoption of sons. 6 And because ye are sons, God sent forth [p]the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba, Father. 7 So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then [q]an heir through God.

8 Howbeit at that time, [r]not knowing God, ye [s]were in bondage to them which by nature [t]are no gods: 9 but now that ye have come to know God, or rather [u]to be known of God, [v]how turn ye back again to [w]the weak and beggarly [3]rudiments, whereunto ye desire to be in bondage over again? 10 [x]Ye observe days, and months, and seasons, and years. 11 I am afraid of you, [y]lest by any means I have bestowed labour upon you in vain.

12 [z]I beseech you, brethren, be as I am, for I am as ye are. [a]Ye did me no wrong: 13 but ye know that [b]because of an infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you [c]the [4]first time: 14 and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor [5]rejected; but ye received me [d]as an angel of God, even [e]as Christ Jesus. 15 Where then is that gratulation [6]of yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. 16 So then am I become your enemy, because [f]I [7]tell you the truth? 17 They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you out, that ye may seek them. 18 But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and [g]not only when I am present with you. 19 [h]My little children, [i]of whom I am again in travail until Christ [j]be formed in you, 20 yea, I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law? 22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, [k]one by the handmaid, and [l]one by the freewoman. 23 Howbeit [m]the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but [n]the son by the freewoman is born through promise. 24 Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two [o]covenants; [p]one from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. 25 [1]Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. 26 But [q]the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. 27 For it is written,

[r]Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not;
Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:
For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

28 Now [2]we, brethren, [s]as Isaac was, [t]are children of promise. 29 But as then he that was born after the flesh [u]persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, [v]even so it is now. 30 Howbeit what saith the scripture? [w]Cast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. 31 Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but [x]of the freewoman.

5 1 [3]With [y]freedom did Christ [z]set us free: [a]stand fast therefore, and be not entangled again in [b]a yoke of [c]bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that, [d]if ye receive circumcision, [e]Christ will profit you nothing. 3 Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, that [f]he is a debtor to do the whole law. 4 Ye are [4][g]severed from Christ, [h]ye who would be justified by the law; [i]ye are fallen away from grace. 5 For we through the Spirit by faith [j]wait for the hope of righteousness. 6 For in Christ Jesus [k]neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but [l]faith [5]working through love. 7 [m]Ye were running well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey [n]the truth? 8 This persuasion came not of [o]him that calleth you. 9 [p]A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump. 10 [q]I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be [r]none otherwise minded: but [s]he that troubleth you shall bear his judgement, whosoever he be. 11 But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, [t]why am I still persecuted? then hath [u]the stumblingblock of the cross been done away. 12 I would that [v]they which unsettle you would even [6]cut themselves off.

13 For ye, brethren, were called [w]for freedom; [x]only use not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love [y]be servants one to another. 14 For [z]the whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; [a]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 15 But if ye [b]bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 But I say, [c]Walk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil [d]the lust of the flesh. 17 For [e]the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; [f]that ye may not do the things that ye would. 18 But if ye are [g]led by the Spirit, [h]ye are not under the law. 19 Now [i]the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, 20 idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, [7][j]heresies, 21 envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I [8]forewarn you, even as I did [8]forewarn you, that [k]they which practise such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. 22 But [l]the fruit of the Spirit is [m]love, joy, peace, longsuffering, [n]kindness, goodness, faithfulness, 23 [o]meekness, [9][p]temperance: [q]against such there is no law. 24 And they that are of Christ Jesus [r]have crucified the flesh with the [s]passions and the lusts thereof.

25 If we live by the Spirit, [t]by the Spirit let us also walk. 26 [u]Let us not be vainglorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

burdens, and [z]so fulfil [a]the law of Christ. 3 For [b]if a man thinketh himself to be something, [c]when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. 4 But let each man [d]prove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of [1]his neighbour. 5 For [e]each man shall bear his own [2]burden.

6 But [f]let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. 7 [g]Be not deceived; [h]God is not mocked: for [i]whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. 8 For [j]he that soweth unto his own flesh [k]shall of the flesh reap corruption; but [l]he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. 9 And [m]let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, [n]if we faint not. 10 So then, [o]as we have opportunity, let us [p]work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are [q]of the household of the faith.

11 See with how large letters I [3]have written unto you [r]with mine own hand. 12 [s]As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, [t]they compel you to be circumcised; only [u]that they may not be persecuted [4]for the cross of Christ. 13 For not even they who [5]receive circumcision do themselves keep [6]the law; but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh. 14 But far be it from me to glory, [v]save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through [7]which the world [w]hath been crucified unto me, and I unto the world. 15 For [x]neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but [y]a new [8]creature. 16 And as many as shall walk by this rule, [z]peace be upon them, and mercy, and upon [a]the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for [b]I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

EPHESIANS.

I 1 PAUL, [a]an apostle of Christ Jesus [b]through the will of God, to the saints which are [9]at Ephesus, and [c]the faithful in Christ Jesus: 2 [d]Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [e]Blessed be [f]the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with every spiritual blessing [g]in the heavenly places in Christ: 4 [h]even as he [i]chose us in him [j]before the foundation of the world, that we should be [k]holy and without blemish before [10]him in love: 5 [l]having foreordained us unto [m]adoption as sons through Jesus Christ unto himself, [n]according to the good pleasure of his will, 6 [o]to the praise of the glory of his grace, [11]which he freely bestowed on us in [p]the Beloved: 7 [q]in whom we have our [r]redemption [s]through his blood, [t]the forgiveness of our trespasses, [u]according to the riches of his grace, 8 [12]which he made to abound toward us in all wisdom and prudence, 9 [v]having made known unto us the mystery of his will, [n]according to his good pleasure which he [w]purposed in him 10 unto a dispensation of [x]the fulness of the [13]times, [y]to sum up all things in Christ, the things [14]in the heavens, and the things upon the earth; in him, I say, 11 in whom also we were made [z]a heritage, [a]having been foreordained [b]according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after [c]the counsel of his will; 12 to the end

[1] Gr. the other. [2] Or, load [3] Or, write [4] Or, by reason of [5] Some ancient authorities read have been circumcised. [6] Or, a law [7] Or, whom [8] Or, creation [9] Some very ancient authorities omit at Ephesus. [10] Or, him: having in love foreordained us [11] Or, wherewith he endued us [12] Or, wherewith he abounded [13] Gr. seasons. [14] Gr. upon.

that we should be [d] unto the praise of his glory, we who [1] had before hoped in Christ: 13 in whom ye also, having heard [e] the word of the truth, the gospel of your salvation,—in whom, having also believed, [f] ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit [g] of promise, 14 which is [h] an earnest of our [i] inheritance, unto [j] the redemption of [k] God's own possession, [l] unto the praise of his glory.

15 For this cause I also, [m] having heard of the faith in the Lord Jesus which is [2] among you, and [3] which ye shew toward all the saints, 16 [n] cease not to give thanks for you, [o] making mention of you in my prayers; 17 that [p] the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, [q] may give unto you a spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him; 18 [r] having the eyes of your heart enlightened, that ye may know what is [s] the hope of his calling, what [t] the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints, 19 and what the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, [u] according to that working of [v] the strength of his might 20 which he wrought in Christ, [w] when he raised him from the dead, and [x] made him to sit at his right hand [y] in the heavenly places, 21 [z] far above [a] all rule, and authority, and power, and dominion, and [b] every name that is named, not only in [c] this [4] world, but also in that which is to come: 22 and [d] he put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be [e] head over all things to the church, 23 [f] which is his body, [g] the fulness of him [h] that filleth [i] all in all.

2 1 [j] And you did he quicken, when ye were [k] dead through your trespasses and sins, 2 [l] wherein aforetime ye walked according to the [5] course of this world, according to [m] the prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that now worketh in [n] the sons of disobedience; 3 among whom we also all once lived in [o] the lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the [6] mind, and [p] were by nature [q] children of wrath, even as the rest:— 4 but God, being [r] rich in mercy, [s] for his great love wherewith he loved us, 5 even [t] when we were dead through our trespasses, [u] quickened us together [7] with Christ ([v] by grace have ye been saved), 6 and raised us up with him, and [w] made us to sit with him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus: 7 that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding [x] riches of his grace in [y] kindness toward us in Christ Jesus: 8 for [z] by grace have ye been saved [a] through faith; and that [b] not of yourselves: [c] it is the gift of God: 9 [d] not of works, [e] that no man should glory. 10 For [f] we are his workmanship, [g] created in Christ Jesus [h] for good works, [i] which God afore prepared [j] that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore remember, that aforetime ye, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called [k] Circumcision, in the flesh, made by hands; 12 [l] that ye were at that time separate from Christ, [m] alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from [n] the covenants of the promise, [o] having no hope and without God in the world. 13 But now in Christ Jesus ye that once were [p] far off are made nigh [q] in the blood of Christ. 14 For [r] he is our peace, [s] who made both one, and brake down the middle wall of partition, 15 having abolished [t] in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in [u] ordinances; that he might create in himself of the twain one [v] new man, so making peace; 16 and might [w] reconcile them both in one body unto God through the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: 17 and he came and [8] [x] preached peace to you that were [y] far off, and peace to them that were [z] nigh: 18 for [a] through him we both have [b] our access in [c] one Spirit unto the Father. 19 So then ye are no more [d] strangers and sojourners, but ye are [e] fellow-citizens with the saints, and [f] of the household of God,

3 1 For this cause I Paul, [o]the prisoner of Christ Jesus [p]in behalf of you Gentiles,—2 if so be that ye have heard of [q]the [4]dispensation of [r]that grace of God which was given me to you-ward; 3 [s]how that [t]by revelation was made known unto me the mystery, [u]as I wrote afore in few words, 4 [v]whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in [w]the mystery of Christ; 5 which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; 6 to wit, that the Gentiles are [x]fellow-heirs, and [y]fellow-members of the body, and [z]fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, 7 [a]whereof I was made [b]a minister, according to the gift of [c]that grace of God which was given me [d]according to the working of his power. 8 Unto me, [e]who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, [f]to preach unto the Gentiles the [g]unsearchable [h]riches of Christ; 9 and [i]to [5]make all men see what is the [4]dispensation of the mystery [j]which from all ages hath been hid in God [k]who created all things; 10 to the intent that now unto [l]the principalities and the powers [m]in the heavenly places [n]might be made known through the church the manifold [o]wisdom of God, 11 [p]according to the [6]eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord: 12 in whom we have [q]boldness and [r]access in [s]confidence through [7]our [t]faith in him. 13 Wherefore I ask that [8]ye faint not at my tribulations [u]for you, [v]which [9]are your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father, 15 from whom [w]every [10]family in heaven and on earth is named, 16 that he would grant you, according to [x]the riches of his glory, [y]that ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in [z]the inward man; 17 [a]that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being [b]rooted and [c]grounded in love, 18 may be strong to [d]apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and [e]height and depth, 19 and to know the love of Christ [f]which passeth knowledge, that [g]ye may be filled unto all [h]the fulness of God.

20 [i]Now unto [j]him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, [k]according to the power that worketh in us, 21 [l]unto him be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto [11]all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

4 1 I therefore, [m]the prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to [n]walk worthily of [o]the calling wherewith ye were called, 2 with all [p]lowliness and [q]meekness, with [r]longsuffering, [s]forbearing one another in love; 3 giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in [t]the bond of peace. 4 There is [u]one body, and [v]one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one [w]hope of your calling; 5 [x]one Lord, [y]one faith, [z]one baptism, 6 [a]one God and Father of all, [b]who is over all, and through all, and in all. 7 But [c]unto each one of us was [d]the grace given [e]according to the measure of the gift of Christ. 8 Wherefore he saith,

[f]When he ascended on high,
[g]he led captivity captive,
And gave gifts unto men.

9 ([h]Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended [12]into [i]the lower parts of the earth? 10 He that descended is the same also that [j]ascended [k]far above all the heavens, that he might [l]fill all things.) 11 And [m]he gave some to be [n]apostles; and some, prophets; and some, [o]evangelists; and some, [p]pastors and teachers; 12 [q]for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto [r]the building up of [s]the body of Christ: 13 till we all attain unto [t]the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the

[1] Gr. every building. [2] Or, sanctuary [3] Gr. into. [4] Or, stewardship [5] Some ancient authorities read bring to light what is. [6] Gr. purpose of the ages. [7] Or, the faith of him [8] Or, I [9] Or, is [10] Gr. fatherhood. [11] Gr. all the generations of the age of the ages. [12] Some ancient authorities insert first.

Son of God, unto [u]a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of [v]the fulness of Christ: 14 that we may be no longer children, [w]tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, in craftiness, after [x]the wiles of error; 15 but [1] [y]speaking truth in love, may [z]grow up in all things into him, which is [a]the head, even Christ; 16 [b]from whom all the body fitly framed and knit together [2]through that which every joint supplieth, [c]according to the working in due measure of each several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and [d]testify in the Lord, [e]that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, [f]in the vanity of their mind, 18 [g]being darkened in their understanding, [h]alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of [i]the hardening of their heart; 19 who [j]being past feeling [k]gave themselves up to lasciviousness, [3]to work all uncleanness with [4]greediness. 20 But ye did not so [l]learn Christ; 21 if so be that [m]ye heard him, and [n]were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: 22 that ye [o]put away, as concerning your former manner of life, [p]the old man, which waxeth corrupt after [q]the lusts of deceit; 23 and that ye [r]be renewed in the spirit of your mind, 24 and put on [s]the new man, [5]which after God hath been [t]created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

25 Wherefore, putting away falsehood, [u]speak ye truth each one with his neighbour: for [v]we are members one of another. 26 [w]Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your [6]wrath: 27 [x]neither give place to the devil. 28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather [y]let him labour, [z]working with his hands the thing that is good, [a]that he may have whereof to give to him that hath need. 29 [b]Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for [7]edifying as the need may be, that it may give [c]grace to them that hear. 30 And [d]grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, [e]in whom ye were sealed unto the day of [f]redemption. 31 [g]Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and railing, be put away from you, with all [h]malice: 32 and [i]be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, [j]forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave [8]you.

5 1 [k]Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children; 2 and [l]walk in love, [m]even as Christ also loved you, and [n]gave himself up for [9]us, [o]an offering and a sacrifice to God for [p]an odour of a sweet smell. 3 But [q]fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, [r]let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints; 4 [s]nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, [t]which are not befitting: but rather [u]giving of thanks. 5 For this ye know of a surety, that [v]no fornicator, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, [w]which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. 6 [x]Let no man [y]deceive you with empty words: for because of these things cometh [z]the wrath of God upon [a]the sons of disobedience. 7 Be not ye therefore [b]partakers with them; 8 for [c]ye were once [d]darkness, but are now light in the Lord: [e]walk as children of light 9 (for [f]the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth), 10 [g]proving what is well-pleasing unto the Lord; 11 and [h]have no fellowship with the [i]unfruitful [j]works of darkness, but rather even [10] [k]reprove them; 12 for the things which are done by them in secret [l]it is a shame even to speak of. 13 But [m]all things when they are [11]reproved are made manifest by the light: for everything that is made manifest is light. 14 Wherefore he saith, [n]Awake, thou that sleepest, and [o]arise from the dead, and [p]Christ shall shine upon thee.

15 [q]Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise; 16 [12] [q]redeeming the time, because [r]the days are evil. 17 Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what

[1] Or, dealing truly [2] Gr. through every joint of the supply. [3] Or, to make a trade of [4] Or, covetousness [5] Or, which is after God, created &c. [6] Gr. provocation. [7] Gr. the building up of the need. [8] Many ancient authorities read us. [9] Some ancient authorities read you. [10] Or, convict [11] Or, convicted [12] Gr. buying up the opportunity.

[s] the will of the Lord is. 18 And [t] be not drunken with wine, wherein is [u] riot, but [v] be filled [1] with the Spirit; 19 speaking [2] one to another in [w] psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the Lord; 20 [x] giving thanks always for all things [y] in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to [3] God, even the Father; 21 [z] subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.

22 [a] Wives, [b] be in subjection unto your own husbands, [c] as unto the Lord. 23 For [d] the husband is the head of the wife, as [e] Christ also is the head of the church, being [f] himself the saviour of the body. 24 But as the church is subject to Christ, [4] so let the wives also be to their husbands [g] in everything. 25 [h] Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and [i] gave himself up for it; 26 that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by [j] the [5] washing of water [k] with the word, 27 [l] that he might present the church to himself a glorious church, [m] not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. 28 Even so ought [n] husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself: 29 for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ also the church; 30 because [o] we are members of his body. 31 [p] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and [q] the twain shall become one flesh. 32 This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church. 33 Nevertheless do ye also severally [r] love each one his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she [s] fear her husband.

6 1 [t] Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. 2 [u] Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), 3 that it may be well with thee, and thou [6] mayest live long on the [7] earth. 4 And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: [v] but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord.

5 [8] [w] Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your [9] masters, with fear and trembling, [x] in singleness of your heart, [y] as unto Christ; 6 not in the way of eyeservice, as [z] men-pleasers; but as [8] servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the [10] heart; 7 with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto men: 8 [a] knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall he receive again from the Lord, [b] whether he be bond or free. 9 And, ye [9] masters, do the same things unto them, [c] and forbear threatening: knowing that [d] both their Master and yours is in heaven, and [e] there is no respect of persons with him.

10 [11] Finally, [12] [f] be strong in the Lord, and in [g] the strength of his might. 11 [h] Put on [i] the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against [j] the wiles of the devil. 12 For [k] our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against [l] the principalities, against the powers, against [m] the world-rulers of [n] this darkness, against [o] the spiritual hosts of wickedness [p] in the heavenly places. 13 Wherefore [q] take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in [r] the evil day, and, having done all, to stand. 14 Stand therefore, [s] having girded your loins with truth, and [t] having put on the breastplate of righteousness, 15 and [u] having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; 16 withal taking up [v] the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all [w] the fiery darts of [x] the evil one. 17 And take [t] the helmet of salvation, and [y] the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: 18 [z] with all prayer and supplication praying [a] at all seasons [b] in the Spirit, and [c] watching thereunto in all perseverance and [d] supplication for all the saints, 19 and [e] on my behalf, that utterance may be given unto me [13] in opening my mouth, to make known [f] with boldness [g] the mystery of the gospel, 20 for which I [h] am

PHILIPPIANS.

I 1 Paul and Timothy, [2]servants of Christ Jesus, to all the [a]saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the [3][b]bishops and [c]deacons: 2 [d]Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [e]I thank my God [f]upon all my remembrance of you, 4 always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, 5 [g]for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; 6 being confident of this very thing, that he which began [h]a good work in you [i]will perfect it until [j]the day of Jesus Christ: 7 even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because [4]I have you [k]in my heart, inasmuch as, both [l]in my bonds and in [m]the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are [n]partakers with me of grace. 8 For [o]God is my witness, [p]how I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus. 9 And this I pray, that [q]your love may abound yet more and more [r]in knowledge and all discernment; 10 so that ye may [5][s]approve the things that are excellent; [t]that ye may be sincere and void of offence unto [u]the day of Christ; 11 being filled with [v]the [6]fruits of righteousness, which are [w]through Jesus Christ, [x]unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto [y]the progress of the gospel; 13 so that [z]my bonds became manifest in Christ [7]throughout the whole prætorian guard, and [a]to all the rest; 14 and that most of the brethren in the Lord, [8]being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold [b]to speak the word of God without fear. 15 [c]Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will: 16 the one do it of love, [d]knowing that I am set for [e]the defence of the gospel: 17 but the other proclaim Christ [f]of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds. 18 What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. 19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, [g]through your supplication and [h]the supply of [i]the Spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 according to my earnest expectation and hope, [j]that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all [k]boldness, as always, so now also Christ [l]shall be magnified in my body, [m]whether by life, or by death. 21 For to me [n]to live is Christ, and to die is gain. 22 [9]But if to live in the flesh,—if this is the fruit of my work, then [10]what I shall choose [11]I wot not. 23 [o]But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire [p]to depart and [q]be with Christ; for it is very far better: 24 yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. 25 And [r]having this confidence, [s]I know that I shall abide, yea, and

[1] Gr. a chain. [2] Gr. bondservants. [3] Or, overseers [4] Or, ye have me in your heart [5] Or, prove the things that differ [6] Gr. fruit. [7] Gr. in the whole Prætorium. [8] Gr. trusting in my bonds. [9] Or, But if to live in the flesh be my lot, this is the fruit of my work: and what I shall choose I wot not. [10] Or, what shall I choose? [11] Or, I do not make known abide with you all, for your [t]progress and [u]joy [1]in the faith; 26 that [v]your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again. 27 Only [2][w]let your manner of life be [x]worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, [y]that ye stand fast in one spirit, with [z]one soul [a]striving [3]for the faith of the gospel; 28 and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them [b]an evident token of perdition, but [c]of your salvation, and that from God; 29 because to you [d]it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also [c]to suffer in his behalf: 30 having the same [e]conflict which [f]ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

1 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of [g]love, if any [h]fellowship of the Spirit, if any [i]tender mercies and compassions, 2 [j]fulfil ye my joy, that ye be [k]of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, [4]of one mind; 3 doing nothing through [l]faction or through [m]vainglory, but [n]in lowliness of mind each counting other better than himself; 4 [o]not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. 5 [p]Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: 6 [q]who, [5]being in [r]the form of God, counted it not [6][s]a prize to be on an equality with God, 7 but [t]emptied himself, taking the form of a [7][u]servant, [8][v]being made in the likeness of men; 8 and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, [w]becoming obedient even unto death, [x]yea, the death of the cross. 9 [y]Wherefore also [z]God [a]highly exalted him, and gave unto him [b]the name which is above every name; 10 that in the name of Jesus [c]every knee should bow, [d]of things in heaven and things on earth and [9]things under the earth, 11 and that [e]every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is [f]Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 So then, my beloved, [g]even as ye have always [h]obeyed, not [10]as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; 13 for [i]it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for [j]his good pleasure. 14 Do all things [k]without murmurings and [l]disputings; 15 that ye may be blameless and harmless, [m]children of God [n]without blemish [o]in the midst of [p]a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen [q]as [11]lights in the world, 16 holding forth [r]the word of life; that [s]I may have whereof to glory in [t]the day of Christ, that [u]I did not run in vain neither labour in vain. 17 Yea, and if I am [12][v]offered upon the sacrifice and [w]service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all: 18 and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus [x]to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state. 20 For I have no man [y]likeminded, who will care [13]truly for your state. 21 For they all [z]seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. 22 But ye know [a]the proof of him, that, [b]as a child serveth a father, so [c]he served with me in furtherance of the gospel. 23 Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me: 24 but [d]I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. 25 But I counted it necessary to send to you [e]Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and [f]fellow-soldier, and your [14][g]messenger and [h]minister to my need; 26 since he longed [15]after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick: 27 for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. 28 I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. 29 [i]Receive him therefore in the Lord with all joy; and [j]hold such in honour: 30 because [k]for the work of [1]Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life [l]to supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

3 1 Finally, my brethren, [2][m]rejoice in the Lord. [n]To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you it is safe. 2 Beware of [o]the dogs, beware of [p]the evil workers, beware of the concision: 3 for [q]we are the circumcision, [r]who worship [s]by the Spirit of God, and [t]glory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh: 4 [u]though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh: if any other man [3]thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more: 5 [v]circumcised the eighth day, [w]of the stock of Israel, [x]of the tribe of Benjamin, [w]a Hebrew of Hebrews; as touching the law, [y]a Pharisee; 6 [z]as touching zeal, [a]persecuting the church; [b]as touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. 7 Howbeit [c]what things were [4]gain to me, [d]these have I counted loss for Christ. 8 Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for [e]the excellency of [f]the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I [g]suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but [5]dung, that I may gain Christ, 9 and be found in him, [6]not having [h]a righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but [i]that which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of God [7]by faith: 10 [j]that I may know him, and [k]the power of his resurrection, and [l]the fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed unto his death; 11 if by any means I may [m]attain unto the resurrection from the dead. 12 Not that I have already [n]obtained, or [o]am already made perfect: but I press on, if so be that I may [8]apprehend that for which also I was apprehended by Christ Jesus. 13 Brethren, I count not myself [9]yet to have apprehended: but one thing I do, [p]forgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, 14 I press on toward the goal unto [q]the prize of the [10]high [r]calling of God in Christ Jesus. 15 Let us therefore, as many as be [s]perfect, be thus minded: and if in anything [t]ye are otherwise minded, [u]even this shall God reveal unto you: 16 only, whereunto we have already attained, [v]by that same rule let us walk.

17 Brethren, [w]be ye imitators together of me, and mark them which so walk [x]even as ye have us for an ensample. 18 For [y]many walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you [z]even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ: 19 [a]whose end is perdition, [b]whose god is the belly, and [c]whose glory is in their shame, who [d]mind earthly things. 20 For [e]our [11]citizenship is in heaven; [f]from whence also we [g]wait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: 21 who shall fashion anew [h]the body of our humiliation, that it may be [i]conformed to the body of his glory, [j]according to the working whereby he is able even [k]to subject all things unto himself.

4 1 Wherefore, my brethren beloved and [l]longed for, [m]my joy and [n]crown, so [o]stand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

2 I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be [p]of the same mind in the Lord. 3 Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, [q]whose names are in the book of life.

4 [12][r]Rejoice in the Lord alway: again I will say, [12]Rejoice. 5 Let your [13][s]forbearance be known unto all men. [t]The Lord is at hand. 6 [u]In nothing be anxious; [v]but in everything by prayer and supplication [w]with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. 7 And [x]the peace of God, [y]which passeth all understanding, shall guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are [14]honourable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are [1]of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, [2]think on these things. 9 The things which ye both learned and [z]received and heard and saw [a]in me, these things do: and [b]the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I [3]rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at length [c]ye have revived your thought for me; [4]wherein ye did indeed take thought, but ye lacked opportunity. 11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be [d]content. 12 I know how to be abased, and I know also how to abound: in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and [e]to be hungry, both to abound and [f]to be in want. 13 I can do all things [g]in him that strengtheneth me. 14 Howbeit ye did well, that [h]ye had fellowship with my affliction. 15 And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that [i]in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, [j]no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only; 16 for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my need. 17 [k]Not that I seek for the gift; but I seek for [l]the fruit that increaseth to your account. 18 But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, [m]having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, [n]an odour of a sweet smell, [o]a sacrifice acceptable, wellpleasing to God. 19 And my God [p]shall fulfil every need of yours [q]according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. 20 Now unto [r]our God and Father be [s]the glory [5]for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. [t]The brethren which are with me salute you. 22 [u]All the saints salute you, especially they that are of Cæsar's household.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE

COLOSSIANS.

I 1 PAUL, [a]an apostle of Christ Jesus [b]through the will of God, and Timothy [6][c]our brother, 2 [7]to the [d]saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colossæ: [e]Grace to you and peace from God our Father.

3 [f]We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, 4 having heard of [g]your faith in Christ Jesus, and of [g]the love which ye have toward all the saints, 5 because of [h]the hope [i]which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye heard before in [j]the word of the truth of the gospel, 6 which is come unto you; even as it is also [k]in all the world [l]bearing fruit and increasing, as it doth in you also, since the day ye [m]heard and knew [n]the grace of God in truth; 7 even as ye learned of [o]Epaphras our beloved [p]fellow-servant, who is [p]a faithful minister of Christ on [8]our behalf, 8 who also declared unto us your [q]love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, [r]since the day we heard it, [s]do not cease to pray and make request for you, that [t]ye may be filled with [u]the knowledge of his will in all [v]spiritual wisdom and understanding, 10 [w]to walk worthily of the Lord [9][x]unto all pleasing, [y]bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing [10]in the knowledge of God; 11 [11][z]strengthened [12]with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto [a]all patience and longsuffering [b]with joy; 12 [c]giving thanks unto the Father, who made [13]us meet to be partakers of [d]the inheritance of the saints in light; 13 who [e]delivered us out of [f]the power of darkness, and translated us into [g]the kingdom of [h]the Son of his love; 14 [i]in whom we have our redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: 15 [j]who is the image of [k]the invisible God, [l]the firstborn of all creation; 16 for in him were all things created, [m]in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether [n]thrones or [o]dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created [p]through him, and unto him; 17 and [q]he is before all things, and [r]in him all things [1][s]consist. 18 And [t]he is the head of the body, the church: who is [u]the beginning, [v]the firstborn from the dead; [2]that in all things he might have the preeminence. 19 [3]For it was the good pleasure of the Father that [w]in him should all the [x]fulness dwell; 20 and [y]through him to reconcile all things [4]unto [5]himself, [z]having made peace [a]through the blood of his cross; through him, I say, whether things upon the earth, or things in the heavens. 21 [b]And you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind [c]in your evil works, yet now [6]hath he reconciled 22 [d]in the body of his flesh through death, [e]to present you holy and without blemish and [f]unreproveable before him: 23 [g]if so be that ye continue in the faith, [h]grounded and stedfast, and not moved away from [i]the hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached [j]in all creation under heaven; [k]whereof I Paul was made a minister.

24 Now [l]I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and [m]fill up on my part [n]that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh [o]for his body's sake, which is the church; 25 [p]whereof I was made a minister, according to [q]the [7]dispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, [r]to fulfil the word of God, 26 even [s]the mystery which hath been hid [8]from all ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, 27 [t]to whom God was pleased to make known what is [u]the riches of the glory of [s]this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, [v]the hope of glory: 28 whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that [w]we may present every man [x]perfect in Christ; 29 whereunto [y]I labour also, [z]striving [a]according to his working, which worketh in me [9]mightily.

2 1 For I would have you know [b]how greatly I [z]strive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; 2 that [c]their hearts may be comforted, they [d]being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the [10]full assurance of understanding, that they may know [e]the mystery of God, [11]even Christ, 3 [f]in whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden. 4 This I say, [g]that no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech. 5 For [h]though I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your [i]order, and [j]the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 [k]As therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him, 7 [l]rooted and [m]builded up in him, and [n]stablished [12]in your faith, even [o]as ye were taught, abounding [13][p]in thanksgiving.

8 [14]Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his [q]philosophy and [r]vain deceit, after [s]the tradition of men, after the [15][t]rudiments of the world, and not after Christ: 9 for [u]in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead [v]bodily, 10 and [w]in him ye are made full, who is [x]the head of all principality and power: 11 in whom [y]ye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in [z]the putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; 12 [a]having been buried with him in baptism, wherein [b]ye were also raised with him through faith in [c]the working of God, [c]who raised him from the dead. 13 [d]And you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, you, I say, [e]did he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses; 14 [f]having blotted out [16][g]the bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us: and he hath taken it out of the way, nail-

[1] That is, hold together. [2] Or, that among all he might have [3] Or, For the whole fulness of God was pleased to dwell in him [4] Or, into him [5] Or, him [6] Some ancient authorities read ye have been reconciled. [7] Or, stewardship [8] Gr. from the ages and from the generations. [9] Or, in power [10] Or, fulness [11] The ancient authorities vary much in the text of this passage. [12] Or, by [13] Some ancient authorities insert in it. [14] Or, See whether [15] Or, elements [16] Or, the bond that was against us by its ordinances

ing it to the cross; 15 [1] [z] having put off from himself the principalities and the powers, [h] he made a show of them openly, [i] triumphing
over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore [j] judge you [k] in meat, or in drink, or in respect of [l] a feast day or [m] a new moon or a sabbath day: 17 [n] which are a shadow of the things to come;
but [o] the body is Christ's. 18 Let no man [p] rob you of your prize [2] [q] by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, [3] [r] dwelling in the things which he hath [4] seen, vainly [s] puffed up by [t] his fleshly mind, 19 and [u] not [v] holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together
through the joints and bands,
increaseth with the increase of God.

20 If [w] ye died with Christ from the [5] [x] rudiments of the world, [y] why,
as though living in the world, do
ye subject yourselves to ordinances,
21 [z] Handle not, nor taste, nor touch 22 ([a] all which things are to perish with the using), after [b] the precepts and doctrines of men? 23 Which things have indeed a show of wisdom
in [c] will-worship, and humility,
and severity to the body; but are [d] not of any [6] value against the indulgence of the flesh.

3 1 [e] If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek [f] the things that are above, where Christ is, [g] seated on the right hand of God. 2 [h] Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the earth.
3 For [i] ye died, and your life is hid with Christ in God. 4 When Christ, [j] who is [7] our life, [k] shall be manifested,
then shall ye also with him
be manifested [l] in glory.

5 [8] [m] Mortify therefore [n] your members
which are upon the earth;
[o] fornication, uncleanness, [p] passion, evil desire, and covetousness, the [q] which is idolatry; 6 [r] for which things' sake cometh the wrath of God [9] upon the sons of disobedience;
7 [10] [s] in the which ye also walked aforetime, when ye lived in these things. 8 But now [t] put ye also away all these; [u] anger, wrath, malice, railing, [v] shameful speaking out of your mouth: 9 [w] lie not one to another; seeing that [x] ye have put off [y] the old man with his doings, 10 and [z] have put on [a] the new man, [b] which is being renewed unto knowledge [c] after the image of him that [d] created him: 11 [e] where there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcision
and uncircumcision, barbarian, [f] Scythian, bondman, freeman:
but Christ is [g] all, and in all.

12 [h] Put on therefore, as [i] God's elect, holy and beloved, [j] a heart of compassion, [k] kindness, [l] humility, meekness, longsuffering; 13 [l] forbearing
one another, and [k] forgiving
each other, [m] if any man have a complaint against any; [k] even as [11] the Lord forgave you, so also do ye: 14 and above all these things put on [n] love, which is [o] the bond of [p] perfectness. 15 And let [q] the peace of Christ [12] rule in your hearts,
to the which also ye were called [r] in one body; and [s] be ye thankful.
16 Let [t] the word of [13] Christ dwell
in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing [14] one another [u] with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing [v] with grace in your hearts unto God. 17 And [w] whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, [x] giving thanks to God the Father through him.

18 [y] Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as [z] is fitting in the Lord. 19 Husbands, love your wives,
and [a] be not bitter against them.
20 Children, obey your parents [b] in all things, for this is well-pleasing in the Lord. 21 Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not discouraged. 22 [15] Servants, obey [b] in all things them that are your [16] masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers,
but in singleness of heart, fearing
the Lord: 23 [c] whatsoever ye do,
work [17] heartily, [d] as unto the Lord,
and not unto men; 24 knowing that from the Lord [e] ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance: [f] ye serve the Lord Christ. 25 For he that doeth wrong shall [18] receive again for the wrong that he hath

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

THESSALONIANS.

1 1 PAUL, and [a]Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the [b]Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: [c]Grace to you and peace.

2 [d]We give thanks to God always for you all, [e]making mention of you in our prayers; 3 remembering [d]without ceasing [f]your work of faith and labour of [g]love and [h]patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before [i]our God and Father; 4 knowing, [j]brethren beloved of God, [k]your election, 5 [9]how that [l]our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and [m]in the [10]Holy Ghost, and in much [11] [n]assurance; even as ye know [o]what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your sake. 6 And [p]ye became imitators of us, [q]and of the Lord, [r]having received the word in much affliction, [s]with [t]joy of the [10]Holy Ghost; 7 so that ye became an ensample to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia. 8 For from you hath [u]sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but [v]in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to speak anything. 9 For they themselves report concerning us what manner of [w] entering in we had unto you; and how [x] ye turned unto God [y] from idols, to serve a living and [z] true God, 10 and [a] to wait for his Son [b] from heaven, [c] whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, [d] which delivereth us from [e] the wrath to come.

2 1 For yourselves, brethren, know our [f] entering in unto you, [g] that it hath not been found vain: 2 but having suffered before, and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, [h] at Philippi, [i] we waxed bold in our God [j] to speak unto you the gospel of God in much [k] conflict. 3 For [l] our exhortation is not of [m] error, nor of [n] uncleanness, nor [o] in guile: 4 but even as we have been approved of God [p] to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as [q] pleasing men, but God [r] which proveth our hearts. 5 [s] For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness, [t] God is witness; 6 [u] nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, [v] when we might have [1] been [w] burdensome, as [x] apostles of Christ. 7 But we were [2] [y] gentle in the midst of you, [z] as when a nurse cherisheth her own children: 8 even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, [a] but also our own souls, because ye were become very dear to us. 9 For ye remember, brethren, [b] our labour and travail: [c] working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. 10 Ye are witnesses, and [d] God also, [e] how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved ourselves toward you that believe: 11 as ye know how we dealt with each one of you, [f] as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging you, and [g] testifying, 12 to the end that [h] ye should walk worthily of God, [i] who [3] calleth you into [j] his own kingdom and glory.

13 And for this cause [k] we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us [4] [l] the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it [m] not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, [n] which also worketh in you that believe. 14 For ye, brethren, [o] became imitators of [p] the churches of God which are in Judæa in Christ Jesus: for [q] ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, [r] even as they did of the Jews; 15 [s] who both killed the Lord Jesus and [t] the prophets, and drave out us, and please not God, and [u] are contrary to all men; 16 [v] forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; [w] to fill up their sins alway: but [x] the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for [5] a short season, [y] in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly [z] to see your face with great desire: 18 because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and Satan [a] hindered us. 19 For what is our hope, or [b] joy, or crown of glorying? [c] Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at his [6] [d] coming? 20 For ye are our glory and our joy.

3 1 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good [e] to be left behind at Athens alone; 2 and [f] sent Timothy, [g] our brother and [7] God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith; 3 that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that [h] hereunto we are appointed. 4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you [8] beforehand that we are to suffer affliction; [i] even as it came to pass, and ye know. 5 For this cause I also, [j] when I could no longer forbear, [j] sent that I might know your faith, [k] lest by any means [l] the tempter had tempted you, and [m] our labour should be in vain. 6 But [n] when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of [o] your faith and love, and [p] that ye have good remembrance of us always, [q] longing to see us, even as we also to see you; 7 for this cause, brethren, [r] we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith: 8 for now we live, if ye [s] stand fast in the Lord. 9 For [t] what

thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God; 10 [u] night and day praying exceedingly [v] that we may see your face, and [w] may perfect that which is lacking in your faith? 11 Now may [x] our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, [y] direct our way unto you: 12 and the Lord [z] make you to increase and abound in love [a] one toward another, and toward all men, even as we also do toward you; 13 to the end he may [b] stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before [x] our God and Father, at [c] the [1] coming of our Lord Jesus [d] with all his saints.[2]

4 1 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye [e] received of us [f] how ye ought to walk and [g] to please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye [h] abound more and more. 2 For [i] ye know what [3] charge we gave you through the Lord Jesus. 3 For this is the will of God, even [j] your sanctification, [k] that ye abstain from fornication; 4 that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own [l] vessel in sanctification and [m] honour, 5 not in [n] the passion of lust, [o] even as the Gentiles [p] which know not God; 6 that no man [4] transgress, and [q] wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is [r] an avenger in all these things, as also we [5] forewarned you and testified. 7 For [s] God called us not for [t] uncleanness, but in sanctification. 8 Therefore [u] he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, [v] who giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.

9 But concerning [w] love of the brethren [x] ye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are [y] taught of God [z] to love one another; 10 for indeed [a] ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye [b] abound more and more; 11 and that ye [6] study [c] to be quiet, and [d] to do your own business, and [e] to work with your hands, even as we charged you; 12 that ye may [f] walk honestly toward them [g] that are without, and may have need of nothing.

13 But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; [h] that ye sorrow not, even as the rest, [i] which have no hope. 14 For [j] if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so [k] them also that are fallen asleep [7] in Jesus will God bring with him. 15 For this we say unto you [l] by the word of the Lord, that [m] we that are alive, that are left unto [n] the [1] coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. 16 For [o] the Lord himself shall descend [p] from heaven, [q] with a shout, with the voice of [r] the archangel, and [s] with the trump of God: and [t] the dead in Christ shall rise first: 17 then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be [u] caught up [v] in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so [w] shall we ever be with the Lord. 18 Wherefore [8] [x] comfort one another with these words.

5 1 But concerning [y] the times and the seasons, brethren, [z] ye have no need that aught be written unto you. 2 For yourselves know perfectly that [a] the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. 3 When they are saying, Peace and safety, then [b] sudden destruction cometh upon them, [c] as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall in no wise escape. 4 But ye, brethren, [d] are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you [9] as a thief: 5 for ye are all [e] sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness; 6 so then [f] let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us [g] watch and [h] be sober. 7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken [i] are drunken in the night. 8 But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, [j] putting on the breastplate of [k] faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation. 9 For God appointed us not unto [l] wrath, but [m] unto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 10 [n] who died for us, that, whether we [10] wake or

TO THE THESSALONIANS.

I 1 [a]PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; 2 Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [b]We are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another aboundeth; 4 so that [c]we ourselves glory in you [d]in the churches of God for your patience and faith [e]in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; 5 which is [f]a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be [g]counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: 6 if so be that it is [h]a righteous thing with God [i]to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, 7 and to you that are afflicted [j]rest with us, [k]at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven [l]with the angels of his power 8 [m]in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them [n]that know not God, and to them that [o]obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus: 9 who shall suffer punishment, [p]even eternal destruction [q]from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, 10 [r]when he shall come [s]to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our [t]testimony unto you [u]was believed) in [v]that day. 11 To which end we also [w]pray always for you, that our God may [x]count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every [7][y]desire of goodness and every [z]work of faith, with power; 12 that the name of our Lord Jesus [a]may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 1 Now we beseech you, brethren, [8]touching [b]the [4]coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our [c]gathering together unto him; 2 to the end that ye be not quickly shaken from your mind, nor yet [d]be troubled, either [e]by spirit, or [f]by word, or [f]by epistle as from us, as that [g]the day of the Lord is now present; 3 [h]let no man beguile you in any wise: for it will not be, [i]except the falling away come first, and [j]the man of [1]sin be revealed, [k]the son of perdition, 4 he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or [2][l]that is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the [3]temple of God, [m]setting himself forth as God. 5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? 6 And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. 7 For [n]the mystery of lawlessness [o]doth already work: [4]only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. 8 And then shall be revealed [p]the lawless one, whom the Lord [5]Jesus [q]shall [6]slay with [r]the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by [s]the manifestation of his [7]coming; 9 even he, whose [7]coming is according to the working of Satan [t]with all [8]power and signs and lying wonders, 10 and with all deceit of unrighteousness for [u]them that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. 11 And for this cause [v]God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe [w]a lie: 12 that they all might be judged [x]who believed not the truth, but [y]had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But [z]we are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, [a]brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you [9][b]from the beginning [c]unto salvation [d]in sanctification of the Spirit and [10]belief of the truth: 14 whereunto he called you through [e]our gospel, [e]to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 So then, brethren, [f]stand fast, and hold [g]the traditions which ye were taught, whether [h]by word, or [h]by epistle of ours.

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father [i]which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good [j]hope through grace, 17 comfort your hearts and [k]stablish them in every good work and word.

3 1 Finally, brethren, [l]pray for us, that [m]the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you; 2 and [n]that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for [o]all have not [11]faith. 3 But [p]the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and [q]guard you from [12][r]the evil one. 4 And [s]we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command. 5 And the Lord [t]direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, [u]in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [v]that ye withdraw yourselves from every [w]brother [x]that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which [13]they received of us. 7 For yourselves know [y]how ye ought to imitate us: for [z]we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you; 8 neither did we eat bread for nought at any man's hand, but [a]in labour and travail, working night and day, that we might not burden any of you: 9 [b]not because we have not the right, but to make ourselves [c]an ensample unto you, that ye should imitate us. 10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, [d]If any will not work, neither let him eat. 11 For we hear of some [e]that walk among you disorderly, that work not at all, but are [f]busybodies. 12 Now them that are such we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread. 13 But ye, brethren, [g]be not weary in well-doing. 14 And if any man obeyeth not our word by this epistle, note that man, [h]that ye have no company with him, to the end that he may be ashamed. 15 And yet [i]count him not as an enemy, but [j]admonish him as a brother.

16 Now [k]the Lord of peace himself [l]give you peace at all times in all ways. [m]The Lord be with you all.

17 [n]The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write. 18 [o]The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

TIMOTHY.

1 1 PAUL, [a]an apostle of Christ Jesus [b]according to the commandment of [c]God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus [d]our hope; 2 unto Timothy, [e]my true child in faith: [f]Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 [g]As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men not [h]to teach a different doctrine, 4 neither [i]to give heed to fables and endless [j]genealogies, the which minister [k]questionings, rather than [l]a [1]dispensation of God which is in faith; so do I now. 5 But the end of the charge is love [m]out of a pure heart and [n]a good conscience and [o]faith unfeigned: 6 from which things some having [2][p]swerved have turned aside unto [q]vain talking; 7 desiring to be teachers of the law, [r]though they understand neither what they say, nor whereof they confidently affirm. 8 But we know that [s]the law is good, if a man use it lawfully, 9 as knowing this, that [t]law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for [3]murderers of fathers and [3]murderers of mothers, for manslayers, 10 for fornicators, for abusers of themselves with men, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to [u]the [4]sound [5]doctrine; 11 according to [v]the gospel of the glory of [w]the blessed God, [x]which was committed to my trust.

12 I thank him [y]that [6]enabled me, even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, [z]appointing me to his service; 13 though I was before a blasphemer, and [a]a persecutor, and injurious: howbeit [b]I obtained mercy, [c]because I did it ignorantly in unbelief; 14 and [d]the grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with [e]faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. 15 [f]Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus [g]came into the world to save sinners; [h]of whom I am chief: 16 howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life. 17 Now unto [i]the King [7]eternal, [j]incorruptible, [k]invisible, [l]the only God, [m]be honour and glory [8]for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge [n]I commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to [o]the prophecies which [9]went before on thee, that by them thou mayest [p]war the good warfare; 19 [q]holding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust from them [r]made shipwreck concerning the faith: 20 of whom is [s]Hymenæus and [t]Alexander; whom I [u]delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to [v]blaspheme.

2 1 I exhort therefore, first of all, [10]that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; 2 [w]for kings and all that are in high place; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and [x]gravity. 3 This is good and [y]acceptable in the sight of [z]God our Saviour; 4 who willeth [a]that all men should be saved, and [b]come to [c]the knowledge of the truth. 5 For [d]there is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself man, Christ Jesus, 6 [e]who gave himself a ransom for all; [f]the testimony to be borne [g]in its own times; 7 [h]whereunto I was appointed a [11]preacher and an apostle ([i]I speak the truth, I lie not), [j]a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I desire therefore that the men pray [k]in every place, [l]lifting up [m]holy hands, without wrath and [12]disputing. 9 In like manner, [n]that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly raiment; 10 [o]but (which becometh women professing godliness) through good works. 11 Let a woman learn in quietness [p]with all subjection. 12 [q]But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness. 13 [r]For Adam was first formed, [s]then Eve; 14 and Adam was not beguiled, but [t]the woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression: 15 but she shall be saved through [1][u]the childbearing, if they continue in [v]faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 1 [2][w]Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh [x]the office of a [3]bishop, he desireth a good work. 2 [y]The [3]bishop therefore must be without reproach, [z]the husband of one wife, [a]temperate, soberminded, orderly, [b]given to hospitality, [c]apt to teach; 3 [4]no brawler, no striker; but [d]gentle, not contentious, [e]no lover of money; 4 one that ruleth well his own house, [f]having his children in subjection with all gravity; 5 (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of [x]the church of God?) 6 not a novice, lest [g]being puffed up he fall into the [5]condemnation of the devil. 7 Moreover he must have good testimony from [h]them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and [i]the snare of the devil. 8 [j]Deacons in like manner must be grave, not doubletongued, [k]not given to much wine, [l]not greedy of filthy lucre; 9 [m]holding the mystery of the faith in [n]a pure conscience. 10 And [o]let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons, if they be blameless. 11 [p]Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderers, temperate, [q]faithful in all things. 12 Let deacons be [r]husbands of one wife, [r]ruling their children and their own houses well. 13 For [s]they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; 15 but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know [6]how men ought to behave themselves in [t]the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and [7]ground of the truth. 16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness; [8][u]He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, [v]seen of angels, [w]preached among the nations, [x]believed on in the world, [y]received up in glory.

4 1 But [z]the Spirit saith expressly, that [a]in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to [b]seducing spirits and doctrines of [9]devils, 2 through the hypocrisy of [c]men that speak lies, [10][d]branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; 3 [e]forbidding to marry, and commanding [f]to abstain from meats, [g]which God created [h]to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe and know the truth. 4 For [i]every creature of God is good, and [j]nothing is to be rejected, if it be [h]received with thanksgiving: 5 for it is sanctified [k]through the word of God and prayer.

6 [l]If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast [m]followed until now: 7 but refuse profane and old wives' [n]fables. And [o]exercise thyself unto godliness: 8 for [p]bodily exercise is profitable [11]for a little; but godliness [q]is profitable for all things, [r]having promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come. 9 [s]Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptation. 10 For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, [t]who is the Saviour of all men, specially of them that believe. 11 [u]These things command and teach. 12 [v]Let no man despise thy youth; but [w]be thou an ensample to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity. 13 Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. 14 [x]Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee [y]by prophecy, [z]with the laying on of the hands of [a]the presbytery. 15 Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy [b]progress may be manifest unto

[1] Or, her childbearing [2] Some connect the words Faithful is the saying with the preceding paragraph. [3] Or, overseer [4] Or, not quarrelsome over wine [5] Gr. judgement. [6] Or, how thou oughtest to behave thyself [7] Or, stay [8] The word God, in place of He who, rests on no sufficient ancient evidence. Some ancient authorities read which. [9] Gr. demons. [10] Or, seared [11] Or, for little

all. 16 [c]Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save [d]both thyself and [e]them that hear thee.

5 1 [f]Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; [g]the younger men as brethren: 2 the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. 3 Honour widows [h]that are widows indeed. 4 But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first [i]to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for [j]this is acceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she [k]that is a widow indeed, and desolate, hath her hope set on God, and [l]continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. 6 But [m]she that giveth herself to pleasure is [n]dead while she liveth. 7 [o]These things also command, that they may be without reproach. 8 But if any provideth not for his own, and specially [p]his own household, he hath [q]denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. 9 Let none be enrolled as a widow under threescore years old, having been [r]the wife of one man, 10 well reported of for good works; if she hath brought up children, if she hath [r]used hospitality to strangers, if she [s]hath washed the saints' feet, if she hath [t]relieved the afflicted, if she hath [u]diligently followed every good work. 11 But younger widows refuse: for when they [v]have waxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; 12 having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith. 13 And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but [w]tattlers also and [x]busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. 14 I desire therefore that [y]the younger [1]widows marry, bear children, [z]rule the household, [a]give none occasion to the adversary for reviling: 15 [b]for already some are turned aside after Satan. 16 If any woman that believeth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them [e]that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders [d]that rule well be counted worthy of [e]double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. 18 For the scripture saith, [f]Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, [g]The labourer is worthy of his hire. 19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, except [h]at the mouth of two or three witnesses. 20 Them that sin [i]reprove in the sight of all, [j]that the rest also may be in fear. 21 [k]I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without [2]prejudice, [l]doing nothing by partiality. 22 [m]Lay hands [n]hastily on no man, neither [o]be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. 23 Be no longer a drinker of water, but [p]use a little wine [q]for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. 24 Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. 25 In like manner also [3]there are good works that are evident; and [r]such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

6 1 [s]Let as many as are [4]servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, [t]that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. 2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are [u]brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that [5]partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. [v]These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man [w]teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to [6][x]sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine [y]which is according to godliness; 4 [z]he is puffed up, [a]knowing nothing, but [7]doting about [b]questionings and [c]disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, 5 wranglings of men [d]corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, [e]supposing that godliness is a way of gain. 6 But [f]godliness [g]with contentment is great gain: 7 for [h]we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; 8 but [i]having food and covering [8]we shall be therewith content. 9 But

[j] they that desire to be rich fall into a temptation and [k] a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as [l] drown men in destruction and perdition. 10 For the love of money is a root of [m] all [1] kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 But thou, [n] O man of God, [o] flee these things; and [p] follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. 12 [q] Fight the good fight of the faith, [r] lay hold on the life eternal, [s] whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess [t] the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. 13 [u] I charge thee in the sight of God, who [2] quickeneth all things, and of Christ Jesus, [v] who before Pontius Pilate witnessed [t] the good confession; 14 that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until [w] the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: 15 which [x] in [3] its own times he shall shew, who is [y] the blessed and only Potentate, [z] the King of [4] kings, and Lord of [5] lords; 16 [a] who only hath immortality, [b] dwelling in light [c] unapproachable; [d] whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power eternal. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in [e] this present [6] world, that they [f] be not highminded, nor [g] have their hope set on [h] the uncertainty of riches, but on God, [i] who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; 18 that they do good, that [j] they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, [7] [k] willing to communicate; 19 [l] laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may [m] lay hold on [n] the life which is life indeed.

20 O Timothy, guard [8] [o] that which is committed unto thee, [p] turning away from the [q] profane babblings and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called; 21 which some professing [r] have [9] erred concerning the faith.

[s] Grace be with you.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO

TIMOTHY.

I 1 PAUL, [a] an apostle of Christ Jesus [10] [b] by the will of God, according to [c] the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, 2 to Timothy, [d] my beloved child: [e] Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 [f] I thank God, [g] whom I serve from my forefathers [h] in a pure conscience, [i] how unceasing is my remembrance of thee in my supplications, night and day 4 [j] longing to see thee, [k] remembering thy tears, that I may be filled with [11] joy; 5 having been reminded of [l] the unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and [m] thy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee also. 6 For the which cause I put thee in remembrance [n] that thou [12] stir up the gift of God, which is in thee through the laying on of my hands. 7 For God gave us not [o] a spirit of fearfulness; but [p] of power and love and [13] discipline. 8 [q] Be not ashamed therefore of [r] the testimony of our Lord, nor of [s] me his prisoner: but [t] suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God; 9 [u] who saved us, and [v] called us with a holy calling, [w] not according to our works, but according to [x] his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus [x] before times eternal, 10 but hath now [y] been manifested by [z] the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, [a] who abolished death, and [b] brought life and

[c]incorruption to light through the gospel, 11 [d]whereunto I was appointed a [1]preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher. 12 [e]For the which cause I suffer also these things: yet [f]I am not ashamed; for [g]I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard [2][h]that which I have committed unto him against [i]that day.
13 [j]Hold [k]the pattern of [3][l]sound words [m]which thou hast heard from me, in [n]faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. 14 [4][h]That good thing which was committed unto thee
guard through the [5]Holy Ghost
[o]which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that [p]all that are in Asia turned away from me; of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. 16 The Lord grant mercy unto [q]the house of Onesiphorus;
for he oft [r]refreshed me, and was not ashamed of [s]my chain; 17 but, when he was in Rome, [t]he sought me diligently, and found me 18 (the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in [u]that day); and in how many things he [v]ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest
very well.

2 1 Thou therefore, [w]my child,
[x]be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. 2 And the things [y]which thou hast heard from me among many witnesses,
the same [z]commit thou to faithful men, [a]who shall be able to teach others also. 3 [6][b]Suffer hardship
with me, as [c]a good soldier of Christ Jesus. 4 No soldier on service [d]entangleth himself in the affairs of this life; that he may please him who enrolled him as a soldier. 5 And if also a man [e]contend in the games,
he is not [f]crowned, except he have contended lawfully. 6 [g]The husbandman that laboureth must be the first to partake of the fruits.
7 Consider what I say; for the Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. 8 Remember Jesus Christ, [h]risen from the dead, [i]of the seed
of David, [j]according to my gospel:
9 [k]wherein I suffer hardship [l]unto bonds, as a malefactor; but [m]the word of God is not bound. 10 Therefore [n]I endure all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain [o]the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with [p]eternal glory.
11 [q]Faithful is the [7]saying: For [r]if we died with him, we shall also [s]live with him: 12 [t]if we endure, we shall also reign with him: [u]if we shall deny him, he also will deny us: 13 [v]if we are faithless, [w]he abideth faithful; for [x]he cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, [y]charging them in the sight of [8]the Lord, that they [z]strive not about words, [a]to no profit, to the subverting of them that hear. 15 Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God,
a workman [b]that needeth not to be ashamed, [9]handling aright the word of truth. 16 But [c]shun [d]profane babblings: for they will proceed further in ungodliness, 17 and their word will [10]eat as doth a gangrene:
of whom is [e]Hymenæus and Philetus;
18 men who concerning the truth [f]have [11]erred, [g]saying that [12]the resurrection is past already,
and overthrow the faith of some.
19 Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, [h]The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let every one [i]that nameth
the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness. 20 Now in [j]a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and [k]some unto honour, and some unto dishonour. 21 [l]If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified,
meet for the master's use, [m]prepared unto every good work. 22 But [n]flee [o]youthful lusts, and follow after righteousness, faith, love, peace,
with [p]them that call on the Lord [q]out of a pure heart. 23 But foolish and ignorant [r]questionings refuse,
knowing that they gender strifes.
24 And [s]the Lord's [13]servant must not strive, but [t]be gentle towards all, [u]apt to teach, forbearing, 25 [v]in meekness [14]correcting them that oppose themselves; [w]if peradventure
God may give them repentance
[x]unto the knowledge of the truth,
26 and they may [15][y]recover themselves out of [z] the snare of the devil, having been [1][a] taken captive [2] by the Lord's servant unto the will of God.

3 1 But know this, that [b] in the last days grievous times shall come. 2 For men shall be [c] lovers of self, [d] lovers of money, [e] boastful, [e] haughty, railers, [e] disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, 3 [f] without natural affection, implacable, slanderers, without self-control, fierce, [g] no lovers of good, 4 traitors, headstrong, [h] puffed up, [i] lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God; 5 holding a form of godliness, but [j] having denied the power thereof: [k] from these also turn away. 6 For of these are [l] they that creep into houses, and take captive silly women laden with sins, led away by divers lusts, 7 ever learning, and never able to [m] come to the knowledge of the truth. 8 And like as [n] Jannes and Jambres [o] withstood Moses, so do these also withstand the truth; [p] men corrupted in mind, [q] reprobate concerning the faith. 9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be evident unto all men, [r] as theirs also came to be. 10 But [s] thou didst follow my teaching, conduct, purpose, faith, longsuffering, love, patience, 11 persecutions, sufferings; what things befell me [t] at Antioch, [u] at Iconium, [v] at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: and [w] out of them all [x] the Lord delivered me. 12 Yea, and all that would [y] live godly in Christ Jesus [z] shall suffer persecution. 13 But [a] evil men and impostors shall wax worse and worse, deceiving and [b] being deceived. 14 But [c] abide thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of [3] whom thou hast learned them; 15 and that [d] from a babe thou hast known [e] the sacred writings [f] which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. 16 [4][g] Every scripture inspired of God is also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for [5] instruction which is in righteousness: 17 that [h] the man of God may be complete, [i] furnished completely [j] unto every good work.

4 1 [6][k] I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, [l] who shall judge the quick and the dead, and by [m] his appearing and his kingdom; 2 preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; [7][n] reprove, rebuke, [o] exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching. 3 [p] For the time will come when they will not endure [q] the [8] sound [9] doctrine; but, having itching ears, will heap to themselves teachers after their own lusts; 4 and [r] will turn away their ears from the truth, and [s] turn aside unto fables. 5 But [t] be thou sober in all things, [u] suffer hardship, do the work of [v] an evangelist, [w] fulfil thy ministry. 6 For [x] I am already being [10] offered, and the time of my [y] departure is come. 7 [z] I have fought the good fight, [a] I have finished the course, I have kept the faith: 8 henceforth there is [b] laid up for me [c] the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, [d] the righteous judge, shall give to me at [e] that day: and not only to me, but also to all them [f] that have loved his appearing.

9 [g] Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me: 10 for [h] Demas [i] forsook me, [j] having loved [k] this present [11] world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to [12] Galatia, [l] Titus to Dalmatia. 11 [i] Only Luke is with me. Take [m] Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for ministering. 12 But [n] Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. 13 The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments. 14 [o] Alexander the coppersmith [13] did me much evil: [p] the Lord will render to him according to his works: 15 of whom be thou ware also; for he greatly withstood our words. 16 At my first defence no one took my part, but all forsook me: [q] may it not be laid to their account. 17 But [r] the Lord stood by me, and [14][s] strengthened me; that through me [t] the [15] message might be fully proclaimed, and [u] that all the Gentiles might hear: and [v] I was delivered [w] out of the mouth of the lion. 18 [x] The Lord will deliver me

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO

TITUS.

1 1 PAUL, a [2] servant of God, and [a] an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and [b] the knowledge of the truth [c] which is according to godliness, 2 [d] in hope of eternal life, which God, [e] who cannot lie, [f] promised [g] before times eternal; 3 but [h] in [3] his own seasons manifested his word in [i] the [4] message, [j] wherewith I was intrusted [k] according to the commandment of God our Saviour; 4 to Titus, [l] my true child after [m] a common faith: [n] Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

5 [o] For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that were wanting, and [p] appoint elders in every city, as I gave thee charge; 6 [q] if any man is blameless, the husband of one wife, having children that believe, who are not accused of [r] riot or unruly. 7 For the [5] bishop must be blameless, [s] as God's steward; not [t] selfwilled, not soon angry, [6] no brawler, no striker, [u] not greedy of filthy lucre; 8 but given to hospitality, a lover of good, soberminded, just, holy, [v] temperate; 9 [w] holding to the faithful word which is according to the teaching, that he may be able both to exhort in [x] the [7] sound [8] doctrine, and to convict the gainsayers.

10 For there are many unruly men, [y] vain talkers and deceivers, specially [z] they of the circumcision, 11 whose mouths must be stopped; [a] men who overthrow whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, [b] for filthy lucre's sake. 12 [c] One of themselves, a prophet of their own, said, Cretans are alway liars, evil beasts, idle [9] gluttons. 13 This testimony is true. For which cause [d] reprove them [e] sharply, that they [f] may be [10] sound in the faith, 14 [g] not giving heed to Jewish fables, and [h] commandments of men [i] who turn away from the truth. 15 [j] To the pure all things are pure: but to them that are defiled and [k] unbelieving nothing is pure; but both [l] their mind and their conscience are defiled. 16 [m] They profess that they know God; but by their works they [n] deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work [o] reprobate.

2 1 But speak thou the things which befit [p] the [7] sound [8] doctrine: 2 that aged men be temperate, grave, soberminded, [10] [p] sound in faith, in love, in patience: 3 [q] that aged women likewise be reverent in demeanour, [r] not slanderers [s] nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good; 4 that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, 5 to be soberminded, [t] chaste, [u] workers at home, kind, [v] being in subjection to their own husbands, [w] that the word of God be not blasphemed: 6 [x] the younger men likewise exhort to be soberminded: 7 in all things shewing thyself [y] an ensample of good works; in thy doctrine [z] shewing uncorruptness, [a] gravity, 8 [b] sound speech, that cannot be condemned; [c] that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of us. 9 [d] Exhort [11] servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing to them [e] in all things; not gainsaying; 10 not purloining, [f]but shewing all good fidelity; [g]that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. 11 For [h]the grace of God [1][i]hath appeared, bringing salvation [j]to all men, 12 instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and [k]worldly lusts, [l]we should live soberly and righteously and godly in [m]this present [2]world; 13 [n]looking for the blessed [o]hope and [p]appearing of the glory [3]of our great [q]God and Saviour Jesus Christ; 14 [r]who gave himself for us, that he might [s]redeem us from all iniquity, and [t]purify unto himself [t]a people for his own possession, [u]zealous of good works.

[1] Gr. unto the ages of the ages. [2] Gr. bondservant. [3] Or, its [4] Or, proclamation [5] Or, overseer [6] Or, not quarrelsome over wine [7] Gr. healthful. [8] Or, teaching [9] Gr. bellies. [10] Gr. healthy. [11] Gr. bondservants.

15 These things speak and exhort and [v]reprove with all [4]authority. [w]Let no man despise thee.

3 1 Put them in mind [x]to be in subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, [y]to be ready unto every good work, 2 [z]to speak evil of no man, [a]not to be contentious, to be gentle, [b]shewing all meekness toward all men. 3 For [c]we also were aforetime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another. 4 But when [d]the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love toward man, appeared, 5 [e]not by works done in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but [f]according to his mercy he saved us, through [g]the [5]washing of regeneration [6]and [h]renewing of the [7]Holy Ghost, 6 which he [i]poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour; 7 that, [j]being justified by his grace, we might be made [8][k]heirs [l]according to the hope of eternal life. 8 [m]Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful [n]to [9]maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men: 9 but [o]shun foolish [p]questionings, and [q]genealogies, and strifes, and fightings about the law; for [r]they are unprofitable and vain. 10 A man that is [10]heretical [s]after a first and second admonition [11][t]refuse; 11 knowing that such a one is perverted, and sinneth, being self-condemned.

12 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or [u]Tychicus, give diligence to come unto me [v]to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to winter. 13 Set forward Zenas the lawyer and [w]Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. 14 And let our people also learn [x]to [9]maintain good works for necessary [12]uses, that they be not [y]unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Salute them that love us in faith.

[z]Grace be with you all.

PHILEMON.

1 PAUL, [a]a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and [b]Timothy [13]our brother, to Philemon our beloved and fellow-worker, 2 and to Apphia [14]our sister, and to [c]Archippus our [d]fellow-soldier, and to [e]the church in thy house: 3 [f]Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 [g]I thank my God always, making mention of thee in my prayers, 5 [h]hearing of [15]thy love, and [i]of the faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints; 6 that the fellowship of thy faith may become effectual, in the [j]knowledge of every good thing which is in [16]you, unto Christ. 7 For I had much joy and [k]comfort in thy love, because the hearts of the saints [l]have been refreshed through thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, [m]though I have all boldness in Christ to enjoin thee

[n]that which is befitting, 9 yet for love's sake I rather beseech, being such a one as Paul [1][o]the aged, and now [p]a prisoner also of Christ Jesus: 10 I beseech thee for [q]my child, [r]whom I have begotten in my bonds, [2][s]Onesimus, 11 who was aforetime unprofitable to thee, but now is profitable to thee and to me: 12 whom I have sent back to thee in his own person, that is, my very heart: 13 whom I would fain have kept with me, that [t]in thy behalf he might minister unto me [u]in the bonds of the gospel: 14 but without thy mind I would do nothing; that thy goodness should not be as [v]of necessity, but of free will. 15 For perhaps [w]he was therefore parted from thee for a season, that thou shouldest have him for ever; 16 [x]no longer as a [3]servant, but more than a [3]servant, [y]a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much rather to thee, [z]both in the flesh and in the Lord. 17 If then thou countest me [a]a partner, receive him as myself. 18 But if he hath wronged thee at all, or oweth thee aught, put that to mine account; 19 [b]I Paul write it with mine own hand, I will repay it: that I say not unto thee how that thou owest to me even thine own self besides. 20 Yea, brother, let me have [4]joy of thee in the Lord: [c]refresh my heart in Christ. 21 [d]Having confidence in thine obedience I write unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do even beyond what I say. 22 But withal prepare me also a lodging: for [e]I hope that [f]through your prayers [g]I shall be granted unto you.

23 [h]Epaphras, my [i]fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus, saluteth thee; 24 and so do [j]Mark, [j]Aristarchus, [k]Demas, [k]Luke, my fellow-workers.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

1 GOD, having of old time spoken unto the fathers in the prophets by divers portions and [a]in divers manners, 2 hath [b]at the end of these days [c]spoken unto us in [7][d]his Son, whom he appointed [e]heir of all things, [f]through whom also he made [g]the [8]worlds; 3 who being [h]the effulgence of his glory, and [9][i]the very image of his substance, and [j]upholding all things by the word of his power, when [k]he had made purification of sins, [l]sat down [m]on the right hand of the Majesty on high; 4 having become by so much better than the angels, as [n]he hath inherited a more excellent name than they. 5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time,

[o]Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee?

and again,

[p]I will be to him a Father,
And he shall be to me a Son?

6 [10]And when he again [11]bringeth in [q]the firstborn into [12]the world he saith, [r]And let all the angels of God worship him. 7 And of the angels he saith,

[s]Who maketh his angels [13]winds,
And his ministers a flame of fire:

8 but of the Son he saith,

[t]Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever;
And the sceptre of uprightness is the sceptre of [14]thy kingdom.
9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity;
Therefore God, thy God, [u]hath anointed thee
With [v]the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And,

[w]Thou, Lord, in the beginning

[1] Or, an ambassador, and now &c. [2] The Greek word means Helpful. [3] Gr. bondservant. [4] Or, help [5] Some ancient authorities read the. [6] Many ancient authorities omit Amen. [7] Gr. a Son. [8] Gr. ages. [9] Or, the impress of his substance [10] Or, And again, when he bringeth in [11] Or, shall have brought in [12] Gr. the inhabited earth. [13] Or, spirits [14] The two oldest Greek manuscripts read his.

hast laid the foundation of the earth,
And the heavens are the works of thy hands:
11 They shall perish; but thou continuest:
And they all shall [x] wax old as doth a garment;
12 And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up,
As a garment, and they shall be changed:
But thou art [y] the same,
And thy years shall not fail.

13 But of which of the angels hath
he said at any time,

[z] Sit thou on my right hand,
[a] Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, [b] sent forth to do service
for the sake of them that shall [c] inherit salvation?

2

1 Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from them.
2 For if [d] the word spoken through angels proved stedfast, and [e] every transgression and disobedience received a just [f] recompense of reward; 3 [g] how shall we escape, if we [h] neglect so great salvation?
which [i] having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was [j] confirmed unto us [k] by them that heard; 4 [j] God also bearing witness with them, both [l] by signs and wonders,
and by manifold powers, and by [1][m] gifts of the [2] Holy Ghost, [n] according to his own will.

5 For not unto angels did he subject [3] the world [o] to come, whereof we speak. 6 But one hath somewhere testified, saying,

[p] What is man, that thou art mindful of him?
Or the son of man, that thou visitest him?
7 Thou madest him [4] a little lower than the angels;
Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,
[5] And didst set him over the works of thy hands:
8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.

For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now [q] we see not yet all things subjected to him. 9 But we behold him [r] who hath been made [4] a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, [s] because of the suffering of death [t] crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should [u] taste death [v] for every man. 10 For it [w] became him, [x] for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, [6] in bringing many sons [y] unto glory, to make the [7][z] author of their salvation [a] perfect through sufferings.
11 For both [b] he that sanctifieth and [c] they that are sanctified [d] are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them [e] brethren, 12 saying,

[f] I will declare thy name unto my brethren,
In the midst of the [8][g] congregation will I sing thy praise.

13 And again, [h] I will put my trust in him. And again, [i] Behold, I and the children [j] which God hath given me. 14 Since then the children are sharers in [9] flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner [k] partook of the same; that [l] through death he [10] might [m] bring to nought [n] him that [11] had the power of death, that is, the devil; 15 and [10] might deliver all them who [o] through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. 16 For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he [p] taketh hold of the seed of Abraham. 17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things [q] to be made like unto his brethren, [r] that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest [s] in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. 18 [12] For [13] in that he himself hath suffered [t] being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

3

1 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of [u] a heavenly calling, consider [v] the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; 2 who was faithful to him that [14] appointed him, [w] as also was Moses in all [15] his house. 3 For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as

[1] Gr. distributions. [2] Or, Holy Spirit: and so throughout this book. [3] Gr. the inhabited earth. [4] Or, for a little while lower [5] Many authorities omit And didst . . . hands. [6] Or, having brought [7] Or, captain [8] Or, church [9] Gr. blood and flesh. [10] Or, may [11] Or, hath [12] Or, For having been himself tempted in that wherein he hath suffered [13] Or, wherein [14] Gr. made. [15] That is, God's house. See Num. 12. 7.

he that [1]built the house hath more honour than the house. 4 For every house is [1]builded by some one; but [x]he that [1]built all things is God.
5 [y]And Moses indeed was faithful in all [2]his house [z]as a servant,
[a]for a testimony of those things
which were afterward to be spoken; 6 but Christ [b]as a son, over [2]his house; [c]whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying
of our hope firm [d]unto the end.
7 Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost
saith,

[e]To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,
Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,
9 [3]Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me,
And saw my works [f]forty years.
10 Wherefore I was displeased with this generation,
And said, They do alway err in their heart:
But they did not know my ways;
11 [g]As I sware in my wrath,
[4]They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest haply
there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from [h]the living God: 13 but [i]exhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by [j]the deceitfulness of sin: 14 for we are become partakers [5]of Christ, [k]if we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm unto the end: 15 while it is said,

[e]To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For [l]who, when they heard, did provoke? nay, did not [m]all they that came out of Egypt by Moses?
17 And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, [n]whose [6]carcases fell in the wilderness? 18 And to whom sware he that [o]they should not enter into his rest, but to them that were disobedient? 19 And we see that [p]they were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

4 1 Let us fear therefore, lest haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem [q]to have come short of it. 2 For indeed we have had [7]good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but [r]the word of hearing did not profit them, because [8][s]they were not united by faith with them that heard. 3 [9]For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

[t]As I sware in my wrath,
[4]They shall not enter into my rest:

although the works were finished
from the foundation of the world.
4 For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, [u]And God rested on the seventh day from all his works; 5 and in this place
again,

[4][v]They shall not enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter thereinto, and they to whom [10]the good tidings were before preached [w]failed to enter in because of disobedience,
7 he again defineth a certain day,
[11]saying in David, after so long a time, To-day, as it hath been before said,

[x]To-day if ye shall hear his voice,
Harden not your hearts.

8 For if [12][y]Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward
of another day. 9 There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for the people of God. 10 For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also [z]rested from his works,
as God did from his. 11 Let us
therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, [a]that no man fall [13]after the same example of disobedience.
12 For [b]the word of God
is living, and [c]active, and [d]sharper than any [e]two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and [f]quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart.
13 And [g]there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are [h]naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Having then [i]a great high priest, [j]who hath passed through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, [k]let us hold fast our confession.

[1] Or, established [2] That is, God's house. See Num. 12. 7. [3] Or, Where [4] Gr. If they shall enter. [5] Or, with [6] Gr. limbs. [7] Or, a gospel [8] Some ancient authorities read it was. [9] Some ancient authorities read We therefore. [10] Or, the gospel was [11] Or, To-day, saying in David, after so long a time, as it hath been &c. [12] Gr. Jesus. [13] Or, into Gr. in.

15 For we have not a high priest [l] that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points [i] tempted like as we are, [m] yet without sin. 16 [n] Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 1 For every high priest, being taken from among men, [o] is appointed for men [p] in things pertaining to God, [q] that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins: 2 [r] who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also [s] is compassed with infirmity; 3 and by reason thereof is bound, [t] as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. 4 And [u] no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of God, [v] even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also [w] glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

[x] Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place,

[y] Thou art a priest for ever
After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, [z] having offered up prayers and supplications [a] with strong crying and tears unto him [b] that was able to save him [1] from death, and [c] having been heard for his godly fear, 8 though [d] he was a Son, yet [e] learned obedience by the things which he suffered; 9 and [f] having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the [2] author of eternal salvation; 10 named of God a high priest [g] after the order of Melchizedek.

11 Of [3] whom we have many things to say, and [h] hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again [4] that some one teach you the rudiments of [i] the [5] first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of [j] milk, and not of solid food. 13 For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is [k] a babe. 14 But solid food is for [6] [l] fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised [m] to discern good and evil.

6 1 Wherefore [n] let us [7] cease to speak of [o] the first principles of Christ, and press on unto [8] perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance [p] from dead works, and of faith toward God, 2 [9] of [q] the teaching of [10] baptisms, and of [r] laying on of hands, and of [s] resurrection of the dead, and of [t] eternal judgement. 3 And this will we do, [u] if God permit. 4 For as touching those [v] who were once enlightened [11] and tasted of [w] the heavenly gift, and [x] were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, 5 and [12] [y] tasted the good word of God, and the powers of [x] the age to come, 6 and then fell away, [z] it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; [13] seeing [a] they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. 7 For [b] the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receiveth blessing from God: 8 but [c] if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; [d] whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that [14] accompany salvation, though we thus speak: 10 for [e] God is not unrighteous to forget [f] your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye [g] ministered unto the saints, and still do minister. 11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the [15] fulness [h] of hope even to the end: 12 that ye be not sluggish, but [i] imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, [j] he sware by himself, 14 saying, [k] Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. 15 And thus,

[l] having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. 16 For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs [m] the oath is final for confirmation. 17 Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto [n] the heirs of the promise [o] the immutability of his counsel, [1] [p] interposed with an oath: 18 that by two immutable things, in which [q] it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope [r] set before us; 19 which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and stedfast and entering into that which is [s] within the veil; 20 [t] whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, [u] having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 1 For this [v] Melchizedek, king of [w] Salem, priest of [x] God Most High, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him, 2 to whom also Abraham divided a tenth part of all (being first, by interpretation, King of righteousness, and then also King of Salem, which is, King of peace; 3 without father, without mother, [y] without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God), abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, [z] the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief spoils. 5 And [a] they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come out of the loins of Abraham: 6 but he [b] whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed [c] him that hath the promises. 7 But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better. 8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, [d] of whom it is witnessed that [e] he liveth. 9 And, so to say, through Abraham even Levi, who receiveth tithes, hath paid tithes; 10 for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 [f] Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? 12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also [2] of the law. 13 For he of whom these things are said [3] belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung [g] out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priests. 15 And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, 16 who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an [4] endless life: 17 for it is witnessed of him,

[h] Thou art a priest for ever
After the order of Melchizedek.

18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment [i] because of its weakness and unprofitableness 19 (for [j] the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of [k] a better hope, through which [l] we draw nigh unto God. 20 And inasmuch as it is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath [5] by him that saith [6] of him,

[m] The Lord sware and will not repent himself,
Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become the surety of [n] a better [7] covenant. 23 And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing: 24 but he, because he abideth [o] for ever, [8] hath his priesthood [9] unchangeable. 25 Wherefore also he is able to save [10] to the uttermost [p] them that draw near unto God [q] through him, seeing he ever liveth [r] to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, [s] holy, guileless, undefiled, [t] separated from sinners, and [u] made higher than the heavens; 27 who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, [v] first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did [w] once for all, when he offered up himself. 28 For the law appointeth men high priests, [x] having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, [y] perfected for evermore.

8 1 [1] Now [2] in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest, [z] who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, 2 a minister of [3] the sanctuary, and of [a] the true tabernacle, which the Lord [b] pitched, not man. 3 For [c] every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore [d] it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to offer. 4 Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the gifts according to the law; 5 who serve that which is [e] a copy and [f] shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to [4] make the tabernacle: for, [g] See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in the mount. 6 But now hath he obtained a ministry [h] the more excellent, by how much also he is [i] the mediator of [j] a better [5] covenant, which hath been enacted upon better promises. 7 [k] For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second. 8 For finding fault with them, he saith,

[l] Behold, the days come, saith the Lord,
That I will [6] make a new [5] covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;
9 Not according to the [5] covenant that I made with their fathers
In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Egypt;
For they continued not in my [5] covenant,
And I regarded them not, saith the Lord.
10 [m] For this is the [5] covenant that [7] I will make with the house of Israel
After those days, saith the Lord;

I will put my laws into their mind,
And [n] on their heart also will I write them:
And I will be to them a God,
And they shall be to me a people:
11 And they shall not teach every man his fellow-citizen,
And every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord:
For [o] all shall know me,

12 For I will be merciful to their iniquities,
[p] And their sins will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But [q] that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away.

9 1 Now even the first covenant had ordinances of divine service, and [r] its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this world. 2 For there was [s] a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherein [8] were [t] the candlestick, and [u] the table, and [9] [v] the shewbread; which is called the Holy place. 3 And after [w] the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies; 4 having a golden [10] [x] censer, and [y] the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein [11] was [z] a golden pot holding the manna, and [a] Aaron's rod that budded, and [b] the tables of the covenant; 5 and above it [c] cherubim of glory overshadowing [12] [d] the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak severally. 6 Now these things having been thus prepared, [e] the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the services; 7 but into the second [f] the high priest alone, [f] once in the year, not without blood, [g] which he offereth for himself, and for the [13] errors of the people: 8 the Holy Ghost this signifying, that [h] the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while as the first tabernacle is yet standing; 9 which is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices [i] that cannot, as touching the conscience, make the worshipper perfect, 10 being only (with [j] meats and drinks and [k] divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest [l] of [1] the good things to come, through [m] the greater and more perfect tabernacle, [n] not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, 12 nor yet through [o] the blood of goats and calves, but [p] through his own blood, [q] entered in [r] once for all into the holy place, [s] having obtained eternal redemption. 13 For if [t] the blood of goats and bulls, and [u] the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh: 14 how much more shall [v] the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit [w] offered himself without blemish unto God, [x] cleanse [2] your conscience [y] from dead works [z] to serve the living God? 15 And for this cause he is [a] the mediator of a new [3] covenant, [b] that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first [3] covenant, [c] they that have been called may [d] receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. 16 For where a [3] testament is, there must of necessity [4] be the death of him that made it. 17 For [e] a [3] testament is of force [5] where there hath been death: [6] for doth it ever avail while he that made it liveth? 18 Wherefore even the first covenant hath not been dedicated [f] without blood. 19 For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took [g] the blood of the calves and the goats, [h] with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the people, 20 saying, [i] This is the blood of the [3] covenant which God commanded to you-ward. 21 Moreover [j] the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood. 22 And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and [k] apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It was necessary therefore that [l] the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. 24 For Christ entered not into a holy place [m] made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God [n] for us: 25 nor yet that he should offer himself often; as [o] the high priest entereth into [p] the holy place year by year with blood not his own; 26 else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now [q] once [r] at the [7] end of the ages [s] hath he been manifested to put away sin [8] by the sacrifice of himself. 27 And inasmuch as [t] it is [9] appointed unto men once to die, and [u] after this cometh judgement; 28 so Christ also, having been once offered [v] to bear the sins of [w] many, shall appear [x] a second time, [y] apart from sin, to them that [z] wait for him, unto salvation.

10 1 For the law having [a] a shadow [b] of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, [10] [c] they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect them that draw nigh. 2 Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more conscience of sins? 3 But [d] in those sacrifices [e] there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. 4 For [f] it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. 5 Wherefore [g] when he cometh into the world, he saith,

[h] Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not,
But a body didst thou prepare for me;
6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:
7 Then said I, Lo, I am come
(In the roll of the book it is written of me)
To do thy will, O God.

8 Saying above, [h] Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law), 9 then hath he said, [i] Lo, I am come to do thy will. He tak-

[1] Some ancient authorities read the good things that are come. [2] Many ancient authorities read our. [3] The Greek word here used signifies both covenant and testament. [4] Gr. be brought. [5] Gr. over the dead. [6] Or, for it doth never . . . liveth. [7] Or, consummation [8] Or, by his sacrifice. [9] Gr. laid up for. [10] Some ancient authorities read it can.

eth away the first, that he may establish the second. 10 [1]By which will [j]we have been sanctified through the offering of [k]the body of Jesus Christ [l]once for all. 11 And every [2]priest indeed standeth [m]day by day ministering and [n]offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the [o]which can never take away sins: 12 but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for [3]sins for ever, [p]sat down on the right hand of God; 13 from henceforth expecting [q]till his enemies be made the footstool of his feet. 14 For by one offering [r]he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. 15 And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

16 [s]This is the [4]covenant that [5]I will make with them
After those days, saith the Lord;
I will put my laws on their
heart,
And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

17 [t]And their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 [u]Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into [v]the holy place by the blood of Jesus, 20 by [w]the way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through [x]the veil, that is to say, his flesh; 21 and having [y]a great priest over the house of God; 22 let us draw near with a true heart in [6]fulness of faith, having our hearts [z]sprinkled [a]from an evil [7]conscience, and our body [b]washed with pure water: 23 [c]let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for [d]he is faithful that promised: 24 and [e]let us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works; 25 [f]not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting one another; and [g]so much the more, as ye see [h]the day drawing nigh.

26 For [i]if we sin wilfully [j]after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, [k]there remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins, 27 [l]but a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and [m]a [8]fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. 28 [n]A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion [o]on the word of two or three witnesses: 29 of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, [p]who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted [q]the blood of the covenant, [r]wherewith he was sanctified, [9]an unholy thing, and [s]hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? 30 For we know him that said, [t]Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, [u]The Lord shall judge his people. 31 [v]It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after [w]ye were enlightened, ye endured [x]a great conflict of sufferings; 33 partly, being made [y]a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with them that were so used. 34 For [z]ye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and [a]took joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing [10][b]that [11]ye yourselves have [c]a better possession and an abiding one. 35 Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great [d]recompense of reward. 36 For [e]ye have need of patience, that, [f]having done the will of God, ye may [g]receive the promise.

37 For [h]yet a very little while,
[i]He that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry.
38 [j]But [12]my righteous one shall live by faith:
And if he shrink back, my soul
hath no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not [13]of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the [14]saving of the soul.

11 1 Now faith is [15]the assurance of things hoped for, the [16]proving of [k]things not seen. 2 For therein the elders had witness borne to them. 3 By faith we understand that [l]the [17]worlds have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out of [m]things which do appear. 4 By faith [n] Abel offered unto God [o] a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, [1] God bearing witness [2] in respect of his gifts: and [p] through it he being dead yet [q] speaketh. 5 By faith [r] Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: 6 and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God [s] must believe that he is, [s] and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. 7 By faith [t] Noah, being warned of God concerning [u] things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, [t] prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of [v] the righteousness which is according to faith. 8 By faith [w] Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place [x] which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. 9 By faith he became a sojourner in [y] the land of promise, as in a land not his own, [3] [z] dwelling in tents, [a] with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: 10 for he looked for [b] the city which hath [c] the foundations, [d] whose [4] builder and maker is God. 11 By faith even [e] Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted [f] him faithful who had promised: 12 wherefore also there sprang of one, and [g] him as good as dead, [h] so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable.

13 These all died [5] in faith, [i] not having received the promises, but [j] having seen them and greeted them from afar, and [k] having confessed that they were [l] strangers and pilgrims on the earth. 14 For they that say such things make it manifest that they are seeking after a country of their own. 15 And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, [m] they would have had opportunity to return. 16 But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them, [n] to be called their God: for [o] he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith [p] Abraham, being tried, [6] offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up his only begotten son; 18 even he [7] to whom it was said, [q] In Isaac shall thy seed be called: 19 [r] accounting that God is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable receive him back. 20 By faith [s] Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. 21 By faith [t] Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and [u] worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff. 22 By faith [v] Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. 23 By faith [w] Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of [x] the king's commandment. 24 By faith Moses, when he was grown up, [y] refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; 25 [z] choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy [a] the pleasures of sin for a season; 26 [b] accounting the reproach of [8] Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked unto [c] the recompense of reward. 27 By faith he [d] forsook Egypt, [e] not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, [f] as seeing him who is invisible. 28 By faith [g] he [9] kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them. 29 By faith [h] they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were swallowed up. 30 By faith [i] the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for seven days. 31 By faith [j] Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, [k] having received the spies with peace. 32 And what shall I more say? for the time will fail me if I tell of [l]Gideon, [m]Barak, [n]Samson, [o]Jephthah; of [p]David and [q]Samuel and the prophets: 33 who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, [r]obtained promises, [s]stopped the mouths of lions, 34 [t]quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, [u]waxed mighty in war, [u]turned to flight armies of aliens. 35 [v]Women received their dead by a resurrection: and others [w]were [1]tortured, not accepting [2]their deliverance; [x]that they might obtain a better resurrection: 36 and others had trial of [y]mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of [z]bonds and imprisonment: 37 [a]they were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, [b]they were slain with the sword: [c]they went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil entreated 38 (of whom the world was not worthy), [d]wandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of the earth. 39 And these all, [e]having had witness borne to them through their faith, [e]received not the promise, 40 God having [3]provided some better thing concerning us, [f]that apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 1 Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside [4]every weight, and [g]the sin which [5]doth so easily beset us, and [h]let us run [i]with patience the race that is [j]set before us, 2 looking unto Jesus the [6][k]author and perfecter of our faith, [l]who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising [m]shame, and [n]hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. 3 For [o]consider him that hath endured such gainsaying of sinners against [7]themselves, that ye wax not weary, [p]fainting in your souls. 4 Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin: 5 and ye have forgotten the exhortation, which reasoneth with you as with sons,

[q]My son, [r]regard not lightly the chastening of the Lord,
Nor faint when thou art reproved of him;
6 For [s]whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,
And scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 [8]It is for chastening that ye endure; [t]God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father chasteneth not? 8 But if ye are without chastening, [u]whereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons. 9 Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto [v]the Father of [9]spirits, [w]and live? 10 For they verily for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, [x]that we may be partakers of his holiness. 11 All chastening seemeth [y]for the present to be not joyous, but grievous: yet afterward it yieldeth [z]peaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the fruit of righteousness. 12 Wherefore [10][a]lift up the hands that hang down, and the palsied knees; 13 and [b]make straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not [11]turned out of the way, [c]but rather be healed.

14 [d]Follow after peace with all men, and the [e]sanctification [f]without which no man shall see the Lord: 15 looking carefully [12]lest there be any man that [13][g]falleth short of the grace of God; lest any [h]root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled; 16 [12]lest there be any [i]fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, [j]who for one mess of meat sold his own birthright. 17 For ye know that even when [k]he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected (for he found no [l]place of repentance), though he sought it diligently with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto [14][m]a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, 19 and [n]the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; [o]which voice they that heard intreated that no word more should be spoken

[r] The Lord is my helper; [s] I will not fear:
What shall man do unto me?

7 Remember them [t] that had the rule over you, which spake unto you the word of God; and considering the issue of their [9] life, [u] imitate their faith. 8 Jesus Christ is [v] the same yesterday and to-day, yea and [10] for ever. 9 Be not [w] carried away by divers and strange teachings: for it is good that the heart be stablished by grace; [x] not by meats, wherein they that [11] occupied themselves were not profited. 10 We have an altar, [y] whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. 11 For [z] the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place [12] by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned [a] without the camp. 12 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people [b] through his own blood, [c] suffered [d] without the gate. 13 Let us therefore go forth unto him without the camp, bearing [e] his reproach. 14 For [f] we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the city which is to come. 15 [g] Through him [13] then let us offer up [h] a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, [i] the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. 16 But to do good and [j] to communicate forget not: for with such [k] sacrifices God is well pleased. 17 Obey them [l] that have the rule over you, and submit to them: [m] for they watch in behalf of your souls, as they that shall [n] give account; [o] that they may do this with joy, and not with [14] grief: for this were unprofitable for you.

18 [p] Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in all things. 19 And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, [q] that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20 Now [r] the God of peace, [s] who brought again from the dead [t] the great shepherd of the sheep [15] with [u] the blood of the eternal covenant, even our Lord Jesus, 21 [v] make you perfect in every good [16] thing to do his will, [w] working in [17] us that which is well-pleasing in his sight,

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF

JAMES.

I 1 [a] JAMES, a [2] servant of God and [b] of the Lord Jesus Christ, to [c] the twelve tribes which are of [d] the Dispersion, [3] greeting.

2 [e] Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall into [f] manifold [4] temptations; 3 knowing that [g] the proof of your faith [h] worketh patience. 4 And let patience have its perfect work, that ye may be [i] perfect and entire, lacking in nothing.

5 But [j] if any of you lacketh wisdom, [k] let him ask of God, [l] who giveth to all liberally and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. 6 But [m] let him ask in faith, [n] nothing doubting: for he that doubteth is like [o] the surge of the sea driven by the wind and tossed. 7 For let not that man think [5] that he shall receive anything of the Lord; 8 [p] a doubleminded man, [q] unstable in all his ways.

9 But let the brother of low degree glory in his high estate: 10 and [r] the rich, in that he is made low: because [s] as the flower of the grass he shall pass away. 11 For the sun ariseth with the scorching wind, and [t] withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his goings.

12 [u] Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been approved, he shall receive [v] the crown of life, [w] which the Lord promised to them that love him. 13 [x] Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted [6] of God: for God [7] cannot be tempted with [8] evil, and he himself tempteth no man: 14 but each man is [9] tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and enticed. 15 Then the lust, [y] when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and [z] the sin, when it is fullgrown, bringeth forth death. 16 Be not deceived, my beloved brethren. 17 [a] Every good [10] gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from [b] the Father of lights, [c] with whom can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turning. 18 [d] Of his own will he [e] brought us forth by the word of truth, [f] that we should be a kind of [g] firstfruits of his creatures.

19 [11] [h] Ye know this, my beloved brethren. But let every man [i] be swift to hear, [j] slow to speak, [k] slow to wrath: 20 for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. 21 Wherefore [l] putting away all filthiness and overflowing of [12] wickedness, receive [m] with meekness the [13] implanted word, [n] which is able to save your souls. 22 But be ye [o] doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own selves. 23 For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding [14] his natural face in a mirror: 24 for he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. 25 But he that looketh into the perfect law, [p] the law of liberty, and so continueth, being not a hearer that forgetteth, but a doer that worketh, [q] this man shall be blessed in his doing. 26 If any man [15] thinketh himself to be religious, [r] while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, this man's [s]religion is vain. 27 Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, [t]to visit [u]the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and [v]to keep himself [w]unspotted from the world.

2 1 My brethren, [1]hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, [x]the Lord of glory, with [y]respect of persons. 2 For if there come into your [2]synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile clothing; 3 and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and [z]ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool; 4 [3]are ye not divided [4]in your own mind, and become [a]judges with evil thoughts? 5 Hearken, my beloved brethren; [b]did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be [c]rich in faith, and heirs of [d]the kingdom [e]which he promised to them that love him? 6 But ye [f]have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich [g]oppress you, and themselves [h]drag you [i]before the judgement-seats? 7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable [j]name [5]by the which ye are called? 8 Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, [k]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: 9 but if ye have [l]respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. 10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, [m]he is become guilty of all. 11 For he that said, [n]Do not commit adultery, said also, [n]Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. 12 So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by [o]a law of liberty. 13 For [p]judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, [q]but have not works? can that faith save him? 15 [r]If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of daily food, 16 [s]and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself. 18 [6]Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith [t]apart from thy works, and I [u]by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 [v]Thou believest that [7]God is one; thou doest well: [w]the [8]devils also believe, and shudder. 20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren? 21 [x]Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 [9]Thou seest that [y]faith wrought with his works, and [z]by works was faith made perfect; 23 and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, [a]And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the [b]friend of God. 24 Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also [c]Rahab the harlot justified by works, [d]in that she received the messengers, and sent them out another way? 26 For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 1 [e]Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive [10]heavier judgement. 2 For [f]in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, [g]the same is a perfect man, [h]able to bridle the whole body also. 3 Now if we put [i]the horses' bridles into their mouths, that they may obey us, we turn about their whole body also. 4 Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman willeth. 5 So the tongue also is a little member, and [j]boasteth great things. Behold, [11]how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! 6 And [k]the tongue is [12]a fire: [13]the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, [l]which defileth the whole body, and setteth

[1] Or, do ye, in accepting persons, hold the faith . . . glory? [2] Or, assembly [3] Or, do ye not make distinctions [4] Or, among yourselves [5] Gr. which was called upon you. [6] Or, But some one will say [7] Some ancient authorities read there is one God. [8] Gr. demons. [9] Or, Seest thou . . . perfect? [10] Gr. greater. [11] Or, how great a forest [12] Or, a fire, that world of iniquity: the tongue is among our members that which &c. [13] Or, that world of iniquity, the tongue, is among our members that which &c.

on fire the wheel of [1] nature, and is set on fire by hell. 7 For every [2] kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed [3] by [4] mankind: 8 but the tongue can no man tame; it is a restless evil, it is [m] full of deadly poison. 9 Therewith bless we the Lord and Father; and therewith curse we men, [n] which are made after the likeness of God:
10 out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be. 11 Doth the fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter? 12 can a fig tree,
my brethren, yield olives, or a vine
figs? neither can salt water yield sweet.

13 Who is wise and understanding among you? [o] let him shew by his good life his works [p] in meekness of wisdom. 14 But if ye have bitter [q] jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against the truth. 15 This wisdom is not [r] a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is earthly, [5] [s] sensual, [6] [t] devilish. 16 For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. 17 But [u] the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then [v] peaceable, [w] gentle,
easy to be intreated, [x] full of mercy
and good fruits, without [7] [y] variance, [z] without hypocrisy. 18 And [a] the fruit of righteousness [b] is sown in peace [8] for them that make peace.

4 1 Whence come wars and whence come fightings among you? come they not hence, even
of your pleasures [c] that war in your members? 2 Ye lust, and have not:
ye kill, and [9] covet, and cannot obtain:
ye fight and war; ye have not, because ye ask not. 3 Ye ask,
and receive not, because ye ask [d] amiss, that ye may spend it in your pleasures. 4 [e] Ye adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God?
[f] Whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself
an enemy of God. 5 Or think ye that the scripture [10] speaketh in vain?
[11] [g] Doth the spirit [h] which [12] he made
to dwell in us long unto envying?
6 But [i] he giveth [13] more grace.
Wherefore the scripture saith, [j] God
resisteth the proud, but [i] giveth
grace to the humble. 7 Be subject therefore unto God; but [k] resist the devil, and he will flee from you.
8 [l] Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. [m] Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and [n] purify your hearts, [o] ye doubleminded. 9 [p] Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep:
let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.
10 [q] Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

11 [r] Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or [s] judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law,
and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer
of the law, but a judge. 12 One only is [t] the lawgiver and [u] judge, even he who is able to save and [v] to destroy: but [w] who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?

13 Go to now, ye that say, [x] To-day or to-morrow we will go into
this city, and spend a year there,
and trade, and get gain: 14 whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For [y] ye are a vapour, that appeareth
for a little time, and then [z] vanisheth away. 15 [14] For that ye ought to say, [a] If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that.
16 But now ye glory in your vauntings:
[b] all such glorying is evil.
17 [c] To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

5 1 Go to now, [d] ye rich, weep
and howl for your [e] miseries
that are coming upon you.
2 [f] Your riches are corrupted, and [f] your garments are moth-eaten.
3 Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony [15] against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. [g] Ye have laid up your treasure [h] in the last days. 4 Behold, [i] the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields,
which is of you kept back by fraud,
crieth out: and [j] the cries of them

that reaped have entered into the ears of [k] the Lord of Sabaoth. 5 [l] Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and [m] taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in [n] a day of slaughter. 6 Ye have condemned, [o] ye have killed [p] the righteous one; he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, until the [1] coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until [2] it receive [q] the early and latter rain. 8 Be ye also patient; [r] stablish your hearts: for the [1] coming of the Lord [s] is at hand. 9 Murmur not, brethren, one against another, [t] that ye be not judged: behold, [u] the judge standeth [v] before the doors. 10 Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, [w] the prophets who spake in the name of the Lord. 11 Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of [x] the [3] patience of Job, and have seen [y] the end of the Lord, how that [z] the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.

12 But above all things, my brethren, [a] swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but [4] let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgement.

13 Is any among you suffering? let him pray. Is any cheerful? let him [b] sing praise. 14 Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, [5] [c] anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: 15 and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and [d] if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. 16 [e] Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, [f] that ye may be healed. [g] The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working. 17 Elijah was a man [h] of like [6] passions with us, and [i] he prayed [7] fervently that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth for [j] three years and six months. 18 [k] And he prayed again; and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 My brethren, [l] if any among you do err from the truth, and one [m] convert him; 20 [8] let him know, that he which converteth a sinner from the error of his way [n] shall save a soul from death, and [o] shall cover a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

---

1 PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect who are sojourners of [a] the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, 2 according to [b] the foreknowledge of God the Father, [c] in sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and [d] sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: [e] Grace to you and [f] peace be multiplied.

3 [g] Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who [h] according to his great mercy [i] begat us again unto a living hope [j] by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, 4 unto [k] an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and [l] that fadeth not away, [m] reserved in heaven for you, 5 who by the power of God are guarded [n] through faith unto a salvation [o] ready to be revealed in the last time. 6 Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in [p] manifold [9] temptations, 7 that [q] the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth [r] though it is proved by [s] fire, might be found unto [t] praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ: 8 [u] whom not having seen ye love; [v] on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and [10] full of glory: 9 receiving [w] the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls. 10 Concerning which salvation [x] the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you: 11 searching [y] what time or what manner of time [z] the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, [a] when it testified beforehand [b] the sufferings [1] of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. 12 [c] To whom it was revealed, that [d] not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced unto you through them that preached the gospel unto you [2] [e] by the [3] Holy Ghost sent forth from heaven; [f] which things angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore [g] girding up the loins of your mind, [h] be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that [4] is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ; 14 as children of obedience, [i] not fashioning yourselves according to your former lusts [j] in the time of your ignorance: 15 but [5] like [k] as he which called you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy [l] in all manner of living; 16 because it is written, [m] Ye shall be holy; for I am holy. 17 And if ye [n] call on him as Father, who [o] without respect of persons [p] judgeth according to each man's work, pass the time of your sojourning [q] in fear: 18 knowing that ye [r] were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from your [s] vain manner of life handed down from your fathers; 19 but [t] with precious blood, as of [u] a lamb [v] without blemish and without spot, even the blood of Christ: 20 [w] who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but [x] was manifested [y] at the end of the times for your sake, 21 [z] who through him are believers in God, [a] which raised him from the dead, and [b] gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. 22 Seeing ye have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth unto [c] unfeigned love of the brethren, [d] love one another [6] from the heart fervently: 23 [e] having been begotten again, [f] not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of [7] [g] God, [h] which liveth and abideth. 24 For,

[i] All flesh is as grass,
And all the glory thereof as the flower of grass.
The grass withereth, and the flower falleth:
25 [j] But the [8] word of the Lord abideth for ever.

And this is the [8] word [k] of good tidings which was preached unto you.

2 1 [l] Putting away therefore all [9] wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, 2 [m] as newborn babes, long for the [10] spiritual [n] milk which is without guile, that ye may grow thereby unto salvation; 3 if ye have [o] tasted that the Lord is gracious: 4 unto whom coming, a living stone, [p] rejected indeed of men, but with God elect, [11] precious, 5 [q] ye also, as living stones, are built up [12] [r] a spiritual house, to be [s] a holy priesthood, [t] to offer up spiritual sacrifices, [u] acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 6 Because it is contained in [13] scripture,

[v] Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, [11] precious:
[w] And he that believeth on [14] him shall not be put to shame.

7 [15] For you therefore which [x] believe is the [16] preciousness: but for such as [x] disbelieve,

[y] The stone which the builders rejected,
The same was made the head of the corner;

8 and,

[z] A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence;

[17] for they [18] stumble at the word, being disobedient: [a] whereunto also they were appointed. 9 But ye are [b] an elect race, [c] a royal [d] priesthood, [e] a holy nation, [f] a people for God's own possession, that ye may shew forth the excellencies of him who called you [g] out of darkness into [h] his marvellous light: 10 [i] which in time past were no people, but now are the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

[1] Gr. unto. [2] Gr. in. [3] Or, Holy Spirit [4] Gr. is being brought. [5] Or, like the Holy One which called you [6] Many ancient authorities read from a clean heart. [7] Or, God who liveth [8] Gr. saying. [9] Or, malice [10] Gr. reasonable. [11] Or, honourable [12] Or, a spiritual house for a holy priesthood [13] Or, a scripture [14] Or, it [15] Or, In your sight [16] Or, honour [17] Gr. who. [18] Or, stumble, being disobedient to the word

11 Beloved, I beseech you [j] as sojourners and pilgrims, [k] to abstain from fleshly lusts, [l] which war against the soul; 12 [m] having your behaviour seemly among the Gentiles; that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, [n] they may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in [o] the day of visitation.

13 [p] Be subject to every [1] ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; 14 or unto governors, as sent [2] by him [q] for vengeance on evil-doers and [r] for praise to them that do well. 15 For so is the will of God, [s] that by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: 16 [t] as free, and not [3] using your freedom for a cloke of [4] wickedness, but [u] as bondservants of God. 17 [v] Honour all men. [w] Love the brotherhood. [x] Fear God. Honour the king.

18 [5] [y] Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward. 19 For this is [6] acceptable, [z] if for conscience [7] toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully. 20 For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted for it, ye shall take it patiently? but [a] if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is [6] acceptable with God. 21 For [b] hereunto were ye called: [a] because Christ also suffered for you, [c] leaving you an example, that ye should follow his steps: 22 [d] who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: 23 [e] who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but [f] committed [8] himself to him that judgeth righteously: 24 [g] who his own self [9] bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, [h] having died unto sins, [i] might live unto righteousness; [j] by whose [10] stripes ye were healed. 25 For [k] ye were going astray like sheep; but are now returned unto [l] the Shepherd and [11] Bishop of your souls.

3 1 In like manner, ye wives, [m] be in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any obey not the word, [n] they may without the word [o] be gained by the [12] behaviour of their wives; 2 beholding your [p] chaste [12] behaviour coupled with fear. 3 Whose adorning [q] let it not be the outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; 4 but let it be [r] the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible apparel of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. 5 For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own [13] husbands: 6 as Sarah obeyed Abraham, [s] calling him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and [t] are not [14] put in fear by any terror.

7 [u] Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with your wives according to knowledge, giving honour [15] unto the woman, as unto the weaker [v] vessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, [w] be ye all likeminded, [16] compassionate, [x] loving as brethren, [y] tenderhearted, [z] humbleminded: 9 [a] not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise [b] blessing; for [c] hereunto were ye called, that ye should inherit a blessing. 10 For,

[d] He that would love life,
And see good days,
Let him refrain his tongue from evil,
And his lips that they speak no guile:
11 And let him turn away from evil, and do good;
Let him seek peace, and pursue it.
12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous,
And his ears unto their supplication:
But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And [e] who is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good? 14 [f] But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed are ye: and [g] fear not their fear, [h] neither be troubled; 15 but [i] sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being [j] ready always to give answer to every man that asketh

[1] Gr. creation. [2] Gr. through. [3] Gr. having. [4] Or, malice [5] Gr. Household-servants. [6] Gr. grace. [7] Gr. of. [8] Or, his cause [9] Or, carried up . . . to the tree [10] Gr. bruise. [11] Or, Overseer [12] Or, manner of life [13] Or, husbands (as Sarah . . . ye are become), doing well, and not being afraid [14] Or, afraid with [15] Gr. unto the female vessel, as weaker. [16] Gr. sympathetic.

you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet [k] with meekness and [l] fear: 16 [m] having a good conscience; that, [n] wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of life in Christ. 17 For [o] it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing. 18 Because Christ also [1] [p] suffered for sins [q] once, the righteous for the unrighteous, [r] that he might bring us to God; being put to death [s] in the flesh, but quickened [t] in the spirit; 19 in which also he went and [t] preached unto the spirits in prison, 20 which aforetime were disobedient, [u] when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, [v] while the ark was a preparing, [2] wherein few, that is, [w] eight souls, were saved through water: 21 which also [3] after a true likeness [x] doth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but [y] the [4] interrogation of a good conscience toward God, [z] through the resurrection of Jesus Christ; 22 [a] who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; [b] angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

4 1 Forasmuch then as [c] Christ suffered in the flesh, [d] arm ye yourselves also with the same [5] mind; for [e] he that hath suffered in the flesh [f] hath ceased [6] from sin; 2 [g] that [7] ye no longer should live [h] the rest of your time in the flesh to [i] the lusts of men, but [j] to the will of God. 3 For the time past [k] may suffice [l] to have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, winebibbings, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries: 4 wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them into the same [8] excess of [m] riot, [n] speaking evil of you: 5 who shall give account to him that is ready [o] to judge the quick and the dead. 6 For unto this end [9] [p] was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But [q] the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore of sound mind, and [r] be sober [s] unto [10] prayer: 8 above all things being fervent in your love among yourselves; for [t] love covereth a multitude of sins: 9 [u] using hospitality one to another without murmuring: 10 [v] according as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, [w] as good stewards of the manifold grace of God; 11 if any man speaketh, speaking as it were [x] oracles of God; if any man ministereth, ministering [y] as of the strength which God supplieth: that in all things [z] God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, [a] whose is the glory and [b] the dominion [11] for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning [c] the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you: 13 but [d] insomuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that [e] at the revelation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exceeding joy. 14 [f] If ye are reproached [12] [g] for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you. 15 For [h] let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or [i] as a meddler in other men's matters: 16 but [h] if a man suffer as a [j] Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God [g] in this name. 17 For the time is come for judgement [k] to begin at the house of God: and [l] if it begin first at us, what shall be the end of them that [m] obey not the gospel of God? 18 And [n] if the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear? 19 Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God [o] commit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

5 1 The elders therefore among you I exhort, [p] who am a fellow-elder, and [q] a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed: 2 [r] Tend the flock of God which is among you, [13] exercising

[1] Many ancient authorities read died. [2] Or, into which few, that is, eight souls, were brought safely through water [3] Or, in the antitype [4] Or, inquiry Or, appeal [5] Or, thought [6] Some ancient authorities read unto sins. [7] Or, he no longer . . . his time [8] Or, flood [9] Or, were the good tidings preached [10] Gr. prayers. [11] Gr. unto the ages of the ages. [12] Gr. in. [13] Some ancient authorities omit exercising the oversight.

the oversight, [s]not of constraint, but willingly, [1]according unto God; [t]nor yet for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; 3 neither as [u]lording it over the charge allotted to you, but [v]making yourselves ensamples to the flock. 4 And when [w]the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, ye shall receive [x]the crown of glory [y]that fadeth not away. 5 [2] Likewise, ye younger, be subject unto the elder. Yea, all of you [z]gird yourselves with humility, to serve one another: for [a]God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble. 6 [a]Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time; 7 [b]casting all your anxiety upon him, because [c]he careth for you. 8 [d]Be sober, [e]be watchful: your [f]adversary the devil, [g]as a roaring lion, [h]walketh about, seeking whom he may devour: 9 [i]whom withstand [j]stedfast in [3]your faith, knowing that [k]the same sufferings are [4]accomplished in your [5]brethren who are in the world. 10 And the God of all grace, [l]who called you unto his [m]eternal glory in Christ, [n]after that ye have suffered a little while, shall himself [6][o]perfect, [p]stablish, strengthen [7]you. 11 [q]To him be the dominion [8]for ever and ever. Amen.

12 By [r]Silvanus, [9]our faithful brother, as I account him, [s]I have written unto you briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is [t]the true grace of God: [u]stand ye fast therein. 13 [10]She that is in Babylon, elect together with you, saluteth you; and so doth [v]Mark my son. 14 [w]Salute one another with a kiss of love.

[x]Peace be unto you all that are in Christ.

THE SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL OF

PETER.

I 1 [11][a]SIMON Peter, a [12]servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained [13][b]a like precious faith with us [c]in the righteousness of [14]our [d]God and Saviour Jesus Christ: 2 [e]Grace to you and peace be multiplied [f]in the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord; 3 seeing that his divine power hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him [g]that called us [15]by his own glory and virtue; 4 whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through these ye may become [h]partakers of [16]the divine nature, [i]having escaped from the corruption that is in the world by lust. 5 Yea, and for this very cause adding on your part all diligence, in your faith supply [j]virtue; and in your virtue [k]knowledge; 6 and in your knowledge [17][l]temperance; and in your [17]temperance [m]patience; and in your patience godliness; 7 and in your godliness [n]love of the brethren; and in your love of the brethren [o]love. 8 For if these things are yours and abound, they make you to be not idle nor [p]unfruitful unto the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 For he that lacketh these things [q]is blind, [18]seeing only what is near, having forgotten [r]the cleansing from his old sins. 10 Wherefore, brethren, give the more diligence [s]to make your calling and [t]election sure: for if ye do these things, [u]ye shall never stumble: 11 for thus shall be richly supplied unto you [v]the entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I shall be ready [w]always to put you in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and are established in [x]the truth which is with you. 13 And I think it right, as long as I am in this [y]tabernacle, [z]to stir you up by putting you in remembrance; 14 [a]knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle cometh swiftly, [b]even as our Lord Jesus Christ signified unto me. 15 Yea, I will give diligence that at every time ye may be able after my [1]decease to call these things to remembrance. 16 For we did not follow [c]cunningly devised [d]fables, when we made known unto you [e]the power and [2][f]coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but [g]we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. 17 For he [3]received from God the Father honour and glory, when there[4] came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, [h]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: 18 and this voice we ourselves heard [5]come out of heaven, when we were with him in [i]the holy mount. 19 And [j]we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, [k]as unto a lamp shining in a [6]dark place, until the day dawn, and [l]the day-star [m]arise in your hearts: 20 knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of [7]private interpretation. 21 For [n]no prophecy ever [8]came by the will of man: but men spake from God, [o]being moved by the [9]Holy Ghost.

2 1 But [p]there arose false prophets also among the people, as [q]among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall [r]privily bring in [10]destructive heresies, [r]denying even the Master [s]that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 2 And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth [t]shall be evil spoken of. 3 And [u]in covetousness shall they [v]with feigned words [w]make merchandise of you: [x]whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not. 4 For if God spared not [y]angels when they sinned, but [11]cast them down to [12]hell, and [z]committed them to [13][a]pits of darkness, [b]to be reserved unto judgement; 5 and spared not the ancient world, but [c]preserved Noah with seven others, [14]a preacher of righteousness, when he brought [d]a flood upon the world of the ungodly; 6 and [e]turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, [f]having made them an example unto those that should [g]live ungodly; 7 and [h]delivered righteous Lot, sore distressed by the lascivious life of the wicked 8 (for [i]that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, [15][j]vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds): 9 [k]the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; 10 but chiefly [l]them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and [m]despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not [m]to rail at [16]dignities: 11 [n]whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgement against them before the Lord. 12 [o]But these, as creatures without reason, [p]born [17]mere animals [18]to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their [19]destroying surely be destroyed, 13 suffering wrong as [q]the hire of wrong-doing; men that count it pleasure [r]to revel in the day-time, [s]spots and blemishes, revelling [s]in their [20]love-feasts while [t]they feast with you; 14 having eyes full of [21][u]adultery, and [v]that cannot cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart [w]exercised in covetousness; [x]children of cursing; 15 forsaking the right way, [y]they went astray, having followed [z]the way of Balaam the son of [22]Beor, who loved [a]the hire of wrong-doing; 16 but he was rebuked for his own transgression: [b]a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of the prophet. 17 [c]These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; [d]for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved. 18 For, [e]uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just [f]escaping from them that live in error; 19 promising them [g]liberty, [h]while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of [1] whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. 20 For if, [i] after they have escaped the defilements of the world [j] through the knowledge of [2] the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, [k] the last state is become worse with them than the first. 21 For [l] it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from [m] the holy commandment delivered unto them. 22 It has happened unto them according to the true proverb, The [n] dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

3 1 This is now, beloved, the second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them [o] I stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; 2 [p] that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by [q] the holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your apostles: 3 knowing this first, that [3] [r] in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, [s] walking after their own lusts, 4 and [t] saying, Where is the promise of [u] his [4] coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. 5 For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth [v] compacted out of water and [5] amidst water, [w] by the word of God; 6 by which means the world that then was, [x] being overflowed with water, [y] perished: 7 but [z] the heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been [6] stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and [a] destruction of ungodly men.

8 But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and [b] a thousand years as one day. 9 [c] The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, [d] as some count slackness; but [e] is longsuffering to you-ward, [f] not wishing that any should perish, but [g] that all should come to repentance. 10 But [h] the day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which [i] the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and [j] the [7] elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be [8] burned up. 11 Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, [k] what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy living and godliness, 12 [l] looking for and [9] earnestly desiring the [4] coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and [m] the [7] elements shall melt with fervent heat? 13 But, according to his promise, we look for [n] new heavens and a new earth, [o] wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 [p] Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for these things, give diligence [q] that ye may be found in peace, [r] without spot and [s] blameless in his sight. 15 And account that [t] the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as [u] our beloved brother Paul also, [v] according to the wisdom given to him, wrote unto you; 16 as also in all his epistles, [w] speaking in them of these things; [x] wherein are some things hard to be understood, which the ignorant and unstedfast wrest, [y] as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction. 17 Ye therefore, beloved, [z] knowing these things beforehand, [a] beware lest, being carried away with the error of the wicked, ye fall from your own stedfastness. 18 But [b] grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. [c] To him be the glory both now and [10] [d] for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF

JOHN.

1 1 [a]THAT which was [b]from the beginning, that [c]which we have heard, that [d]which we have seen with our eyes, [e]that which we beheld, and [f]our hands handled, concerning the [1]Word of life 2 (and [g]the life [h]was manifested, and we have seen, and [i]bear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, [a]which was with the Father, and [h]was manifested unto us); 3 [c]that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and [j]our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ: 4 and these things we write, [k]that [2]our joy may be fulfilled.

5 [l]And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that [m]God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. 6 [n]If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and [o]do not the truth: 7 but [p]if we walk in the light, [q]as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and [r]the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. 8 [s]If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and [t]the truth is not in us. 9 [u]If we confess our sins, he is [v]faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and [r]to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10 If we say that we have not sinned, [w]we make him a liar, and [x]his word is not in us.

2 1 My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, [y]we have an [3][z]Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: 2 and [a]he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but [b]also for the whole world. 3 And hereby know we that we know him, if we [c]keep his commandments. 4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, [d]is a liar, and [d]the truth is not in him: 5 but whoso [e]keepeth his word, in him verily hath [f]the love of God been perfected. [g]Hereby know we that we are in him: 6 he that saith he [h]abideth in him [i]ought himself also to walk even as he walked.

7 Beloved, [j]no new commandment write I unto you, but [k]an old commandment [l]which ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye heard. 8 Again, [m]a new commandment write I unto you, which thing is true in him and in you; because [n]the darkness is passing away, and [o]the true light already shineth. 9 He that saith he is in the light, and [p]hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until now. 10 He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none [q]occasion of stumbling in him. 11 But he that hateth his brother is in the darkness, and [r]walketh in the darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because the darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, my little children, because [s]your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake. 13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye know [t]him which is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because [u]ye have overcome the evil one. [4]I have written unto you, little children, because [v]ye know the Father. 14 [4]I have written unto you, fathers, because ye know [t]him which is from the beginning. [4]I have written unto you, young men, because [u]ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the evil one. 15 [w]Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. [x]If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 16 For all that is in the world, [y]the lust of the flesh, and [z]the lust of the eyes, and [a]the vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. 17 And [b]the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

[4] Or, I wrote

18 Little children, [c] it is the last hour: and as ye heard that [d] antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen [e] many antichrists; [f] whereby we know that it is the last hour. 19 [g] They went out from us, but they were not of us; for [h] if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but they went out, [i] that they might be made manifest [1] how that they all are not of us. 20 And ye have [j] an anointing from [k] the Holy One, [2] and [l] ye know all things. 21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and [3] because no lie is of the truth. 22 Who is the liar but [m] he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is [d] the antichrist, even he that denieth the Father and the Son. 23 [n] Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father also. 24 As for you, let that abide in you [o] which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, [p] ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the Father. 25 And this is the promise which he promised [4] us, even [q] the life eternal. 26 These things have I written unto you concerning [r] them that would lead you astray. 27 And as for you, [s] the anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and [t] ye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing teacheth you concerning all things, [5] and [u] is true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, [6] ye abide in him. 28 And now, my little children, abide in him; that, [v] if he shall be manifested, [w] we may have boldness, and not be ashamed [7] before him at his [8] [x] coming. 29 If ye know that [y] he is righteous, [9] ye know that [z] every one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him.

3 1 Behold [a] what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called [b] children of God: and such we are. For this cause [c] the world knoweth us not, because [d] it knew him not. 2 Beloved, [e] now are we [b] children of God, and [f] it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that, [g] if [10] he shall be manifested, [h] we shall be like him; for [i] we shall see him even as he is. 3 And every one that hath this hope [j] set on him [k] purifieth himself, even as he is pure. 4 Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness: and [l] sin is lawlessness. 5 And ye know that [m] he was manifested to [11] [n] take away sins; and [o] in him is no sin. 6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: [p] whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither [12] knoweth him. 7 My little children, [q] let no man lead you astray: [r] he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous: 8 [s] he that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, [t] that he might destroy the works of the devil. 9 [u] Whosoever is begotten of God doeth no sin, because his seed abideth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. 10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, [v] neither he that [w] loveth not his brother. 11 For [x] this is the message which ye heard from the beginning, [y] that we should love one another: 12 not as [z] Cain was of the evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? [a] Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, brethren, [b] if the world hateth you. 14 We know that [c] we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death. 15 [d] Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that [e] no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. 16 Hereby know we love, because [f] he laid down his life for us: and [g] we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. 17 But [h] whoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and [i] shutteth up his compassion from him, [j] how doth the love of God abide in him? 18 My little children, let us not [k] love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and [l] truth. 19 Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall

[1] Or, that not all are of us [2] Some very ancient authorities read and ye all know. [3] Or, that [4] Some ancient authorities read you. [5] Or, so it is true, and is no lie; and even as &c. [6] Or, abide ye [7] Gr. from him. [8] Gr. presence. [9] Or, know ye [10] Or, it [11] Or, bear sins [12] Or, hath known

[1] assure our heart before him, 20 whereinsoever our heart condemn us; because God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Beloved, [m] if our heart condemn us not, [n] we have boldness toward God; 22 and [o] whatsoever we ask,
we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and [p] do the things that are pleasing in his sight. 23 And this is his commandment, [q] that we should [2] believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and [r] love one another, [s] even as he gave us commandment. 24 And [t] he that keepeth his commandments
abideth in him, and he in him.
And [u] hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

4 1 Beloved, [v] believe not every spirit, but [w] prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because [x] many [y] false prophets [z] are gone out into the world. 2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: [a] every spirit which confesseth that [b] Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:
3 and every spirit [c] which [3] confesseth not Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of the antichrist,
whereof ye have heard that it cometh;
and [d] now it is in the world
already. 4 Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them:
because [e] greater is he that is in you than [f] he that is in the world.
5 [g] They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the world, and [h] the world heareth them. 6 We are of God: [i] he that knoweth God
heareth us; he who is not of God
heareth us not. By this we know [j] the spirit of truth, and [k] the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, [l] let us love one another:
for love is of God; and [m] every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. 8 [n] He that loveth not knoweth not God;
for [o] God is love. 9 Herein was the love of God manifested [4] in us, that [p] God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. 10 Herein is love, [q] not that we loved God, [r] but that he loved us, and sent his Son
to be [r] the propitiation for our sins.
11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

12 [s] No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and [t] his love is perfected in us: 13 [u] hereby know we
that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. 14 And [v] we have beheld and bear witness that [w] the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of [x] the world. 15 [y] Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God,
God abideth in him, and he in God.
16 And [z] we know and have believed the love which God hath [4] in us.
[a] God is love; and [b] he that abideth
in love abideth in God, and God
abideth in him. 17 Herein [c] is love made perfect with us, that [d] we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because [e] as he is, even so are we in this world. 18 There is no fear in love: but [f] perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not [c] made perfect in love. 19 [g] We love, because he first loved us.
20 [h] If a man say, I love God, and [i] hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, [5] cannot love God [j] whom he hath not seen. 21 And [k] this commandment have we from him, that [l] he who loveth God love his brother also.

5 1 [m] Whosoever believeth that [n] Jesus is the Christ [o] is begotten of God: and [p] whosoever loveth
him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. 2 [q] Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments. 3 For [r] this is the love of God, that we [s] keep his commandments: and [t] his commandments are not grievous. 4 For [u] whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, [v] even our faith. 5 And who is he that overcometh the world,
but he that believeth [w] that Jesus is the Son of God? 6 This is he that came [x] by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not [6] with the water only, but [6] with the water and [6] with the blood. 7 And [y] it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because [z] the Spirit is the truth. 8 For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood:

[1] Gr. persuade. [2] Gr. believe the name. [3] Some ancient authorities read annulleth Jesus. [4] Or, in our case. [5] Many ancient authorities read how can he love God whom he hath not seen? [6] Gr. in.

and the three agree in one. 9 [a]If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, [b]that he hath borne witness concerning his Son. 10 He that believeth on the Son of God [c]hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God [d]hath made him a liar; [e]because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son. 11 And the witness is this, that God gave unto us [f]eternal life, and [g]this life is in his Son. 12 [h]He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 [i]These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that [j]believe on the name of the Son of God. 14 And this is [k]the boldness which we have toward him, that, [l]if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: 15 and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. 16 If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, [1]he shall ask, and [m]God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. [n]There is [2]a sin unto death: [o]not concerning this do I say that he should make request. 17 [p]All unrighteousness is sin: and there is [3]a sin not unto death.

18 We know that [q]whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but [r]he that was begotten of God [s]keepeth [3][t]him, and the evil one toucheth him not. 19 We know that we are of God, and [u]the whole world lieth in the evil one. 20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and [v]hath given us an understanding, that we know [w]him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and [x]eternal life. 21 My little children, [y]guard yourselves from idols.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF
JOHN.

1 [a]THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, [b]whom I love in truth; and not I only, but also all they that [c]know [d]the truth; 2 [e]for the truth's sake which abideth in us, and it shall be with us for ever: 3 [f]Grace, mercy, peace shall be with us, from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 [g]I rejoice greatly that I have found certain of thy children walking in truth, even as we received commandment from the Father. 5 And now I beseech thee, lady, [h]not as though I wrote to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, [i]that we love one another. 6 And [j]this is love, that we should walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, [k]even as ye heard from the beginning, that ye should walk in it. 7 For [l]many deceivers [m]are gone forth into the world, even [n]they that confess not that Jesus Christ cometh in the flesh. [n]This is the deceiver and the antichrist. 8 Look to yourselves, [o]that ye [4]lose not the things which [5]we have wrought, but that ye [p]receive a full reward. 9 Whosoever [6][q]goeth onward and abideth not in the teaching of Christ, [r]hath not God: he that abideth in the teaching, [r]the same hath both the Father and the Son. 10 If any one cometh unto you, and bringeth not this teaching, [s]receive him not into your house, and give him no greeting: 11 for he that giveth him greeting [t]partaketh in his evil works.

12 [u]Having many things to write unto you, I would not write them with paper and ink: [v]but I hope to come unto you, and to speak face to face, [w]that your joy may be fulfilled. 13 The children of thine elect sister salute thee.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

1 [a]THE elder unto Gaius the beloved, [b]whom I love in truth.

2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. 3 For [c]I [1]rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou walkest in truth. 4 Greater [2]joy have I none than [3]this, to hear of [d]my children walking in the truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward [e]them that are brethren and [f]strangers withal; 6 who bare witness to thy love before the church: whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey [g]worthily of God: 7 because that for the sake of [h]the Name they went forth, [i]taking nothing of the Gentiles. 8 We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.

9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, [j]who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. 10 Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddeth, and casteth them out of the church. 11 Beloved, [k]imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. [l]He that doeth good is of God: [m]he that doeth evil hath not seen God. 12 Demetrius [n]hath the witness of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, we also bear witness; and [o]thou knowest that our witness is true.

13 [p]I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write them to thee with ink and pen: 14 but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends [q]by name.

JUDE.

1 [a]JUDAS, a [4]servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, [5][b]to them that are called, [c]beloved in God the Father, and [d]kept for Jesus Christ: 2 [e]Mercy unto you and [f]peace and love be multiplied.

3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our [g]common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you [h]to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints. 4 For [i]there are certain men [j]crept in privily, even [k]they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning [l]the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and [m]denying [6]our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

5 Now I desire [n]to put you in remembrance, though ye know all things once for all, how that [7][o]the Lord, having saved a people out of the land of Egypt, [8][p]afterward destroyed them that believed not. 6 And [q]angels which kept not their own principality, but left their proper habitation, he hath kept in everlasting bonds under darkness unto the judgement of the great day. 7 Even as [r]Sodom and Gomorrah, and [s]the cities about them, having in like manner with these given themselves over to fornication, and [t]gone after strange flesh, are set forth [9]as an example, suffering the punishment of eternal fire. 8 Yet in like manner these also in their dreamings defile the flesh, and set

[1] Or, rejoice greatly, when brethren come and bear witness [2] Some ancient authorities read grace. [3] Or, these things, that I may hear [4] Gr. bondservant. [5] Or, to them that are beloved in God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ, being called [6] Or, the only Master, and our Lord Jesus Christ [7] Many very ancient authorities read Jesus. [8] Gr. the second time. [9] Or, as an example of eternal fire, suffering punishment

at nought dominion, and [u]rail at [1]dignities. 9 But [v]Michael [w]the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed [x]about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing judgement, but said, [y]The Lord rebuke thee. 10 [z]But these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they [2]destroyed. 11 Woe unto them! for they went in [a]the way of Cain, and [3]ran riotously [b]in the error of Balaam for hire, and [c]perished in the gainsaying of Korah. 12 These are they who are [4]hidden rocks [d]in your love-feasts when they feast with you, [e]shepherds that without fear feed themselves; [f]clouds without water, [g]carried along by winds; autumn trees without fruit, twice dead, [h]plucked up by the roots; 13 [i]wild waves of the sea, foaming out [j]their own [5]shame; [k]wandering stars, [l]for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved for ever. 14 And to these also Enoch, [m]the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, [n]Behold, the Lord came with [6]ten thousands of his holy ones, 15 [o]to execute judgement upon all, and to convict all the ungodly of all their works of ungodliness which they have [p]ungodly wrought, and of all [q]the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. 16 These are murmurers, complainers, [r]walking after their lusts (and [s]their mouth speaketh great swelling words), [t]shewing respect of persons for the sake of advantage.

17 But ye, beloved, [u]remember ye the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; 18 how that they said to you, [v]In the last time there shall be mockers, walking after [7]their own ungodly lusts. 19 These are they who make separations, [8] [w]sensual, [x]having not the Spirit. 20 But ye, beloved, [y]building up yourselves on your most holy faith, [z]praying in the Holy Spirit, 21 [a]keep yourselves in the love of God, [b]looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. 22 [9]And on some have mercy, [10]who are in doubt; 23 and some save, [c]snatching them out of [d]the fire; and on some have mercy [e]with fear; hating even [f]the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 [g]Now unto him that is able [h]to guard you from stumbling, and [i]to set you before the presence of his glory [j]without blemish in exceeding joy, 25 to [k]the only God our Saviour, through Jesus Christ our Lord, [l]be glory, majesty, dominion and power, before all time, and now, and [11]for evermore. THE REVELATION

OF S. JOHN THE DIVINE.

I 1 THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God [12] [a]gave him [b]to shew unto his [13]servants, even the things which must shortly come to pass: and [c]he sent and signified [14]it by his angel unto his servant John; 2 [d]who bare witness of the word of God, and of [e]the testimony of Jesus Christ, even [f]of all things that he saw. 3 [g]Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of the prophecy, and keep the things which are written therein: [h]for the time is at hand.

4 JOHN to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace to you and peace, from [i]him [j]which is and [k]which was and [15]which is to come; and from [l]the seven Spirits which are before his throne; 5 and from Jesus Christ, who is [m]the faithful witness, [n]the firstborn of the dead, and [o] the ruler of the kings of the earth. Unto [p] him that loveth us, and [1][q] loosed us from our sins [2] by his blood; 6 and he made us to be [r] a kingdom, to be [r] priests unto [s] his God and Father; to him be [t] the glory and [u] the dominion [3] for ever and ever. Amen. 7 Behold, [v] he cometh with the clouds; and [w] every eye shall see him, and they which pierced him; and all the tribes of the earth shall mourn over him. Even so, Amen.

8 [x] I am the Alpha and the Omega, saith [4] the Lord God, [5][y] which is and which was and [6] which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, your brother and [z] partaker with you in [a] the tribulation and [b] kingdom and [c] patience which are in Jesus, was in the isle that is called Patmos, [d] for the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. 10 [e] I was in the Spirit [f] on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice, [g] as of a trumpet 11 saying, [h] What thou seest, write in a book, and send it to the seven churches; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamum, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea. 12 And I turned to see the voice which spake with me. And having turned I saw [i] seven golden [7] candlesticks; 13 and in the midst of the [7] candlesticks [j] one like unto [8][k] a son of man, [l] clothed with a garment down to the foot, and [m] girt about at the breasts with a golden girdle. 14 And his head and [n] his hair were white as white wool, white as snow; and [o] his eyes were as a flame of fire; 15 and [p] his feet like unto burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace; and [q] his voice as the voice of many waters. 16 And [r] he had in his right hand seven stars: and [s] out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword: and [t] his countenance was as the sun shineth [u] in his strength. 17 And [v] when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And [v] he laid his right hand upon me, [w] saying, Fear not; [x] I am the first and the last, 18 and the Living one; and [y] I [9] was dead, and behold, I am alive [10] for evermore, and [z] I have the keys of death and of Hades. 19 [a] Write therefore [b] the things which thou sawest, and the things which are, and the things which shall come to pass hereafter; 20 the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest [11] in my right hand, and [c] the seven golden [7] candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and [d] the seven [7] candlesticks are seven churches.

2 1 To the angel of the church in Ephesus write;

These things saith [e] he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, [f] he that walketh in the midst of the seven golden [7] candlesticks: 2 [g] I know thy works, and thy toil and patience, and that thou canst not bear evil men, and [h] didst try them [i] which call themselves apostles, and they are not, and didst find them false; 3 and thou hast patience and didst bear [j] for my name's sake, and [k] hast not grown weary. 4 But I have this against thee, that thou didst leave [l] thy first love. 5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do [m] the first works; or else [n] I come to thee, and will move thy [12] candlestick out of its place, except thou repent. 6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of [o] the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. 7 [p] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. [q] To him that overcometh, to him will I give to eat of [r] the tree of life, which is in [s] the [13] Paradise of God.

8 And to the angel of the church in Smyrna write;

These things saith [t] the first and the last, [u] which [9] was dead, and lived again: 9 I know thy tribulation, and [v] thy poverty ([v] but thou art rich), and the [14] blasphemy of [w] them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. 10 Fear not the things which thou art about to suffer: behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison, [w] that ye may be tried; [15] and [x] ye shall have [16] tribulation [y] ten days. [z] Be thou faithful [a] unto death, and I will give thee [b] the crown of life. 11 [c] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. [c] He that overcometh shall not be hurt of [d] the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write;

These things saith he that hath [e] the sharp two-edged sword: 13 I know where thou dwellest, even [f] where Satan's throne is: and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not [g] deny my faith, even in the days [1] of Antipas [h] my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth. 14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that hold the teaching of [i] Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, [j] to eat things sacrificed to idols, and [k] to commit fornication. 15 So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of [l] the Nicolaitans in like manner. 16 Repent therefore; or else [m] I come to thee quickly, and [n] I will make war against them with [e] the sword of my mouth. 17 [c] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. [c] To him that overcometh, to him will I give of [o] the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone [p] a new name written, [q] which no one knoweth but he that receiveth it.

18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write;

These things saith the Son of God, [r] who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished brass: 19 [s] I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than the first. 20 But I have this against thee, that thou sufferest [2] the woman [t] Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess; and she teacheth and seduceth my servants [u] to commit fornication, and [u] to eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 And I gave her time that she should repent; and [v] she willeth not to repent of her fornication. 22 Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of [3] her works. 23 And I will kill her children with [4] death; and all the churches shall know that I am he [w] which searcheth the reins and hearts: and [x] I will give unto each one of you according to your works. 24 But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not [y] the deep things of Satan, as they say; I [z] cast upon you none other burden. 25 Howbeit [a] that which ye have, hold fast till I come. 26 And [b] he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works [c] unto the end, [d] to him will I give authority over the nations: 27 and [e] he shall [f] rule them with a rod of [5] iron, [g] as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers; as I also have received of my Father: 28 and I will give him [h] the morning star. 29 [b] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

1 And to the angel of the church in Sardis write;

These things saith he [i] that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars: I know thy works, that thou hast a name [j] that thou livest, [k] and thou art dead. 2 Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die: for I have [6] found no works of thine [l] fulfilled before my God. 3 [m] Remember therefore how thou hast received and didst hear; and keep it, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, [n] I will come [o] as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 4 But thou hast a few [p] names in Sardis which did not [q] defile their garments: and they shall walk with me [r] in white; for they are [s] worthy. 5 [t] He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments; and I will in no wise [u] blot his name out of [v] the book of life, and [w] I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. 6 [t] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write;

These things saith [x] he that is holy, [y] he that is true, [z] he that

[1] The Greek text here is somewhat uncertain.
[2] Many authorities, some ancient, read thy wife.
[3] Many ancient authorities read their.
[4] Or, pestilence
[5] Or, iron; as vessels of the potter, are they broken
[6] Many ancient authorities read not found thy works.

hath the key of David, [a]he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none openeth: 8 I know thy works (behold, I have [1]set before thee [b]a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name. 9 Behold, I give of [c]the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, [d]I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that [e]I have loved thee. 10 [f]Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of [2]trial, that hour which is to come upon the whole [3]world, to [4]try [g]them that dwell upon the earth. 11 [h]I come quickly: [i]hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take [j]thy crown. 12 [k]He that overcometh, I will make him [l]a pillar in the [5]temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him [m]the name of my God, and [n]the name of the city of my God, [n]the new Jerusalem, [o]which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and mine own [p]new name. 13 [k]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

14 And to the angel of the church in Laodicea write;

These things saith the [q]Amen, [r]the faithful and true witness, [s]the beginning of the creation of God: 15 I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: [t]I would thou wert cold or hot. 16 So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth. 17 [u]Because thou sayest, I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and poor and [v]blind and naked: 18 I counsel thee [w]to buy of me gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and [x]white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and [y]that the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, [v]that thou mayest see. 19 [z]As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. 20 Behold, I stand at the door and [a]knock: [b]if any man hear my voice and open the door, [c]I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. 21 [d]He that overcometh, [e]I will give to him to sit down with me in my throne, as [f]I also overcame, and sat down with my Father in his throne. 22 [d]He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

4 1 After these things I saw, and behold, a door opened in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, a voice [g]as of a trumpet speaking with me, one saying, [h]Come up hither, and [i]I will shew thee the things which must [6]come to pass hereafter. 2 Straightway [j]I was in the Spirit: and behold, [k]there was a throne set in heaven, and one sitting upon the throne; 3 and he that sat was to look upon like a [l]jasper stone and a sardius: and there was [m]a rainbow round about the throne, like an emerald to look upon. 4 And round about the throne were [n]four and twenty thrones: and upon the thrones I saw four and twenty elders sitting, [o]arrayed in white garments; and on their heads [p]crowns of gold. 5 And out of the throne proceed [q]lightnings and voices and thunders. And there were [r]seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, [s]which are the seven Spirits of God; 6 and before the throne, [t]as it were a glassy sea like unto crystal; and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, [u]four living creatures [v]full of eyes before and behind. 7 [w]And the first creature was like a lion, and the second creature like a calf, and the third creature had a face as of a man, and the fourth creature was like a flying eagle. 8 And the four living creatures, [x]having each one of them six wings, are [y]full of eyes round about and within: and [z]they have no rest day and night, saying, [a]Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord God, the Almighty, [b]which was and which is and [7]which is to come. 9 And when the living creatures shall give glory and honour and thanks to him that sitteth on the throne, to [c]him that liveth [8]for ever and ever, 10 the four and twenty elders [d]shall fall down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth [1] for ever and ever, and shall cast [e] their crowns before the throne, saying, 11 [f] Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for [g] thou didst create all things, and [h] because of thy will they were, and were created.

5 1 And I saw [2] in the right hand of him that sat on the throne [i] a book written within and on the back, [j] close sealed with seven seals. 2 And [k] I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a great voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? 3 And no one in the heaven, or on the earth, or under the earth, was able to open the book, or to look thereon. 4 And I wept much, because no one was found worthy to open the book, or to look thereon: 5 and one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, [l] the Lion [m] that is of the tribe of Judah, [n] the Root of David, hath overcome, to open the book and the seven seals thereof. 6 And I saw in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, [o] a Lamb standing, as though it had been slain, having seven horns, and [p] seven eyes, which are [q] the [3] seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth. 7 And he came, and he [4] taketh it out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne. 8 And when he had taken the book, the four living creatures and the four and twenty elders [r] fell down before the Lamb, [s] having each one a harp, and [t] golden bowls full of incense, [u] which are the prayers of the saints. 9 And they sing [v] a new song, saying, Worthy art thou to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for [w] thou wast slain, and [x] didst purchase unto God with thy blood men of [y] every tribe, and tongue, and people, and nation, 10 and madest them to be unto our God [z] a kingdom and priests; and they reign upon the earth. 11 And I saw, and I heard a voice of many angels round about the throne and the living creatures and the elders; and the number of them was [a] ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; 12 saying with a great voice, [b] Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honour, and glory, and blessing. 13 And [c] every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, [1] for ever and ever. 14 And the four living creatures [d] said, Amen. And the elders [e] fell down and worshipped.

6 1 And I saw when the Lamb opened one of [f] the seven seals, and I heard [g] one of the four living creatures saying [h] as with a voice of thunder, [i] Come [5]. 2 And I saw, and behold, [j] a white horse, and [k] he that sat thereon had a bow; and there was given unto him [l] a crown: and he came forth [m] conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he opened the second seal, I heard [n] the second living creature saying, Come [5]. 4 And another horse came forth, [o] a red horse: and to him that sat thereon it was given [p] to take [6] peace from the earth, and that they should slay one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he opened the third seal, I heard [n] the third living creature saying, Come [5]. And I saw, and behold, [q] a black horse; and he that sat thereon had a balance in his hand. 6 And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, [r] A [7] measure of wheat for a [8] penny, and three measures of barley for a [8] penny; and the oil and the wine [s] hurt thou not.

7 And when he opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of [n] the fourth living creature saying, Come [5]. 8 And I saw, and behold, [t] a pale horse: and he that sat upon him, his name was Death; and Hades followed with him. And there was given unto them authority over the fourth part of the earth, to kill [u] with sword, and with famine, and with [1]death, and [v]by the wild beasts of the earth.

9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath [w]the altar [x]the souls of them that had been slain [y]for the word of God, and for [z]the testimony which they held:
10 and they cried with a great voice, saying, [a]How long, O Master, [b]the holy and true, [c]dost thou not judge and [d]avenge our blood on [e]them that dwell on the earth? 11 And there was given them to each one [f]a white robe; and it was said unto them, [g]that they should rest yet for a little time, [h]until their fellow-servants
also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were,
[i]should [2]be fulfilled.
12 And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and [j]there was a great earthquake; and [k]the sun became black as [l]sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as blood; 13 and [m]the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, [n]as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a great wind. 14 And [o]the heaven
was removed [n]as a scroll when it is rolled up; and [p]every mountain and island were moved out of their places. 15 And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the [3]chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, [q]hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains;
16 [r]and they say to the mountains
and to the rocks, Fall on us,
and hide us from the face of [s]him
that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: 17 for [t]the great day of their wrath is come;
and [u]who is able to stand?

7 1 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding [v]the four winds of the earth, [w]that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. 2 And I saw another angel ascend [x]from the sunrising,
having [y]the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, 3 saying, [z]Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees,
till we shall have sealed the servants
of our God [a]on their foreheads.
4 And [b]I heard the number of them which were sealed, a hundred and forty and four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Judah were sealed twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand:
6 Of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand:
7 Of the tribe of Simeon twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand:
8 Of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand:
Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After these things I saw, and behold,
[c]a great multitude, which no man could number, [d]out of every nation, and of all tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before
the throne and before the Lamb, [e]arrayed in white robes, and [f]palms
in their hands; 10 and they cry
with a great voice, saying, [g]Salvation unto our God which sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb.
11 And all the angels were standing round about the throne, and about the elders and [h]the four living creatures; and they [i]fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped
God, 12 [j]saying, Amen:
[4]Blessing, and glory, and wisdom,
and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God [5]for ever and ever. Amen. 13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, These which are [e]arrayed in the white robes, who are they,
and whence came they? 14 And I [6]say unto him, My lord, thou knowest.
And he said to me, These are they which come out of [k]the great tribulation, and [l]they washed their robes, and [m]made them white [n]in the blood of the Lamb. 15 Therefore are they before the throne of

God; and [o]they serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne [p]shall spread his tabernacle over them. 16 [q]They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither [r]shall the sun strike upon them, nor any heat: 17 for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne [s]shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of [t]waters of life: and [u]God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

1 And when he opened [v]the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about the space of half an hour. 2 And I saw [w]the seven angels [x]which stand before God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood [1][y]over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should [2]add it unto [z]the prayers of all the saints upon [a]the golden altar which was before the throne. 4 And [b]the smoke of the incense, [3]with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. 5 And the angel [4]taketh the censer; and [c]he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it [5]upon the earth: and [d]there followed [e]thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 And the first sounded, and there followed [f]hail and [g]fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast [5]upon the earth: and [h]the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of [i]the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were [j]a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea [k]became blood; 9 and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, even they that had life; and the third part of [l]the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and [m]there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon [n]the fountains of the waters; 11 and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters [o]became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, [p]because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of [q]the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

13 And I saw, and I heard [6]an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, [r]Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

1 And the fifth angel sounded, and [s]I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him [t]the key of the pit of [u]the abyss. 2 And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up [v]a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and [w]the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. 3 And out of the smoke came forth [x]locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have power. 4 And it was said unto them [y]that they should not hurt [z]the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not [a]the seal of God on their foreheads. 5 And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented [b]five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man. 6 And in those days [c]men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death fleeth from them. 7 And [d]the [7]shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and [e]upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were [f]as men's faces. 8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and [g]their teeth were as the teeth of lions. 9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and

the sound of their wings was [h] as the sound of chariots, of many [i] horses rushing to war. 10 And they have tails like unto scorpions, and stings; and in their tails is their power to hurt men [j] five months. 11 They have over them [k] as king the angel of the abyss: his name in Hebrew is [l] Abaddon, and in the Greek tongue he hath the name [1] Apollyon.

12 [m] The first Woe is past: behold, there come yet two Woes hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard [2] a voice from [n] the horns of the golden altar which is before God, 14 one saying to the sixth angel, which had the trumpet, Loose [o] the four angels which are bound at [p] the great river Euphrates. 15 And the four angels were loosed, which had been prepared for the hour and day and month and year, that [q] they should kill the third part of men. 16 And the number of the armies of [r] the horsemen was [s] twice ten thousand times ten thousand: [t] I heard the number of them. 17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates as of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses are [u] as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths proceedeth fire and smoke and brimstone. 18 By these three plagues was the third part of men killed, by the fire and the smoke and the brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths. 19 For the power of the horses is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails are like unto serpents, and have heads; and with them they do hurt. 20 And the rest of mankind, which were not killed with these plagues, [v] repented not of [w] the works of their hands, that they should not worship [3] [x] devils, [y] and the idols of gold, and of silver, and of brass, and of stone, and of wood; which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk: 21 and they repented not of their murders, nor of their [z] sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

10 1 And I saw another strong angel coming down out of heaven, arrayed with a cloud; and [a] the rainbow was upon his head, and [b] his face was as the sun, and [c] his feet as pillars of fire; 2 and [d] he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left upon the earth; 3 and he cried with a great voice, [e] as a lion roareth: and when he cried, the seven thunders uttered their voices. 4 And when the seven thunders uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying, [f] Seal up the things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. 5 And the angel which I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth [g] lifted up his right hand to heaven, 6 and sware by [h] him that liveth [4] for ever and ever, [i] who created the heaven and the things that are therein, and the earth and the things that are therein, [5] and the sea and the things that are therein, [j] that there shall be [6] time no longer: 7 but [k] in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he is about to sound, then is finished the mystery of God, [l] according to the good tidings which he declared to his servants the prophets. 8 And the voice which I heard from heaven, I heard it again speaking with me, and saying, Go, take the book which is open in the hand of the angel that standeth upon the sea and upon the earth. 9 And I went unto the angel, saying unto him that he should give me the little book. And he saith unto me, [m] Take it, and [n] eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey. 10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my belly was made bitter. 11 And they say unto me, [o] Thou must prophesy again [7] over many peoples and nations and tongues and kings.

11 1 And there was given me [p] a reed like unto a rod: [8] and one said, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein. 2 And [q] the court which is without the temple [9] leave without, and measure it not; for [r] it hath been given unto the nations: and the holy city shall they tread under foot [s] forty and two months. 3 And I will give unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy [s] a thousand two hundred and threescore days, [t] clothed in sackcloth. 4 These are [u] the two olive trees and the two [1] candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth. 5 And if any man desireth to hurt them, [v] fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man shall desire to hurt them, [w] in this manner must he be killed. 6 These have the power [x] to shut the heaven, that it rain not during the days of their prophecy: and they have power over the waters [y] to turn them into blood, and [z] to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. 7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, [a] the beast that cometh up out of [b] the abyss [c] shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. 8 And their [2] dead bodies lie in the street of [d] the great city, which spiritually is called [e] Sodom and [f] Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. 9 And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do men look upon their [2] dead bodies three days and a half, and [g] suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. 10 And [h] they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry; and [i] they shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets [j] tormented them that dwell on the earth. 11 And after the three days and a half [k] the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which beheld them. 12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, [l] Come up hither. And [m] they went up into heaven [n] in the cloud; and their enemies beheld them. 13 And in that hour there was [o] a great earthquake, and [p] the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake [3] seven thousand persons: and the rest were affrighted, and [q] gave glory to [r] the God of heaven.

14 [s] The second Woe is past: behold, the third Woe cometh quickly.

15 And [t] the seventh angel sounded; and [u] there followed great voices in heaven, and they said, [v] The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord, and of [w] his Christ: and [x] he shall reign [4] for ever and ever. 16 And the four and twenty elders, [y] which sit before God on their thrones, [z] fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, [a] which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and [b] didst reign. 18 And the nations were wroth, and [c] thy wrath came, and [d] the time of the dead to be judged, and the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to [e] them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and [f] to destroy them that destroy the earth.

19 And [g] there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven; and there was seen in his temple [h] the ark of his [5] covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and [i] great hail.

12 1 And a great sign was seen in heaven; a woman [j] arrayed with [k] the sun, and [k] the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars; 2 and she was with child: and [l] she crieth out, travailing in birth, and in pain to be delivered. 3 And there was seen another sign in heaven; and behold, a great [m] red dragon, [n] having seven heads and [o] ten horns, and upon his heads [p] seven diadems. 4 And his tail draweth [q] the third part of the stars of heaven, and [r] did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was about to be delivered, that when she was delivered, [s] he might devour her child. 5 And she was delivered of a son, a man child, [t] who is to rule all the nations with a rod of iron: and her child was [u] caught up unto God, and unto his throne. 6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that there they may nourish her [v] a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: [w] Michael and [x] his angels going forth to war with the dragon; and the dragon warred and his angels; 8 and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven. 9 And [y] the great dragon was cast down, [z] the old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, [a] the deceiver of the whole [1] world; [b] he was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him. 10 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, [2] Now is come [c] the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, [d] which accuseth them before our God day and night. 11 And [e] they overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and [f] they loved not their life [g] even unto death. 12 Therefore [h] rejoice, O heavens, and ye that [3] dwell in them. [i] Woe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, [j] knowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted [k] the woman which brought forth the man child. 14 And there were given to the woman the two [l] wings of the great eagle, that she might fly [m] into the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished [n] for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. 15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water [o] as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. 16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. 17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away [p] to make war with the rest of [q] her seed, [r] which keep the commandments of God, and hold [s] the 13 testimony of Jesus: 1 and he stood upon the sand of the sea. And I saw [t] a beast coming up out of the sea, [u] having ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads [v] names of blasphemy. 2 And the beast which I saw was [w] like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of [x] a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of [y] a lion: and [z] the dragon gave him his power, and [a] his throne, and great authority. 3 And I saw one of his heads as though it had been [4] smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and [b] the whole earth wondered after the beast; 4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, [c] Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him? 5 and there was given to him [d] a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority [5] to continue [e] forty and two months. 6 And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, even them that [3] dwell in the heaven. 7 [6] And it was given unto him [f] to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all [g] that dwell on the earth shall worship him, every one whose name hath not been [7] written in [h] the book of life of [i] the Lamb [j] that hath been slain from the foundation of the world. 9 [k] If any man hath an ear, let him hear. 10 [8] [l] If any man [9] is for captivity, into captivity he goeth: [m] if any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. [n] Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And [o] I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. 12 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, [p] whose death-stroke was healed. 13 And [q] he doeth great signs, that he should even [r] make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men. 14 And [s] he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, [t]who hath the stroke of the sword, and lived.

15 And it was given unto him to give breath to it, even to the image of the beast, [1]that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as should not [u]worship
the image of the beast [v]should be killed. 16 And he causeth all,
the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free and the bond, that there be given them [w]a mark on their right hand, or upon their forehead; 17 and that no man should be able to buy or to sell, save he that hath the mark, even [x]the name of the beast or [y]the number of his name. 18 [z]Here is wisdom. He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast; for it is the number [a]of a man: and his number is [2]Six hundred and sixty and six.

14 1 And I saw, and behold,
[b]the Lamb standing on [c]the mount Zion, and with him [d]a hundred and forty and four thousand, [e]having his name, and the name of his Father, written [f]on their foreheads. 2 And I heard a voice from heaven, [g]as the voice of many waters, and [h]as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of [i]harpers harping with their harps:
3 and they sing as it were [j]a new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and [k]no man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, even they that had been purchased out of the earth. 4 These are they which were not defiled with women; for [l]they are virgins. These are they [m]which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be [n]the firstfruits unto God and unto the Lamb. 5 And [o]in their mouth was found no lie:
they are [p]without blemish.

6 And I saw another angel [q]flying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto [r]them that [3]dwell on the earth, and unto every nation and tribe and tongue and people; 7 and he saith with a great voice, [s]Fear God, and [t]give him glory; for the hour of his judgement is come: and [u]worship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and [v]fountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, [w]Fallen, fallen is [x]Babylon the great, [y]which hath made all the nations to drink of [z]the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel, a third,
followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man [a]worshippeth
the beast and his image, and receiveth [b]a mark on his forehead, or upon his hand; 10 he also shall drink [c]of the wine of the wrath of God, [d]which is [4]prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and [e]he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: 11 and [f]the smoke of their torment goeth up [5]for ever and ever; and [g]they have no rest
day and night, they that [a]worship
the beast and his image, and whoso
receiveth the mark of his name.
12 [h]Here is the patience of the saints, they that [i]keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write, [j]Blessed are the dead [k]which die [6]in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, [l]that they may rest from their labours;
for [m]their works follow
with them.

14 And I saw, and behold, a white cloud; and on the cloud I saw one sitting [n]like unto [7]a son of man, [o]having on his head a golden crown,
and in his hand a sharp sickle.
15 And another angel [p]came out from the temple, crying with a great voice to him that sat on the cloud, [q]Send forth thy sickle, and reap: for the hour to reap is come;
for [r]the harvest of the earth is [8]overripe. 16 And he that sat on the cloud cast his sickle upon the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out
from the temple which is in heaven,
he also having a sharp sickle.
18 And another angel came out
from the altar, [s]he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the

1 And [y] I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, [z] seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

2 And I saw [a] as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them [b] that come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from [c] the number of his name, standing [2] by the glassy sea, [d] having harps of God. 3 And they sing [e] the song of Moses [f] the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, [g] Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; [h] righteous and true are thy ways, [i] thou King of the [3] ages. 4 [j] Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art [k] holy; for [l] all the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

5 And after these things I saw, and [m] the temple of [n] the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: 6 and there came out from the temple [o] the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed [4] with [p] precious stone, [q] pure and bright, and [r] girt about their breasts with golden girdles. 7 And one of [s] the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven [t] golden bowls full of the wrath of God, [u] who liveth [5] for ever and ever. 8 And [v] the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and [w] none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

1 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to [x] the seven angels, Go ye, and [y] pour out [z] the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and [6] it became a noisome and grievous [a] sore upon the men which had [b] the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and [6] [c] it became blood as of a dead man; and [d] every [7] living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

4 And the third poured out his bowl into [e] the rivers and the fountains of the waters; [8] and [6] [f] it became blood. 5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, [g] Righteous art thou, [h] which art and which wast, [i] thou Holy One, because thou didst thus [9] judge: 6 for [j] they poured out the blood of [k] saints and prophets, and [l] blood hast thou given them to drink: [m] they are worthy. 7 And I heard [n] the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, [o] true and righteous are thy judgements.

8 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto [10] it to scorch men [p] with fire. 9 And men were scorched with great heat: and [q] they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and [r] they repented not [s] to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon [t] the throne of the beast; and [u] his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, 11 and they blasphemed [v] the God of heaven because of their pains and [w] their sores; and [r] they repented not of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon [x] the great river, the river Euphrates; and [y] the water thereof was dried up, [z] that the way might be made ready for the kings that come [a] from the sunrising. 13 And I saw coming out of the mouth of [b] the dragon, and out of the mouth of [c] the beast, and out of the mouth of [d] the false prophet, three [e] unclean spirits, as it were

[f]frogs: 14 for they are [g]spirits of [1]devils, [h]working signs; which go forth [2]unto the kings of the whole [3]world, [i]to gather them together unto the war of [j]the great day of God, the Almighty. 15 (Behold, [k]I come as a thief. [l]Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, [m]lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.) 16 And [n]they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-[o]Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon [p]the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, [q]It is done: 18 and there were [r]lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and [s]there was a great earthquake, [t]such as was not since [4]there were men upon the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. 19 And [u]the great city [v]was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and [w]Babylon the great [x]was remembered in the sight of God, [y]to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. 20 And [z]every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 And [a]great hail, every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and [b]men blasphemed God because of [c]the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

17 1 And there came [d]one of the seven angels that had [e]the seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of [f]the great harlot [g]that sitteth upon many waters; 2 [h]with whom the kings of the earth committed fornication, and [i]they that dwell in the earth [j]were made drunken with the wine of her fornication. 3 And [k]he carried me away in the Spirit [l]into a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon [m]a scarlet-coloured beast, [5]full of [n]names of blasphemy, [o]having seven heads and ten horns. 4 And the woman [p]was arrayed in purple and scarlet, and [6]decked [q]with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand [r]a golden cup full of abominations, [7]even the unclean things of her fornication, 5 and upon her forehead a name written, [8][s]MYSTERY, [t]BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. 6 And I saw the woman drunken [u]with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of [v]the [9]martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. 7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee [w]the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns. 8 The beast that thou sawest [x]was, and is not; and [y]is about to come up out of [z]the abyss, [10]and [a]to go into perdition. And [b]they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written [11]in [c]the book of life [d]from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that [x]he was, and is not, and [12]shall come. 9 [e]Here is the [13]mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth: 10 and [14]they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little while. 11 And the beast [f]that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. 12 And [g]the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority as kings, with the beast, [h]for one hour. 13 These have one mind, and they give their power and authority unto the beast. 14 These [i]shall war against the Lamb, and [j]the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is [k]Lord of lords, and [k]King of kings; and they also shall overcome that are with him, [l]called and chosen and faithful. 15 And he saith unto me, [m]The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. 16 And [g]the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, [n]these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her [o]desolate and [p]naked, and [q]shall eat her flesh, and [r]shall burn her utterly with fire.

17 For [s] God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and [t] to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 And the woman whom thou sawest is [u] the great city, which [1] reigneth over the kings of the earth.

1 After these things I saw [v] another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and [w] the earth was lightened with his glory. 2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, [x] Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become [y] a habitation of [2] devils, and a [3] hold [z] of every unclean spirit, and a [3] hold [a] of every unclean and hateful bird. 3 For [4] [b] by [5] the wine of the wrath of her fornication all the nations are fallen; and [c] the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and [d] the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her [6] wantonness.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, [e] Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues: 5 for [f] her sins [7] have reached even unto heaven, and [g] God hath remembered her iniquities. 6 [h] Render unto her even as she rendered, and double unto her [i] the double according to her works: [j] in the cup which she mingled, mingle unto her double. 7 [k] How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed [8] wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, [l] I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in no wise see mourning. 8 Therefore [m] in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and [n] she shall be utterly burned with fire; for [o] strong is [9] the Lord God which judged her. 9 And [p] the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived [10] wantonly with her, [q] shall weep and wail over her, [r] when they look upon the smoke of her burning, 10 [s] standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, [t] the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for [u] in one hour is thy judgement come. 11 And [v] the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their [11] merchandise any more; 12 [11] merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet; and all thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; 13 and cinnamon, and [12] spice, and incense, and ointment, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep; and merchandise of horses and chariots and [13] slaves; and [14] souls of men. 14 And the fruits which thy soul lusted after are gone from thee, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous are perished from thee, and men shall find them no more at all. 15 [w] The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, [x] shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning; 16 saying, Woe, woe, the great city, [y] she that was arrayed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and [15] decked with gold and precious stone and pearl! 17 for [z] in one hour so great riches [a] is made desolate. And [b] every shipmaster, and every one that saileth any whither, and mariners, and as many as [16] gain their living by sea, stood afar off, 18 and [c] cried out [d] as they looked upon the smoke of her burning, saying, [e] What city is like the great city? 19 And they cast [f] dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, [g] wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for [h] in one hour is she made desolate. 20 [i] Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and [j] ye apostles, and ye prophets; for [k] God hath judged your judgement on her.

21 And [17] [l] a strong angel [m] took up a stone as it were a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with a mighty fall shall Babylon, [n] the great city, be cast down, and shall be found no more at all. 22 And [o] the voice of harpers and minstrels and flute-players and trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, [1] of whatsoever craft, shall be found any more at all in thee; and [p] the voice of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee; 23 and the light of a lamp shall shine no more at all in thee; and [q] the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for [r] thy merchants were the princes of the earth; for [s] with thy sorcery were all the nations deceived. 24 And [t] in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of [u] all that have been slain upon the earth.

19 1 After these things I heard [v] as it were a great voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, [w] Hallelujah; [x] Salvation, and glory, and power, belong to our God: 2 for [y] true and righteous are his judgements; for he hath judged [z] the great harlot, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and [a] he hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand. 3 And a second time they [2] say, Hallelujah. And [b] her smoke goeth up [3] for ever and ever. 4 And [c] the four and twenty elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshipped God that sitteth on the throne, saying, Amen; Hallelujah. 5 And a voice came forth from the throne, saying, [d] Give praise to our God, all ye his servants, [e] ye that fear him, the small and the great. 6 And I heard as it were [f] the voice of a great multitude, and as [g] the voice of many waters, and [h] as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Hallelujah: for the Lord our God, the Almighty, [i] reigneth. 7 Let us rejoice and be exceeding glad, and let us give the glory unto him: for [j] the marriage of the Lamb is come, and [k] his wife hath made herself ready. 8 And [l] it was given unto her that she should array herself in fine linen, bright and pure: for the fine linen is [m] the righteous acts of the saints. 9 And he saith unto me, Write, [n] Blessed are they which are bidden to the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, [o] These are true words of God. 10 And [p] I fell down before his feet to worship him. [q] And he saith unto me, See thou do it not: I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren that hold [r] the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw [s] the heaven opened; and behold, [t] a white horse, and he that sat thereon, [4] called [u] Faithful and True; and [v] in righteousness he doth judge and make war. 12 And [w] his eyes are a flame of fire, and [t] upon his head are [x] many diadems; and he hath [y] a name written, which no one knoweth but he himself. 13 And he is arrayed in [z] a garment [5] sprinkled with blood: and his name is called [a] The Word of God. 14 And the armies which are in heaven [b] followed him upon white horses, [c] clothed in fine linen, white and pure. 15 And [d] out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp sword, [e] that with it he should smite the nations: and [f] he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and [g] he treadeth the [6] winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of Almighty God. 16 And he hath on his garment and on his thigh [h] a name written, [i] KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw [7] an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to [j] all the birds that fly in mid heaven, [k] Come and be gathered together unto [l] the great supper of God; 18 [m] that ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of [8] captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses and of them that sit thereon, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, and small and great.

19 And I saw [n] the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, [o] gathered together to make war against him that sat upon the horse, and against his army. 20 And the beast was taken, and with him [p] the false prophet [q] that wrought the signs in his sight, wherewith [q] he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that [r] worshipped his image: they twain were [s] cast alive into the lake of [t] fire that burneth with brimstone: 21 and the rest were killed with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, even the sword [u] which came forth out of his mouth: and

[v]all the birds were filled with their flesh.

20 1 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, [w]having the key of [x]the abyss and a great chain [1]in his hand. 2 And he laid hold on [y]the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and [z]bound him for a thousand years, 3 and cast him into [x]the abyss, and shut it, and [a]sealed it over him, that [b]he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

4 And I saw [c]thrones, and [d]they sat upon them, and [e]judgement was given unto them: and I saw [f]the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and [g]such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and [h]they lived, and [i]reigned with Christ a thousand years. 5 The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. 6 [j]Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these [k]the second death hath no [2]power; but they shall be [l]priests of God and of Christ, and [m]shall reign with him [3]a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are finished, [n]Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, 8 and shall come forth [o]to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, [p]Gog and Magog, [q]to gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. 9 And [r]they went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed [s]the camp of the saints about, and [t]the beloved city: and [u]fire came down [4]out of heaven, and devoured them. 10 And the devil [v]that deceived them was [w]cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also [x]the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night [5]for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face [y]the earth and the heaven fled away; and [z]there was found no place for them. 12 And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and [a]books were opened: and another book was opened, which is [b]the book of life: and [c]the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, [d]according to their works. 13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and [e]death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man [d]according to their works. 14 And [e]death and Hades [f]were cast into the lake of fire. This is [g]the second death, even the lake of fire. 15 And if any was not found written in the book of life, [h]he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 1 And I saw [i]a new heaven and a new earth: for [j]the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. 2 And I saw [6][k]the holy city, [l]new Jerusalem, [m]coming down out of heaven from God, [n]made ready [o]as a bride adorned for her husband. 3 And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, [p]the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall [7][q]dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, [8]and be their God: 4 and [r]he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and [s]death shall be no more; [t]neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. 5 And [u]he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I [v]make all things new. And he saith, [9]Write: for [w]these words are faithful and true. 6 And he said unto me, [x]They are come to pass. [y]I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. [z]I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. 7 [a]He that overcometh shall inherit these things; and [b]I will be his God, and [c]he shall be my son. 8 [d]But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, [e]their part shall be in [f]the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone; which is [g]the second death.

9 And there came [h]one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with [i]the seven last plagues; and he spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee [j]the bride, the wife of the Lamb. 10 And [k]he carried me away in the Spirit to [l]a mountain great and high, and shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, 11 [m]having the glory of God: [n]her [1]light was [o]like unto a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal: 12 having a wall great and high; [p]having twelve [2]gates, and at the [2]gates twelve angels; and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: 13 on the east were three [2]gates; and on the north three [2]gates; and on the south three [2]gates; and on the west three [2]gates. 14 And the wall of the city had twelve [q]foundations, and [r]on them twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. 15 And he that spake with me [s]had for a measure a golden reed to measure the city, and the [2]gates thereof, and the wall thereof. 16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length and the breadth and the height thereof are equal. 17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure [t]of a man, that is, [u]of an angel. 18 And the building of the wall thereof was [v]jasper: and the city was pure gold, [v]like unto pure glass. 19 [w]The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, [3]sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald; 20 the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, [4]jacinth; the twelfth, amethyst. 21 And the twelve [2]gates were twelve pearls; each one of the several [2]gates was of one pearl: and [x]the street of the city was pure gold, [5]as it were transparent glass. 22 And [y]I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God the Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple thereof. 23 And the city [z]hath no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine upon it: for [a]the glory of God did lighten it, [6]and the lamp thereof is the Lamb. 24 And [b]the nations shall walk [7]amidst the light thereof: and the kings of the earth [c]do bring their glory into it. 25 And [d]the [2]gates thereof shall in no wise be shut by day (for [e]there shall be no night there): 26 and they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it: 27 and [f]there shall in no wise enter into it anything [8]unclean, or he that [9]maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the Lamb's [g]book of life.

22 1 And he shewed me [h]a river of [i]water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of [10]the Lamb, 2 in the midst of [j]the street thereof. [k]And on this side of the river and on that was [11][l]the tree of life, bearing twelve [12]manner of fruits, yielding its fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were [m]for the healing of the nations. 3 And [n]there shall be [13]no curse any more: and [o]the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein: and [p]his servants shall do him service; 4 and [q]they shall see his face; and [r]his name shall be on their foreheads. 5 And [s]there shall be night no more; and they need no light of lamp, [t]neither light of sun; for [u]the Lord God shall give them light: and [v]they shall reign [14]for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, [w]These words are faithful and true: and the Lord, the God of [x]the spirits of the prophets, [y]sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly come to pass. 7 And behold, [z]I come quickly. [a]Blessed is he that keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book.

16 [s]I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things [6] [t]for the churches. I am [u]the root and [v]the offspring of David, the bright, [w]the morning star.

17 [7]And the Spirit and [x]the bride say, Come. And he that heareth, let him say, Come. And [y]he that is athirst, let him come: he that will, let him take the [z]water of life freely.

18 I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, [a]If any man shall add [8]unto them, God shall add [8]unto him the plagues which are written in this book: 19 and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from [b]the tree of life, and out of [c]the holy city, [9]which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Yea: [d]I come quickly. Amen: [e]come, Lord Jesus.

21 The grace of the Lord Jesus [10] be [11] with the saints. Amen.

List of readings and renderings preferred by the American Committee, recorded at their desire. See Preface to New Testament.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

I. Strike out "S." (i.e. Saint) from the title of the Gospels and from the heading of the pages.

II. Strike out "the Apostle" from the title of the Pauline Epistles, and "of Paul the Apostle" from the title of the Epistle to the Hebrews; strike out the word "General" from the title of the Epistles of James, Peter, 1 John, and Jude; and let the title of the Revelation run "The Revelation of John."

III. For "Holy Ghost" adopt uniformly the rendering "Holy Spirit."

IV. At the word "worship" in Matt. ii. 2, etc., add the marginal note "The Greek word denotes an act of reverence, whether paid to man (see chap. xviii. 26) or to God (see chap. iv. 10)."

V. Put into the text uniformly the marginal rendering "through" in place of "by" when it relates to prophecy, viz. in Matt. ii. 5, 17, 23; iii. 3; iv. 14; viii. 17; xii. 17; xiii. 35; xxi. 4; xxiv. 15; xxvii. 9; Luke xviii. 31; Acts ii. 16; xxviii. 25.

VI. For "tempt" ("temptation") substitute "try" or "make trial of" ("trial") wherever enticement to what is wrong is not evidently spoken of; viz. in the following instances: Matt. iv. 7; xvi. 1; xix. 3; xxii. 18, 35; Mark viii. 11; x. 2; xii. 15; Luke iv. 12; x. 25; xi. 16; xxii. 28; John viii. 6; Acts v. 9; xv. 10; 1 Cor. x. 9; Heb. iii. 8, 9; 1 Pet. i. 6.

VII. Substitute modern forms of speech for the following archaisms, viz. "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons; "are" for "be" in the present indicative; "know" "knew" for "wot" "wist"; "drag" or "drag away" for "hale."

VIII. Substitute for "devil" ("devils") the word "demon" ("demons") wherever the latter word is given in the margin (or represents the Greek words δαίμων, δαιμόνιον); and for "possessed with a devil" (or "devils") substitute either "demoniac" or "possessed with a demon" (or "demons").

IX. After "baptize" let the marg. "Or, in" and the text "with" exchange places.

X. Let the word "testament" be everywhere changed to "covenant" (without an alternate in the margin), except in Heb. ix. 15–17.

XI. Wherever "patience" occurs as the rendering of ὑπομονή add "stedfastness" as an alternate in the margin, except in 2 Cor. i. 6; James v. 11; Luke viii. 15; Heb. xii. 1.

XII. Let ἀσσάριον (Matt. x. 29; Luke xii. 6) be translated "penny," and δηνάριον "shilling," except in Matt. xxii. 19; Mark xii. 15; Luke xx. 24, where the name of the coin, "a denarius," should be given.

XIII. Against the expression "the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" add the marginal rendering "Or, God and the Father" etc.; viz. in Rom. xv. 6; 2 Cor. i. 3; xi. 31; Eph. i. 3; Col. i. 3; 1 Pet. i. 3. And against the expression "our God and Father" add the marg. "Or, God and our Father"; viz. in Gal. i. 4; Phil. iv. 20; 1 Thess. i. 3; iii. 11, 13; Jas. i. 27. And against the expression "his God and Father" add the marg. "Or, God and his Father", viz. in Rev. i. 6.
